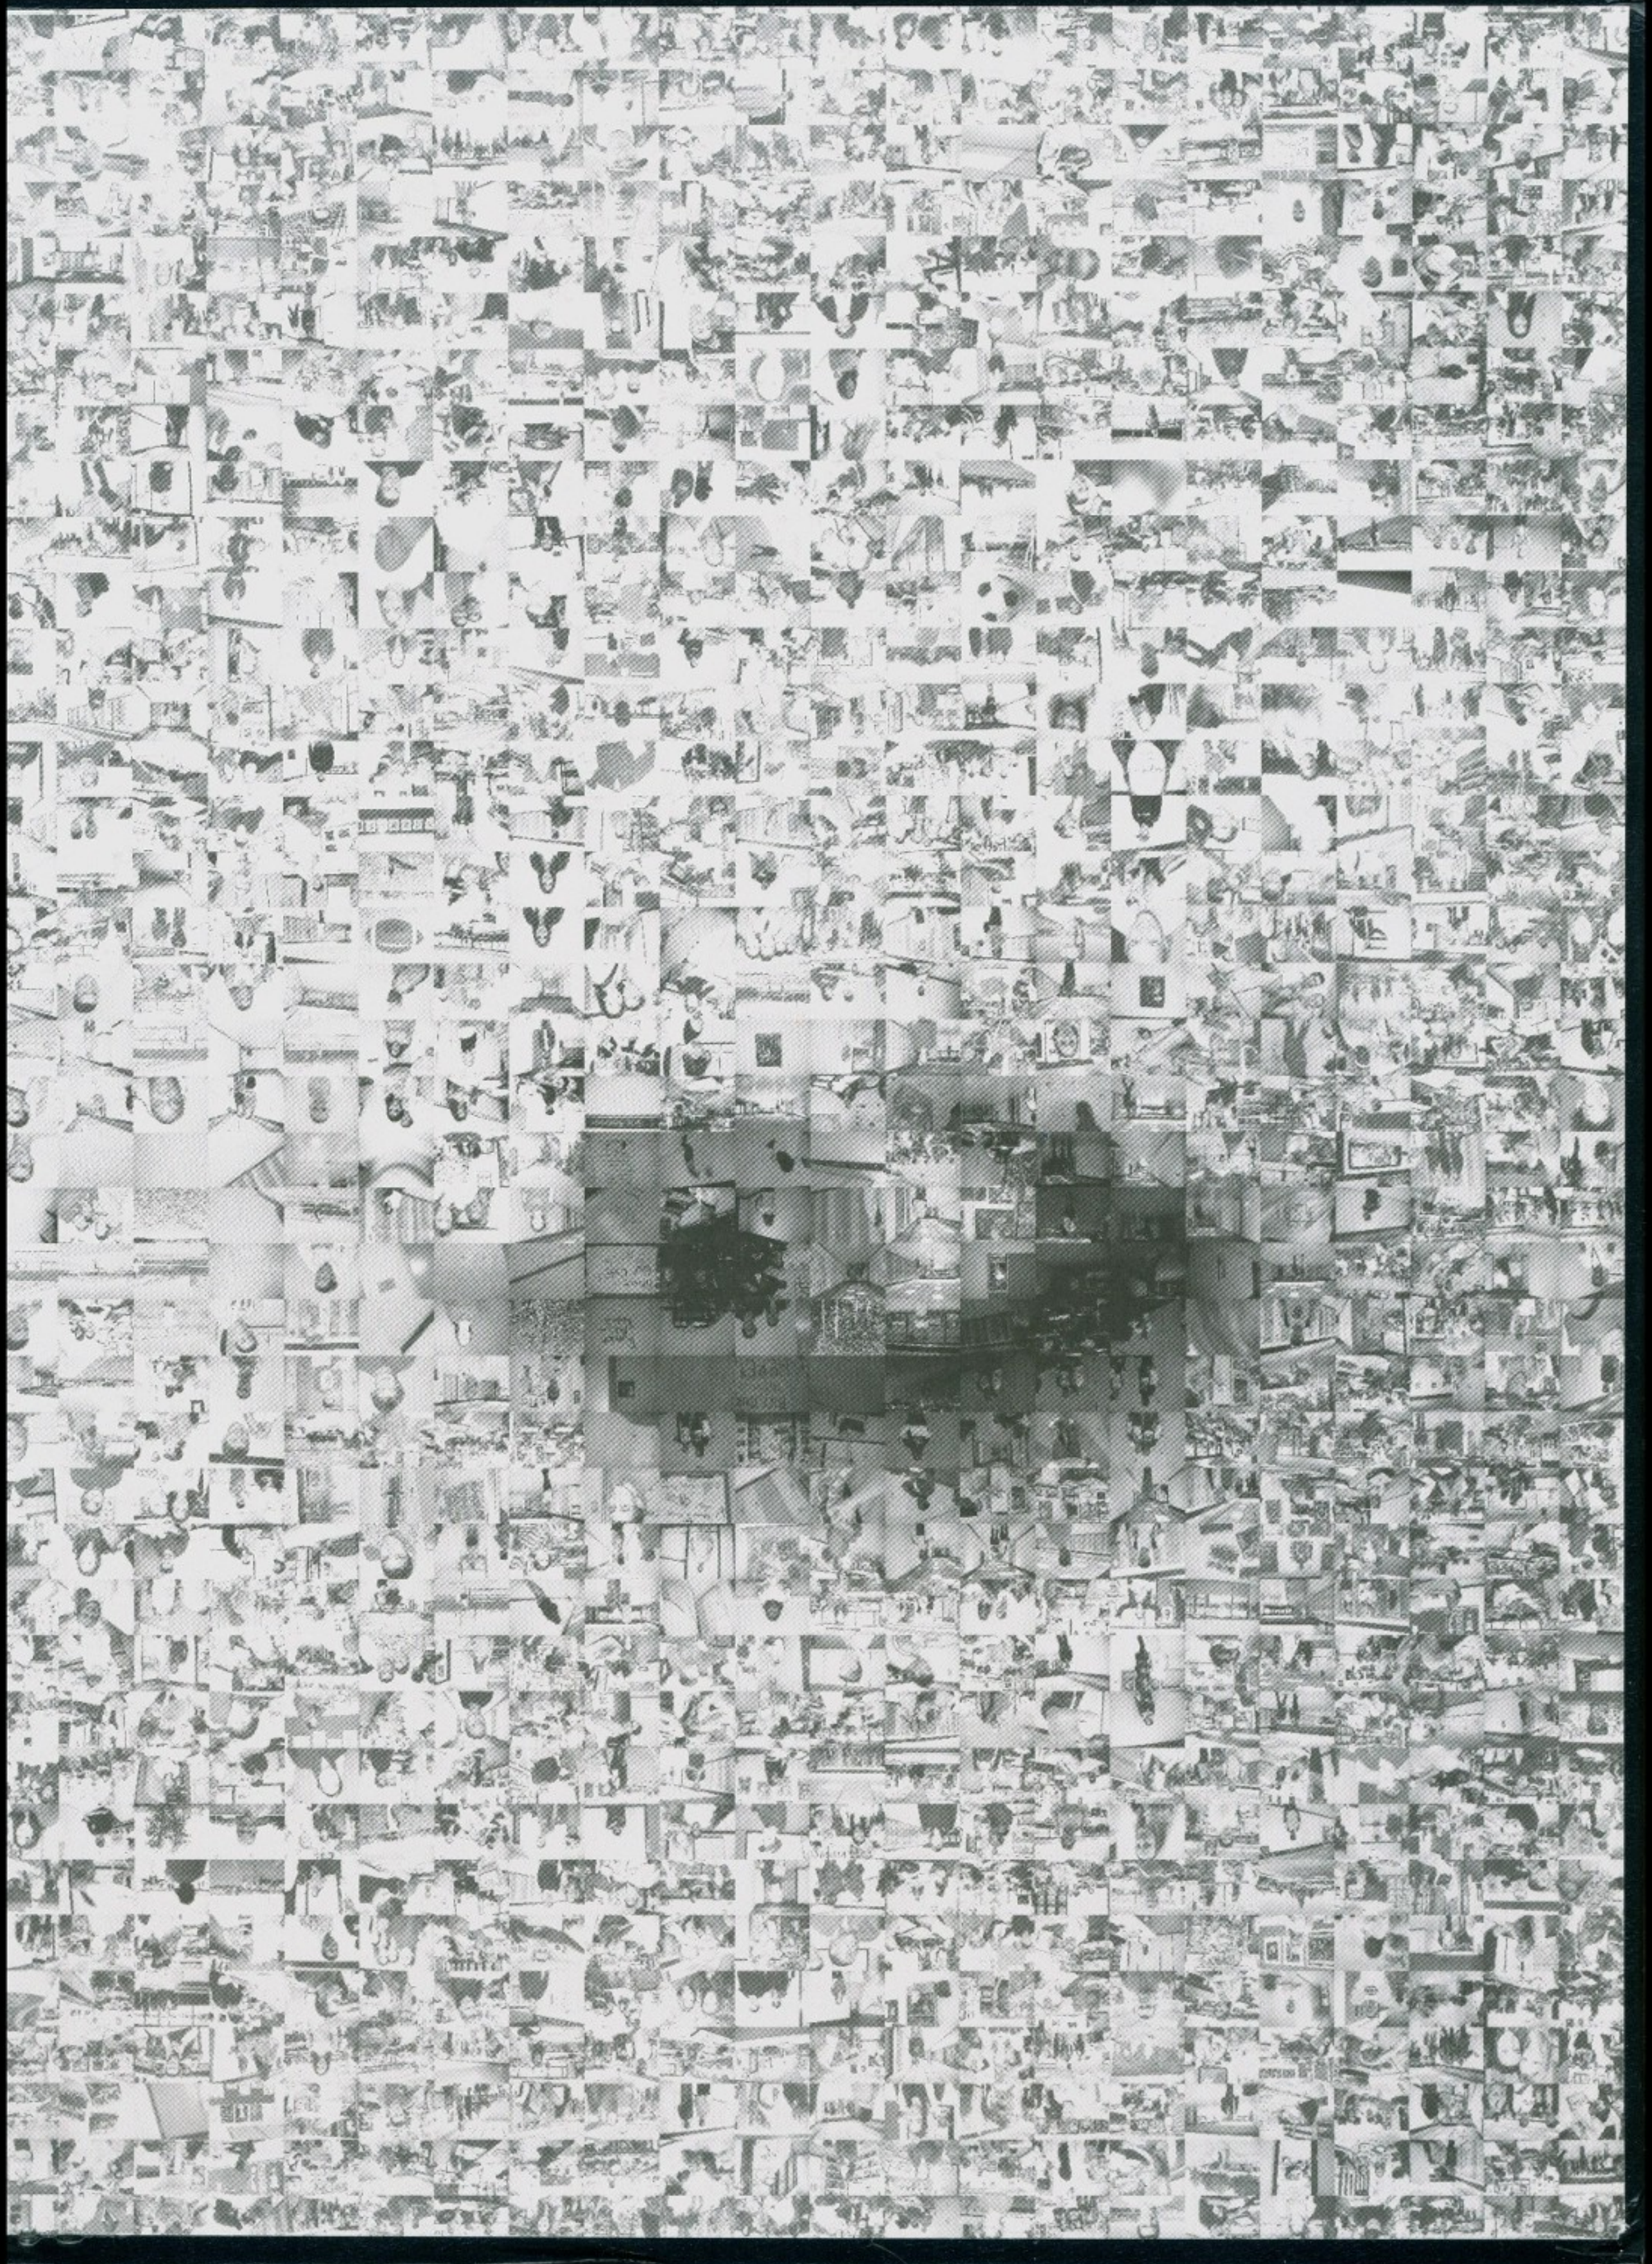
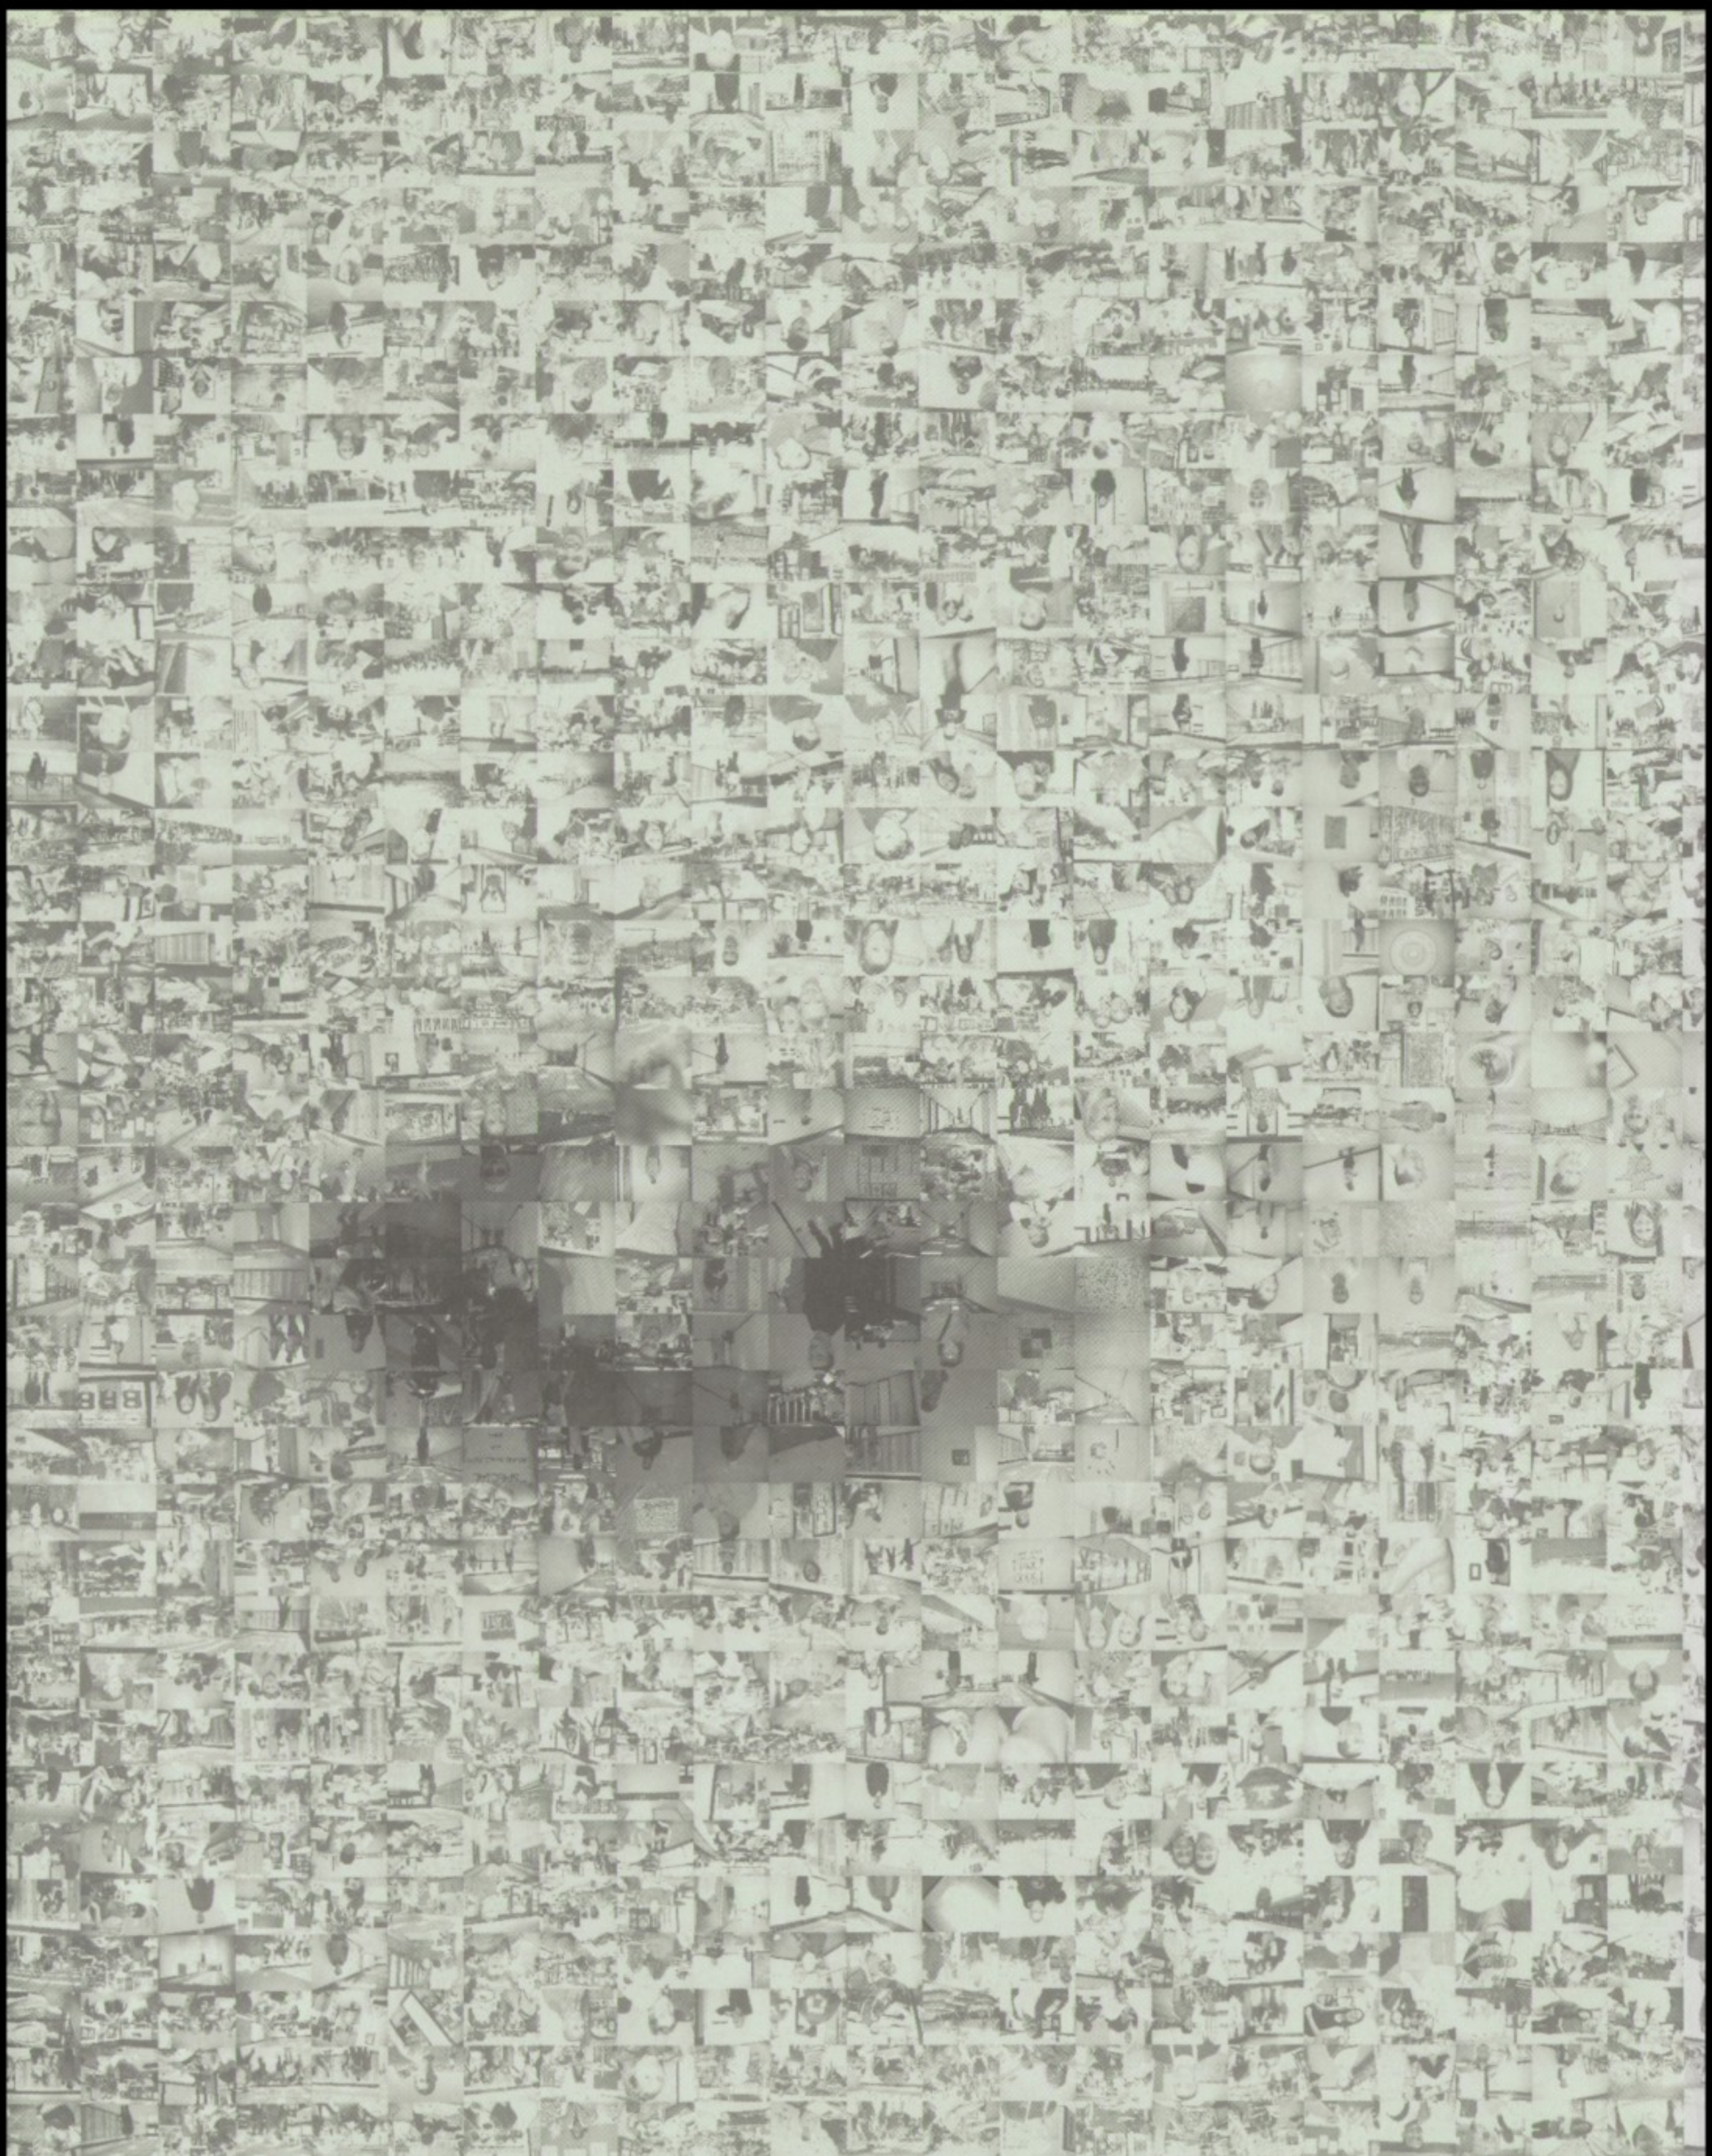
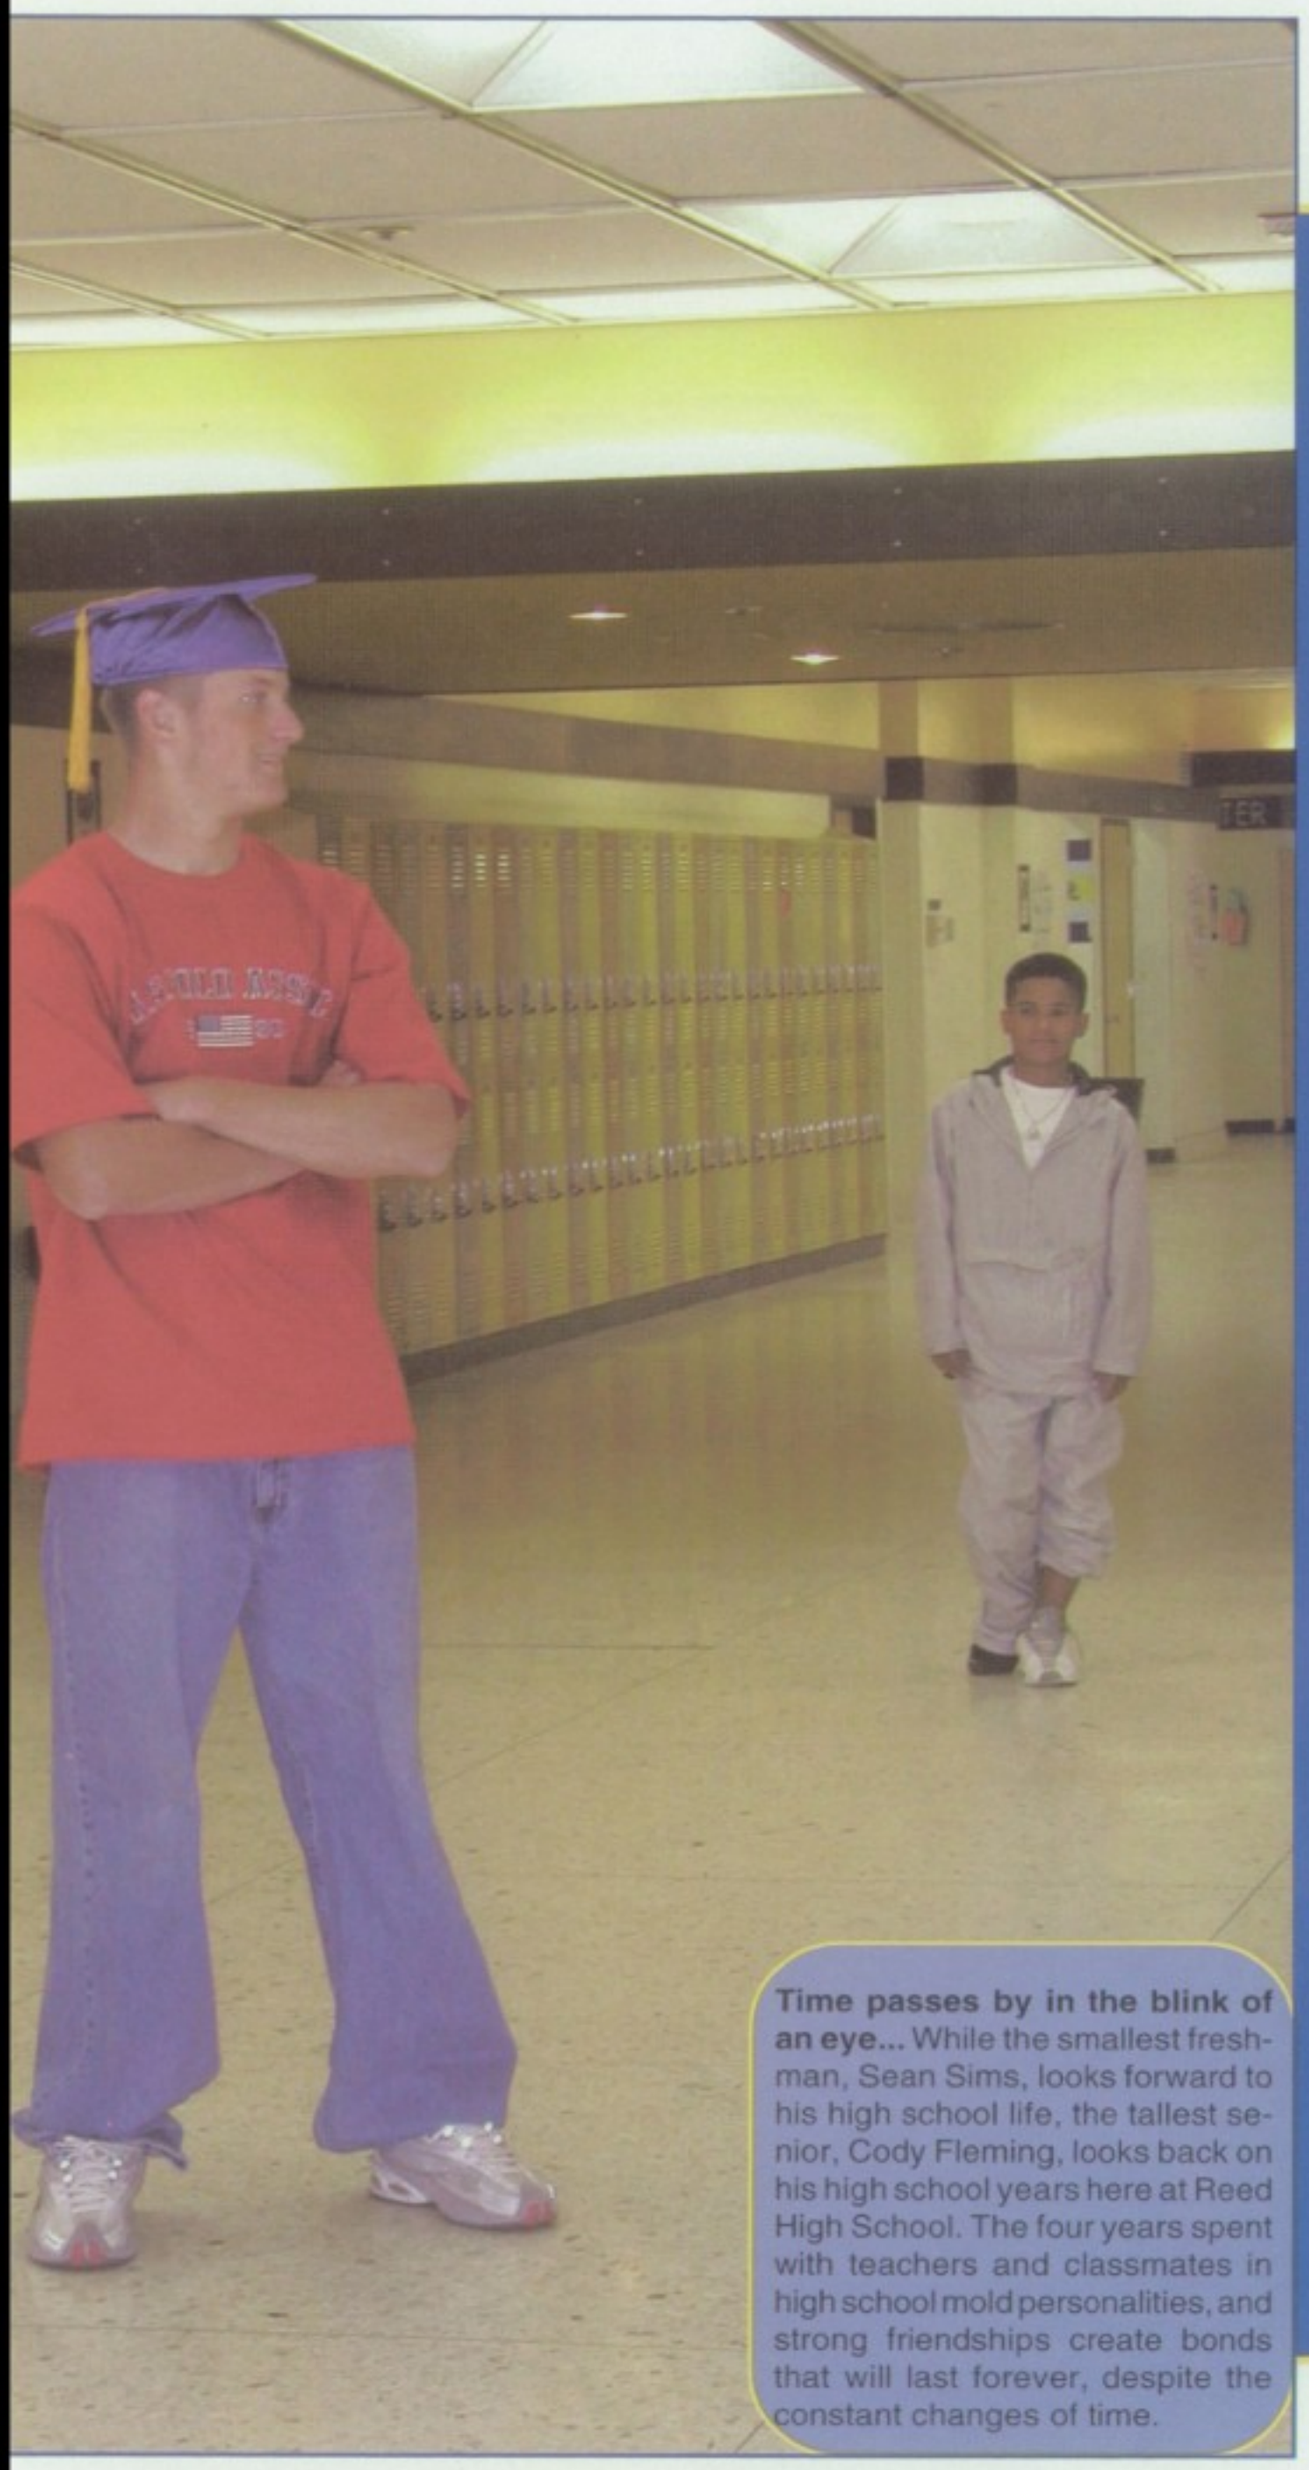
Looking Back







Time passes by in the blink of an eye... While the smallest freshman, Sean Sims, looks forward to his high school life, the tallest senior, Cody Fleming, looks back on his high school years here at Reed High School. The four years spent with teachers and classmates in high school mold personalities, and strong friendships create bonds that will last forever, despite the constant changes of time.

Looking Back

"Remember when..?"
Senior year is here. I am the oldest in the school and I don't need to worry about what the others think. Don't worry about the rumors or any thing like that.... I'm out of here. College is coming and I'm ready. SAT's and Scholarship Apps, that's what it's all about now. Realize my dreams and pursue them with lots of work. Senior Prom and college acceptances, it's all here.
REALITY!

Looking Forward is...

Looking at our options

Finally, we're upperclassmen! All the fun stuff you don't get as a sophomore. Varsity teams, Junior Prom and oh yeah, proficiency tests. We're seniors-in-training. Time to start thinking about the future... colleges and jobs. It's the last summer to play around before we're expected to give our "final answer."
ROAD TRIP!

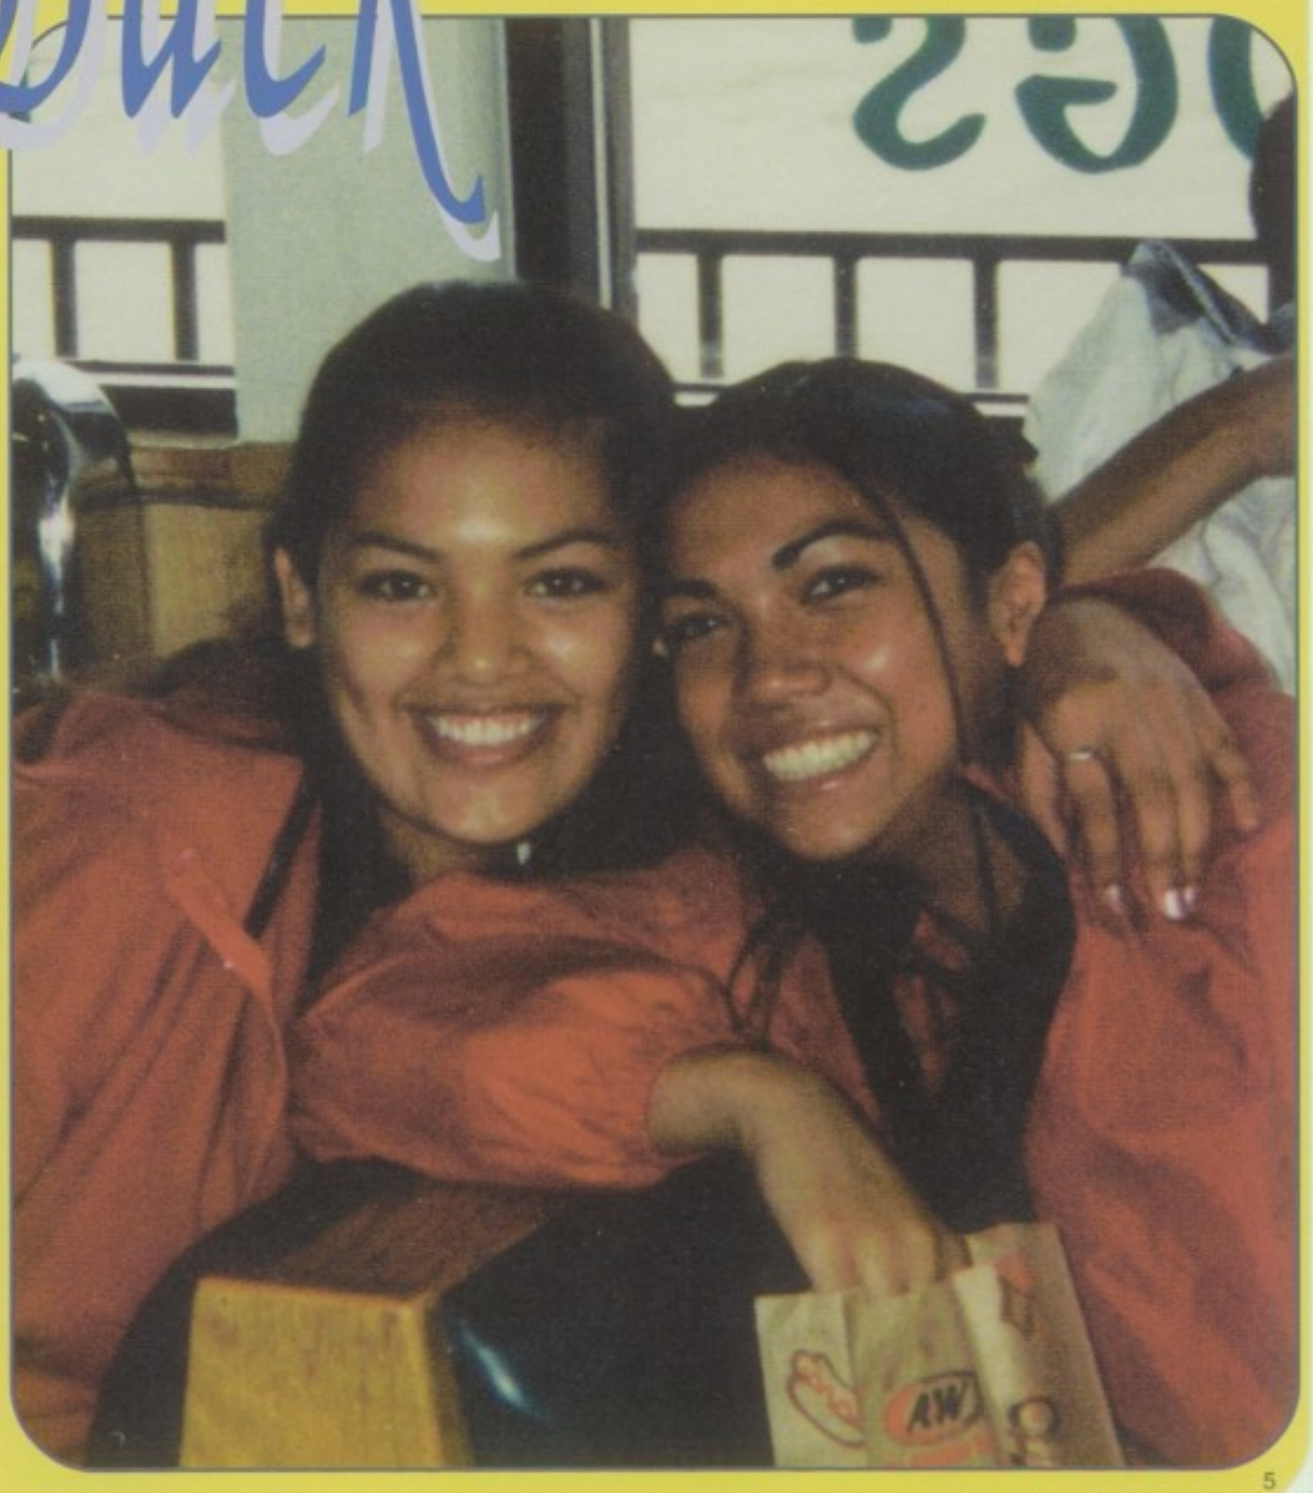
Look At Us

With new looks and style with flair, we're no longer the babies of the school. It's all about us. We enter this year as children and leave it as budding young adults. We can feel the rubber on the asphalt and we finally rule the road. Freshman year feels so long ago. More dances and fun to come, let's enjoy it while we can! CAREFREE!

Looking Back

Looking Forward

Four long years and counting... seems like graduation will never come. New relationships begin, old ones remain. Wide-eyed confusion and excitement. Dances, assemblies and Friday sports games. Here's my chance to start anew... here I am high school, WATCH OUT!



Shawnice' Kraeber, Kim Stanhouse

Anyone enjoys a good time, and joining clubs, participating in extracurricular activities, and attending the events during our high school years is a fun way to have a fantastic time. Events such as Powderpuff and tailgates are great memories, and things like summertime hang-outs, friends, peers, and club activities are several memories students want to have forever.

This year gave anyone a chance to make these memories, and most did. A great example would be Brian Vaden (03), showing off his feminine side as one of this year's many Powderpuff Cheerleaders.

Another unique item of this year would be fashion. Self-expression and individuality were shown several different ways without breaking this year's dress code. Several students had unique hairstyles, clothes, piercings, and tattoos. Showing school spirit was also seen a lot in students everyday life. Senior Meghan Lyons sports her letterman jacket and khakis.

The students and staff together showed a tremendous amount of unity and patriotism this year, and the student body worked hard to make their contributions and charities to organizations such as the American Red Cross. As one, Reed High helped to make a difference.

The life and spirit at Reed High can be summed up into one sentence: We are LIVING and loving it.

Catching some rays. Whether it was playing sports like motocross or tanning on the beach, this summer had some thrilling and memorable moments. Many teens flocked to nearby lakes and rivers during the summer to cool off and get a tan. Some went as far as Hawaii, while other stayed close to home at the Sparks Marina. Many groups of friends went on day trips to places like Emerald Pools or Lake Tahoe, just far enough to get away from the city. "Emerald Pools was a blast I had so much fun. The funniest moment was when Kyle clogged up the rock slide and then when he got stung by the bee and jumped out of Jake's car. Everyone was jumping off the cliffs and doing back flips on them, it was so fun!" said Thai Welty

Indoor fun. From birthday parties to luaus in Hawaii people had tons of fun this summer. Even when there seemed to be nothing to do people still kept themselves entertained by doing things such as icecream eating contests. "I felt like I just completed one of the greatest accomplishments of my life, eventhough I was in extreme pain and my stomach was freezing cold it still remains one of the best days of this summer." said "Fat" Jake Snyder who lived up to his nickname by eating a whole 1.2 gallon tub of icecream.

To play, or not to play... that is the question

People in high school are old enough to work after school; however, this generation has different priorities. While some students work to get what they want or need, others do not have to. They enjoy the time that they have while they can.

From skating... to handstands... to hanging out with friends... even at work, fun is the name of the game.

America the Free?

On September 11, 2001, our country came under attack.

Two planes plowed into the World Trade Center twin towers. Another flew into the Pentagon and a fourth crashed just a few miles from Camp David, the president's vacation spot.

Firefighters, police officers,doctors and co-workers disappeared in the deadly rubble.

That day a nationwide feeling of terror spread through the country. Shortly thereafter, cars were decorated in posters and stickers of the American flag. For the first time in history the American flag was almost impossible to find in any store– the demand was so high.

Candles were lit in remembrance of those who were lost. Radios blasted news and songs that helped to bring the nation closer together, united in fierce American pride. People dared the perpetrators of this horrible act to come forward, but they never did.

America struck back, bombing Afghanistan to try to weed out the responsible people.

"Words can not describe the feeling of sickness I had. It will be remembered as the day our world changed forever."

-Dave Sayer(teacher)

"It didn't really seem real.I was in the car laughing because it was my friend's birthday when I heard. It was unbelievable."

-Carissa Bush(12)

"It's more than the thousands of people who died. All of their families and friends suffered too. I am so sorry that our government took so long to act on airport security. September 11 was the death of innocence for America."

-Monet Paputsides(teacher)

"I was so shocked,angry and dissappointed all at the same time. How could anybody do this to innocent people?"

Show me the Spirit!

Show me the Spirit!

*"The powder puff cheerleaders are so hot!"-Mike Wilson (03)

With a gold star, Justin Wheeler (02) shows his school pride by temporarily dyeing his hair.

As Lil' Suzy got tossed into the air by his fellow powder puff cheerleader squad, he flew high with pride. How much more school spirit could you ask for? These sexy fellas are wearing skirts!

STATISTIC:The average "cheerleaders" took 25 minutes to become the beautiful "girls" who appeared in the assembly.

In the Spotlight

As the entertainment for the assembly, each homecoming candidate and their escorts were asked to introduce themselves, perform a song and participate in a game.

Crystal Aichele and Mike Lockwood were the first to scarf down the foot long licorice rope, winning the contest.

More quickly than the rope disappeared, Cody Fleming swept Whitney Smith off her feet and swung her through the air.

While Mandy Herald embraced Trevor Cook after serenading one another to a romantic love song, the crowd was astonished as Sonny and Cher walked into the gym. Everyone cheered as Cher (Andrew Eckes) exclaimed, "I got you, babe," as he sang his way into Sonny's heart (Jina Yoo).

As the assembly rolled on, so did one of the couples. There was nothing stopping Amanda Chaney and her boyfriend Ben Ragains as they rolled through the crowd on their stylish long boards.

Finally, Colie McManus and Scott Baxter really knew how to light up a crowd. The student body stood on their feet and cheered while the two performed their rendition of Billy Madison's famous "More Gum" song.

As the band "Access Denied" played the National Anthem, a surge of pride flowed through the students. With hands over their hearts, almost 2,000 teenagers and faculty stood respectfully throughout the song. As the anthem came to an end, the gym erupted with cheers of pride and admiration.

Singled Out fun

“What was the best part of Singled Out?”

“Alicia Karau in the pie eating contest .”
-Lucas Delong (03)

“It was a lot of fun being involved, and I was happy with who I ended up with.”
-Mike Lockwood (02)

“It was really fun, just the thought of having such a wide variety of girls to choose from.”
-Justin Wheeler (02)

“Being up there and participating, like drawing and singing.”
-Brian Vaden (03)

“Winning a date with Sarah Slater.”
-Scott Baxter (02)

Single? Want to find the perfect match? The perfect opportunity for you to find your match was at this year’s Singled Out. Boys and girls got the opportunity to pick what characteristics are most important to them for a relationship. The competition got downright dirty, including the girls competing in a pudding eating contest to avoid being eliminated from the selection. Boys showed off their talent by singing romantic ballads and getting in touch with their artistic side by drawing their hopeful beauty. It all adds up to an all together entertaining night as singles at Reed find their match.

The boys await their possible future with the beauties of Singled Out.

The reigning champions of the pudding eating contest .

The hosts pay close attention to the directions given before.

Blindfolded and awaiting to meet her match. Kelly Pierce (02)

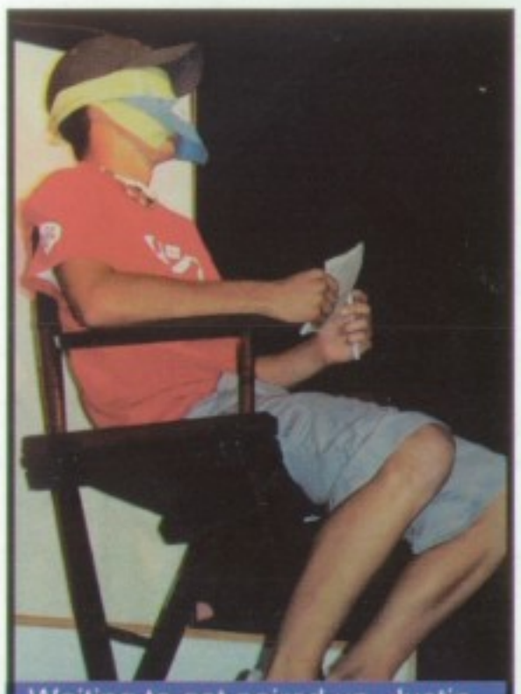
Showing off his artistic ability, Scott Baxter (02) draws a contestant.

Feel the heartbreak as Kelly Pierce (02) eliminates Brian Brantley (02)

Clayton Spicer (04) sings to Kelly Pierce (02) at Singled Out in hopes that he might get a date. He won, and they got free admission to the Homecoming dance.



Waiting to get paired up, Justin Wheeler (02) remains patient.

And the match is made...

Singled Out brought several couples together for homecoming 2001

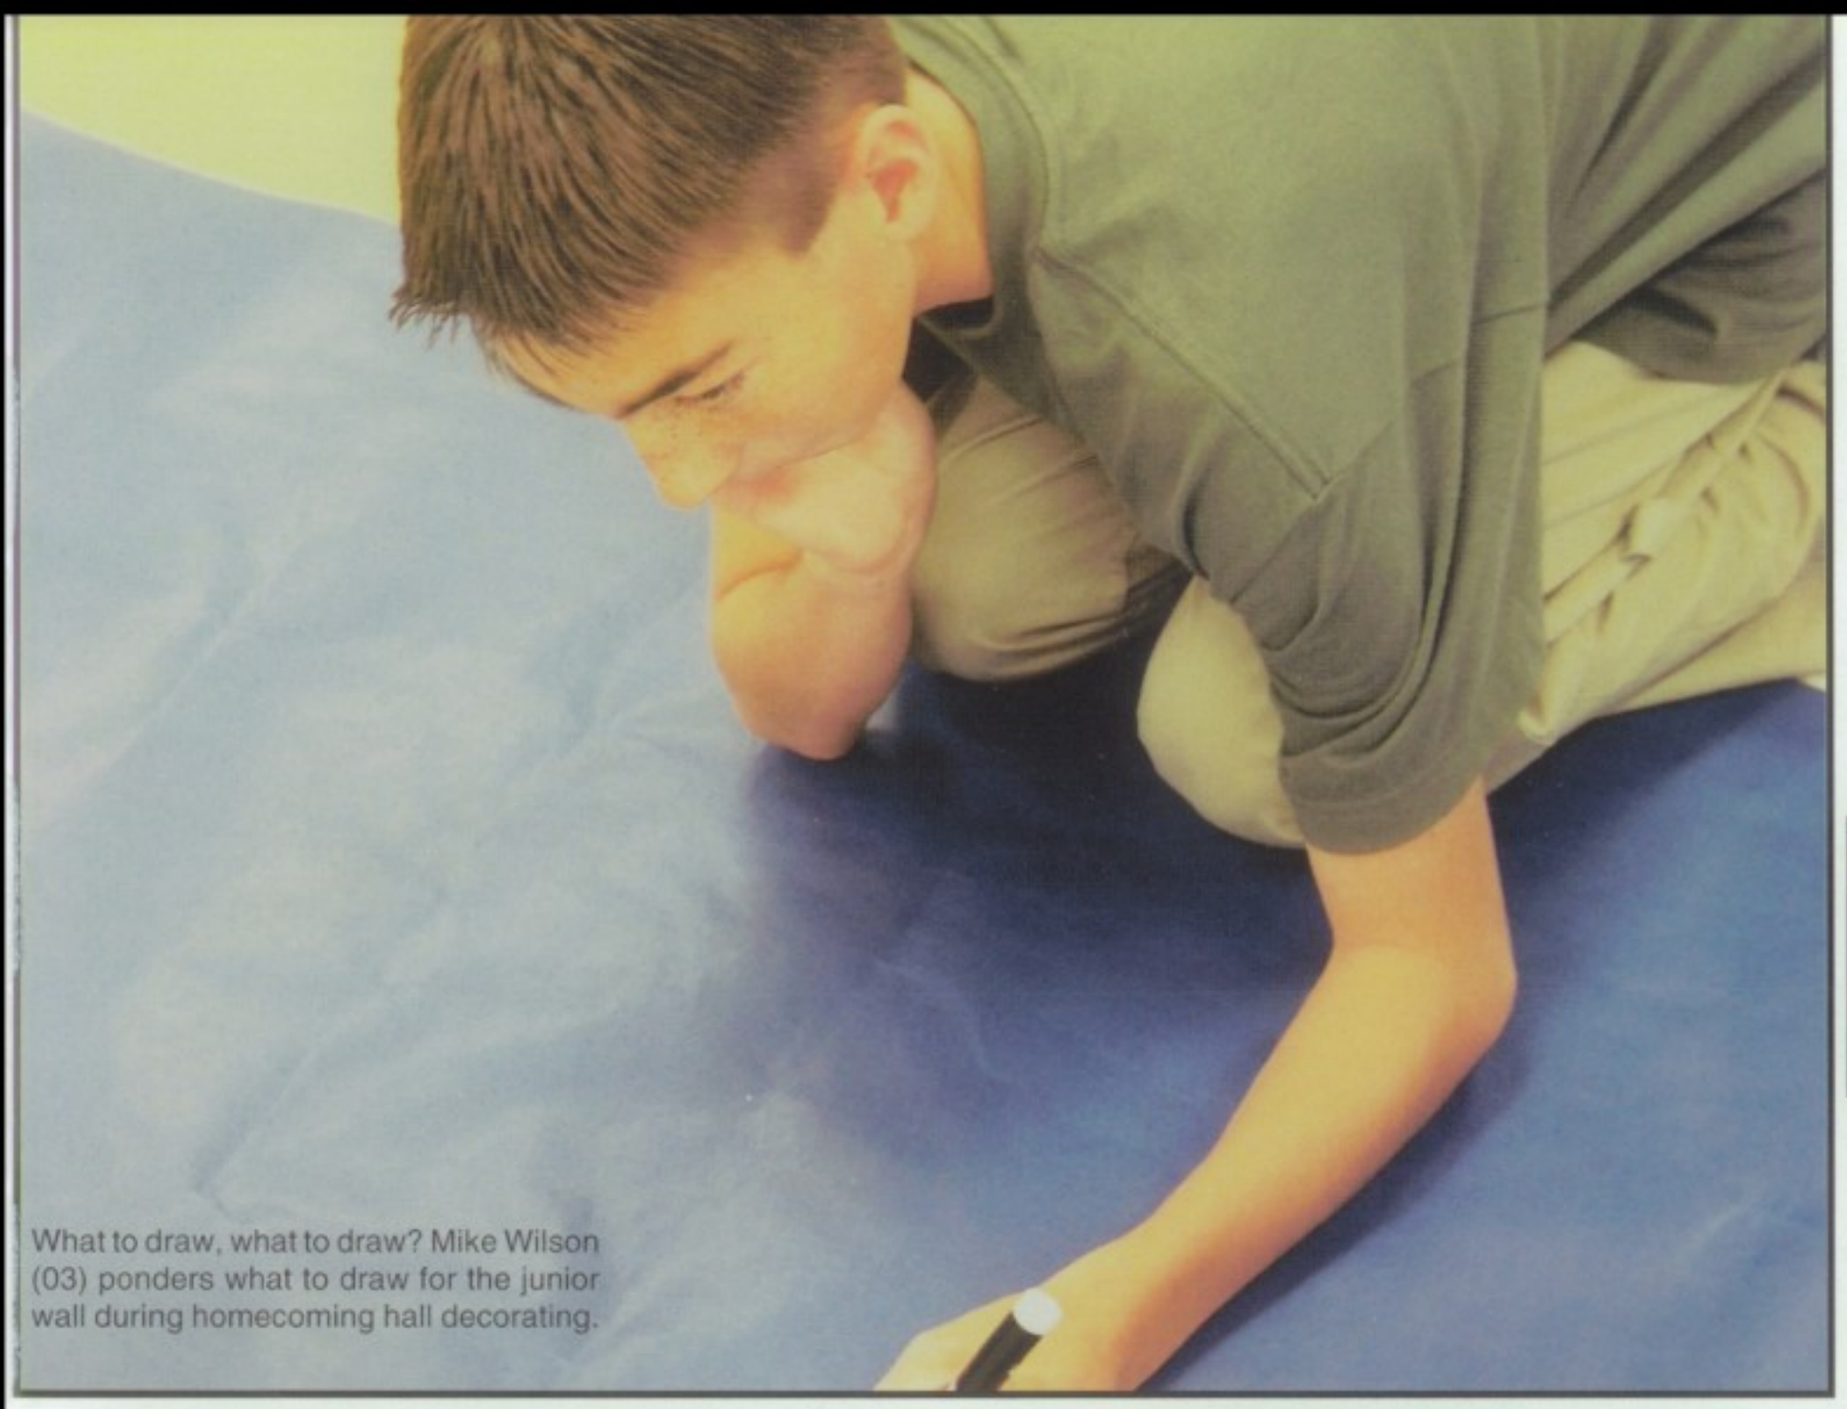
Before the night begins, host Katie Smith (03) explains the rules of the game to the participants.

You ever get the feeling like you’re just one of the bunch? The girls and guys of Singled Out wait to see which one of them will be next.

Deck the halls, show the spirit!

The halls always get a little bit of creativity during homecoming. Hall decorating is held after school one day and keeps the spirit coming all week. This year the theme was "Toss the Griz-zlies", so it was only obvious to include teddy bears and salad among the decorations. Freshmen wall had the football player, and a salad with teddy bears.

Sopho-more wall showed us "tossing the grizzly". Junior wall actually had teddy bears thrown in with their salad, and the theme for the juniors "2003-eezy is off the heezy fo' sheezy", and Seniors chose to theme their wall 2002, which the had signs all of over it.



What to draw, what to draw? Mike Wilson (03) ponders what to draw for the junior wall during homecoming hall decorating.

Paint on the hands?

It's not like those walls just got decorated by themselves, a lot of work went into them.

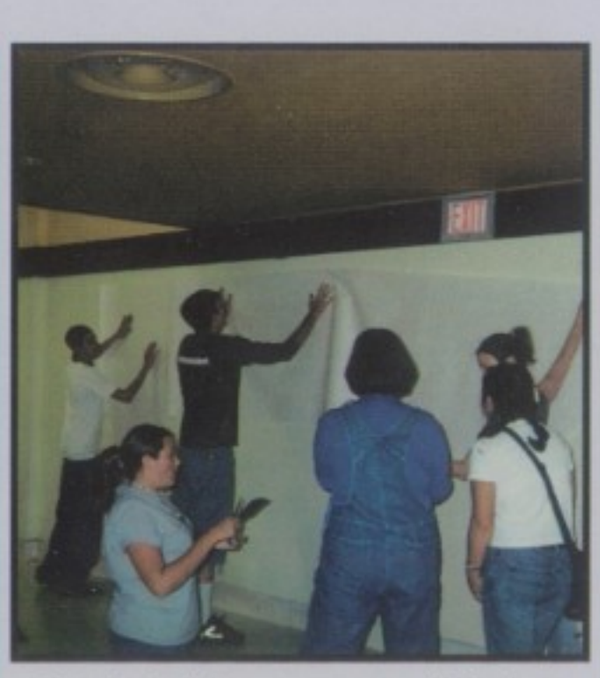
Seniors Allie Eckert and Ashley Turney start working on the "2002" signs that were put all over their wall.

Greyson Bueffa and Lucas Delong prepare the yellow background for Junior wall.

Work, work, and more work!

when it came to decorating the halls, every little detail counted!

Try not to screw up! Brian Motsinger works on the football player for Sophomore wall as Shelly Spencer, Tori Sims and Brad Fitch watch with intense concentration.



Get it straight now, several Seniors help to make sure that the background for their wall is straight.

Juniors Lindsey Guidera, Lauren Randolph and Heather Woodcock start the construction of the salad for the wall.

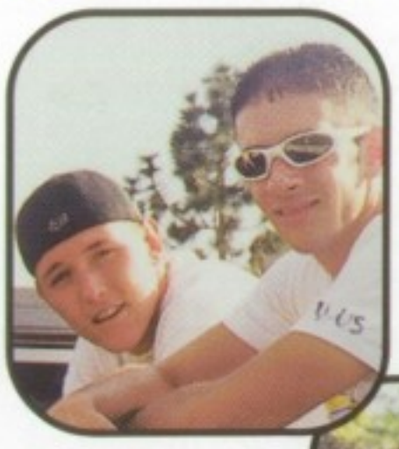
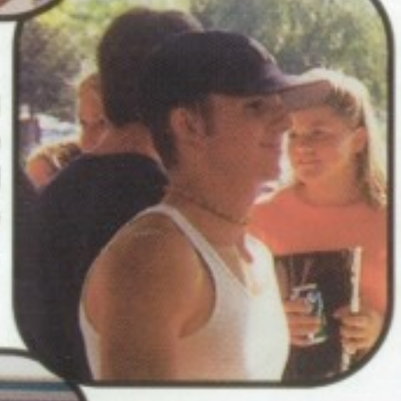
Tailgatin'

Music,food,and friends are all part of the event

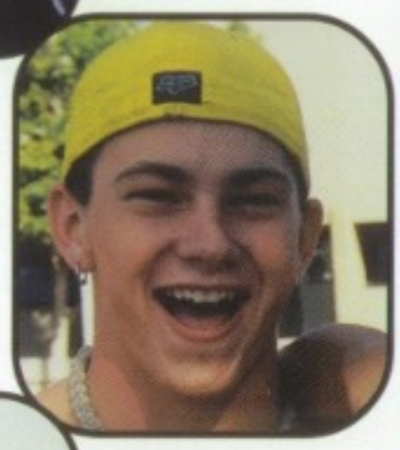


Bryan Frank (02) and Ben Ragains sitting on the tailgate of their truck are here for the ladies.



C.J. Lang (02) comes to the tailgate for the food the friends and the girls.

"What the heck?" Rory Hastings (03) plays one of tailgate's traditional games.

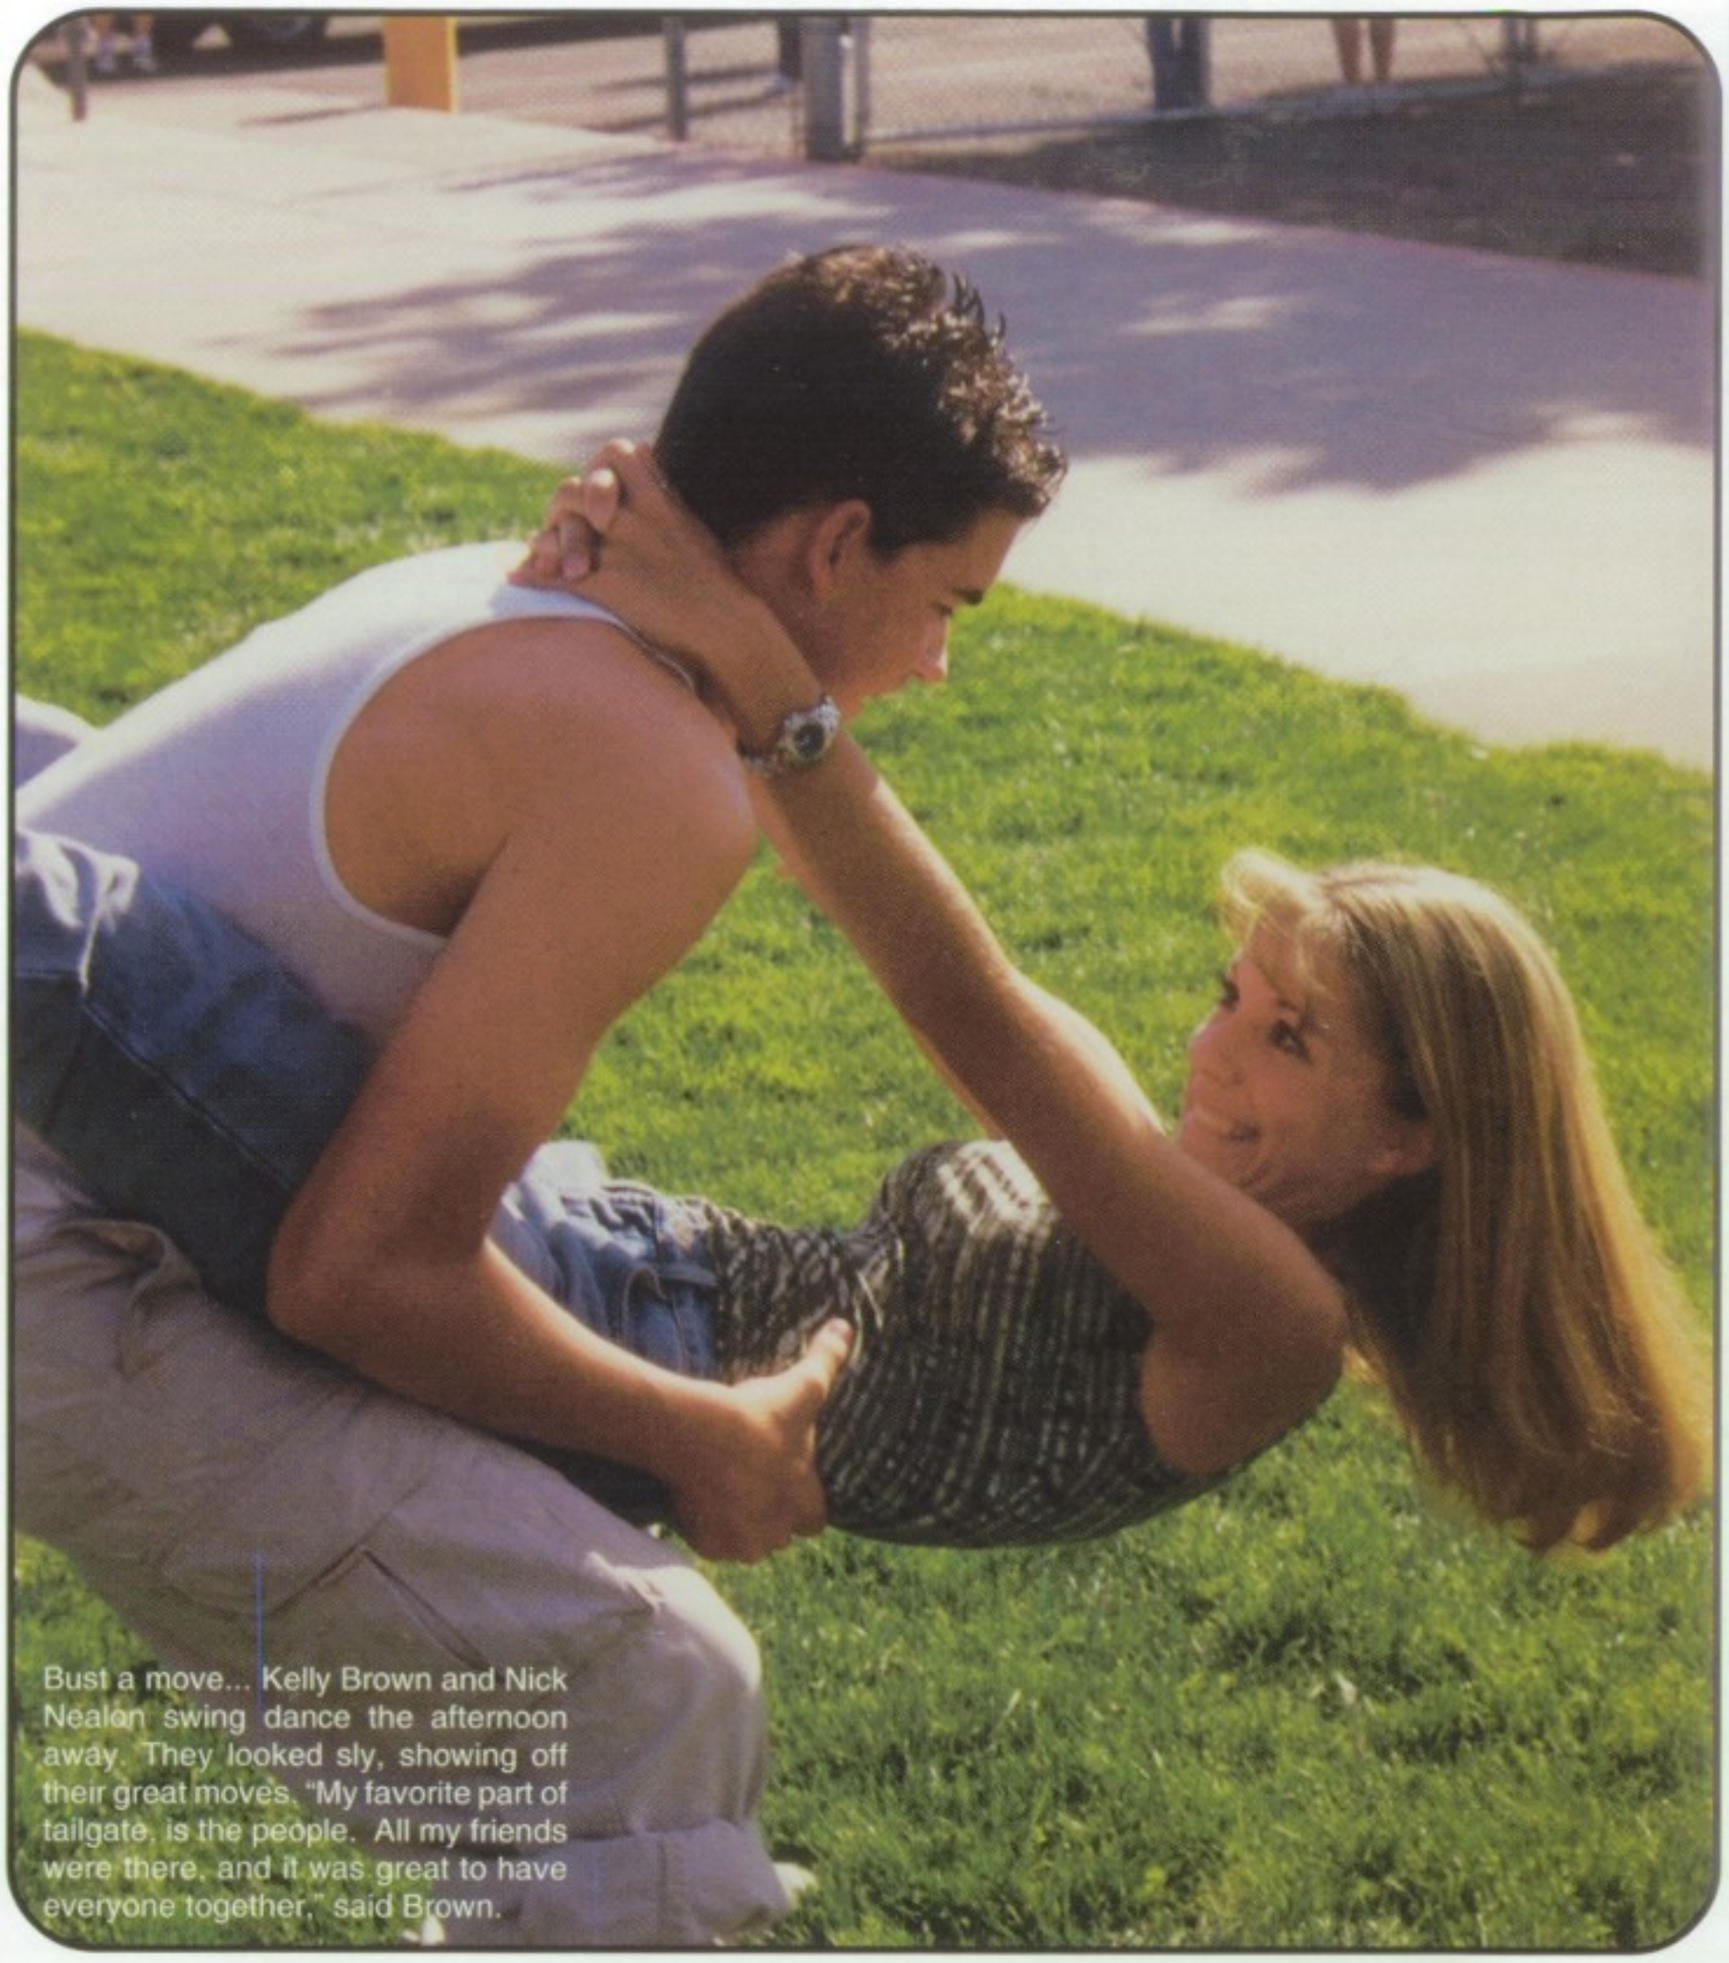


John Patterson (03) flashes a sign of the times while hanging out after school at the tailgate.

Hanging loose on the tailgate of his truck, Brody Massman (02) and friends come to the tailgates just to chill.

Drinking a Sprite, Nicole Budija (02) refreshes herself after a long hard practice at Powderpuff.

Mmmm! Hot dogs off the grill are the best for Neil Saiz (04). Barbequed foods are a tradition for the tailgates.



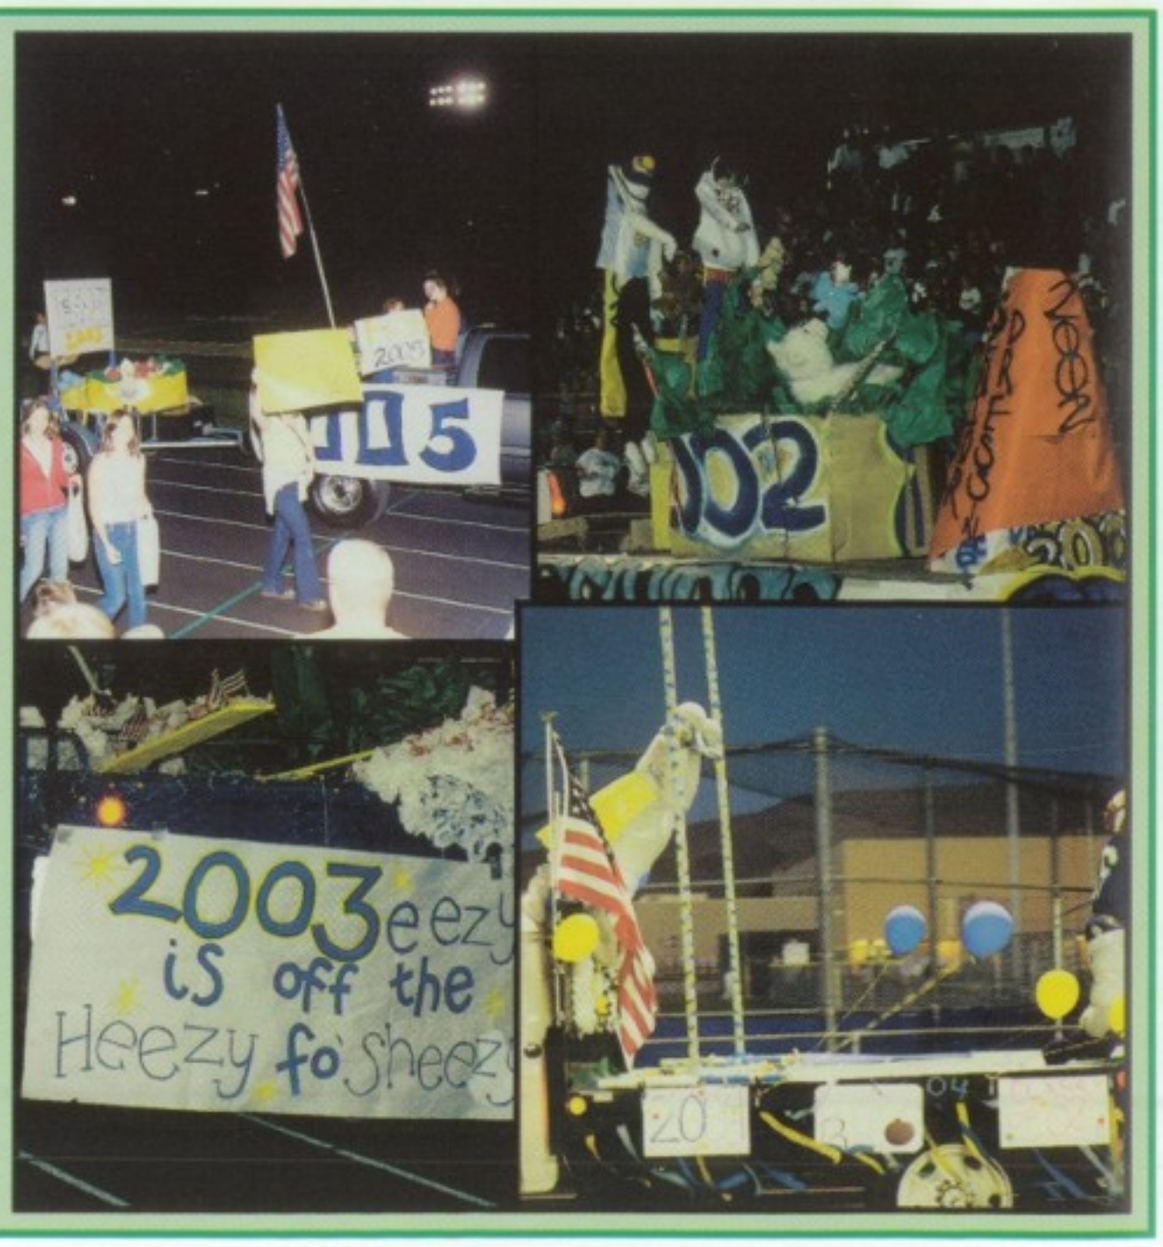
Bust a move... Kelly Brown and Nick Nealon swing dance the afternoon away. They looked sly, showing off their great moves. "My favorite part of tailgate, is the people. All my friends were there, and it was great to have everyone together," said Brown.

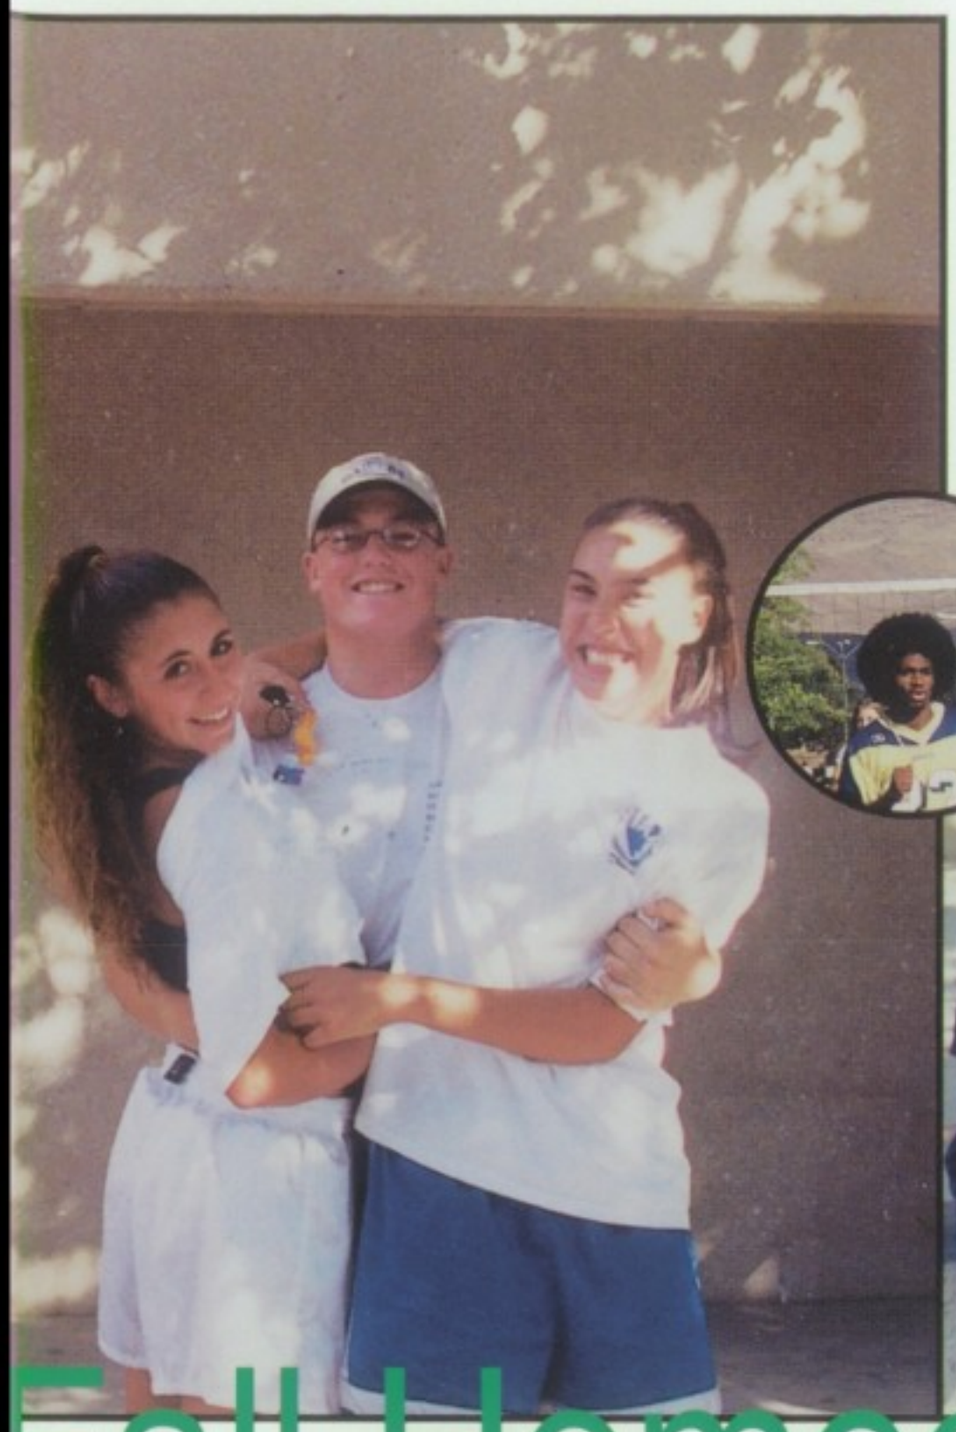
Floating by!

Decorating a float is a long and exhausting job. But it can also be a lot of fun. "After working for six long hours all I wanted to do was lie down and go to bed," says Chelsie Riley (04), " but it was all worth it in the end". The sophomores took first place in the competition this year.

Coming onto the field at the homecoming game the floats dazzled everyone who was in the crowd.

Floats are a very important part of the homecoming tradition. Every year kids from each year decorate a float to the theme. This year the theme was "Toss the Grizzles" and the floats that came from it were extremely amusing! There was everything from a float with teddy bears being tossed in a salad with dressing to a float with a bear being kicked over a goal post by a Reed football player. Although tossing the grizzlies was fun, coming up with a float for the idea must have been very amusing. Can't wait to see what creative ideas we will come up for future themes. Go Reed Raiders!



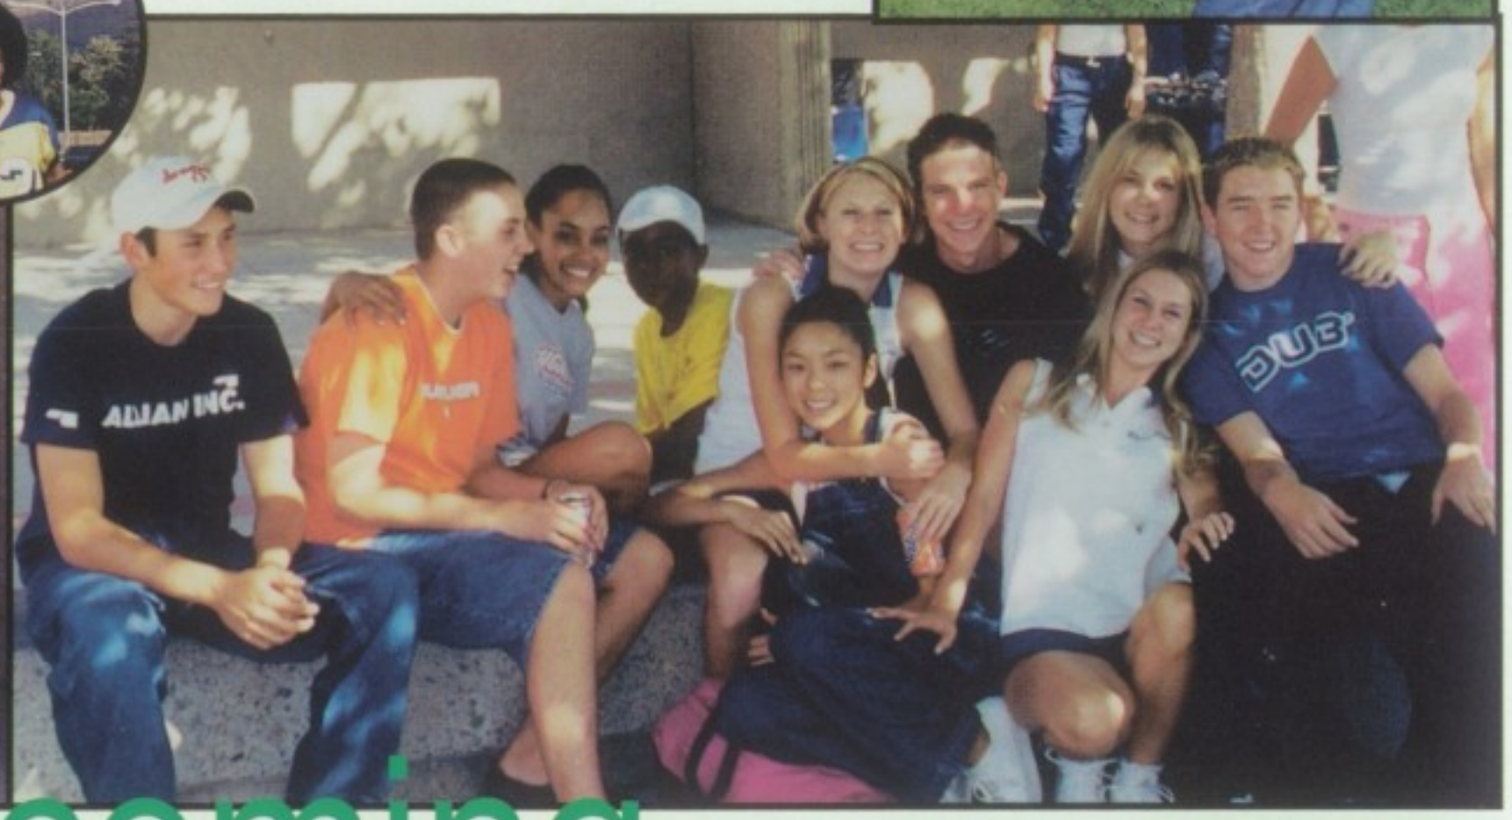


Serve, set, spike! Kyle Labarry is getting the game started with a spectacular serve at tailgate. Attendees played a fierce game.

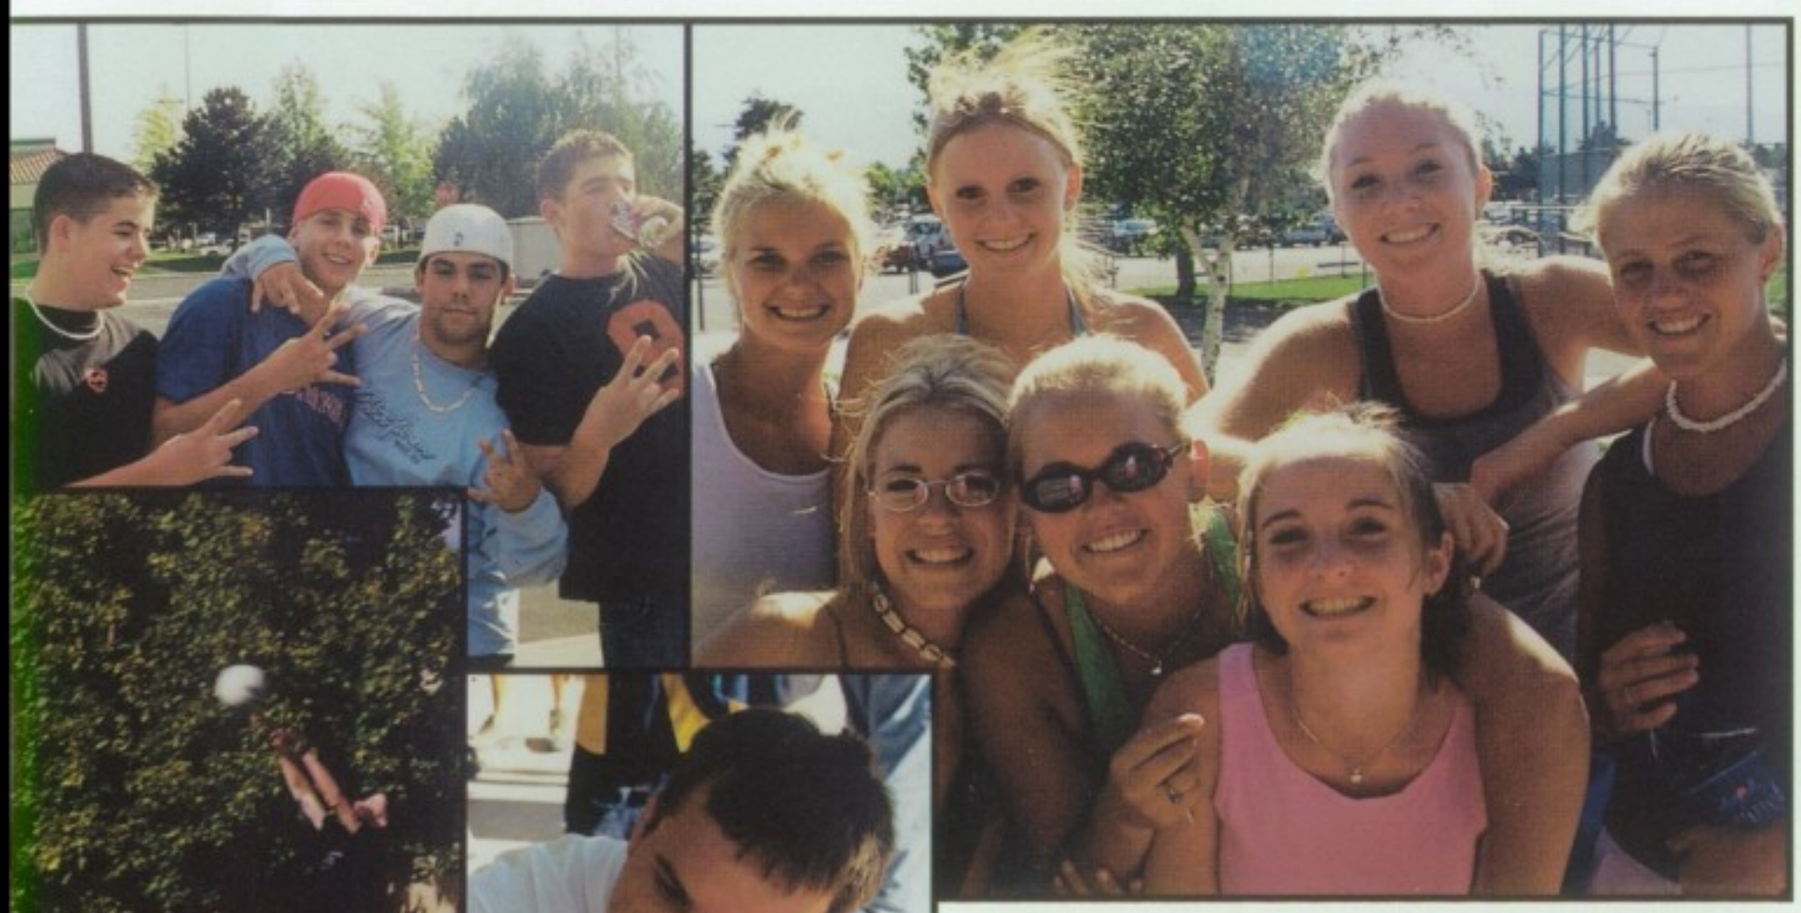
What a stud. Senior Jake Snyder has the senior girls, Claire Housby and Cathleen Corsun, on his side. Joining the rest of the gang after cross country practice to hang out at tailgate.

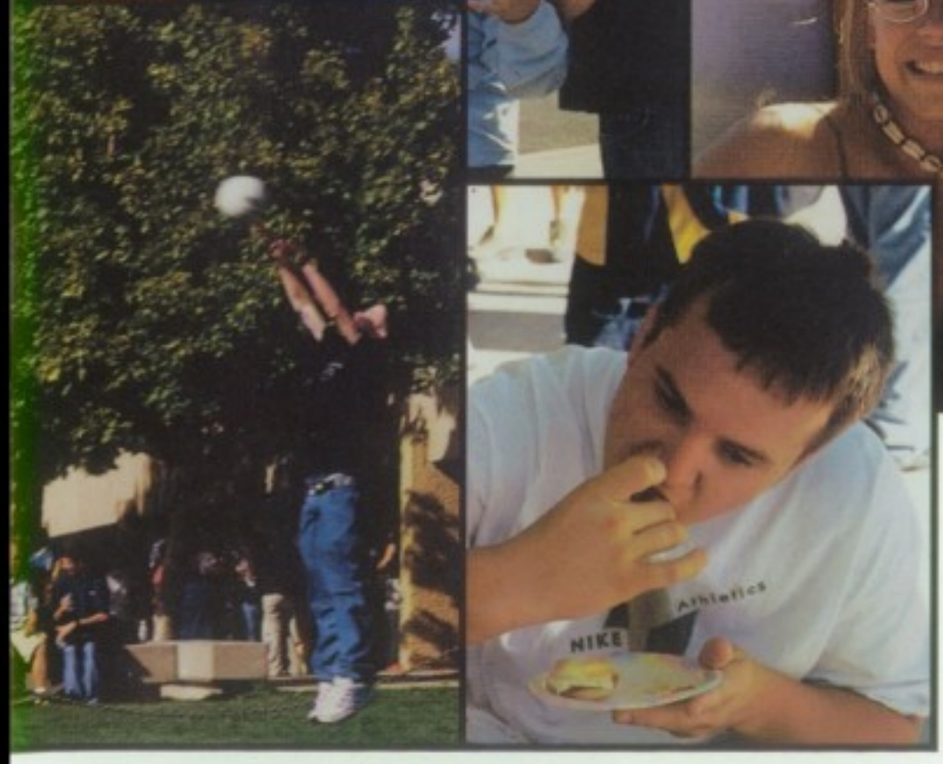
Score! Charles Stacker (03) celebrates after making the point. Charles had fun because,"Like always I was trying to make a not so good time into a good time. I just had fun."

Kickin' like Chickens. Sophomores Neil Saiz, Kyle Labarry, Tori Sims, Patti, Chelsie Riley, Jen Lau, Brian Motsinger, Krystal Love, Lindsey Clewell, and Kenny Treadway all together at tailgate.



Fall Homecoming... a week full of fun-filled after-school activities





Hungry, why wait? That's exactly what Josh Young (04) is thinking. It looks like he was having some finger licking fun with the yummy food at tailgate.

I got all my seniors with me. Monica Thompson, Katie Bocum, Colie McManus, Mandy Herald, Lacy Barela, Kelly Pierce, and Katie Adams.

Juniors Clowning Around. Brian Wilfon, Jamie Ebster, Crispin Valencia, and Lucas Delong.

What did you think of the tailgate event this year?

TOP 5 cool tailgate quotes

1. "Tailgate was alright but it could've been better. I liked the location of it better last year, and the activties this year were weak,plus girls weren't showing enough skin." -C.J. Lang (02)

2. "Of course I had a good time at tailgate. There was music, food, nice cars and cute guys. What else could a girl want?!" -Kellie Brown (04)

3. "I didn't have a very good time because there weren't enough cute girls there." -Jamie Ebster (03)

4. "Yes, because they were giving away free sodas and I was really thirsty since it was right after cross country practice. It made me happy!" -Claire Housby (02)

5. "It was a good time because all my friends were there. We all got to hang out and have a great time." -Rory Hastings (03)

-Sarah DiPrinzio, Jessica Hemmingsen

Show those pearly whites...The candidates line up for a group picture. From Left to Right: Whitney Smith, Mandy Herald, Colie McManus (Queen), Crystal Aichele, Amanda Cheney and Jine Yoo.

Now don't drop it! The homecoming commissioners, Erin Elliott (02), Laura Stoltz (02) and Jenny Joslyn (03) hold the crown before half time Commissioners were elected last spring. One of these three commissioners has to be a Junior, the other 2 are seniors, however, all candidates are seniors.

Homecoming Happenings

"Going to get our pictures taken we had to stand under the goal post and as they were taking our pictures, they (Galena) scored a touchdown right behind us, that was interesting"
-Mandy Herald (02)

"It was (Homecoming Night) just a cool event to be a part of even though my dad wouldn't open the car door for me." -Whitney Smith (02)

"The whole event just brought us (the candidates) together, like right before half time we ran across the streest to A&W to get french fries."
-Amanda Cheney (02)

"We (the candidates) all made a pact, that if one of us tripped or fell, we'd all fall."
-Jina Yoo (02)

"It was just shock when they announced my name, I remember I gave my dad a kiss and then Scott looked at me and said 'Well give me a hug', he was an awesome escort, he just got really into the whole event."
-Colie McManus

Girls on the football field, what a switch! On September 24th, the guys shimmied into their panties, tight shirts and miniskirts. They skipped and pranced onto the track and cheered their little hearts out!

Meanwhile, the women, powerful and strong, charged onto the field and tore it up!

As the students cheered '03 and '02, the women of football grabbed flags like there was no tomorrow.

It was neck to neck during the first half. Then, while the girls rested, the football players set up the egg eating contest.

The competitors dove into their boiled eggs, trying to stuff as many as they could into their mouths. The egg eating contest is a new tradition at Reed. It started because of the Junior and Senior egg wars, which over the years have gotten out of hand. The loser received a close shave by our stylist, principal Mrs. Vesco. The loser of this game was Jake Snyder(02), who knelt down and got his hair shaved in front of cheering fans.

During the second half of the game the Juniors took over and the Seniors began to sweat. Touchdown after touchdown, fans booed and cheered Still fighting the Seniors made one last touchdown by the mighty Mandy Herald(02). As the fat lady sang the Juniors had won by a touchdown. Junior fans and man-cheerleaders flooded the field, ecstatically. It was the first time in Powderpuff history that the Juniors won.

Tuesday

"Animal Print"
It's a jungle out there! Students were asked to dress in their animal clothes as Emily Merrill (03) shows with her cool snake print shirt.

Wednesday

"Winter Survival"
Break out the scarves and sweaters to keep warm. Carla Wheeler (05), dressed in her full ski attire, is all ready to hit the slopes.

Thursday

"Class Day"
Seniors- Blue
Juniors- White
Sophomores- Red
Freshmen- Orange
Molly Demers (03) goes all out for class day.

Friday

"Blue and Gold Day"
Homecoming commissioners Jenni Joslyn (03), Laura Stoltz (02) and Erin Elliot (02) show their school spirit and pump the basketball team up to beat Spanish Springs.

All the spirit, dress up days included, it's what we call

Kendal Riley , Joanne Christ and Whitney Smith (02)

Kristen Corbridge (04) and Jeff Shelffo (05)

It's not all that difficult to show spirit, students like Ashley Turney (02), just wear their pajamas, and others like Jim Marshall (04), wear their ski jackets and warm pants for "Winter Survival Day" Some dress up days, however, take a little more effort, Junior Girls Alisha Theofanides, Jacqueline Valle, Sarah Miranda, Mimi Ferguson, Maurqesha Mcalister,and AJ Torres all dress up to match for the assembly.

Above left- Surviving winter, Lauren Randolph, Mindy Eustaquio and Lindsey Guidera (03) dress warm for the day. Above right- Justin Wheeler (02) in his snowboarding equipment. Right- Being a senior has it's benefits, Megan Holtz and Erin Elliot, show off their cute pj's. Left-Ashley Massey, Sarah DiPrinzio and Erika Reyes (04) are nice and toasty for Winter Survival.

Boys JV, Boys' and Girls' Varsity all won their games.

You said it!

"I think the dance is the best part, because everyone gets together, even the people who don't like to dance."
- Allison Mang (02)

"Homecoming is spiffy because it shows school spirit."
-Erik Prudden (05)

"I think homecoming is great because of the dress up days. When people get involved, it's funny to see some of the ways that people get into it."
-Amanda Magrini (02)

"Homecoming shows that a lot of people really don't have school spirit because not that many people dress up."
-Jamie Patterson (03)

"I don't go to homecoming because I have better stuff to do. Why would I want to go to school when all I think about all day is leaving."
-Gary Muro (02)

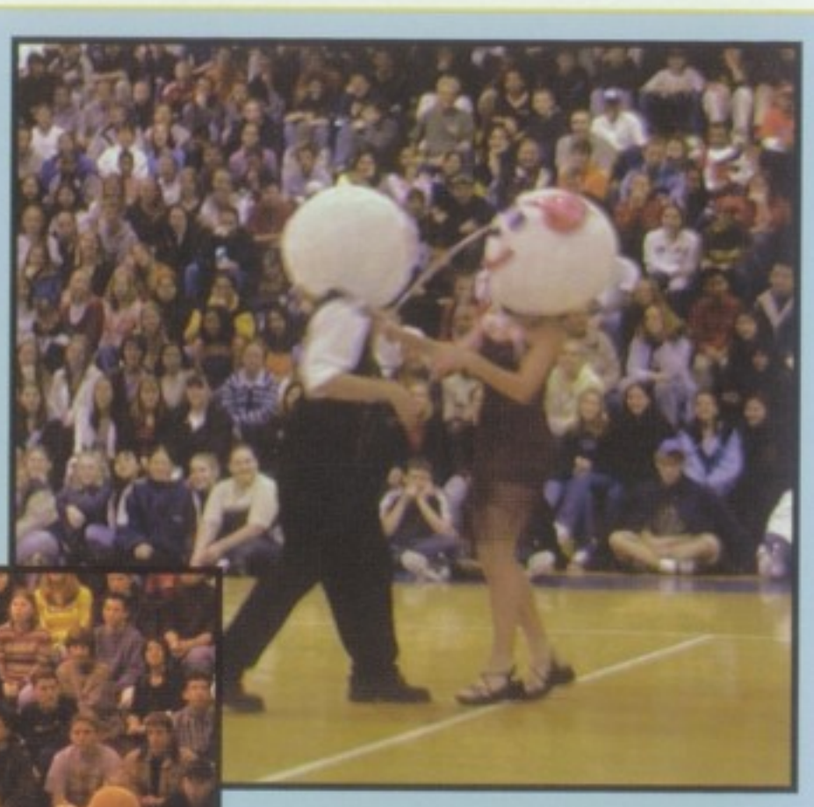
Get the fans pumped up for the game



Local band Breakneck, (Kyle Givani (02), Andrew Eckes (02), Tyler Elliot (04), Mike Lockwood (02), and Grant Kelly) performed at the homecoming assembly. As a tradition, candidates are introduced by doing a skit. This year candidates were asked to sing karaoke, to a song they didn't know. Christy Liem (02) and Cody Fleming (02) sang "Genie in A Bottle" by Christina Aguilera. Justin Wheeler (02) and Kendal Riley (02) sang "L-O-V-E" by Nat King Cole. Zac Canale (02) Sarah Slater (02) did the Austin Power's Song "Just the Two Of Us" with their own lyrics. During the dance competition the 'Jackson 4,' Tommy Phen (02) Cheryl Suratos (03) Wendy Ngyuen (05) and Kiet Cao (05), show how much skill they really have.

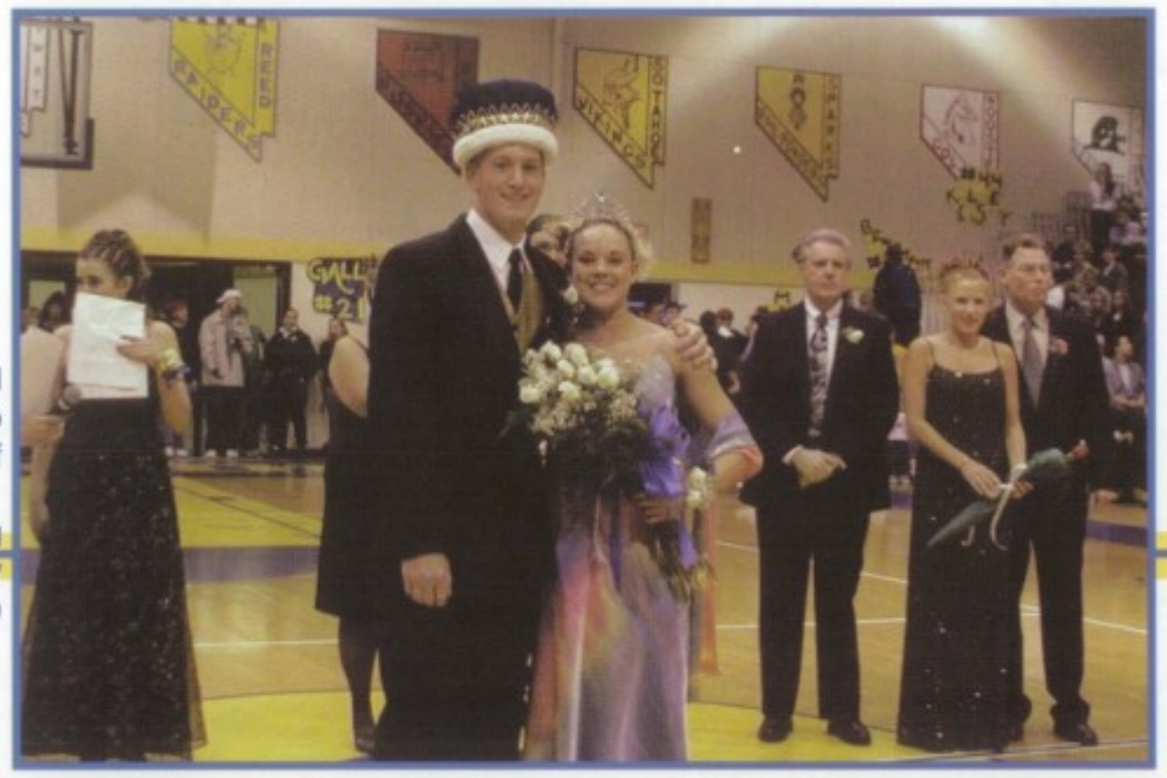
Anatomy of game night



"Winning was a total surprise. I was up against some stiff competition."
-Homecoming King, Cody Fleming (02)

Game night is about the basketball game.

Fans show support at the game, and also at school by dressing up all week.

Game Night, every event leads up to this one,especially the crowning of the king and queen, Cody Fleming and Sarah Slater (02).

The obvious reason to go to the game, watch the "Raiders raid the Cougar cave" as Reed beats Spanish Springs and the entertainment at halftime.

Other halftime entertainment keeps fans watching.

After school events keep the school alive and filled with chatter.

Top 5 Winter Homecoming thoughts

5 "Homecoming brings out the pride and gets everyone involved, showing pride for Reed."
-Alicia Karau (02)

4 "It shows how everyone can come together and show school pride and spirit."
-Rashé Coleman (05)

3 "My favorite part of homecoming is the halftime ceremony. The student body is full of spirit and excitement, as well as the candidates."
-Erin Elliott (02)

2 "My favorite part of homecoming is the game, because that's what we work to get everyone excited for all week and all the school spirit shows."
-Lindsey Guidera (03)

And the number 1 quote about homecoming is...

"(I think we need to show spirit) Because it's a lot of fun to be spirited, you can be a dork for a whole week with an excuse."
-Michelle Barthuly (03)

"Those who can express themselves will never lose sight of their future. Instead they will be the ones who create it." Mark Weagel (02)

"I'm really excited to be in National Honor Society, it's really fun because I get to be in it with my best friend."

-Shannon Kopoian (03)

"BSU is a really great club and I'm glad that it is offered this year at Reed."

-Nichole Henderson (02)

Having fun with friends can be the most important part of being a member

Even though we're having fun, we're still serious about what we do.

Being in BSU is really fun because you get to know and meet new people. -Vaughn Terry (03)

Mrs. Hagen is a wonderful advisor of Key club and FEA. She uses a lot of her time and is greatly appreciated.

I like rock climbing becuase it builds your strength and its a challanging sport where you meet a lot of friends. -Cathleen Corsun (02)

It's great being the president of Rock Club because we have so much fun belaying eachother on the walls. -Claire Housby (02)

"I started out in FBLA my freshman year because my best friend was joining and it looked like a lot of fun, it turned out being really fun so I joined other clubs such as Key and snowboard club. I like being involved and meeting new people." -Trista Walker (03)

Clubs allow students to meet new people and they get to hang out with old friends as well. Some clubs such as National Honor Society require high grades and an application but that challenge is half the fun.

"I like the friend-ships you make and the fun you have, but i don't like when plans get cancelled or even delayed."

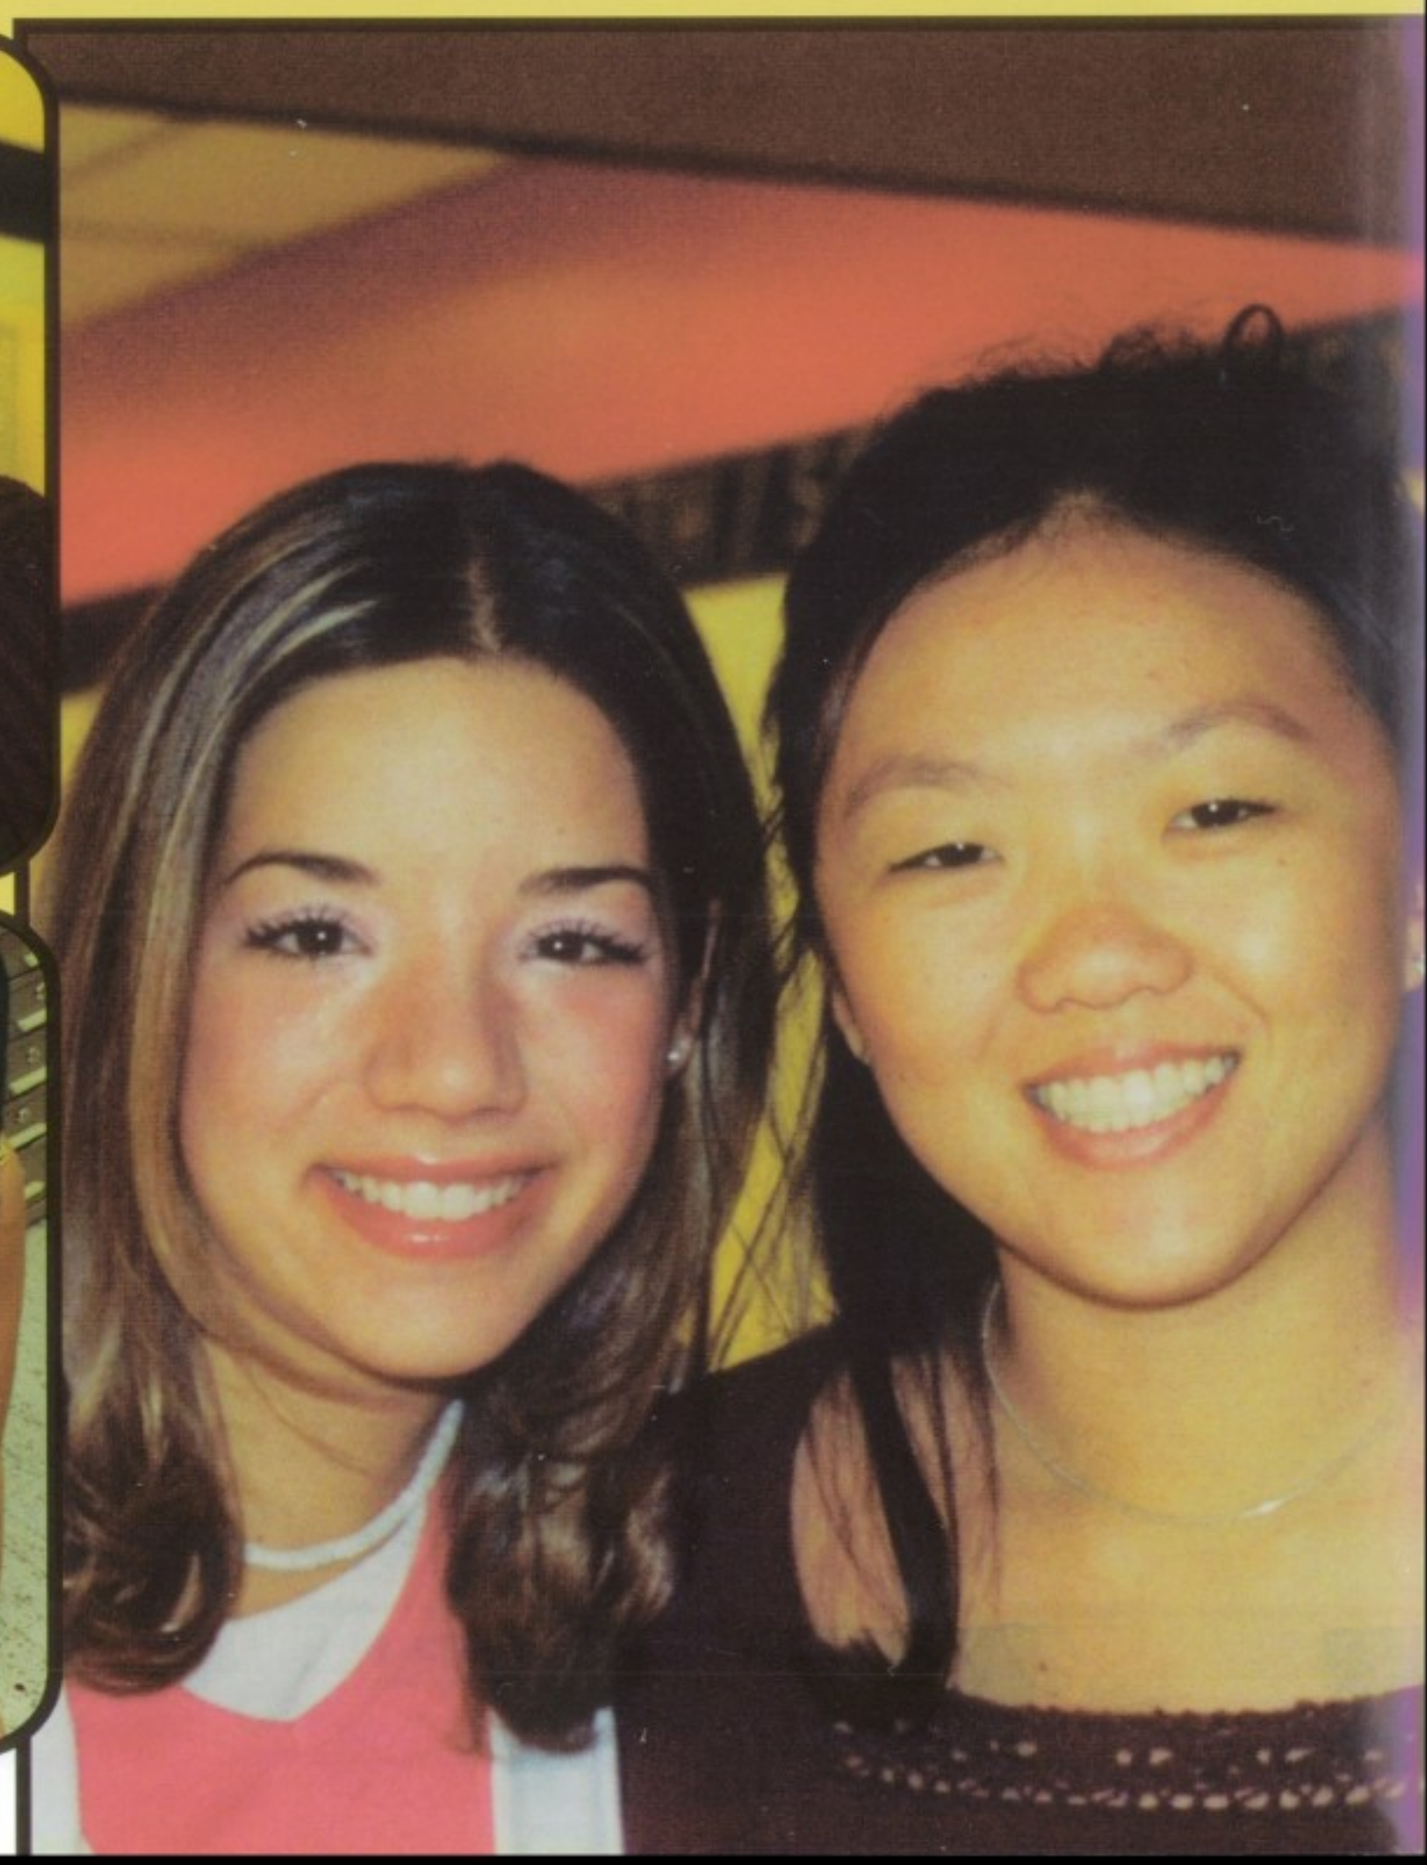
- Justin Wheeler

"I enjoy being a part of the school activities. Things need to get done and someone needs to do them and I like being a part of that."
-Diane Edmonds

"Student Council is fun, I enjoy the people and being involved." -Elania Malefakis

"Student Council is a good way to get involved and have fun. It's just fun getting to know people you meet."-Sarah Slater

"It's fun being involved and having spirit! Student council gives you an excuse to be a dork in front of the whole school."-Lauren Randolph



"I love Student Council so much. It's fun and lets me go crazy with spirit!"
-Michelle Barthuly
(Junior Class Secretary)

"I like being a goof and having funat the same time I can get involved with activities."

Speech and Debate

"The best part about the club is that we all get to know eachother.

-Wendy Wang

enjoying ourselves

Interesting events

It's the best part!

"It's been cool to bowl for the last four years with my friends. Bowling was a cool opportunity to hang out and improve my game."

Lance Hutchinson (02)

Reed high school students get into school spirit by joining clubs and being involved. Clubs aren't all about meetings, there's also those clubs that have great activities as one of the rewards for being a member. Such as bowling and hockey, they have fun and get information at club meetings but also go out and compete against each other and other schools to show how good their skills are.

"The best part about competing in speech and debate is getting to meet people from every school in this area. The best part about the club is we get to know each other really well."

Wendy Wang (04)

We like it a lot!

"I thinkit is really cool that I got to write poems for the winter poetry grams and the poetry contest."

-Vanessa Anchondo (03)

"During one of our competitions I threw a ball and it only knocked down 9 pins, then one pin spun and hit the other soIgotastrike."-Amy Butler(03)

Members of bowling club all had a great time laughing while watching one of their teammates bowl with a pink ball during his match.

"The most interesting thing I have done in FBLA is talking to Linh,the Vice president and dancing like a baffoon."

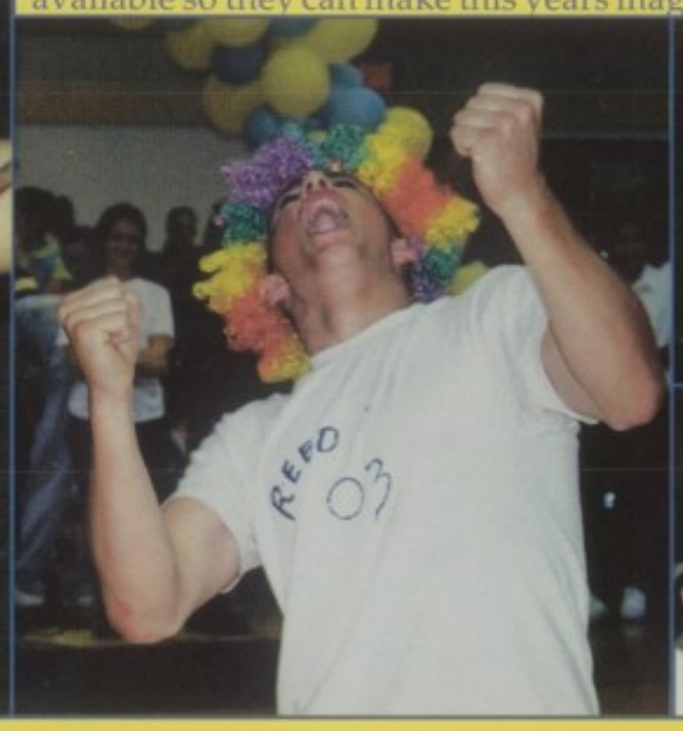
-Paul Bajwa (02)

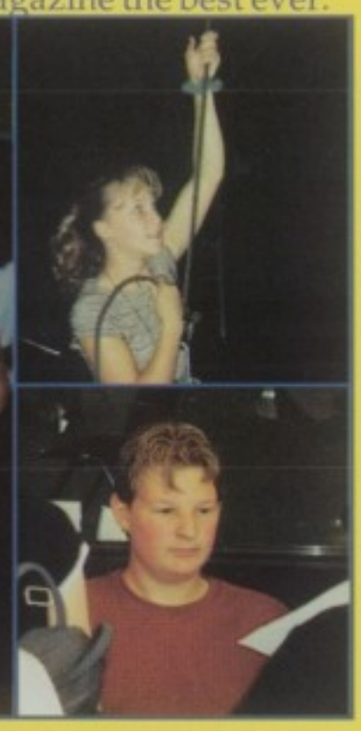
"I'm really excited that I was accepted to be in NHS. I'm glad that my friends are in it too, we get to hang out and have fun."

-Danielle Biselli (03)

We're Going Pro

Wheather you're rock climbing, learning how to publish, or learning about a culture, it requires some knowledge about the activity. "I would like to become pro, my team, Sayde, Matt and I plan on being in competitions soon." Michelle Barthuly said about Rock Climbing. In International club students learn about different cultures and gain knowledge about what it's like in other countries. This year the literary magazine, "Infinty", is learning more about the technology available so they can make this years magazine the best ever.





What is the most interesting thing about the club you're in?

"The most interesting thing about BSU is realizing the fact that African Americans have come a long way."
- Onome Wowo

"The Pole. It's just something I do every year with my Christian friends."
-Jodie Garrison

"The Pole. I am a Christian and I thought it was important. It's also a good way to get out my feelings."
- Jesse Parton

"Being able to have a say in what goes on at Reed High, I feel more involved becuase I'm a senior."
- Ronnie Quirk

"The best part about going to Marine World was getting to feed and be close to the giraffe's and dolphins."
Ilissa Gerhardt (03)

Joining clubs at Reed takes up time, but it's always worthwhile.

Morgan Miguel (04) and Kalani Radcliffe listen attentively at a literary magazine meeting.

Paying attention like a good member Paul Bajwa (02) listens while Andrew Highison (02) chats away with his friend.

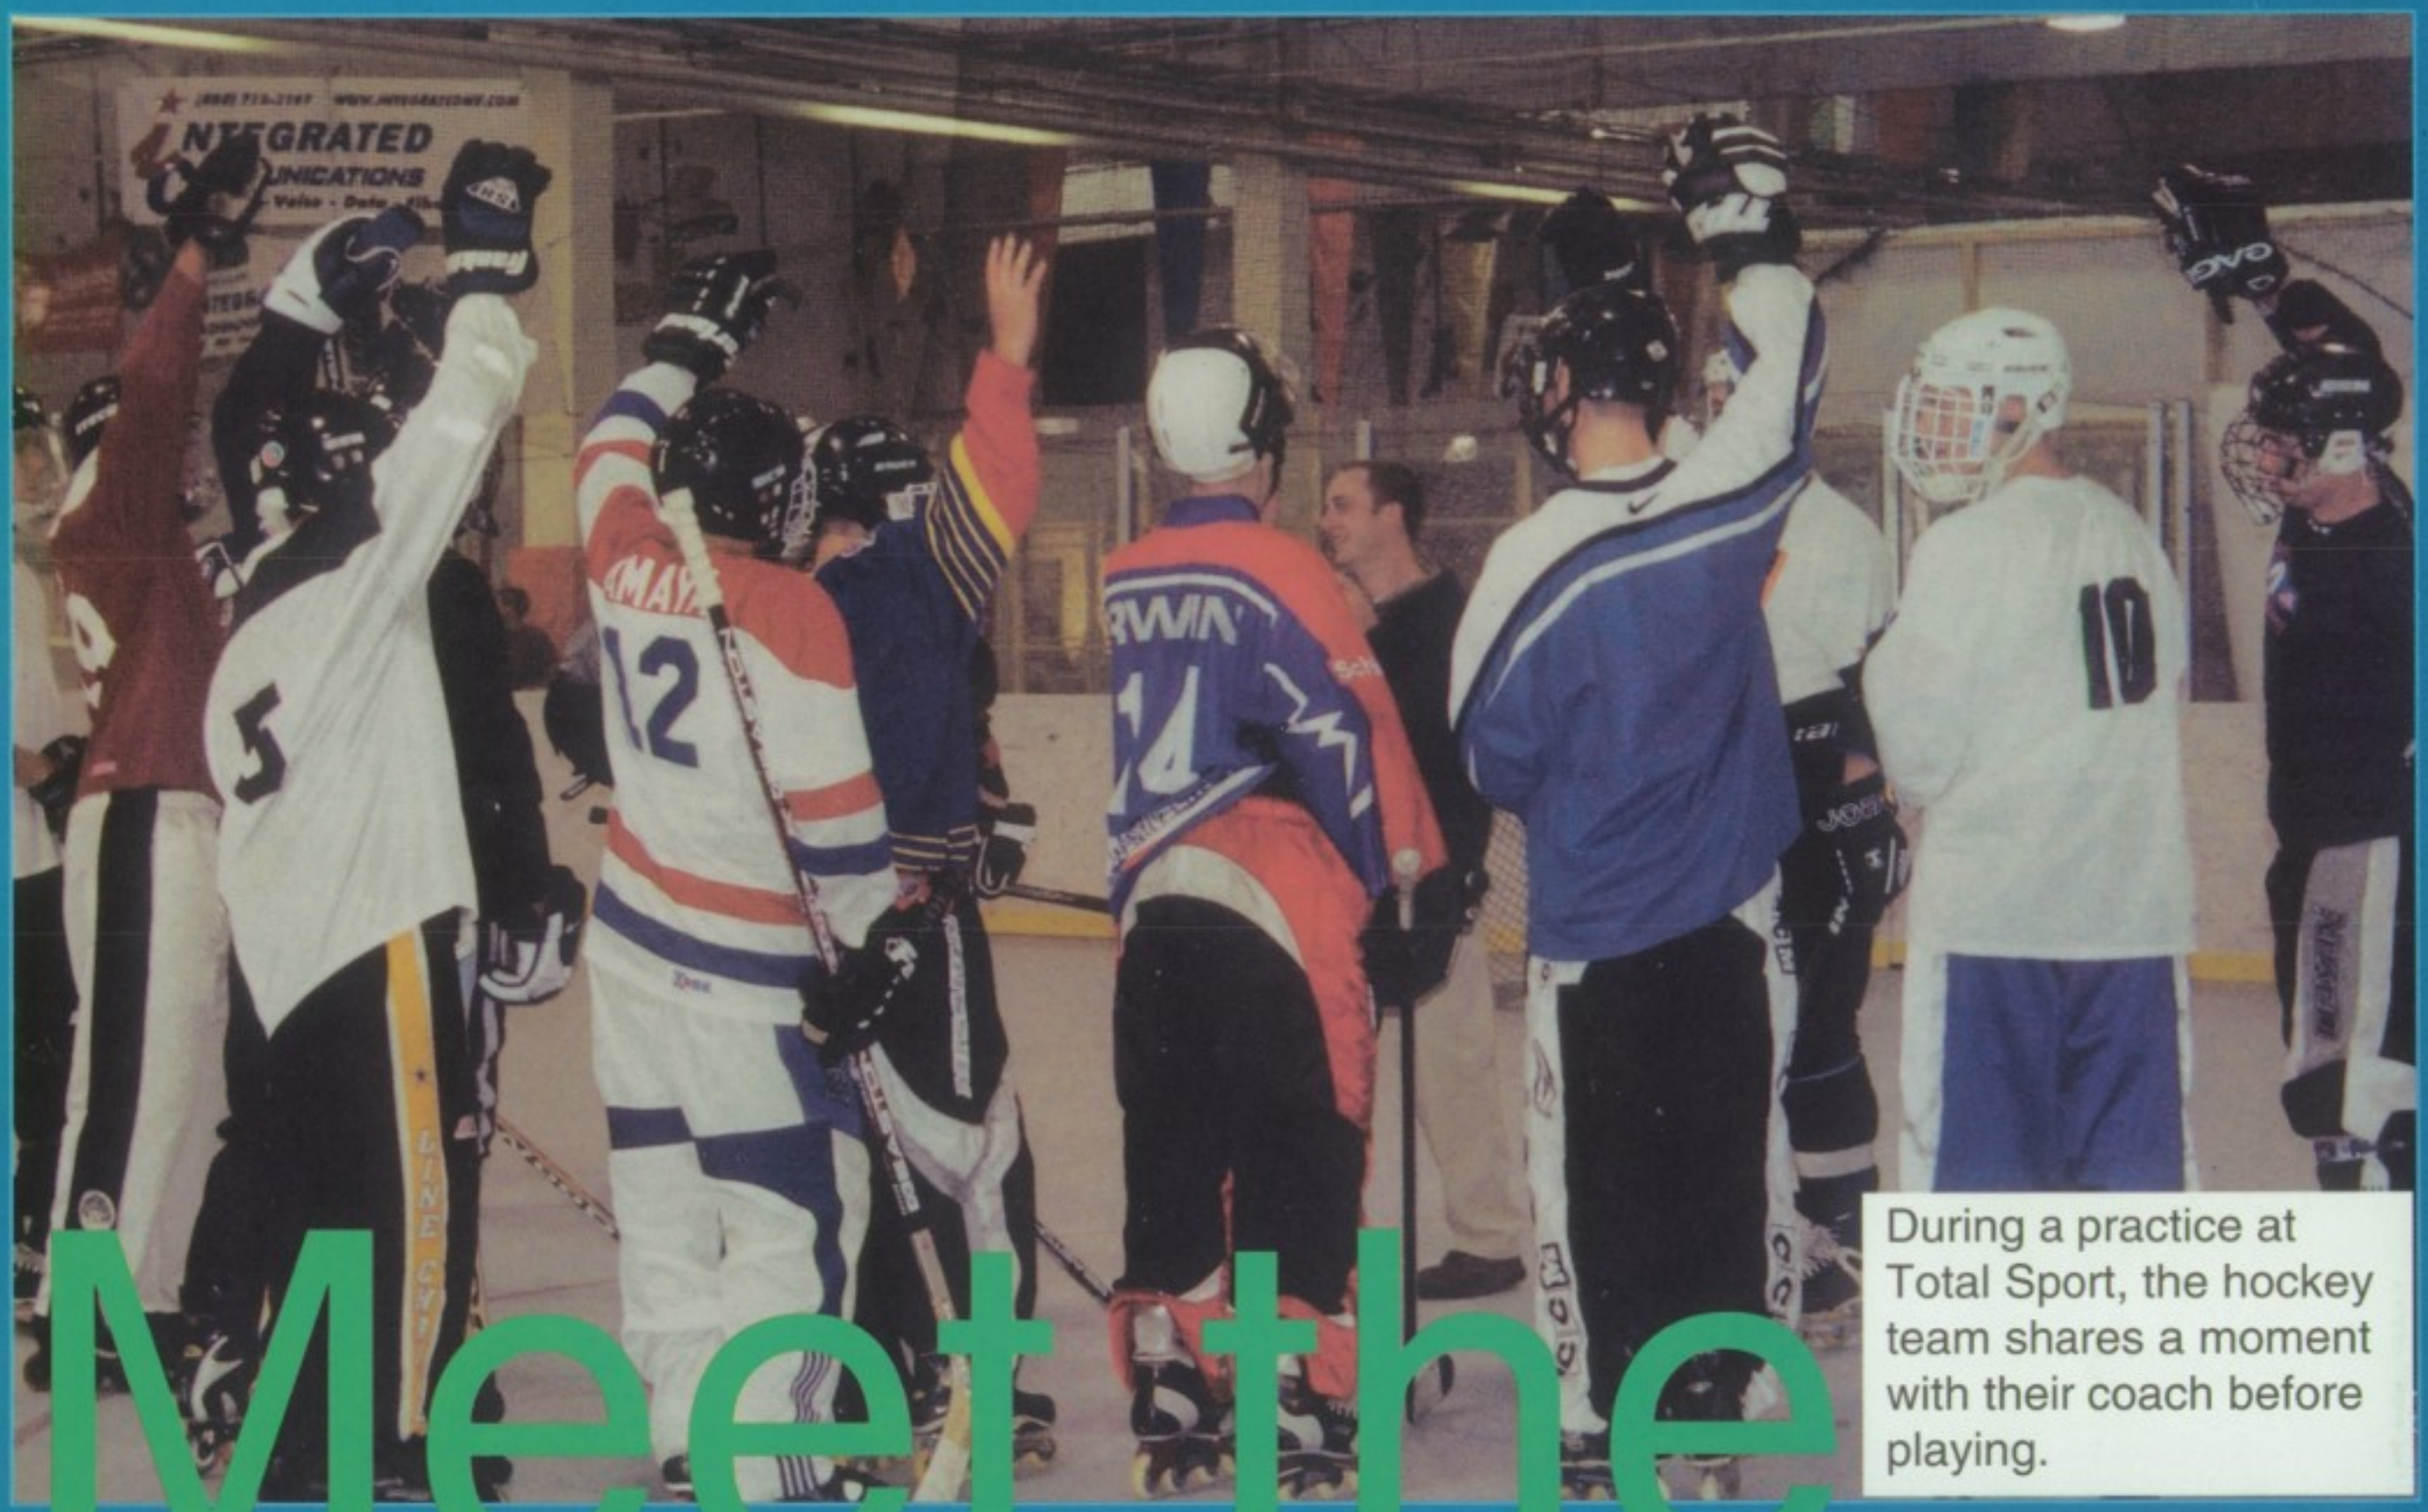
Just hangin' around. Matt Cray (04) scales the wall at a Rock Climbing Club practice.

Every year In His Spirit (IHS) holds a get together called "See You at the Pole" where they gather at the pole in the moring to pray.

If you are not actively involved with a club from the very beginning, it may be hard to find out when meetings and club events occur. Most clubs have meetings every week while others have meetings once a month. All the clubs pick a meeting place and a certain day, usually at lunch, to plan, organize, and inform the members about what's going on in the club.

"Sometimes it's hard to miss lunch and get to the meetings, but it's worth it most of the time because they are fun meetings and your friends will be there with you." -Danielle Stage (02)

Speech and Debate members get to know eachother better, and become close friends while away at tournements.



During a practice at Total Sport, the hockey team shares a moment with their coach before playing.

Meet the Members

Most clubs at Reed meet a few times a month to plan, inform, orga-nize and have some fun.

Meetings are where it all starts!

"Going to Lit Mag meetings is cool, so stay in school."

-Jacob Abel (02)

"Lit Mag is the artistic voice of Reed High school. It is really good to go to the meetings to stay informed."

-Vanessa Anchondo (03)

"I think meetings are a good thing to go to because they are very infomative and if you don't go, you get lost."

-Shawnic'e Kraeber (04)

" Being in Key Club is a great deal of fun because we get to help out and get involved with the Reno-Sparks communty. "
-Cheryl Suratos (03)

I dedided to sign up and be a part of Rotary because I wanted to meet new people and have fun doing it. I also know that it looks good on your college transcripts.
-Susan Paterson (04)

Honestly, the best thing about Fench Club was getting to be presisent my junior year! I got to organize a lot of activities and I had so much fun!
-Erin McNally (02)

"Being bilingual can be very helpful in the future, that's why I'm in Spanish club." Erin Gallo (03)

I decided to be the advisor of BSU becuase it is a wonderful opportunity for students to learn about different cultures , strive for diversity and learn important leadership skills.
-Mrs. Green
BSU Advisor

Right: This year at the club drive many students decided to get more invloved and join a club. There was a new beginning for clubs as all the foriegn language clubs united to form International Club.

Above: Reed Rocks rock climbing is a club that tests your strength and endurance. Students that join this club practice at Rock Sport to prepare for indoor and outdoor climbing competitions.

"I just wanted to join for FUN! I love being in charge of things and planning new events."
- Tabitha Pike

"My goal for this year was to get as many members as possible and the purpose of FBLA is to help raise money for the March of Dimes."
- Nicole Budija

"I like to be involved in clubs, like Key and BSU. It is a good thing to be involved with school events and joining a club is a great way to do that."
-Shannon Richardson

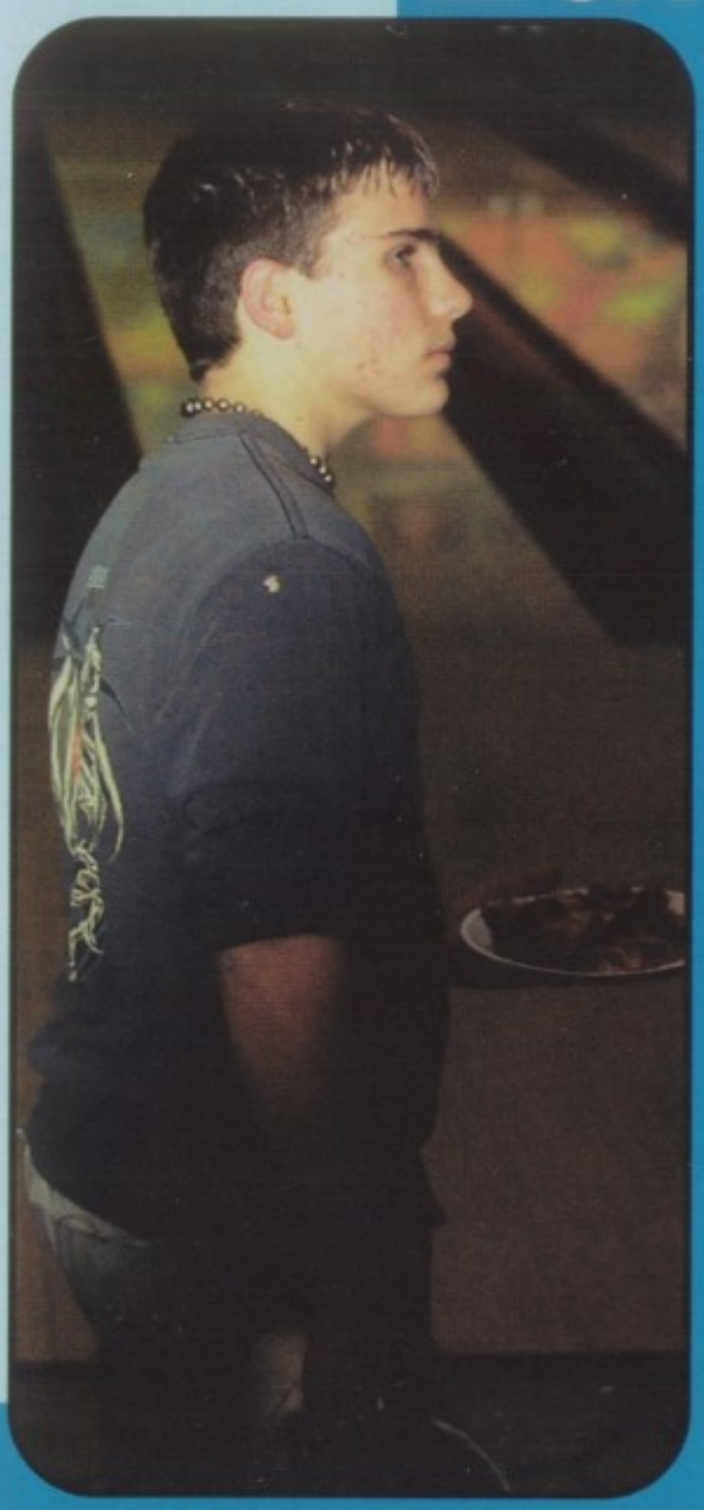
Reed students build knowledge for their college future by coming together with their common interests.

Lunch... a NECESSITY?



"I'd rather have meetings at lunch than after school because I don't have time with my other after school stuff."

-Claire Housby (02)

"I kind of don't like them because then I have to eat here or pack my own lunch and we never have good food to eat. My mom's a health food nut."

-Sarah DiPrinzio (04)

"They aren't always exciting but they are always necessary."

-Megan Peri (04)

As everyone races through the hall to get to lunch, one day a week curtain students stay behind to get caught up with their club and talk with other club members. "All the world is a stage." A glimpse behind the scenes of A Midsummer Night's Dream.

A few words from the stars...

Tristan Skerritt (02)
I took an acting class last year, and then Shakespeare seemed to be the best. During rehearsals, I caught lover's syndrome and found myself speaking Shakespeare all the time!

Ashley Turney (02)
I've been in plays before and it's a great experience. It's also a good way to end my senior year, since I have "lover's syndrome". My favorite line of the play was "I am amazed and know not what to say."

Mark Weagel (02)
Before performances we have a lot of energy and listen to eighties music and boy bands. We never say good luck, only break a leg because saying good luck to an actor is bad luck.

Alonna Creveling (02)
My favorite part of the play was when I got to pick fleas out of Nhan's hair. I also liked flying through the audience.

Mark Lorentzen (04)
Tristan and I learned the hard way that it is necessary to wear tights under your costume. We forgot that during one part we had to lay down on the stage and we were only wearing tunics. The other cast members told us that they could see too much. We rushed out that day and bought tights.

Anna Mosher (04)
I have always loved acting and being on a stage and the audience's reactions. My nickname is Accident Prone Anna because I hurt my foot on the stage.

Throughout high school people make friends and create great memories. One of the best ways to do so is through sports. Reed has so many people who ar involved, in both individual and team sports; everyone seems to find something to suit them.

Making an awesome attempt, Jamie McGregor(05), jumps up to make the block. She is just one of the many great athletes here at Reed.

Some sports take more effort from their devoted athletes. Everyday, Kendal Lujan(04), goes to DeAndrea for golf practice, while other sports lik soccer,tennis, football, cheerleading and cross country just use the area in and around reed to workout and even compete.

This year our sports have showed spirit not just for the school but for the country as well. The J.V. Cheerleaders held a flag during our National Anthe and the football players all wore black arm bands in honor of the years tragic events.

Even though it has been a difficult year the tennis team still practiced, the soccer teams still got dressed out to play and the drill team still preformed No matter where you go or what it takes, we all seem to be able to get the job done and that is what being a "Runnin Raider" is all about.

"Seniors... What are you going to miss the most, and what were your best experiences?"

"I am going to miss cheering for the boys basketball games. I have had a lot of fun with my friends and I am going to miss them all."

-Crystal Aichele (02)

" Cheerleading has been a great experience and I will miss the friendships that I have made from it."

-Laura Stoltz (02)

"My favorite part of cheering in my senior year was when we thrashed the freshmen and JV cheerleaders' houses. That and messing around with Lacy at the games."

-Shantel Karakas (02)

"When we toilet papered the freshmen and JV cheerleaders' houses like three times. That and messing around with Shantel at games."

-Lacy Barela (02)

"Cheerleading has always been fun for me, I am really going to miss the girls and cheering for all of the events."

-Amanda Magrini (02)

Cheerleading is tough work. Sure, like everything else it has its up and downs, but the girls have to work together to get their stuff done. Whether the girls are getting ready for a dance at an assembly, a routine for competition, or even just to have fun and strut their stuff at the big game, they work hard to show their spirit! Not just anyone is cut out for the job.

"Cheering has been a lot of fun for the last four years. I am really going to miss the girls, and the experience all around is something that I will always remember."

They'll be coming 'round the mountain! Running on Reed's famous hill can always be a difficult task, especially for the cross country team. "It is hard to run up that hill while in a race, after already having gone three miles," said Claire Housby (02) Other Raiders have learned to like the hill and use it to their advantage during races, Jessica Burke (03) commented that her favorite race was indeed our home varsity course because she knows how to run it well.

"A superstition I have about cross country is that if you run before zone or state you will definitely get sick or injured and you won't be able to run your best."-Kyle Barker (03)

"I always stop eating three hours before a race,then I drink Gatorade, and slap on some headphones to listen to some Rage Against the Machine to get pumped."-Zao Naegele (02)

"The worst run that I have ever been on was Death Hill because there was no path and the cow droppings stopped, and you know you shouldn't go above that point. At least we got Slurpees out of it." -Cathleen Corsun (02)

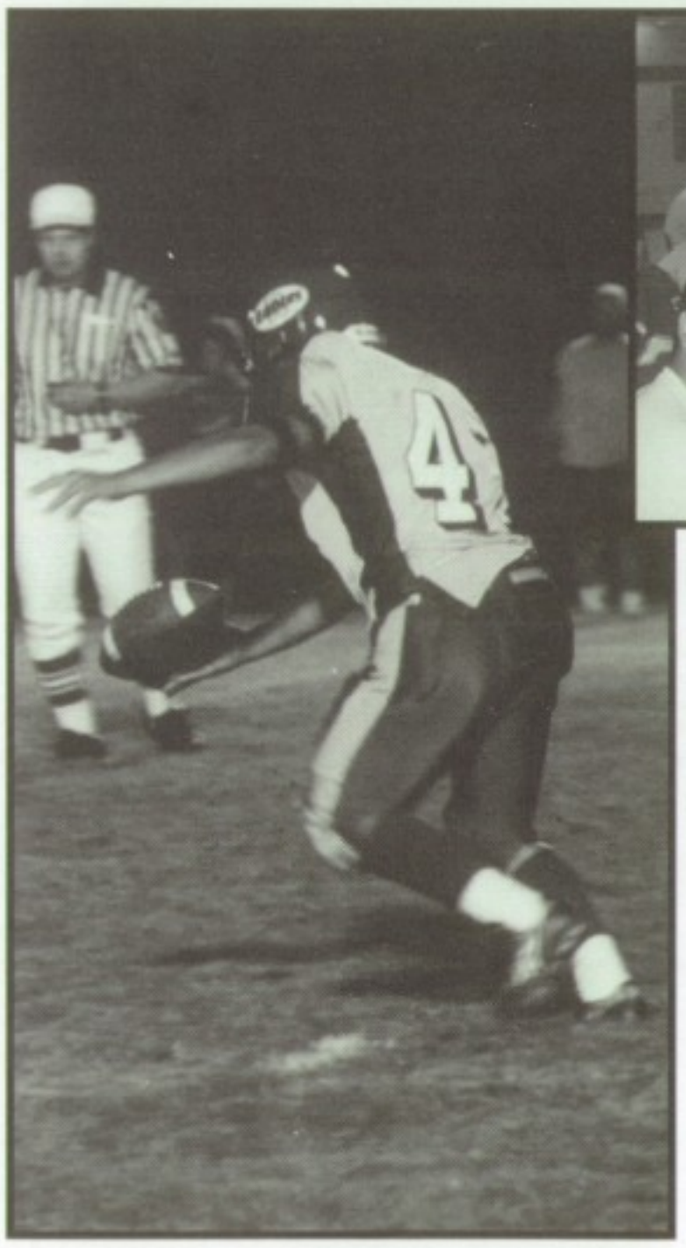
Going onto the battlefield! Captains Cody Fleming, Jesse Tamayo, Hao Tran, and Thai Welty walk to the center of the field to meet the other teams captains. "The outstanding players this year are all four captains along with other seniors Brian Brisbois, Trevor Cook, Jake Snyder, and Matt Winters, and juniors Charles Stacker and Brian Vaden," said Coach Ernie Howren. "The team as a whole has shown a lot of improvement from last year. The guys never quit, and they have a lot of pride."

The team poses at the Fall Homecoming assembly. "I was having fun at the assembly, justa bangin' my hair!" said Charles Stacker (03).

The offensive line stands strong against McQueen. "Our number one goal this year is to get back to the basics of football; hitting, tackling, being tough, and school," said Coach Howren.

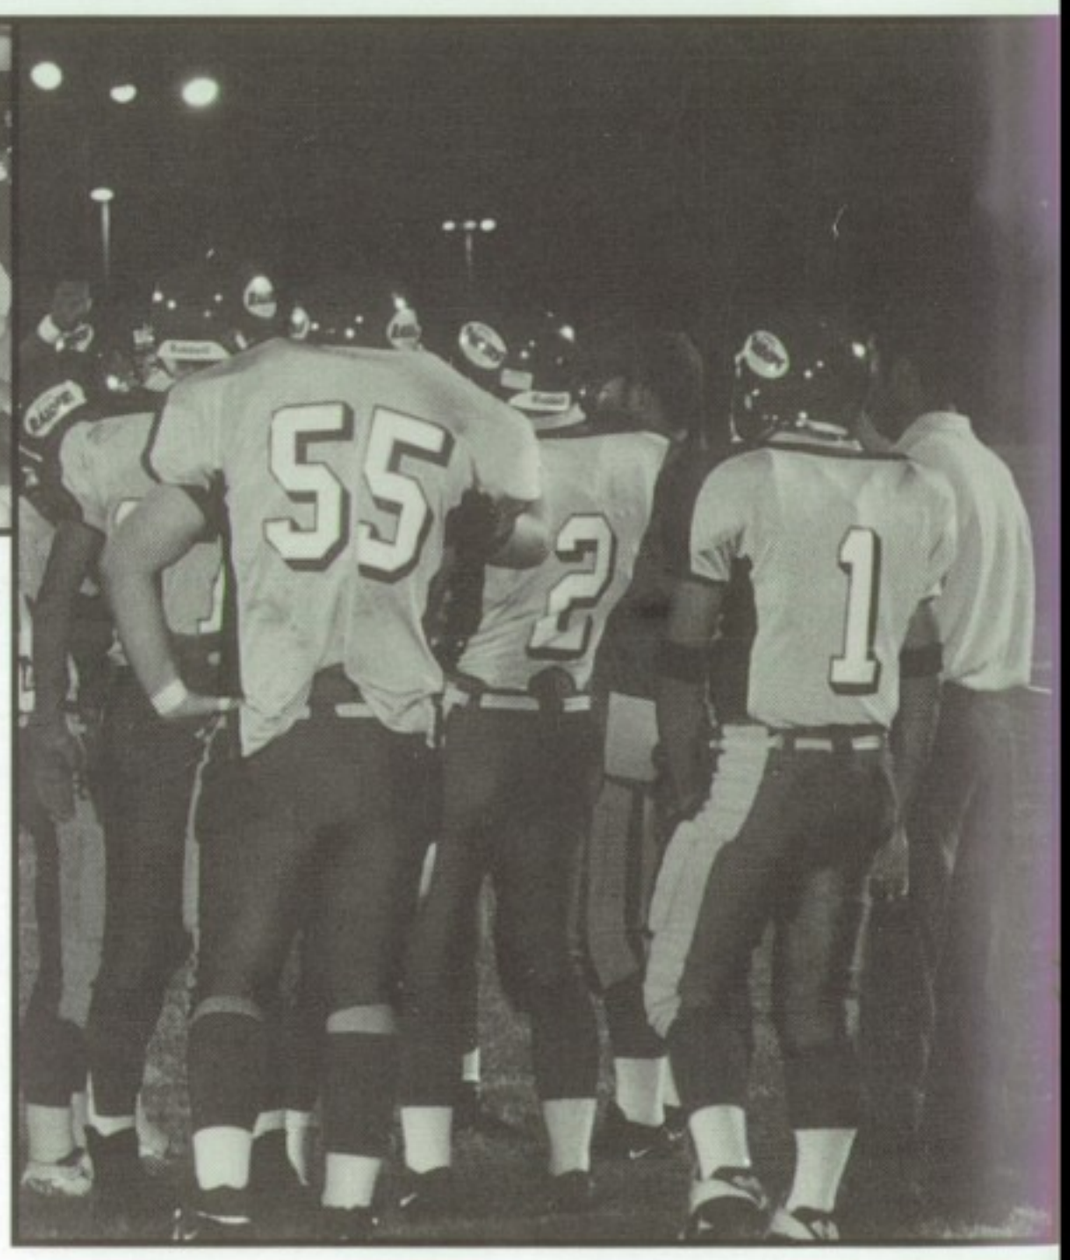
In a huddle, the team listens intently to the coaches directions.



Seniors Jesse Tamayo, Thai Welty, David Foster, Kyle Danielson, Shannon Richardson, Richard Darby, and Hao Tran and junior Brad Sage enjoy good food and good times at the Spaghetti Feed. "We have them every Thursday night. The spaghetti [isn't good], but don't tell Howren!" said David Foster and Thai Welty.

Concentrating on the ball, Jose Nunez (02) punts from the 25 yard line.

Don't mess with these guys! Todd Imand (03), Travis Numan (02), Thomas Armos (03), and Kyle Danielson (02) block as David Foster (02) drops back for the pass. Crispin Valencia (03) runs up to block. "I was going full speed, trying to remember my route," said Vaughn Terry (03).



Q & A

Why do you play football?

"I play football because I love the game. It is a fun and tough sport, and I love to hit."

~Richard Darby (02)

"Because I'm the best ever, and the best ever should play."

~Fat Jake Snyder(02)

"It's fun, exciting, and aggresive. You get to just hit someone as hard as you can and get congratulated for it."

THE NUMBER

"Our numbers have to do with eligibility. To catch the ball, your number has to be from 1-49 or 80-99. If your number is from 50-79 you can't catch the ball."

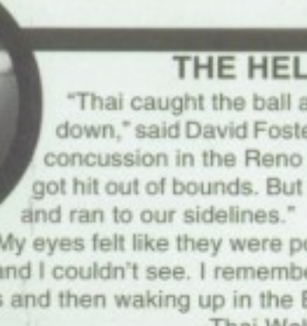
~Jesse Tamayo #13 (02)

THE HELMET

"Thai caught the ball and ran for a first down," said David Foster of Thai Welty's concussion in the Reno game. "Then he got hit out of bounds. But he still stood up, and ran to our sidelines."

"My eyes felt like they were popping out of my head, and I couldn't see. I remember running to the sidelines and then waking up in the ER bed."

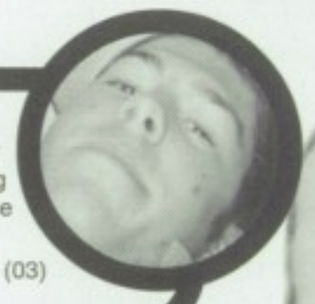
~Thai Welty #32 (02)



THE PADS

"Our pads make us look tough! And they protect our good looks. They help so much. You wouldn't want to be out there hitting without them."

~Thomas Armos #74 (03)

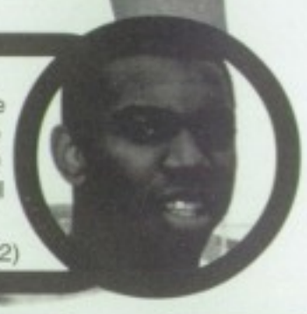


THE LEGS

"Having to run in pads is so much harder than just running in shorts! But running track has helped me out in football because it has improved my speed very much."

~Joel Cochran #15 (03)

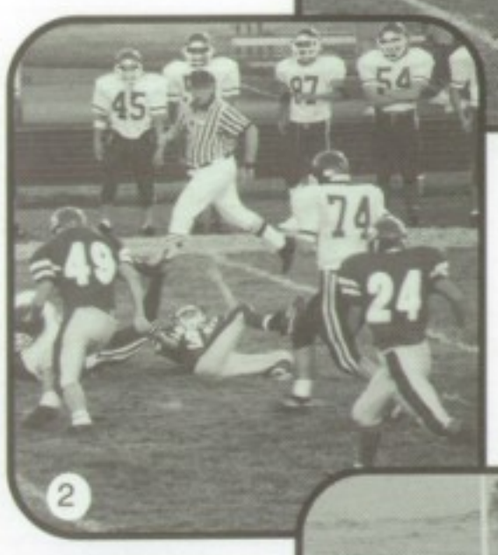
anatomy of a football player

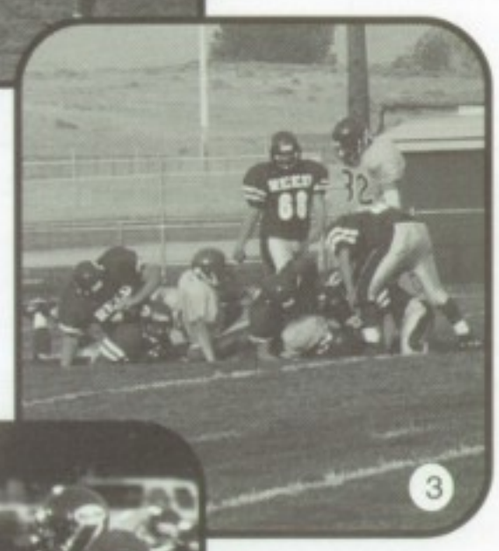


THE FEET

"I broke my foot saving two kids from a burning building. After I got the two kids out, I went back for a trapped firefighter. The ladder broke so I had to jump out of the window of a fifteen story building with the 300 lb. firefighter on my back. Fortunately, I just broke my foot... Actually I stepped on a sprinkler."

~Shannon Richardson #21 (02)





Junior Varisty Football players had an interesting season, including being the only team to win their homecoming game. All the players look forward to returning to play Varsity.

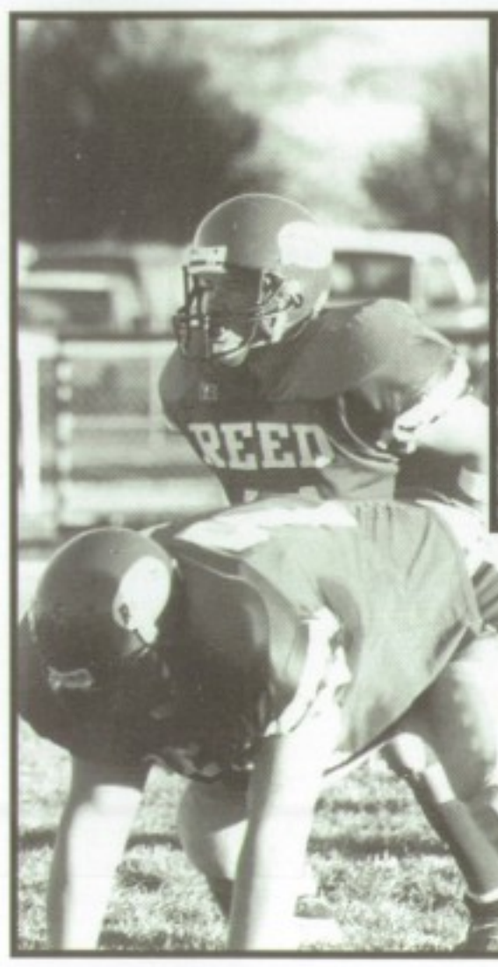
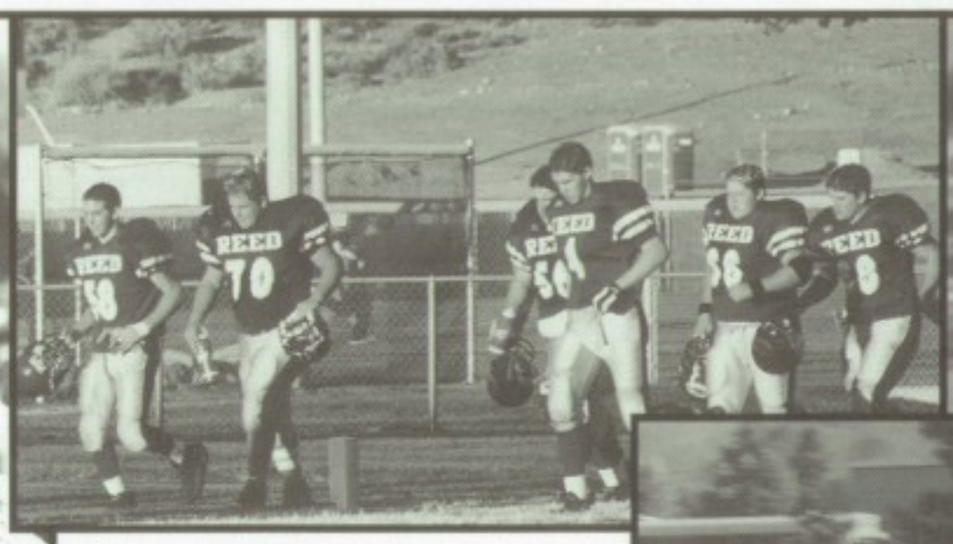
JV football players learn the importance of good team morale

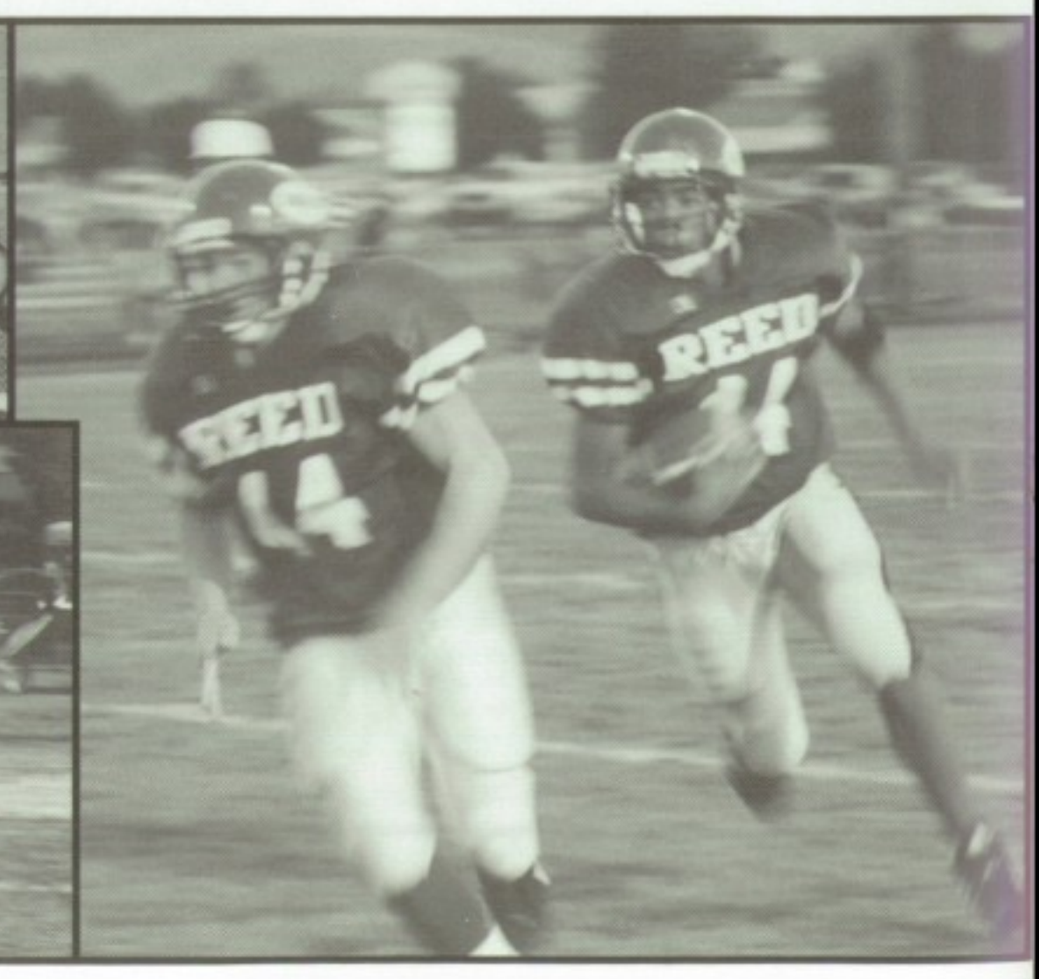
JV Football players practice long, hard hours, even before the season. It's not easy, but the benefits are well worth while. "Summer training was very hard, lots of running and lifting," said Adam Jenkins (04)

""The coaching staff was tight. And I liked meeting new friends and getting to be better friends with some of the old. "
-Richad Mafield (04)

When asked what some of the highlights of the season, Dexter Woods (04) replied, "We were the only team that won our homecoming, that was cool. Getting moved up to Varsity at the end was cool too. "







1. Ready, set, hike! Jeff Baker and Patrick Freeman await the hike. 2. The defensive line comes out from the locker room at the end of the half time. 3. I got it! John Feeney reaches the extra distance to recieve a pass. 4.Can't touch me. Daryl Solis runs in the ball with protection from his fullback, Jeff Baker.

Watch...Focus...This year, the JV boys had a season of hardwork and determination. They, like all other teams, played to win. "We're all close. You have to be close if you are a team. We got along the most towards the end of the season "
-Erin McAbel (04)

"I'm a lot closer to all my team mates because of Coach Howren's family atmosphere. We just all get along well."
-Mike Camino (04)

a challenging season

freshmen football players had to learn about strategies, plays, and the importance of working as a team.

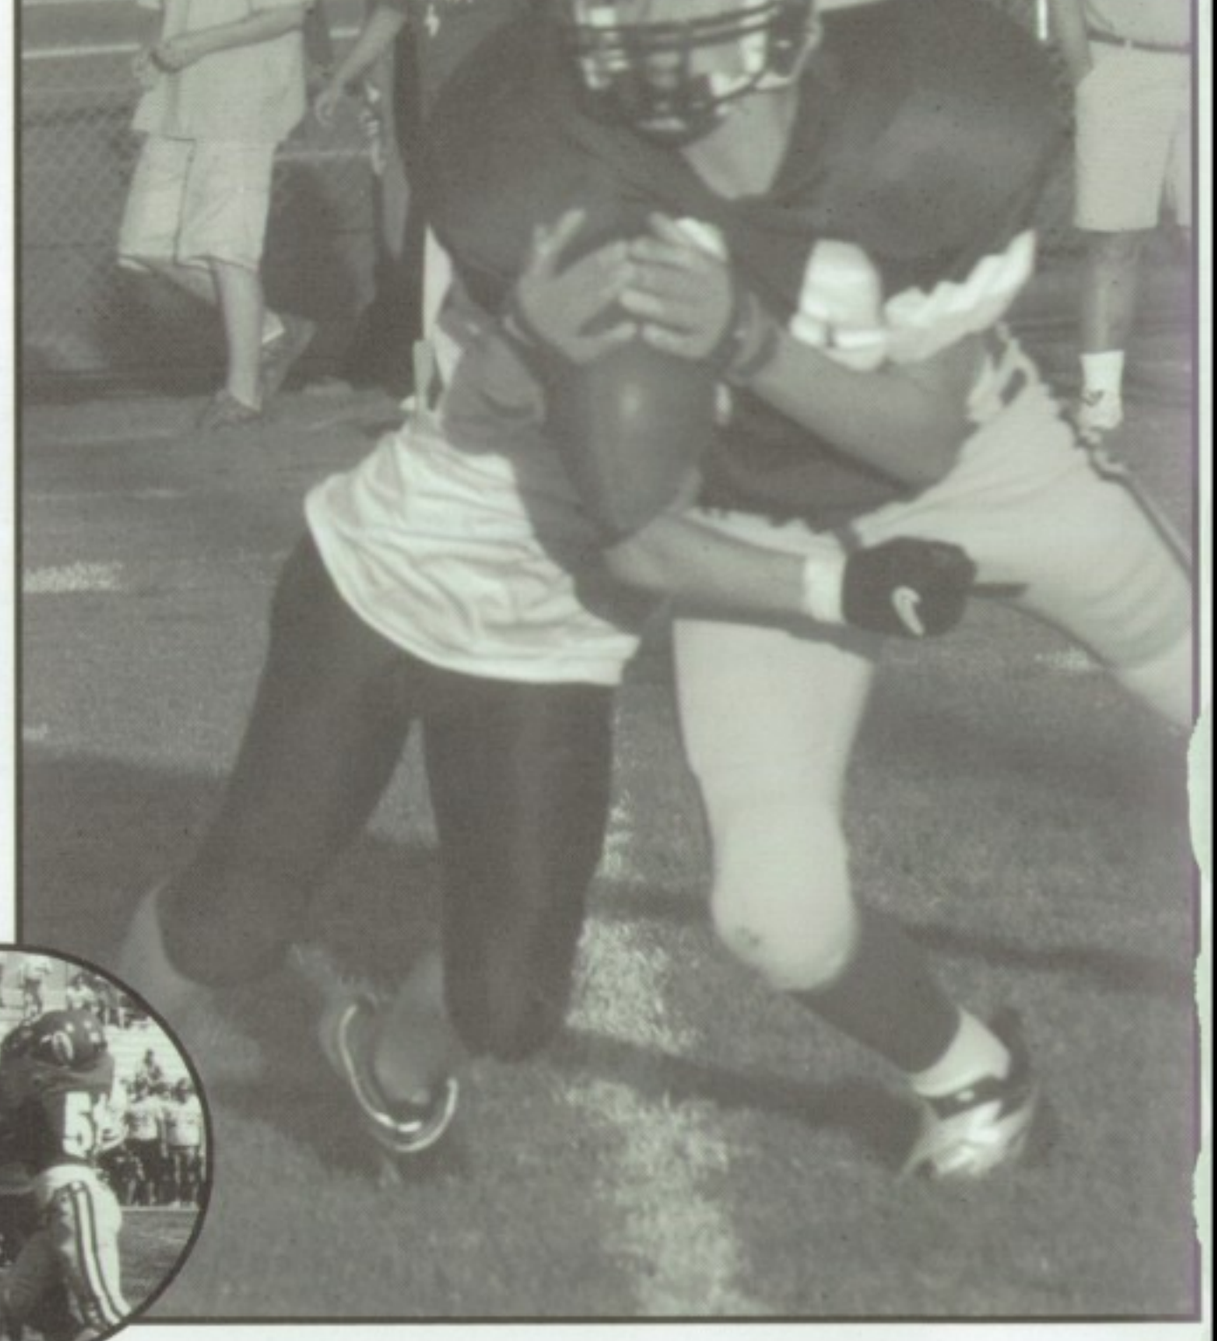
Quarterback of the freshman football team, Zack May (8), doing his job well on the football field.

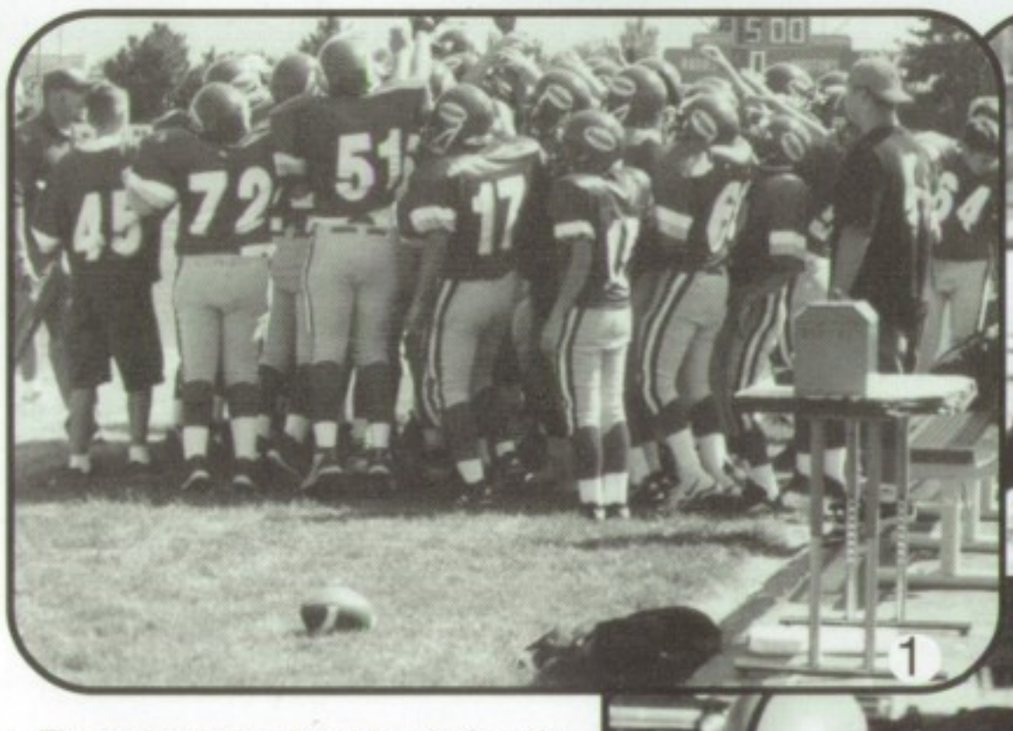
Spending time together off as well as on the field can build a stronger team. The freshman team shows a lot of camaraderie and spirit while goofing around and hanging out together in the halls.

Putting a good pass rush on South Tahoe's quarterback, Kyle Conrado and Ryan Johnson make a great effort for their team.

"I like playing left tackle because I like to hurt anybody that gets in my way."-Kyle Conrado

"I like playing defensive end because you get to tackle little quarterbacks."-Ryan Johnson





Coach Jeff Assiff gives advice to some players before the game starts. The coaches help by rooting on the team, and make sure the team is the best it can be.

1. The team getting hyped up before the big game.
2. Artis Johnson going after the ball to make a tackle.
3. Alex Sherbondy dodging the grizzlies.
4. One of the three main captains of the freshman football team was Ryan Lammle who said that, "Being captain of the team was hard because you had to make sure all the guys were ready to play and that the intensity stayed up all through the season."

The team watches the game and roots on their team mates and warms up to go on the field. This is only a little of what happends on the sidelines.

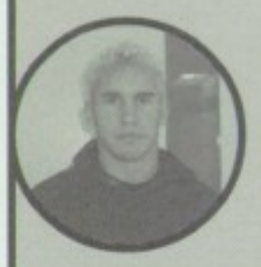
While on the sidelines the coaches go over plays to help players. Coach Kenny Butler is telling Zack Stromberg some more strategies that may help him achieve more in a game.

The running back of the freshman football team Alex Sherbondy going all the way.

What do you want to accomplish from playing football?

"I want to be as good as Barry Sanders and be as good as any football player out there. Then I can get a scholarship for a good college and then play pro football.

- Anthony Berryhill



"I want to be the best football player in the state by my senior year so that I could have a good change of getting a scholarship to te college I want to go to."

- Eric Adorno

"I want to get as many letters as I can to represent Reed in football and skiing so then I can get a scholarship for an out of state college."

- Anthony Lenzi

"I want to achieve certain set goals such as getting over 50 yards a game. I would also like to see all of us come together as a team"

-Alex Sherbondy

"I have been out since the beginning of the season because of an illness that enlarged my spleen. I always get excited about the games even though I can't play, but I feel bad I can't contribute to the team."

-A.J. Flock

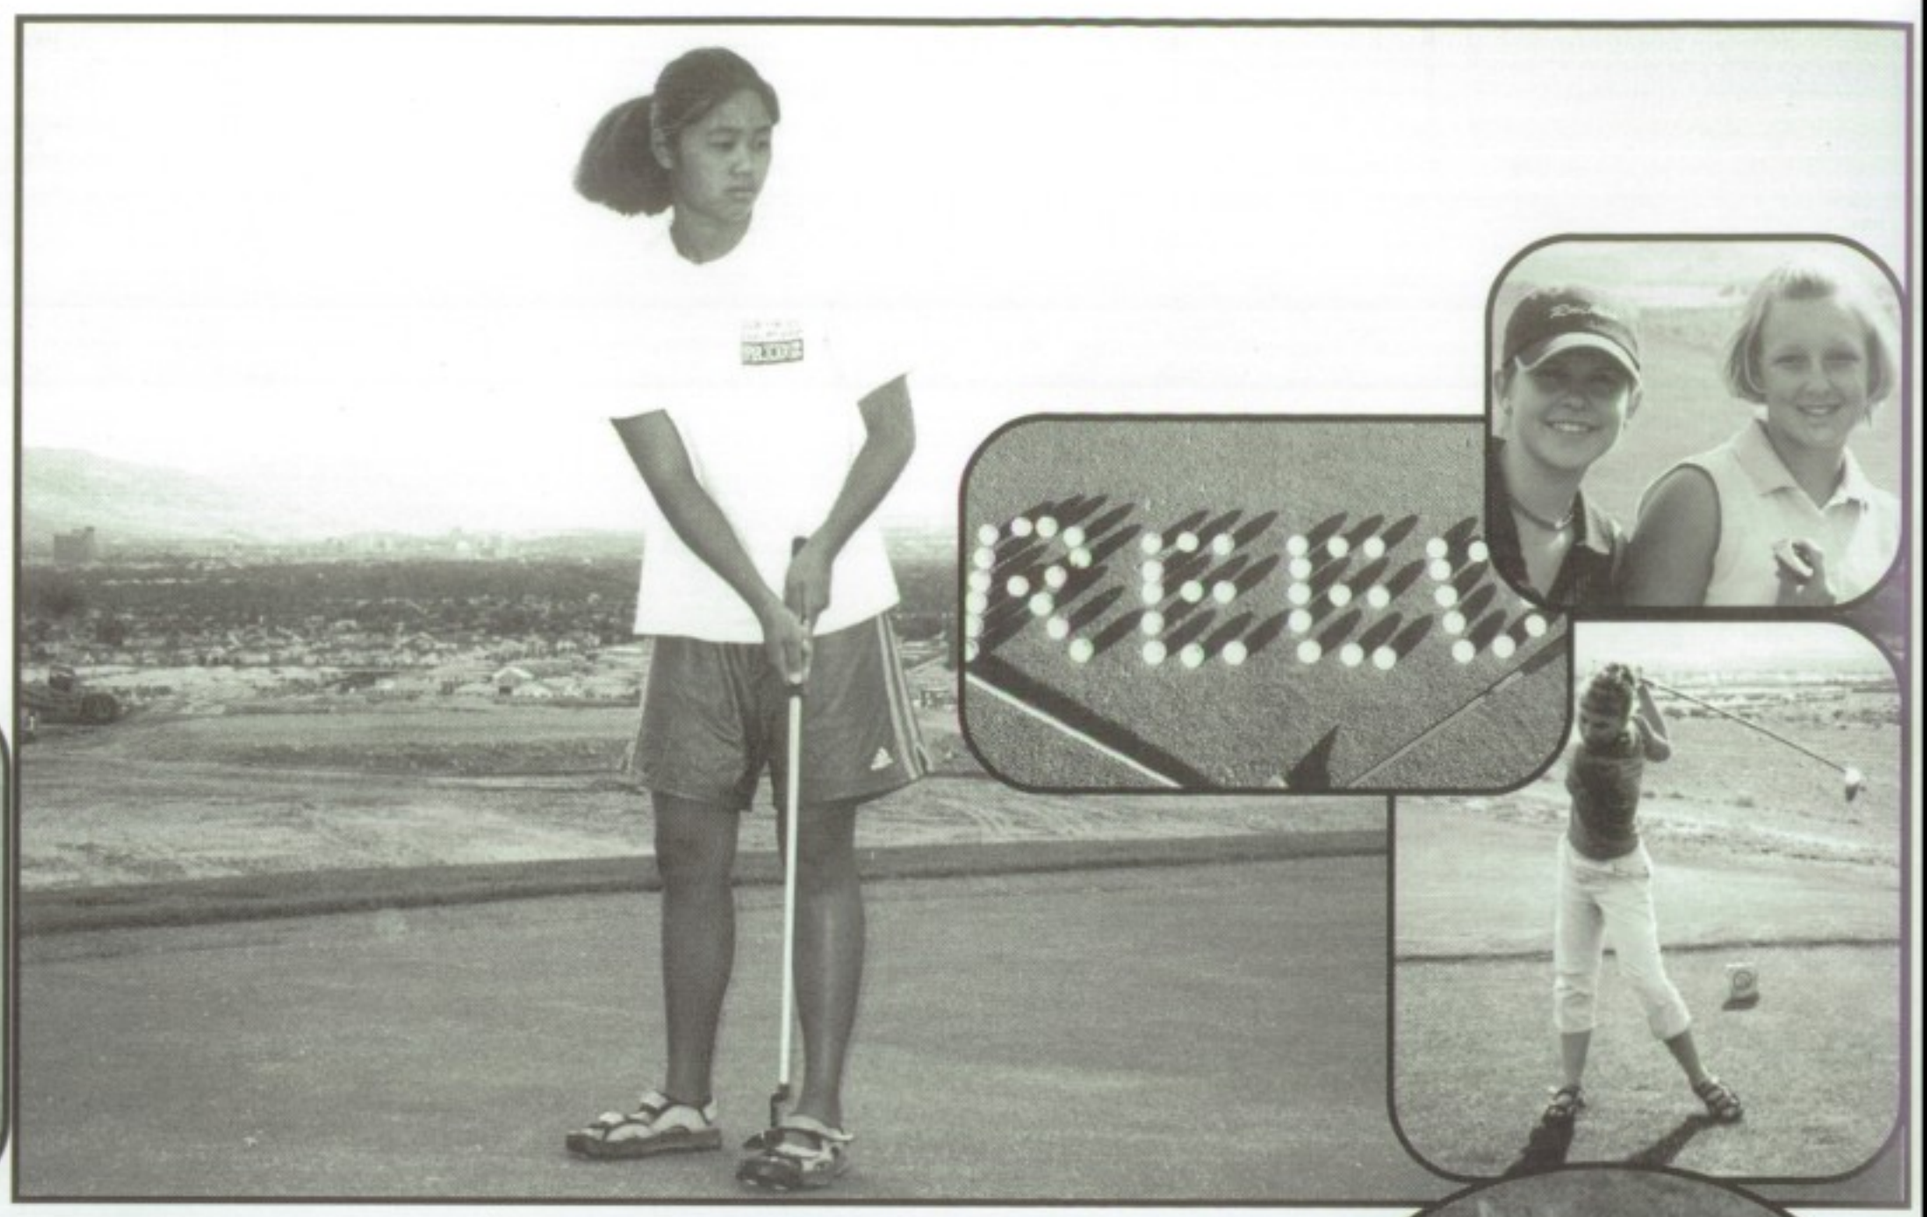
"I fractured my ankle going for a tackle during a game. It's tough being injured because I have to watch everybody practicing and playing at the games."

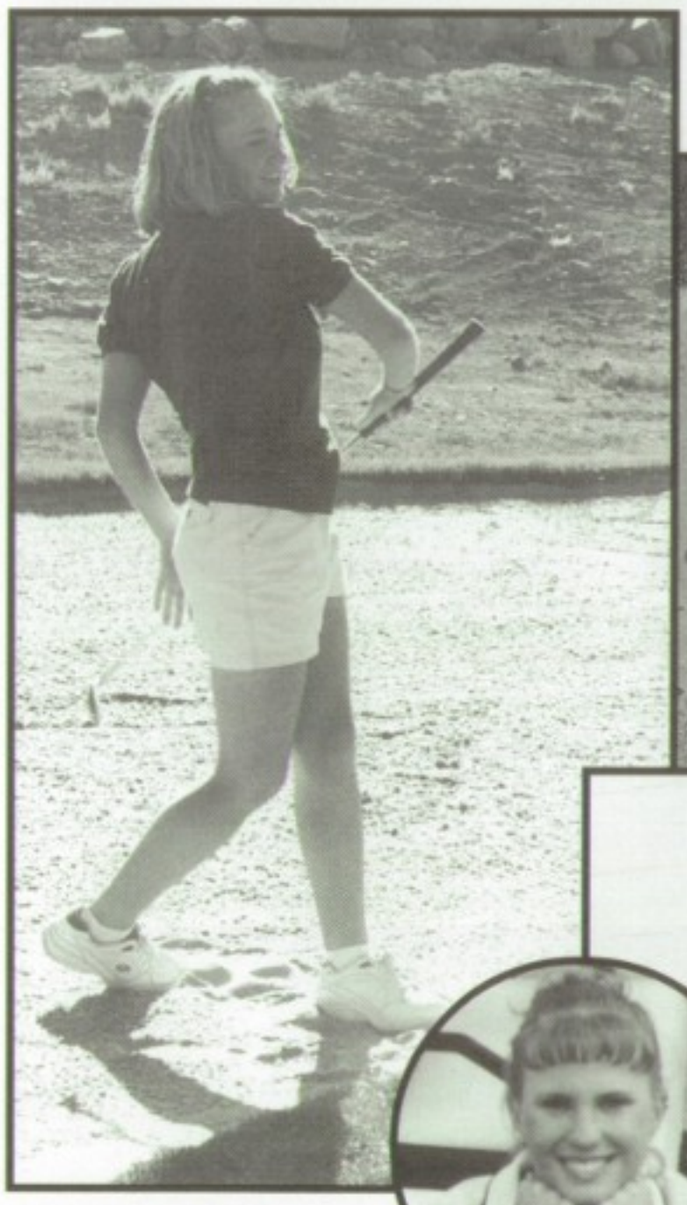
-Sean Sims

"I have been out for a while due to tearing tendinitis in my knee. It really stinks to sit on the sidelines because I would rather be playing so I can contribute to the team."

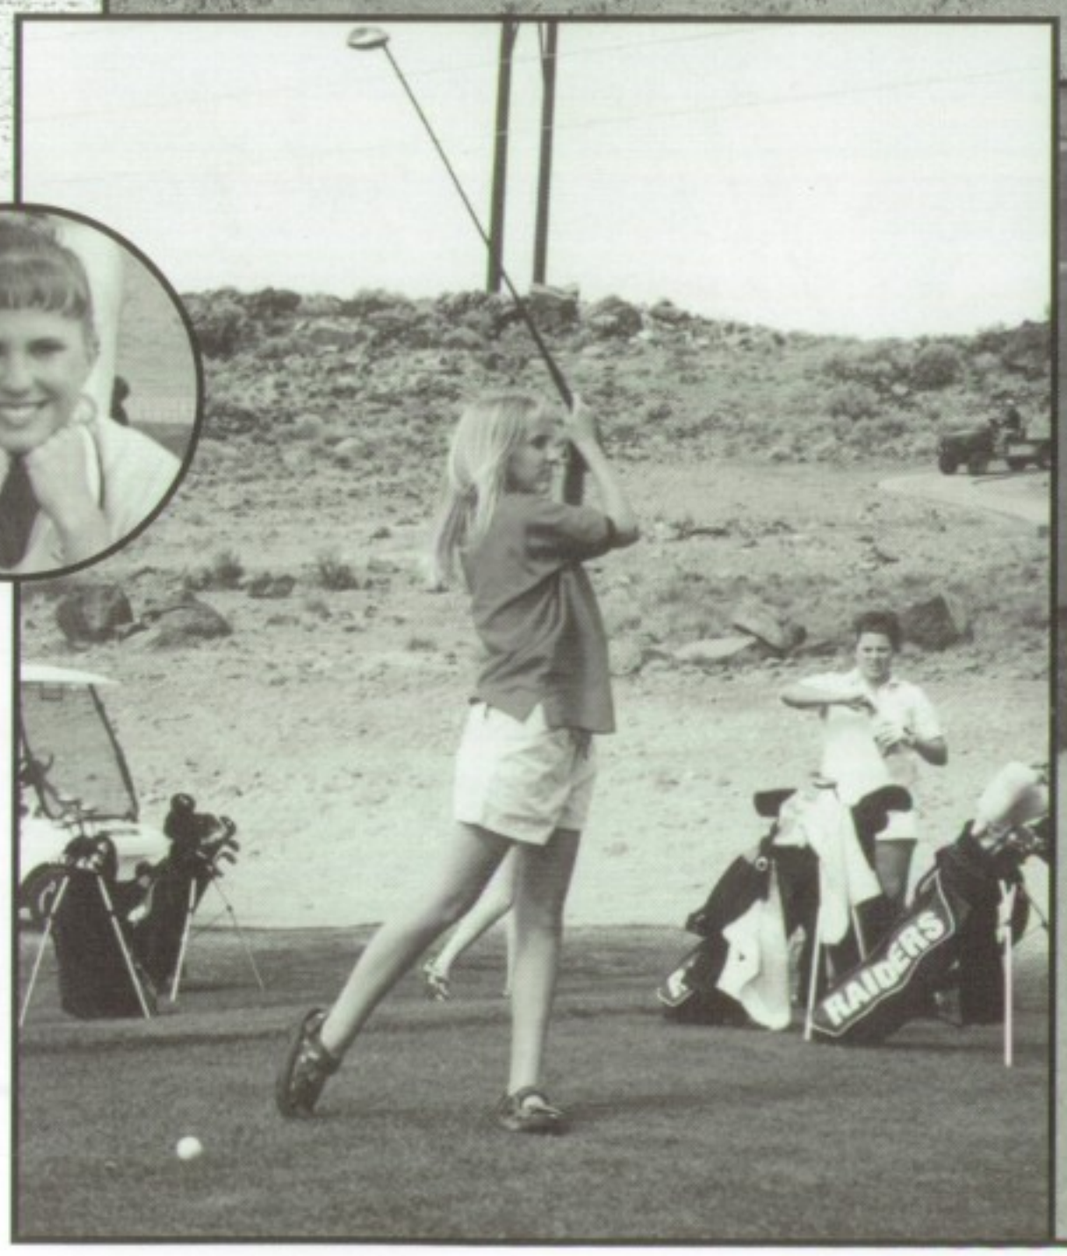
-Jon Mitchell

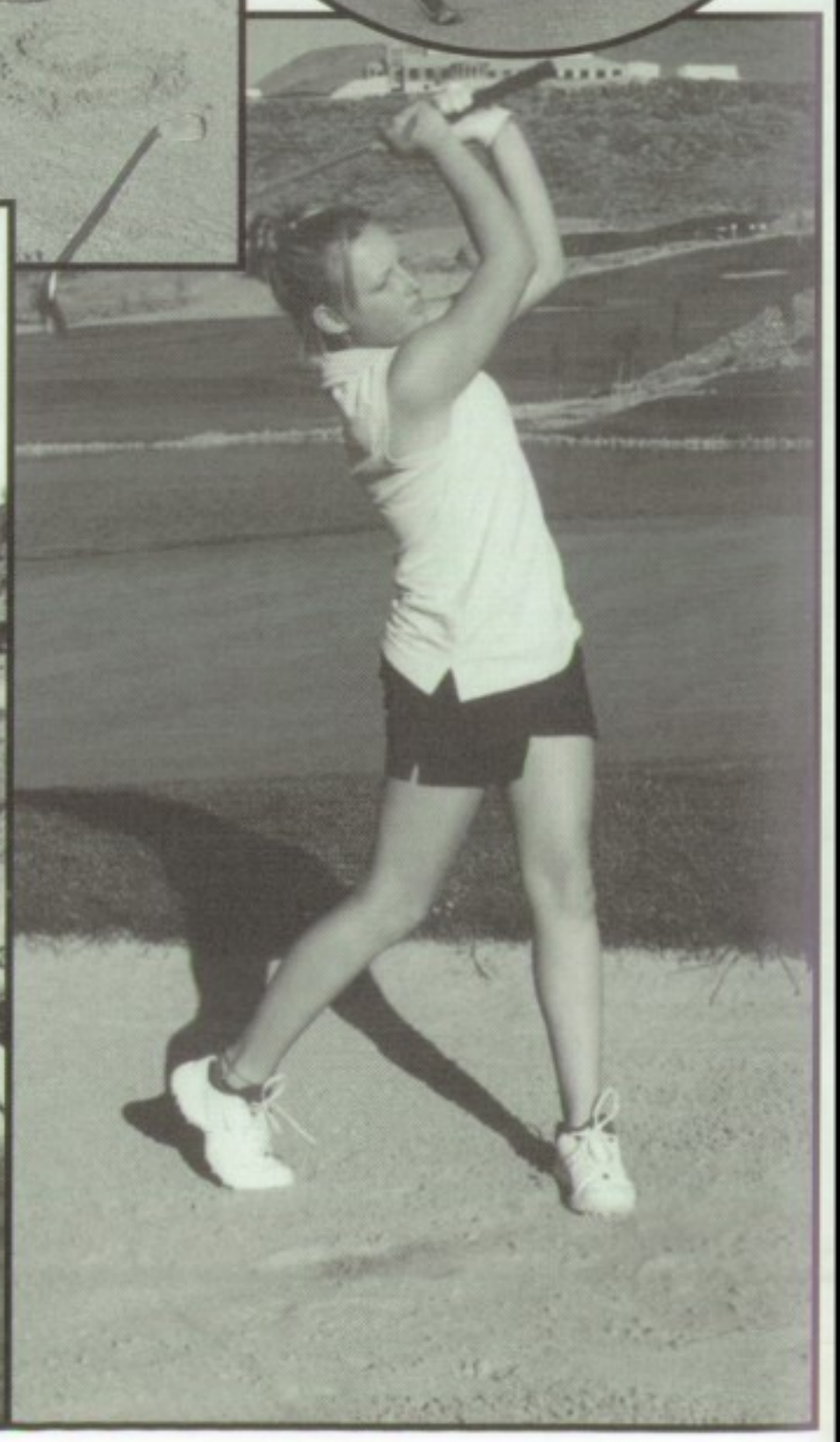
Everyone on the team works really hard to accomplish goals and get better at certain skills, but in the process they have a lot of fun and become good friends. Most of the girls joined golf their freshman year and stuck with it until they were seniors, so there were some strong friendships on the team. To most of the girls on the team practice helps them learn more about having a good eye. They all agree that the easiest thing to improve on is putting and the hardest would be chipping. The girls also have fun making cool designs on the grass with their golf balls when other golfers are playing through!



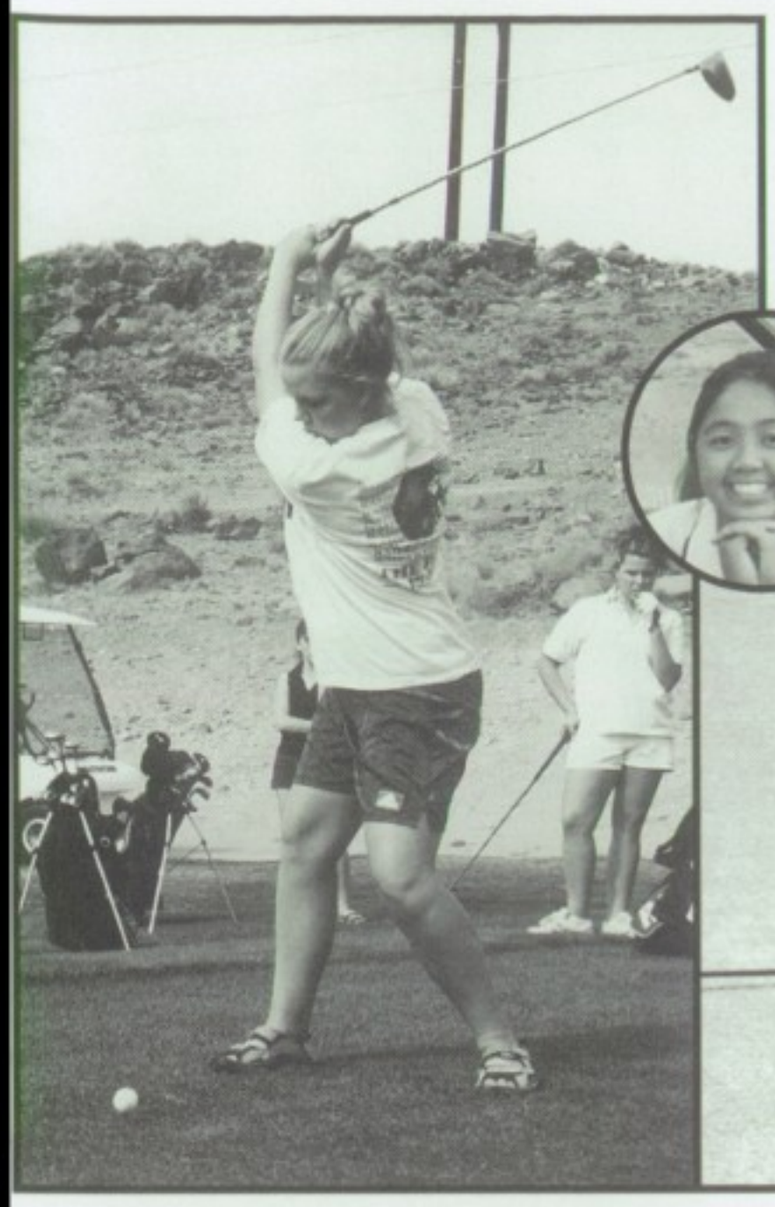


The most important thing Kendall Lujan has improved on is her chipping and putting techniques.

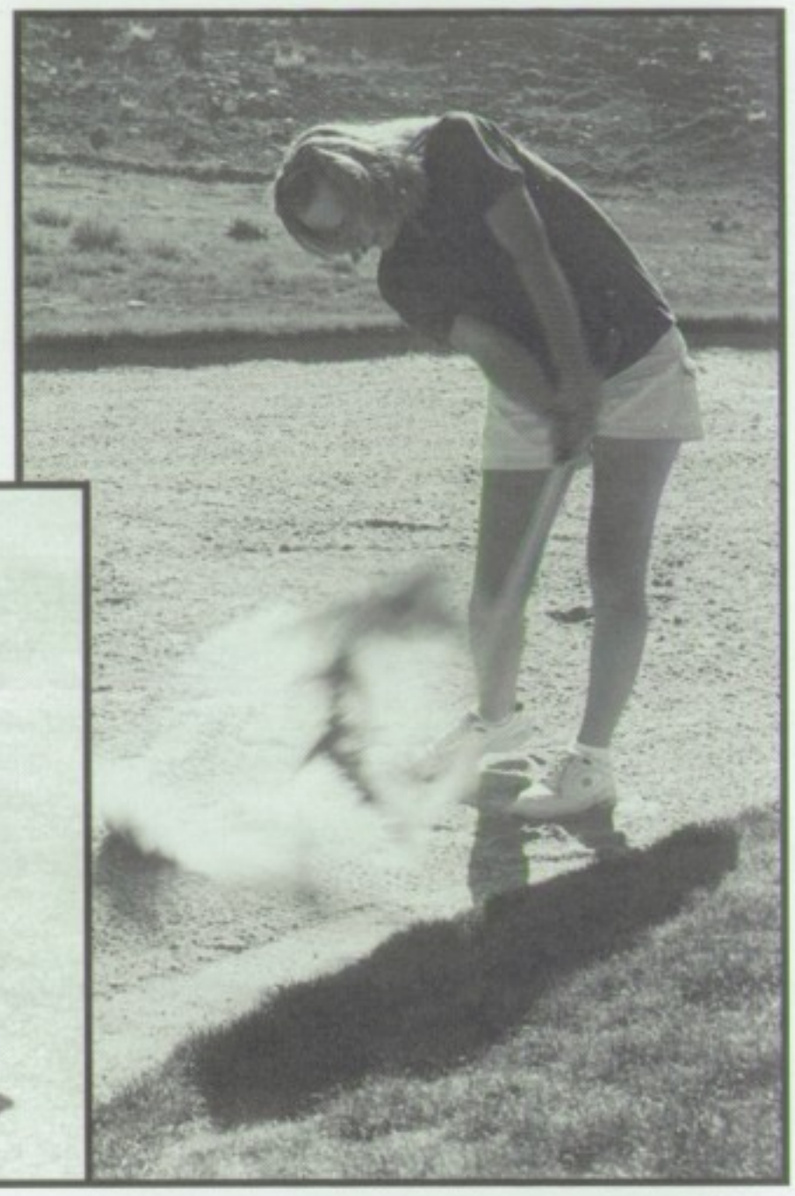




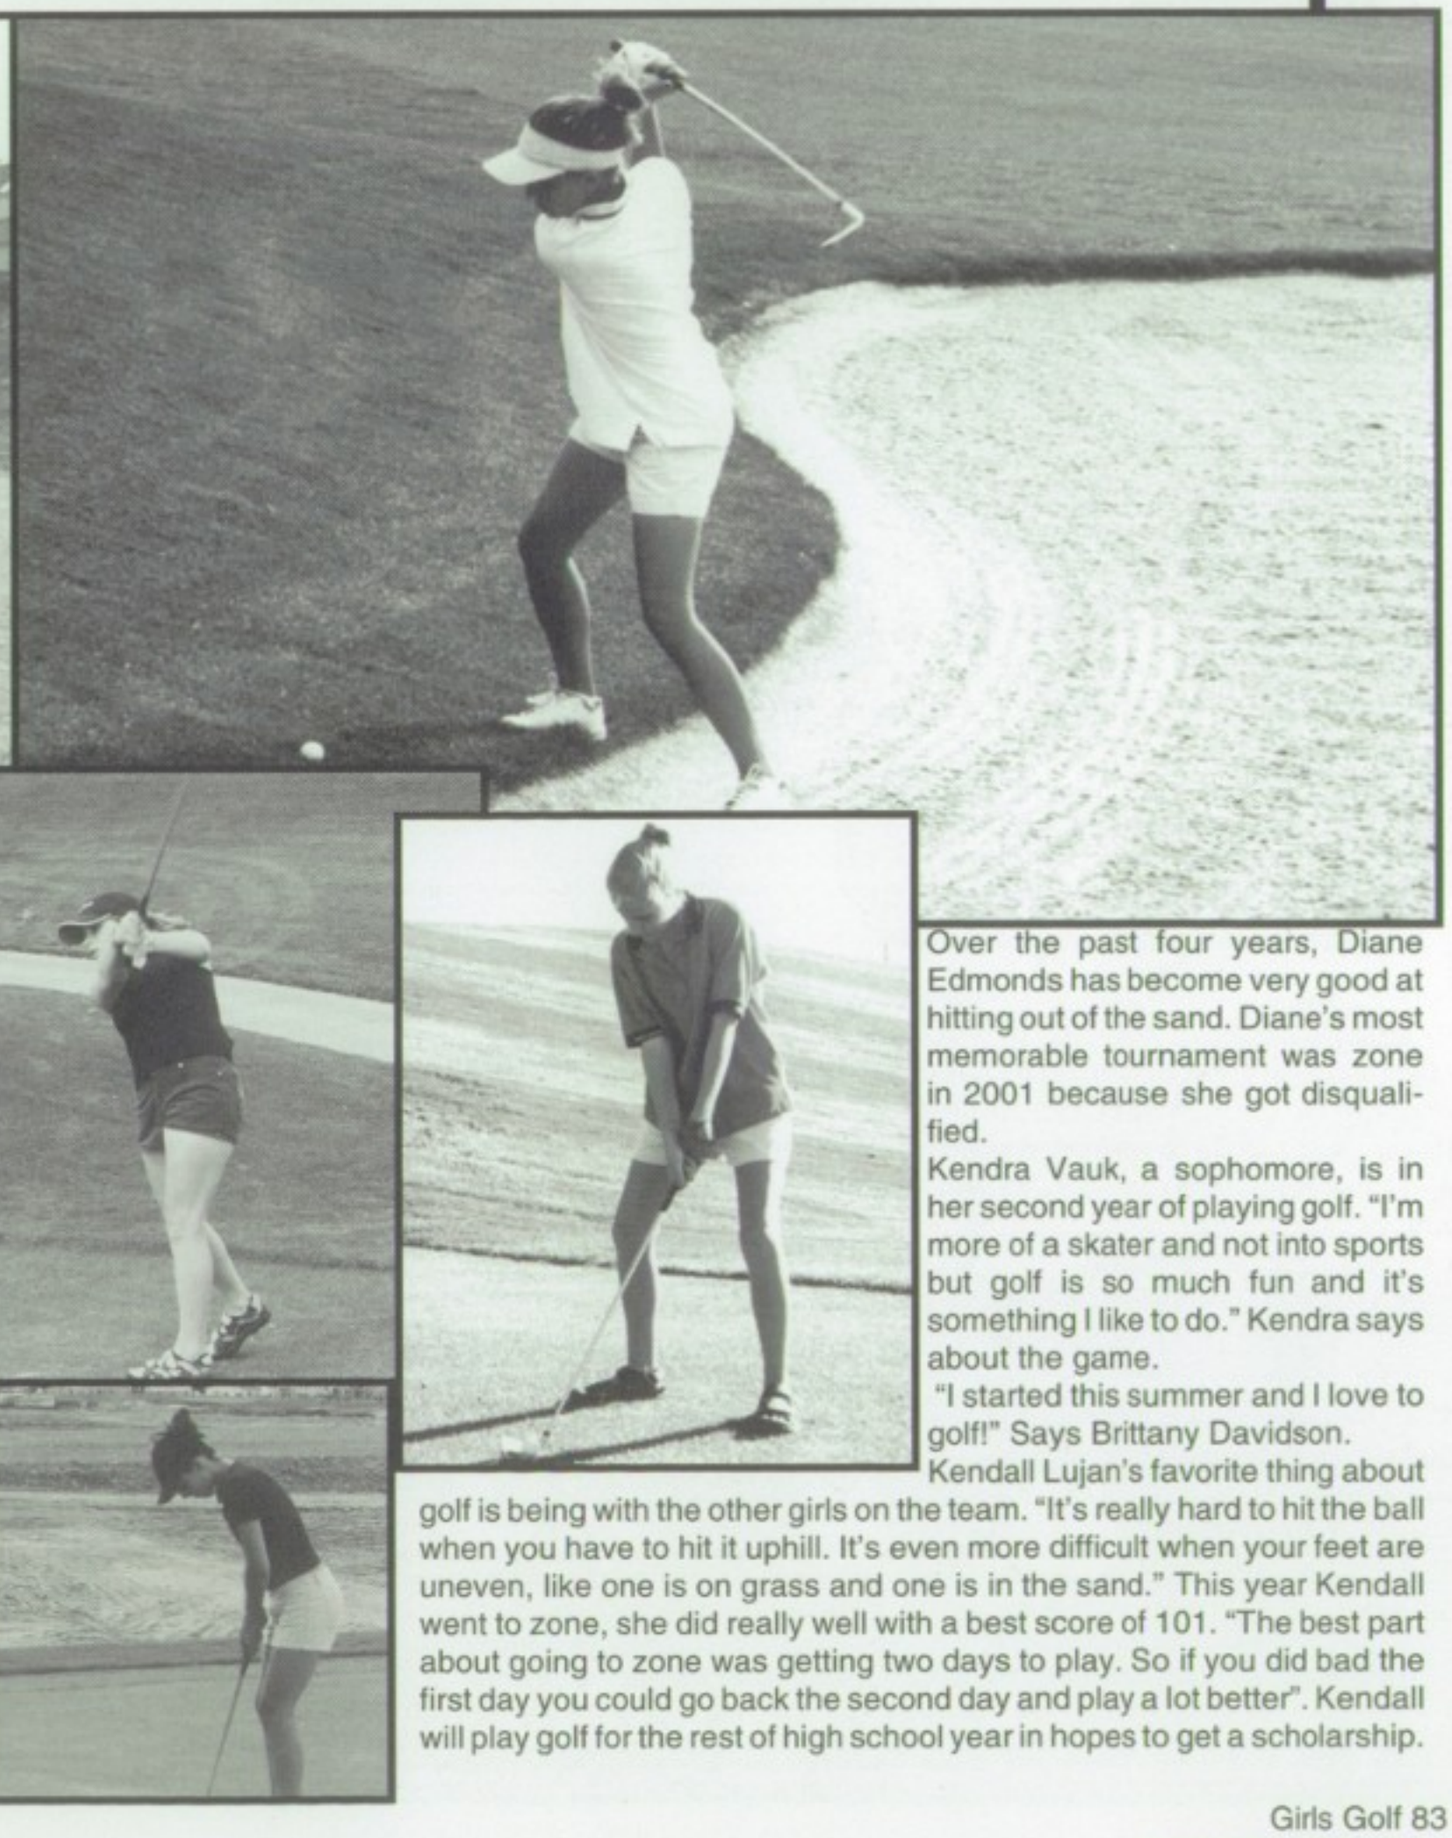
Practice and even some math skills are put into golf because it can be difficult tolearn what angle to hit the ball at and how much force to use. For those who play golf, it can be a lot of fun and very relaxing. Just being out on the green with no distractions is enough to make it a great sport. Diane Edmonds started playing her freshman year and even though she is not going to pursue golf after high school she said that, "it's still a good sport to be involved with." Diane's dad, sister, and brother all golf so it won't be a surprise to see her doing it for fun in the future.



Concentration is the biggest part of the game. If a golfer doesn't pay attention to what is going on, then their swing will be off, so they have to be very careful when they set up a shot. Setting up for a put, Alana Espiritu, measures the distance of her ball from the hole in order to see exactly how far away it is. Kneeling, standing over the ball, and walking around the green, are just some of the ways that the golfers judge how they will approach their next shot.



swingin' to the top



Over the past four years, Diane Edmonds has become very good at hitting out of the sand. Diane's most memorable tournament was zone in 2001 because she got disqualified.

Kendra Vauk, a sophomore, is in her second year of playing golf. "I'm more of a skater and not into sports but golf is so much fun and it's something I like to do." Kendra says about the game.

"I started this summer and I love to golf!" Says Brittany Davidson.

Kendall Lujan's favorite thing about golf is being with the other girls on the team. "It's really hard to hit the ball when you have to hit it uphill. It's even more difficult when your feet are uneven, like one is on grass and one is in the sand." This year Kendall went to zone, she did really well with a best score of 101. "The best part about going to zone was getting two days to play. So if you did bad the first day you could go back the second day and play a lot better". Kendall will play golf for the rest of high school year in hopes to get a scholarship.

We are Family

Soccer isn't just a game played with 11 players out on the field, its more. From the stands you could assume that to form a great soccer team all that is needed is a little sweat and practice. But motivation, dedication and heart are the major components for this unified family of boys. Heart is what has pulled the Raiders together, and in return has given them the success they deserve.

Soccer it to me

Q & A

Do you have any superstitions or special things you do before a game?

"I eat a powerbar and say a quick prayer before the game."
~ Anthony Grillo (04)

"A tradition that I used to do was sing before every game. It would make me forget all about the game and how I would play."
~ Nick O'Neil (05)

"I listen to Limp Bizkit's 'Faith.' Then I listen to Kid Rock."
~ Alex Sanchez (05)

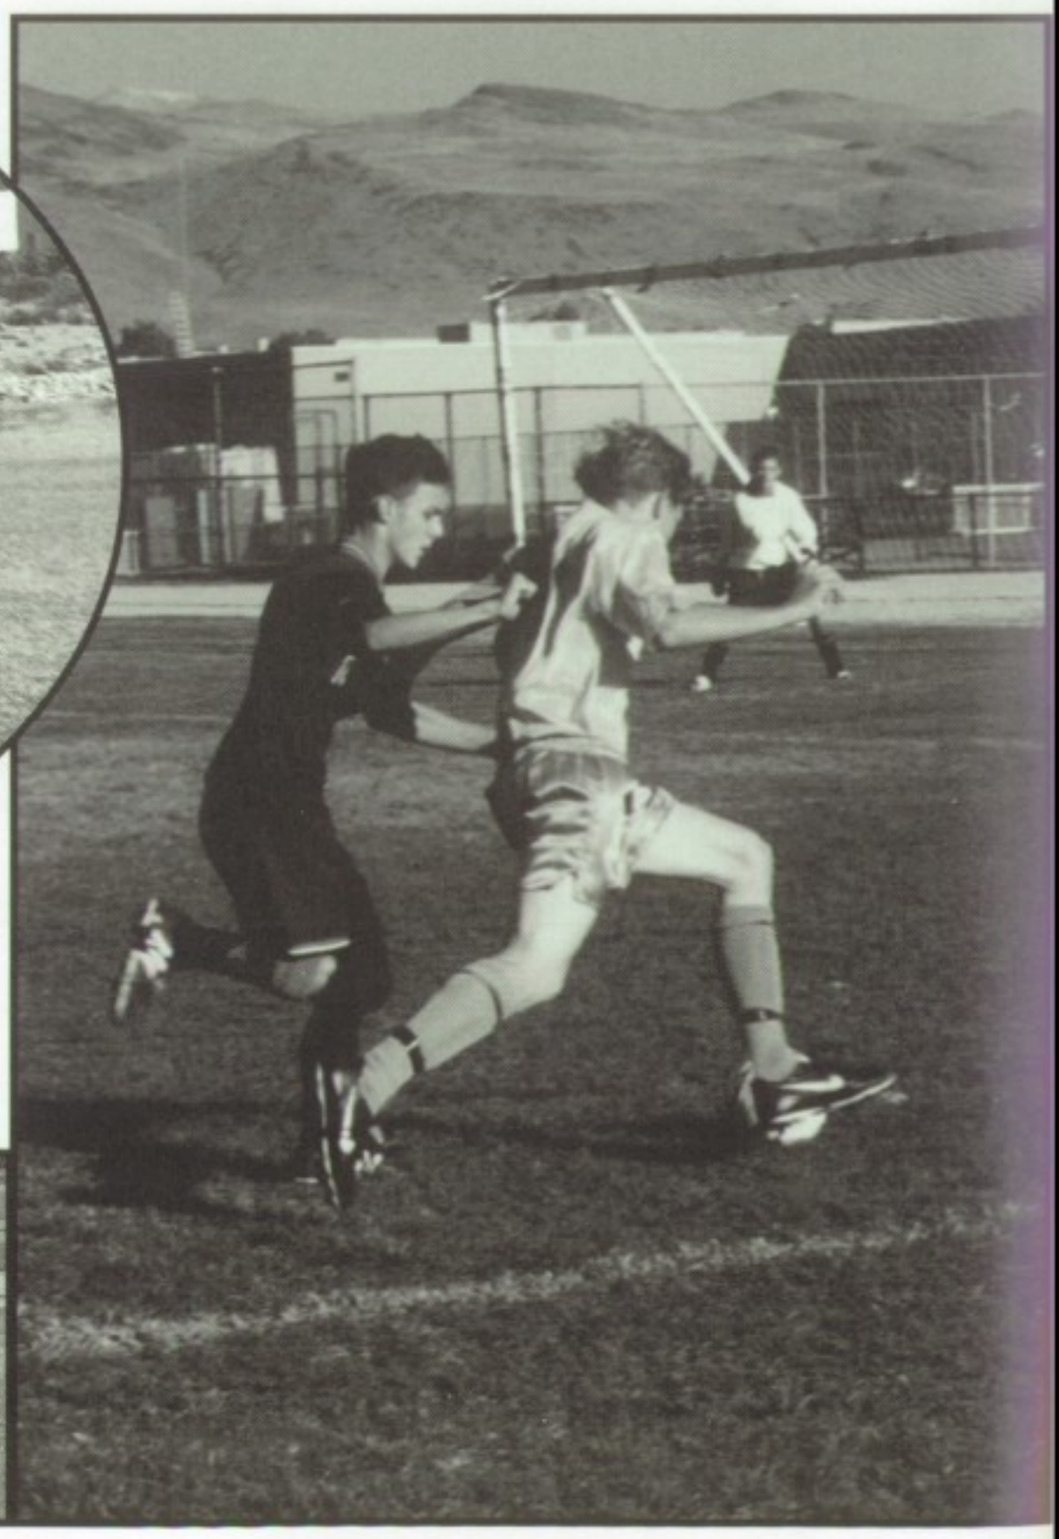
"I have two superstitions before a game; I listen to my Fabulous cd, and I take 3 Advil."
~Rusty Shepard (04)

"I have a Balance Bar and I do my own warmup before the team does their warmup."
~Justin Platon (04)

"I don't shoot before a game because it's bad luck."
~Ryan Clark (05)

Going for the goal! Bryan Dimick (03) runs past a Reno High player to make a shot on the goal."It was a really great game. We really came together as a team. and we won because of me!"

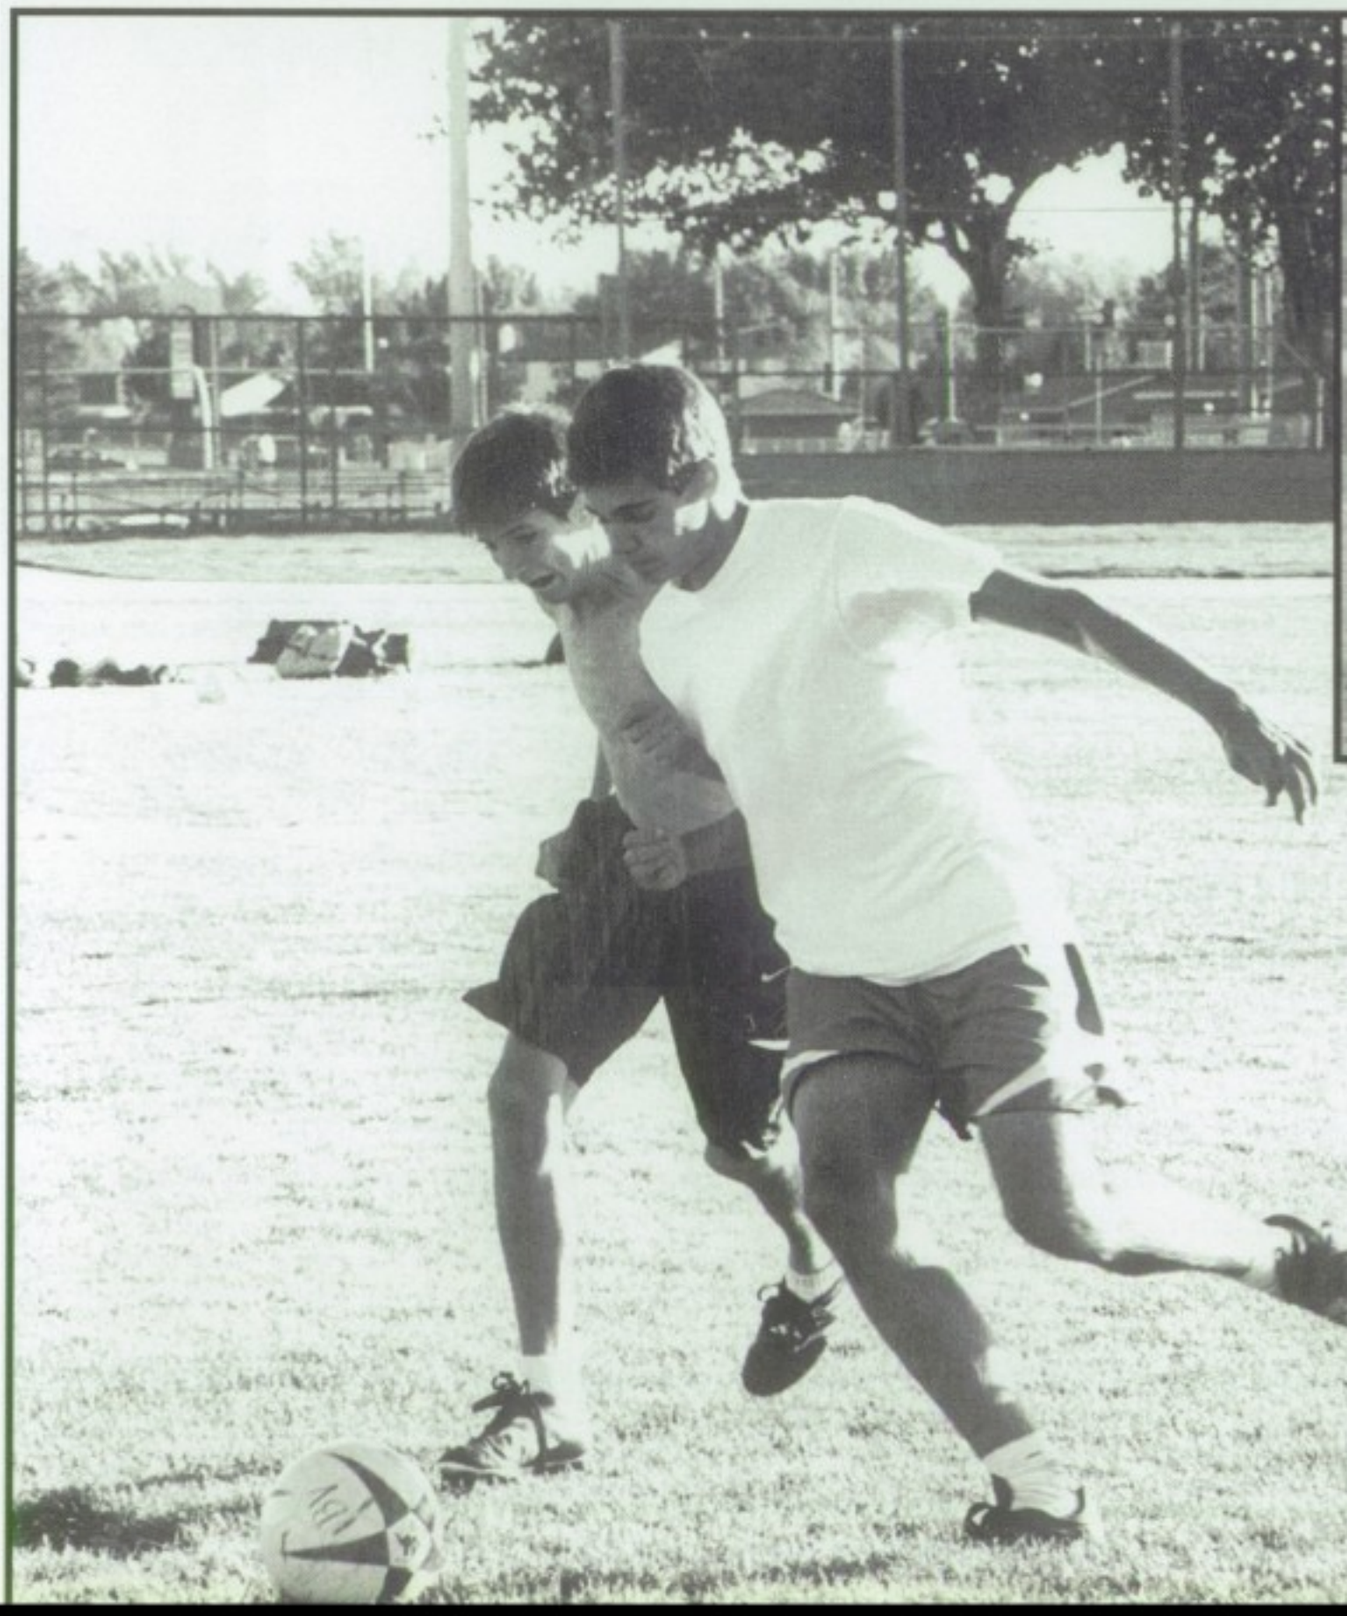
Mike Asdruble (05) looks for a pass as Victor Martinez tries to steal the ball.



Kung fu fighting! Jeff Weagel (05) controls the ball as Josh Fye (04) attempts to get it from him. Justin Johnson (05) and Justin Dendary (05) run over for support.

Ryan Clark (05) looks for the pass as Nico Valencia (05) quickly gains on him. "Soccer is hard work, but I love it! It was a really good experience, and I will definitely play next year," said Clark about the season.

The team listens to Coach Sean Morris during half time at the Sparks game. "The team is very young. We have only 5 upper classmen, only 3 of whom start. That means that the majority of our starters are freshman. They have done a great job though. We have continued to improve, play our style of soccer, and win! My outstanding players this year are Anthony Grillo (04), Ryan Clark (05), Bryan Dimick (03), and Justin Platon (04). They have helped the team get the stats that we are so proud to have."



Determined to get the ball, Anthony Grillo (04) pushes past a Sparks High player.

A fight to the end! "Scuba" Steve Hedrick (04) and Matt King (05) battle for the ball. "Scuba Steve tried to push me off the ball, so I pushed him right back," said King. "We call him Scuba Steve because I guess, last year he brought his scuba gear and went diving in the mud."

Michael Wood (05) winds up for a kick while Anthony Grillo (04) pressures him.

YOU GOAL, GIRL!

in a close to undefeated season, the varsity girls "kick" it into high gear

Looking for an opening, Jessica Pitts(04), makes a break down the field in hopes to cross the ball over to a teammate waiting in the goal box.

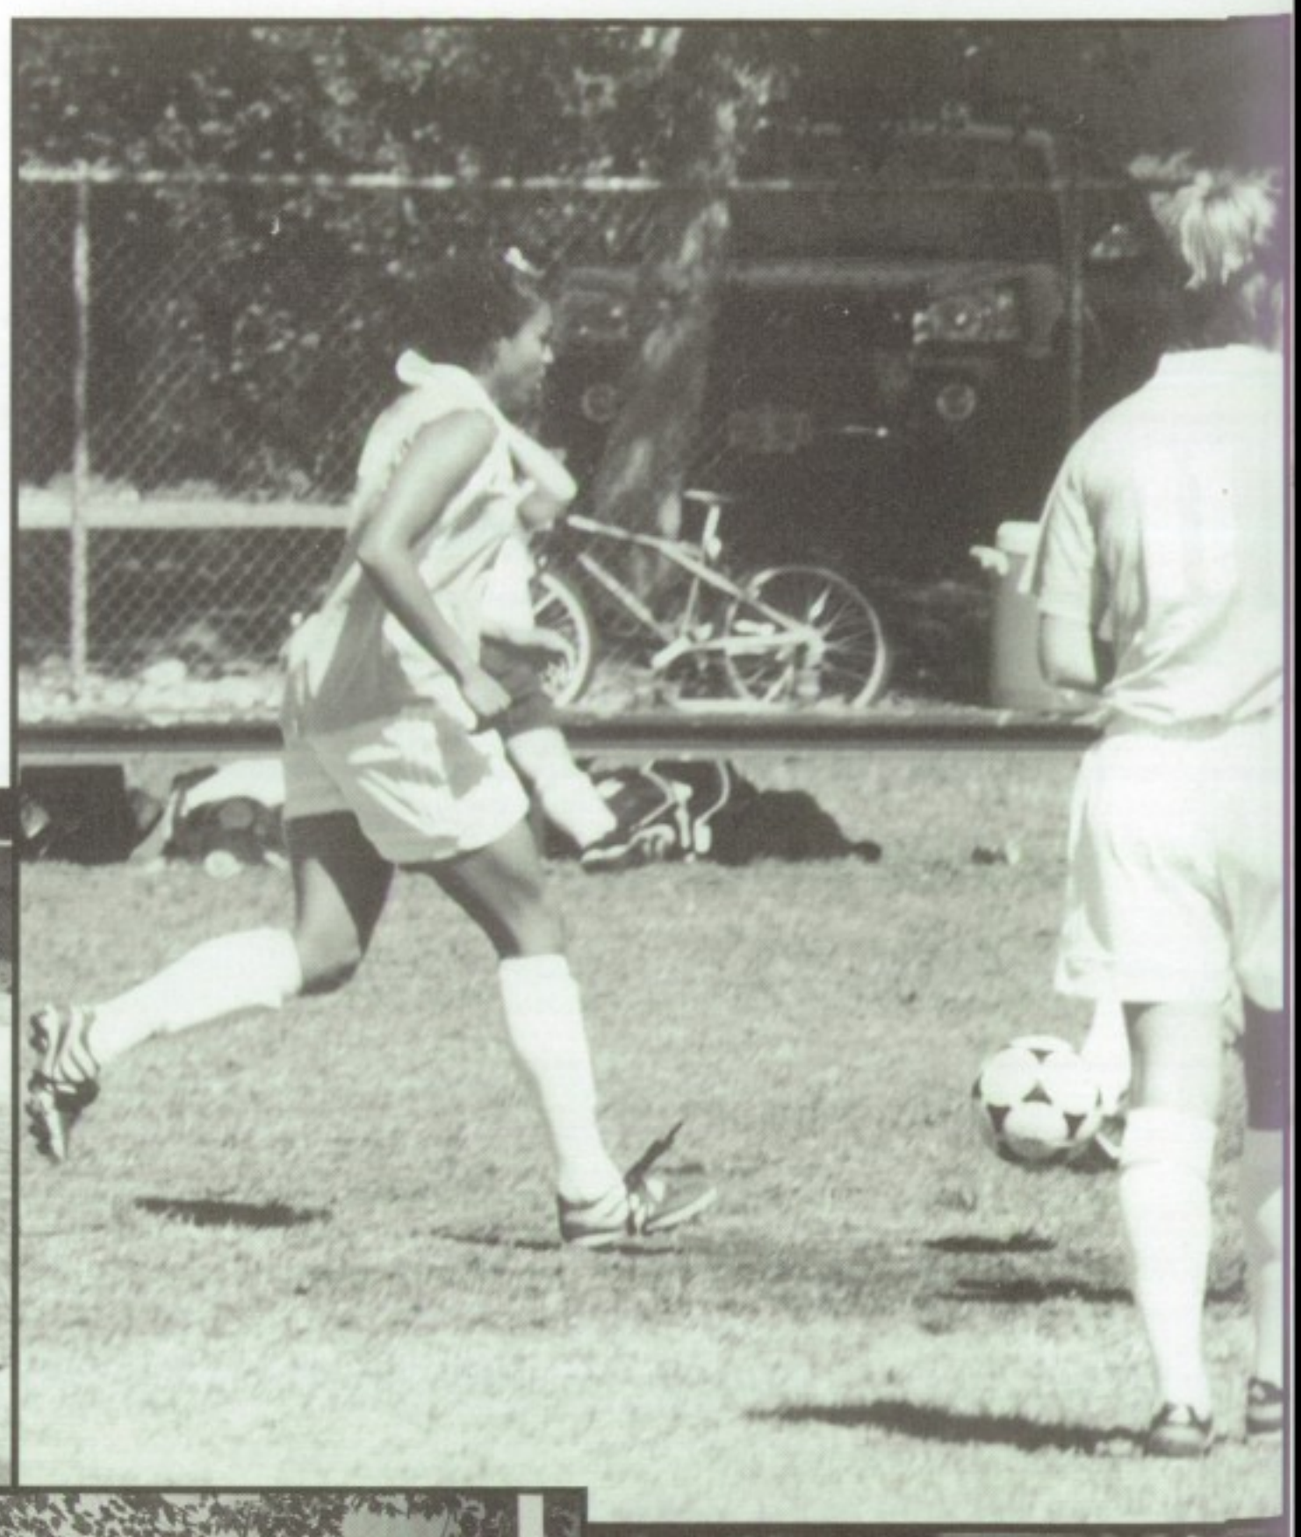
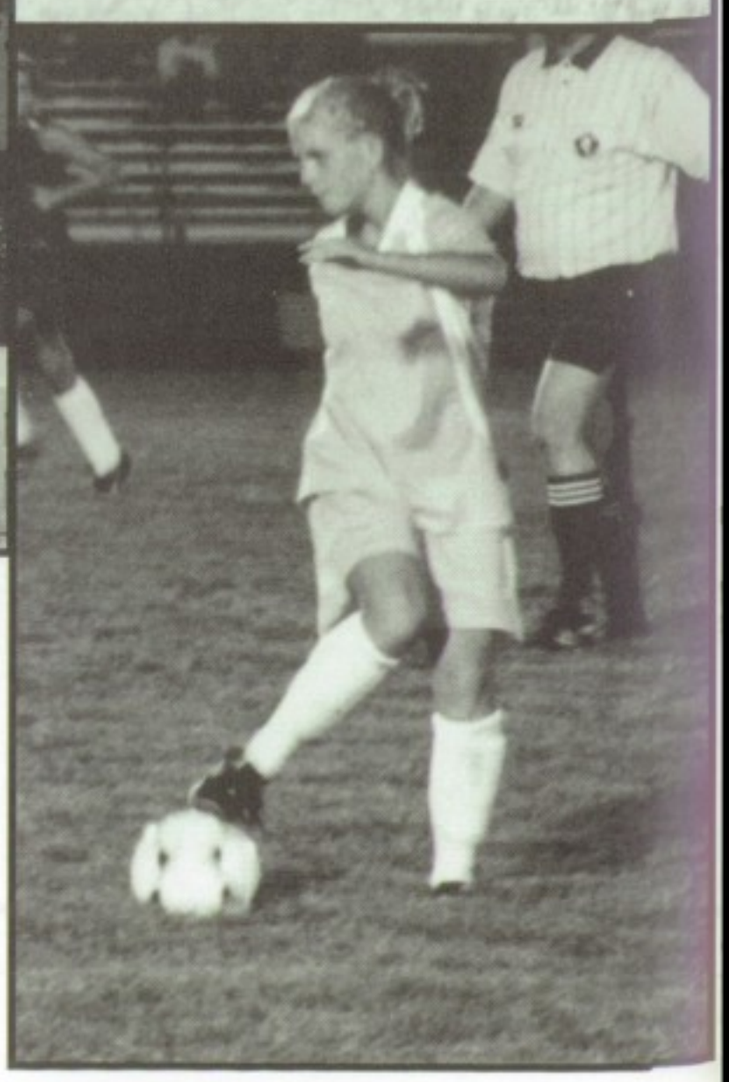
Whether they are jumping into the air for a header, sprinting downfield with the ball, or taking a drop kick from the goal, they keep moving the ball forward. The girls are always working hard to improve, even if they have been playing their whole lives. "I have been playing soccer since I was four years old."said Alexia Fields.



Besides all of the hard work, the girls also find some time to have fun and relax! The girls are very serious while warming up and stretching before the game, but are able to joke around and enjoy eachothers company after the game while taking down nets and eating their post - game suckers. Above: Seniors, Nicole McManus, Mandy Herald, Monica Thompson, and Kendal Riley. Right: Monica Thompson uses some fancy footwork to get the ball out of the midfield.



Listening to coach Verdi give a half time pep talk, the girls get ready for a strong second half.

Dribbling past Sparks, Karrie Easter, takes control of the ball.

What was your favorite soccer moment from the 01-02 season?

"During our last game I sang the National Anthem, it was raining and then the cannon exploded and my team came running to me and we did our cheer." Kendal Riley (02)

"All the team bonding and get-togethers on fridays or wheneverwas fun." Trisha Gibbons (04)

"The whole experiance of zone and running untill wepassed out." Jessica Pitts (04)

"When we went to yoga because the coach thought it would berelaxing." Nicole McManus (02)

Wasting some time while waiting for their late bus to arrive, the girls sit together and bond.

Waiting to return from a powder puff injury, Mandy Herald, supports and cheers on her team from the sidelines.

The girls Junior Varsity soccer team has worked very hard this year. They have done a good job at holding their own among the other high school's junior varsity teams. They are building a stong foundation for the upcoming seasons. Right: Concentrating on the ball Nicole Britain (05) gets ready to score on the Galena team.

Teresa "T-baby" Grillo (03) has been playing soccer for 6 years, she plays sweeper, forward, and stopper. She is a good, strong player and is very dedicated to her team and her sport.

Nicole "Nics" Nelson has been playing soccer since the first grade. She plays left mid-field, forward and right mid-field. She has a sensitive, skillful touch and is fast as a flash .

Whitney Tiner (04) played on the Junior Varsity team her freshman year and this year. She is a positive influence on and off the field and is always ready to lend a helping hand to her teammates.

The J.V. team is the building block for the varsity team. The entire team worked hard on their skills to make this year sucessful in every way. Many of these girls hope to play on varsity next year and they were able to fine tune their skills and learn plays that will help them in the future. While developing their skills on the J.V. team they had tough competition, but the girls stepped up to the challenge and came out on top. Many players even suffered injuries. "During the Carson game I almost got a concussion because another player and I went up for a header at the same time. I wasn't allowed to do headers for two and a half weeks after that." commented Whitney Grimes (04).

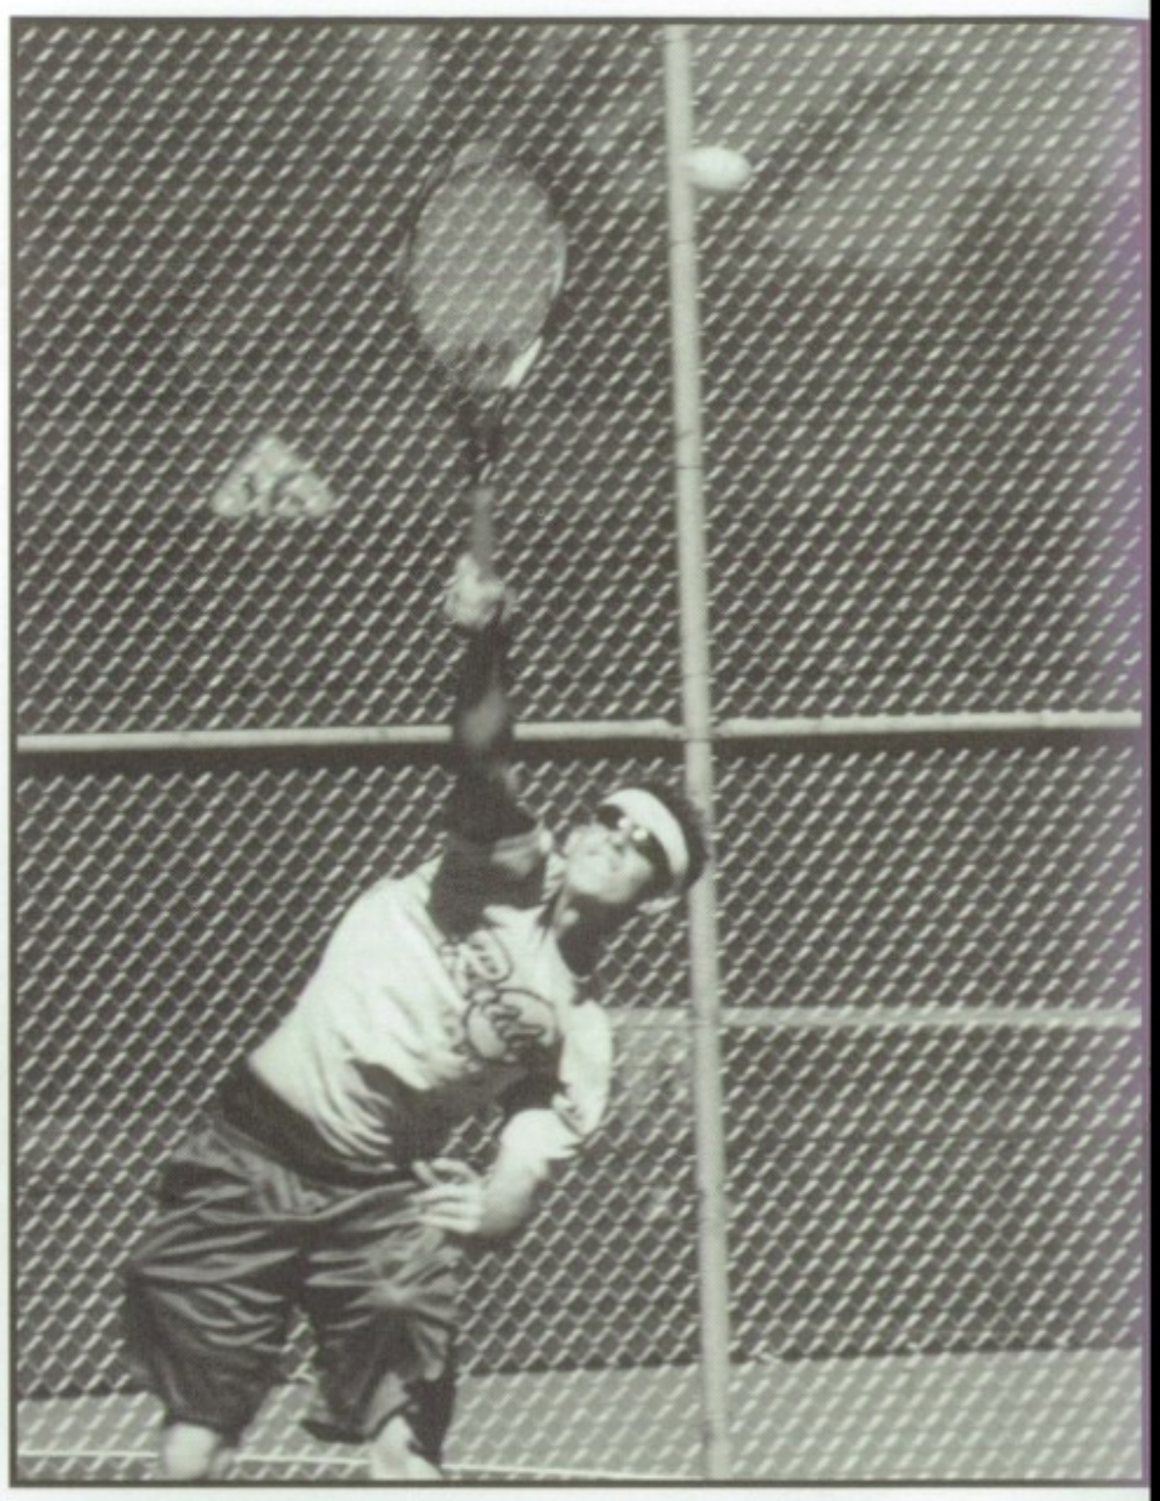
Serve's Up!

Almost undefeated, the boy's tennis team had a great year! By staying focused and playing hard, the guys succeeded in a season of pride, energy, and victories...

You know he's bad! Sophomore Ryan Hill warms up before a competitive match. Hill enjoyed the season because of his teammates that were "fun to hang with" and the messing around they all had their share of. The guys had tons of fun while still staying focused and competitive in every game.



It's up! Number one player Ryan Johnson (02) starts off the match with a rapid serve. The team was fun and supportive to everyone on and off the courts. The lower classmen learned from, and looked up to the older guys on the team as friends and mentors. Coach Bob White also motivated the guys to play better. He says being on the team helps to build lifelong friendships and winning gives a sense of pride, both of these helping the players to feel better about themselves.

See this? Junior Sean McCann perfects his skills. He felt the team always tried to make road trips as "not boring as possible." McCann also says, "Everyone on the team is pretty cool... the bus rides are always really fun."

Get there! Junior Jeff Hogsett hussles to send the ball sailing to his teammate. The boys always warmed up with the same people before every game and at every practice as a sort of tradition.

Striving for perfection, the boy's tennis team had a great season full of fun, energy, practice, learning, and friendships. Playing an individual sport as a team teaches players teamwork as well as determination, self-discipline, respect, and the acceptance of a loss. This year's team learned all of these and still had a good time. Several of the guys mentioned messing around as part of the fun and stated that they were close with some if not all of their teammates. They also shared eachother's advice. When the guys were asked if they had any advice for next season. Junior Hans Schobert shared with us his wise words. He said, "Pete, stay on your side!"

Say what? Even when playing hard, some matches, such as McQueen, were extremely close. It was matches like these that gave the team the excitement and adrenaline rush of the sport. Junior Sean McCann says, "My favorite part is when I'm in a really close match. I get the best feeling when I win one of those."

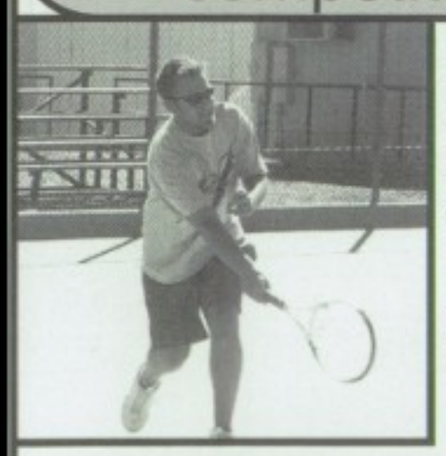
zoning in on the competition



Stay in the game! The team was successful in all but one match this season. They played hard and practiced long in order to win for the team as well as themselves. Their dedication shined through in the results of their matches, teamwork, and the zone tournament, and proved itself in an almost flawless season. Tennis, a mental game, not only benefits the players physically, but helped them to improve team-building skills. The entire team succeeded this season, and some went beyond. In every sport there are always the few individuals that stand out. These are the few that run that extra mile. These particular few are considered star players, role models, and teachers to their teammates for their energy, determination, skill and motivation. They participated in this year's zone tournament. These players included: Single's players: Seniors Ryan Johnson(far bottom left), Mitch Jonas(below left), and David Kuykendall(far below right). Doubles players: Junior Sean McCann(right) with junior Jeff Hogsett(left), Senior Tommy Phen(not pictured) with sophomore Ryan Hill(below right), and Loren Markland with Brandon Chmelovsky(not pictured). " Playing games are my favorite part of tennis because they are fun and exciting." Darby Boe (05).

Playing tennis is always fun, but with fun comes a price... practice. Hallie Pridham (04) was ready to return the ball during one of the teams many summer time practices.

Jennifer Pearson (04) was manager of the Lady Raider team this year. She was at every game to cheer these girls on and keep score. She was an essential part of the team as well.

Lauren Randolph (03) was ready to smack that ball during a warm up before a game. Warming up is one of the most important parts of tennis. It provides the girls a time to see how the weather is affecting their game, as well as other vital pieces of information. While warming up the girls were always cheery and ready to play one of their favorite sports.

a smashing season

What a great serve! "I was inspired to play tennis by my aunt. When I was six she played in Hawaii. She started to coach me when I was seven and hasn't stopped since. She totally inspires me to play my best!" Heather Imand (02) women's tennis players were on top of their game this season.

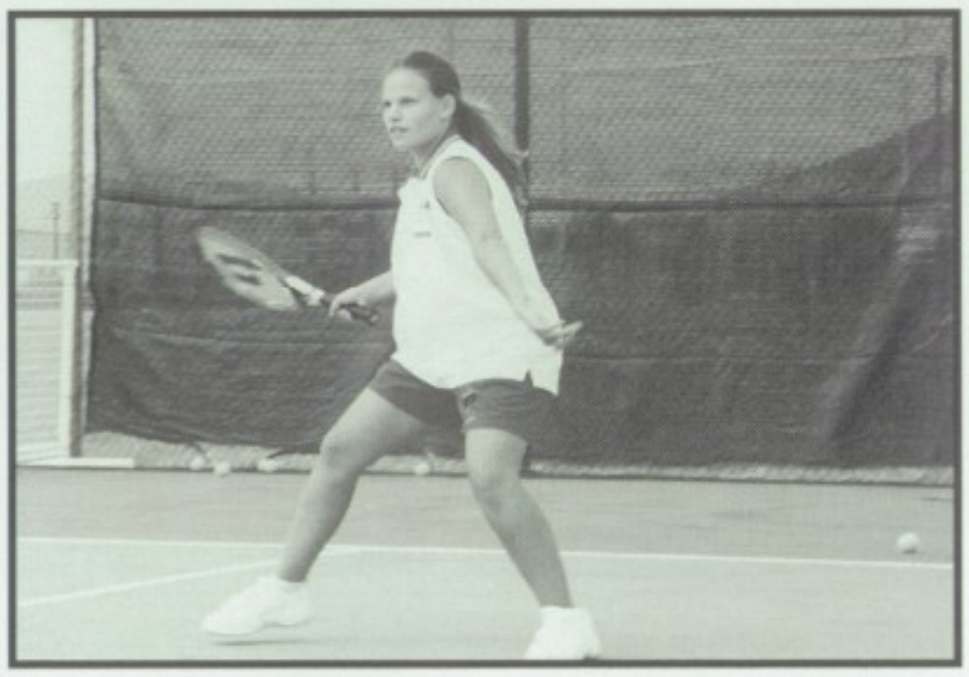
Along with having to deal with practices, matches and coaches, the girls also had to deal with all types of weather. "The hardest part of tennis is playing when you really don't want to. Like when its really hot outside, or really windy! It can be so frustrating!" -Shayla Ogg (04)

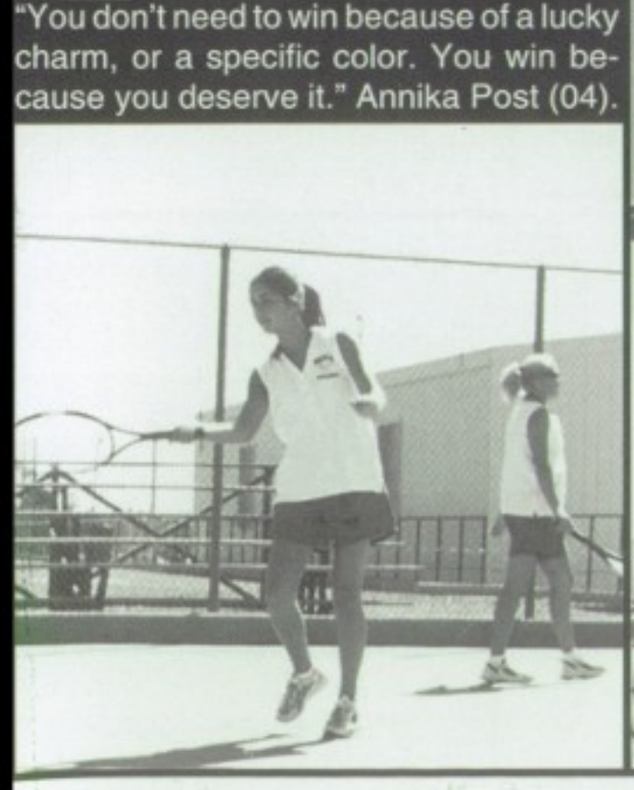
"My favorite part of tennis is listening to ROTC when they do their 'ho-ra' cheer!" Megan Lyons (02)



"At the games we sing, we sing almost as well as we play." Jackie O'Brien (03)

"I like tennis because after a long day of sitting and taking notes its nice to run and scream after school." Wendy Wang (04)

"You don't need to win because of a lucky charm, or a specific color. You win because you deserve it." Annika Post (04).



The Lady Raiders were on their game this season. Working hard, not only on their tennis skills, but their skills as a team They used these new traits and put them to the test in this years games. Taking six girls to zone this year, the team had one of its most rewarding seasons ever. The girls not only became one of the best teams on the court, but off the court as well. "The girls are the best part of this team, we are all so tight." Erin Bechtel (02) The girls practiced their backhands, forehands,volleys, serves and every other swing you can imagine. They learned what it meant to practice, practice, practice. Going to zone this year was a huge accomplishment for this team. The six girls that made it to zone had an expiericnce of a life time.

Volleyball takes a lot of concentration, skill, and teamwork. The J.V. girls bumped, set, and spiked their way to victory. They worked hard as a team on the court against the tough competition. "This year we won more games because the coaching staff was well experienced and taught us a lot of new techniques which helped thoughout the season." said Katie Thomas.

Even though the volleyball season was most of the girls' first time on a high school sports team, they did their best to achieve the best. It took hours of long, hard practices to teach our freshmen basic volleyball skills. After practicing every day from 2:45 to 4:30, the girls freshmen volleyball team experencied a memorable season full of hard work and dedication. One of the girls' favorite drills to do in practice was the circle drill, "My favorite drill is the circle drill. It's a fun and it doesn't feel like we are practicing." said Kelly Brisbois('05).

Spiking setting, and serving is the life of a freshman volleyball player.

Stealing the hearts of people in the stands with their serves across the awaiting gym floor and setting the volleyball for their fellow teammates.

Volleyball's little women go through it all. Putting forth effort and time afterschool and weekend games to prove themselves the best. Learning how to pass and rotate, most girls say, is the easiest to concept to learn.

Most players say the hardest concepts are setting the ball and serving. Getting the ball to go exactly where you want takes skill.

Basketball is a great way to take out your aggression and stress on a bad day. Dribbling the ball down the court allows the boys' skill to take place and show what they have learned during the season. An inspiring coach reflects on the Team and their season record. "When you are in the paint, be selfish," said Coach Brian Lee to the boys. To win you have to swallow your pride and let out what's inside to prove you're the best. Never let a weaker opponent beat you because of a bad day. The boys are not only teammates, but they are friends as well. They never let another team intimidate them, all that it does is make them stronger.

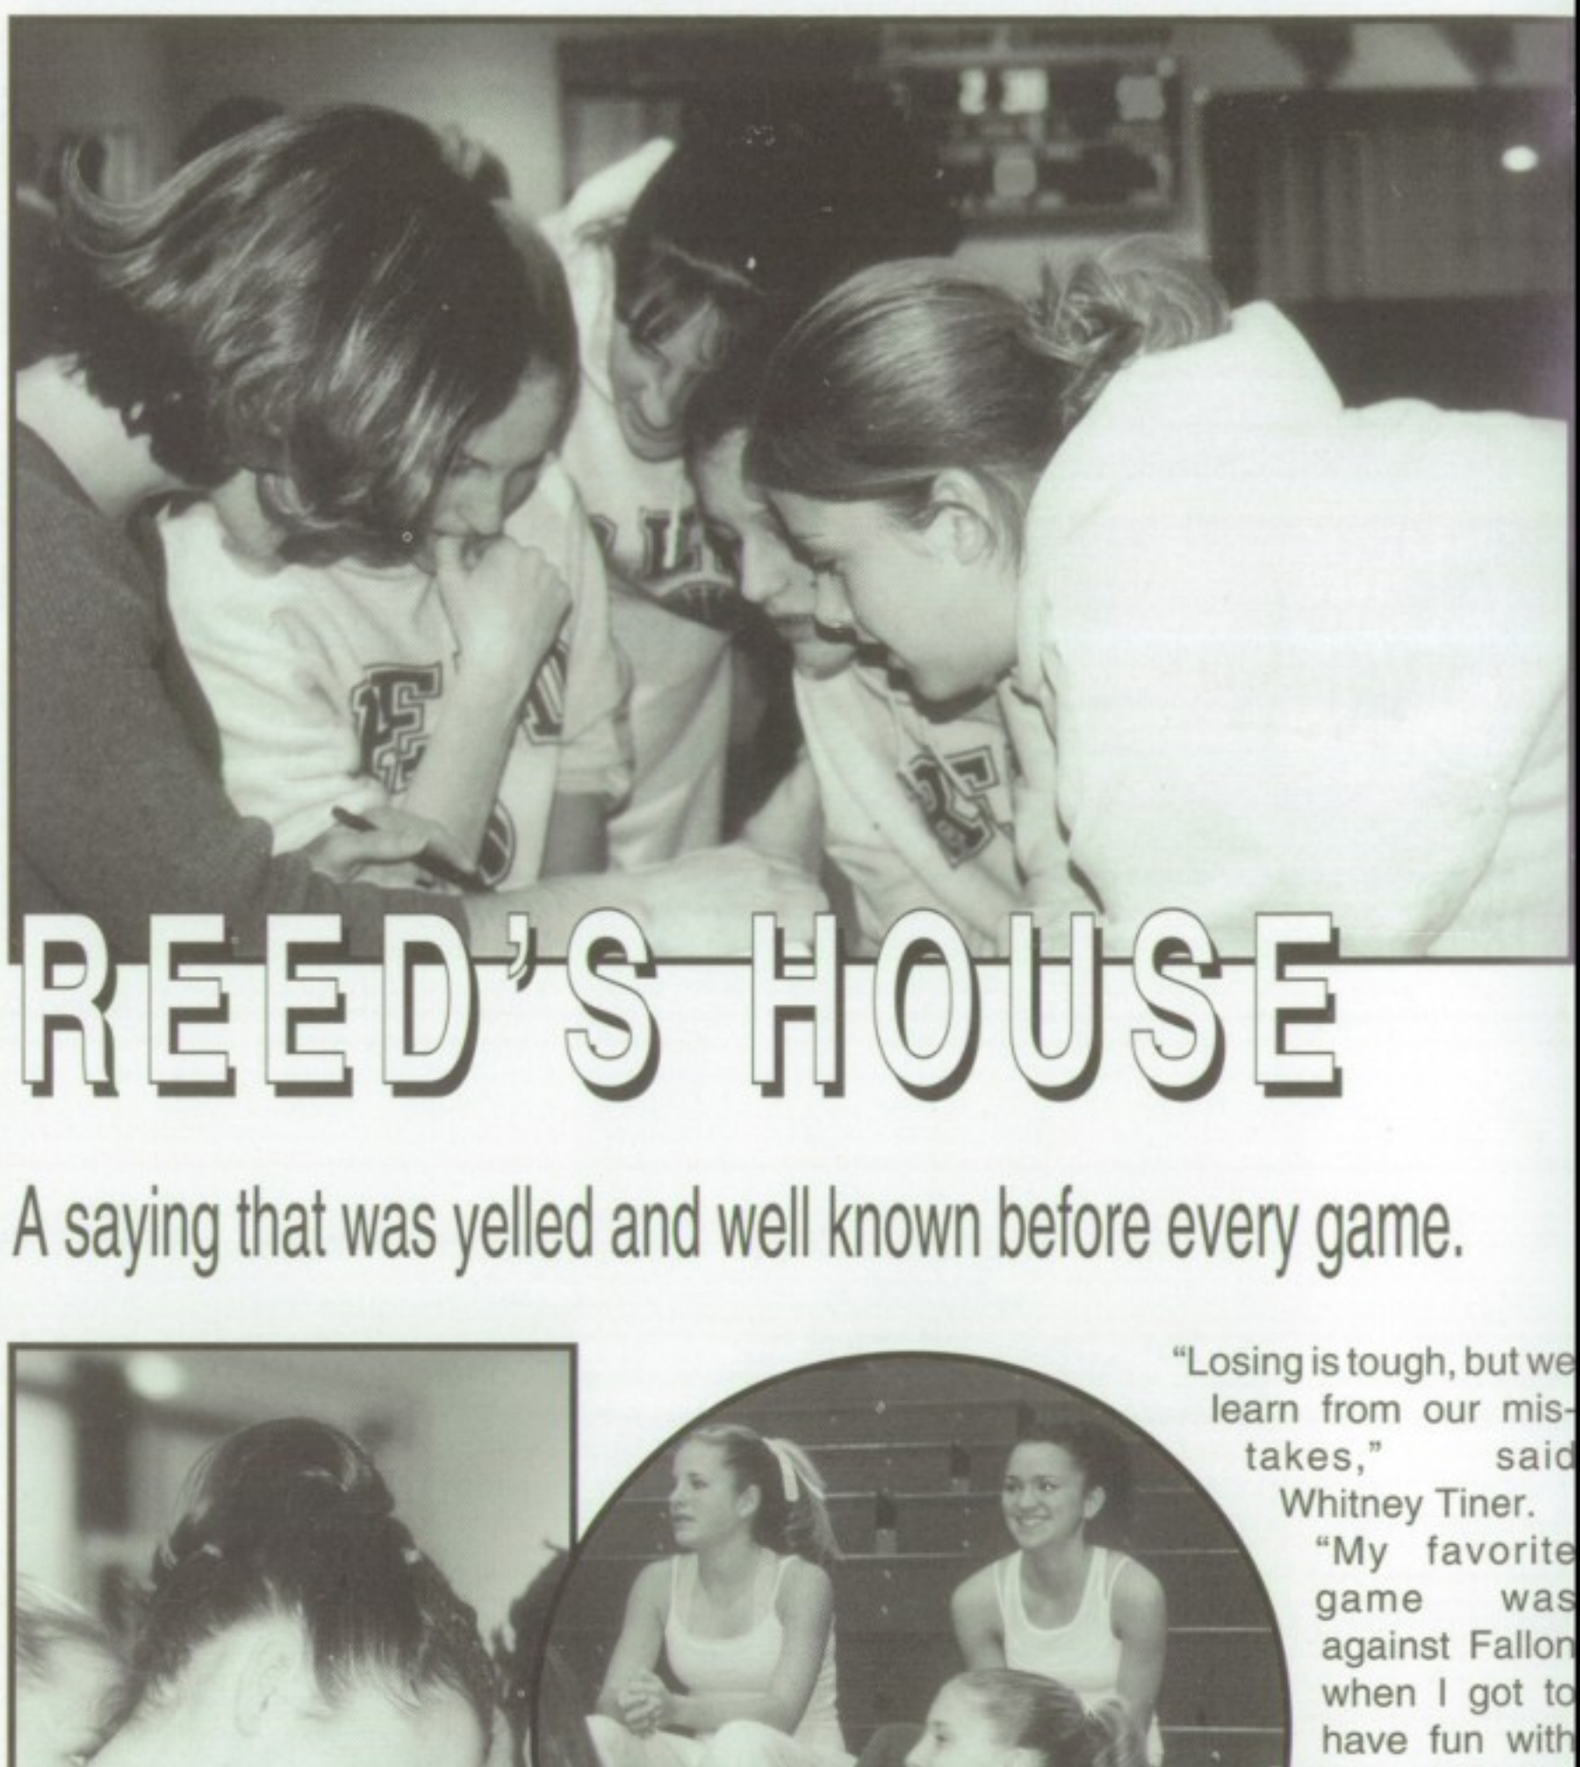
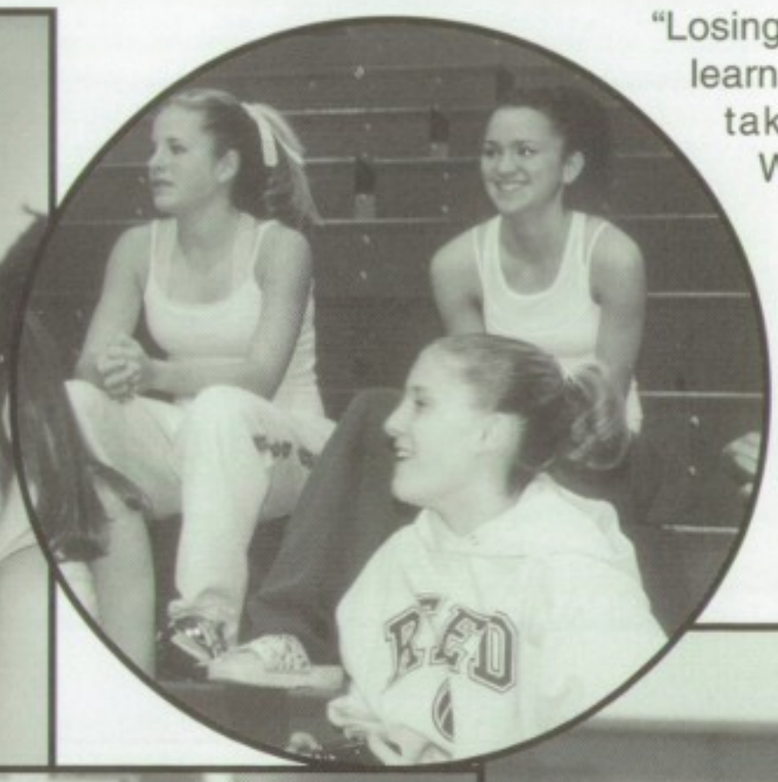
WHO'S HOUSE?

This year's J.V. Girls Basketball team, coached by Joye Williams, is a powe house of success. The contributions to the team include four juniors, six sophomores, and one freshman. These talented eleven girls work hard on the court and even harder off of it. They have not only proven themselfs this season but they have gained knowledge about team and the game itself.



REED'S HOUSE

A saying that was yelled and well known before every game.

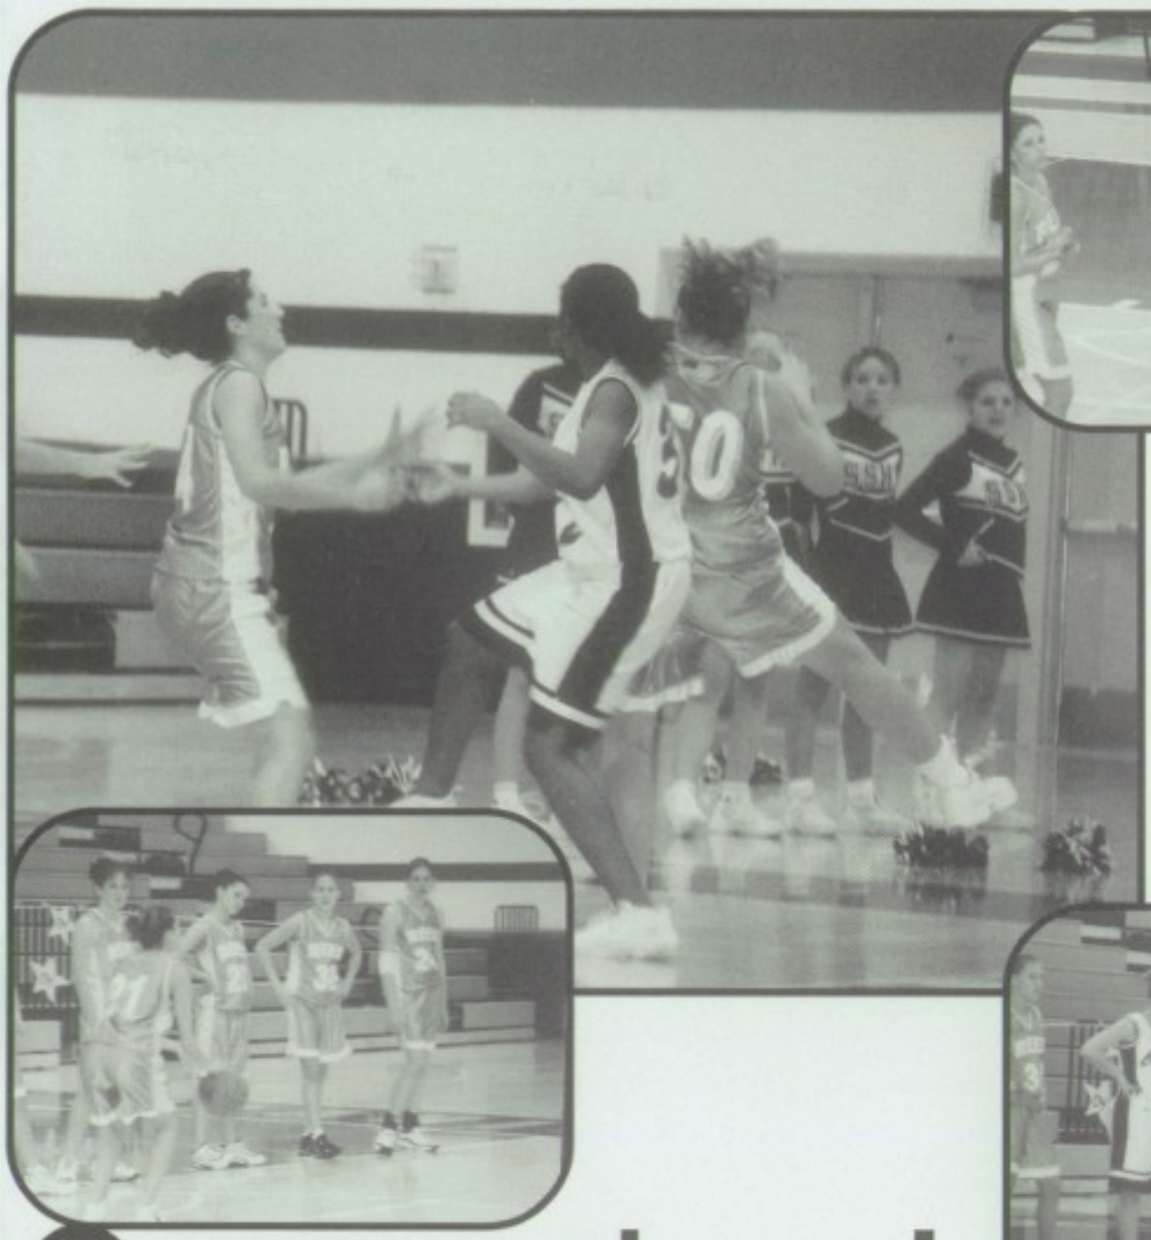


"Losing is tough, but we learn from our mistakes," said Whitney Tiner.

"My favorite game was against Fallon when I got to have fun with Tia and Mavis," said Annalisa Serrano.

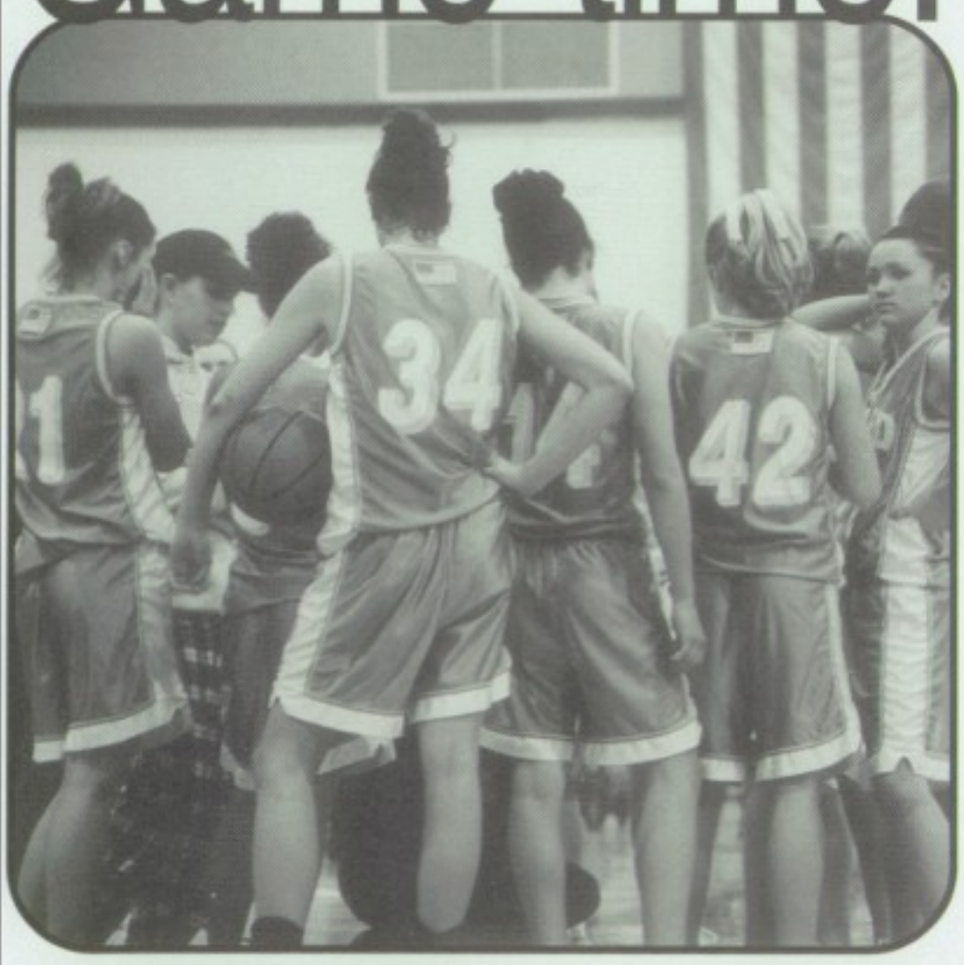
Practice makes perfect!

Any points that you miss in field goal attempts can be made up in rebounds and foul shots. That's why before every game these Lady Raiders practice their freethrow shots and boxing out techniques to get the offensive and defensive rebounds.



Blocking, passing, getting the rebound and working together to make the shoot is not easily done alone. Basketball unlike baseball and football where at most points its all on you requires a great deal of teamwork. The court becomes a place of understanding and communication between players.

Game time!



Annalisa Serrano (04) performs "The Monkey Liver Dance" before each game.

The team listens to the same cd for warm ups during their home games.

Pre-game rituals

Heather Hamilton (03) always has to end the warm-ups in the small gym making a three-pointer.

Get a move on... Driving the ball across half court during the third quarter, Tia Bartek (04), goes up against the team's newest cross-town rival, Spanish Springs.

On the line... Taking her second foul shot against the McQueen Lancers, Cassie Allen (03) focuses in on making the shot.

Which drill is your least favorite?

"Every drill is fun when you're trying, because you know you're doing it right."
-Kristie Keller

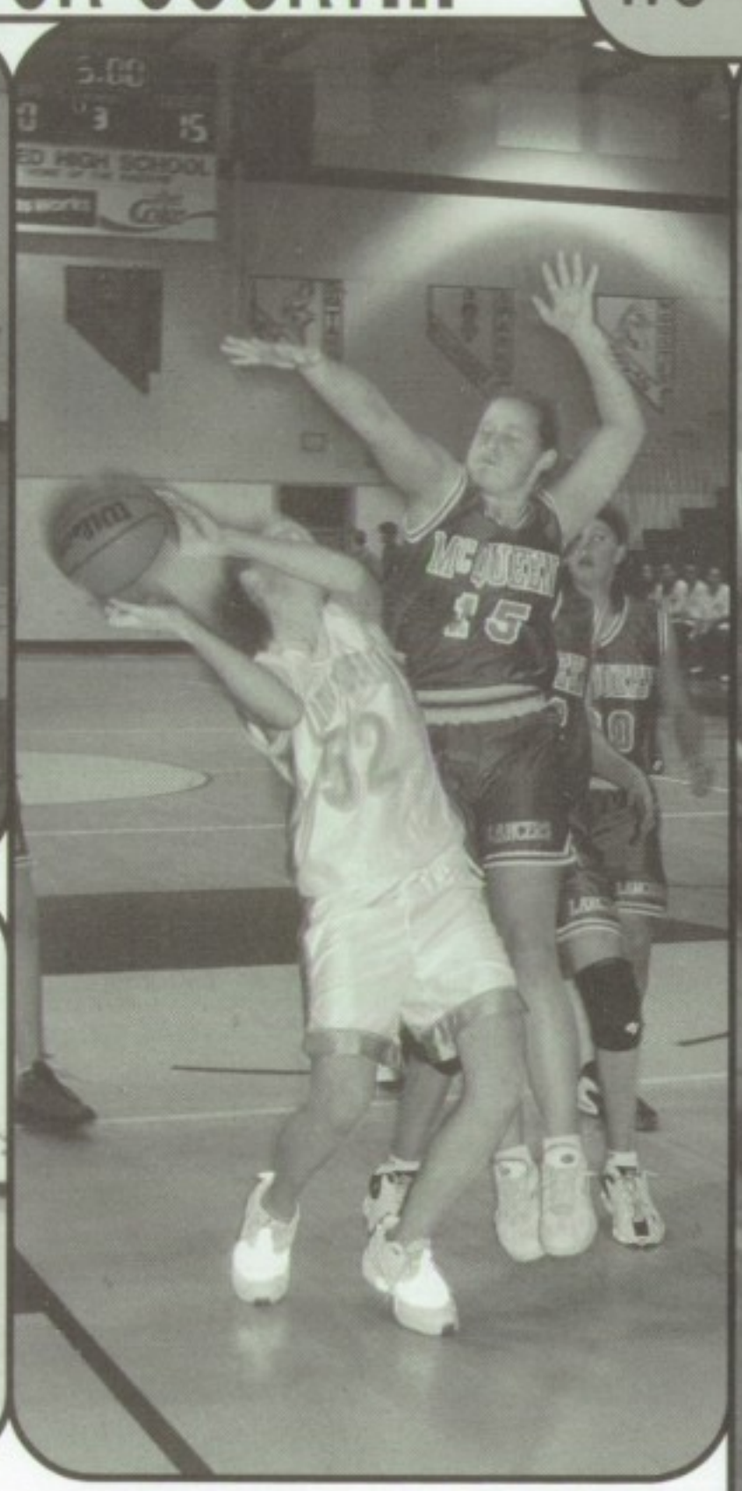
"I won't say that I hate practice drills, [because] they really help us for the games."
- Anneka Hooft

"Practice drills are alright, but there is a lot of running involved."
-Jessica Echaverria

Up close and personal. The Freshman team enjoyed the season and every girl learned valuable lessons about winning, losing, and getting along. "Most of us were pretty close even though we argued sometimes." said Sarah Bellows. Agreeing with the statement, Brittany Luankaw, added "I love my team. I feel we're really close now."

IT'S OUR COURT...

we WILL win & don't try to stop us!



We're ready for this! As always our girls enjoy a fun time filled with intense action. At practice and games they are constantly working to accomplish the best for the season, whether they are hustling in a game or doing warm-ups at practice. Just doing what they like to do this season they definitely have proven that practice makes perfect.
"My favorite part was working as a team and achieving all of our goals, such as everybody scoring,"said Heather Darby, (number 3). Darby plays three sports during the year and feels that basketball is beneficial for keeping her in shape.

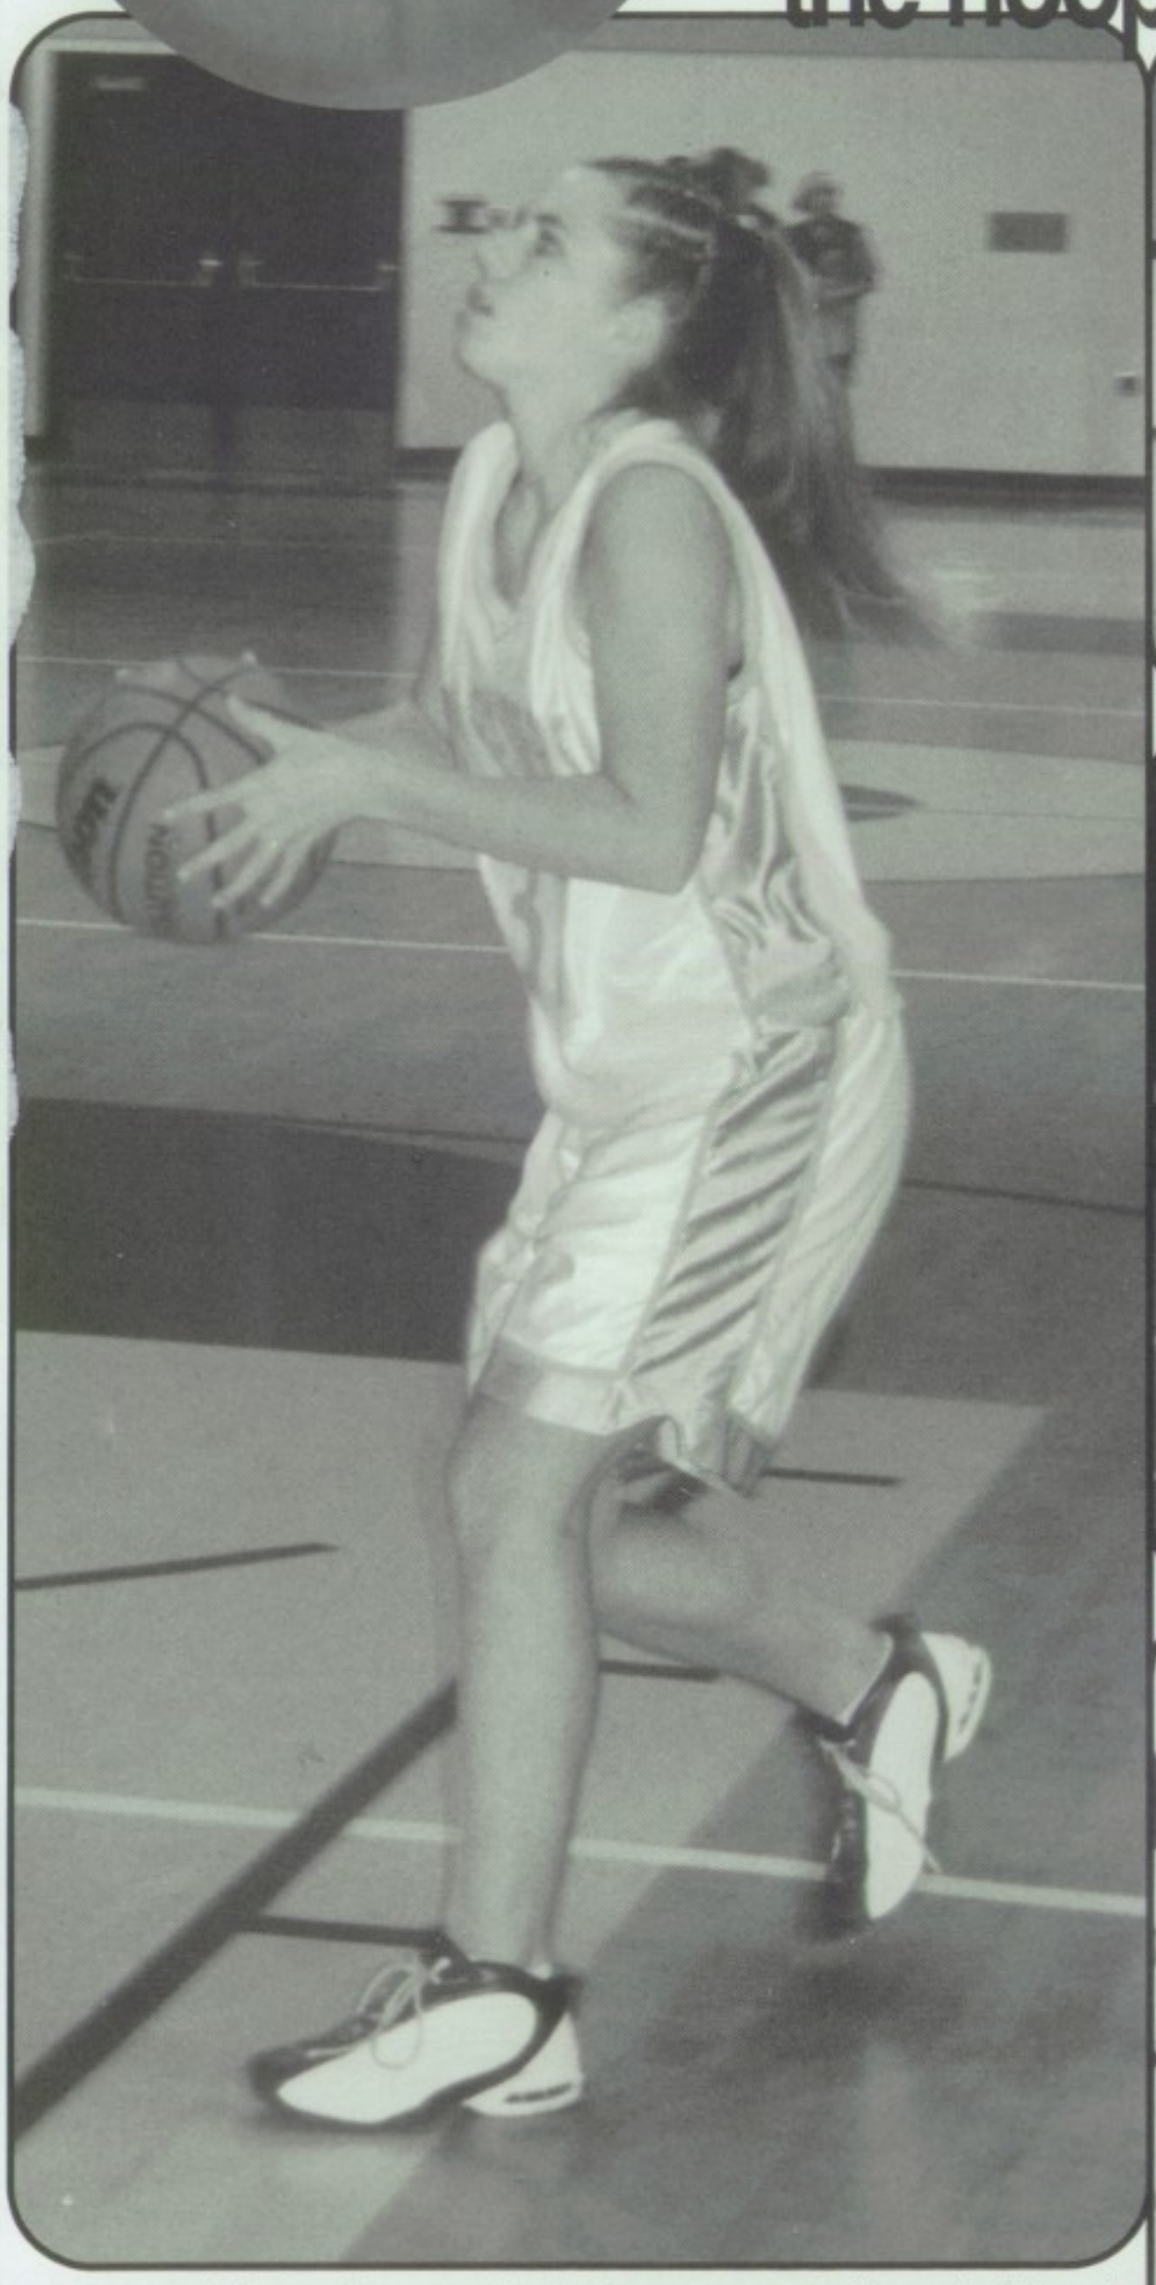
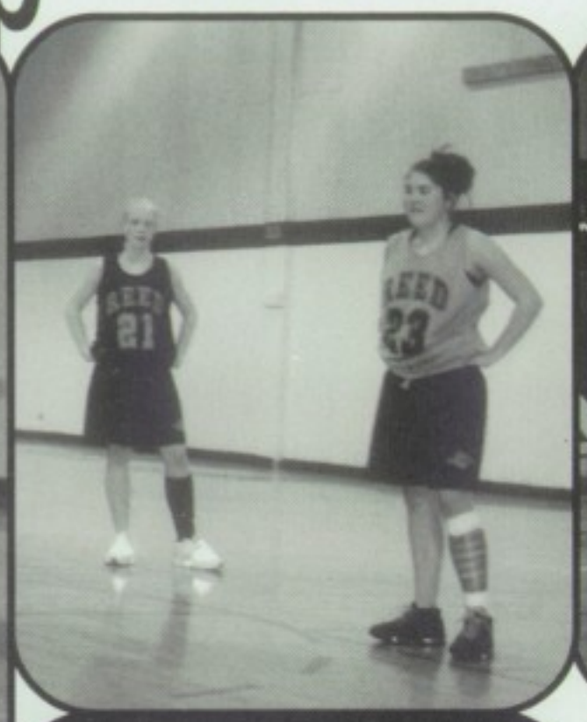
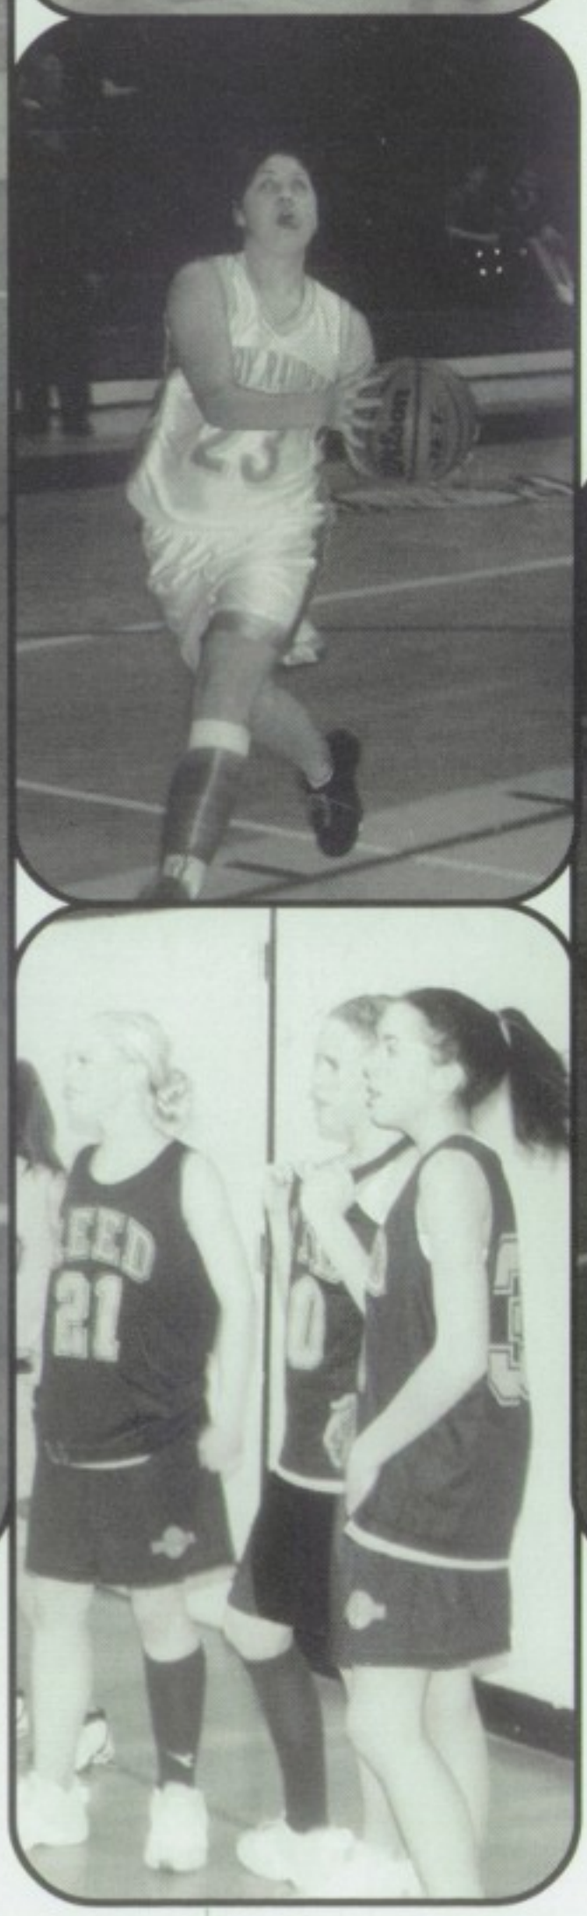
that's the way we take it to the hoop freshman girls have a season of fun, friendship, and overall success



I hope I make it! Before the game, Kami Dixon warms up Raider style. Although girls on the team know how to have fun they never lose their game face. They had a season of tough drills and games that proved to be a true learning experiences for the whole team. They had Saturday night get-togethers that bonded the team and helped them tough it out to the end. Every girl loves the game as well as competition, next season they hope to have another fine year of success. This year the class of 2005 team took second place in the league this season, but first place in the hearts of the Raiders.





Years can pass by quickly for an athlete. Most of the girls have been playing since their elementary days. McKenzie Kelly, number 23, said, "I've been playing basketball for a really long time and I've always wanted to be on a high school team. I built up to play for Reed for eight years, and so I did. Basketball is like hanging out with friends every day for about three hours just having fun and doing what you love. The only bad part is when we play nine-man. All my frosh-b-ball girls know what I mean!"

Showing up to practice is just as vital as playing in a game. At practice, the players run and work for hours everyday just to stay in shape for their two weekly games. Number 33, Nicole Britain, enjoys playing, competing and being a part of the team. This season was her first time playing basketball and she thankfully remarked, "Ashly Keefer taught me everything I know, including how to dunk!"

Everybody dance now!

Why did you join dance team and why was it important to you?

"Because I like to perform in front of people"
-Christi Taylor (05)

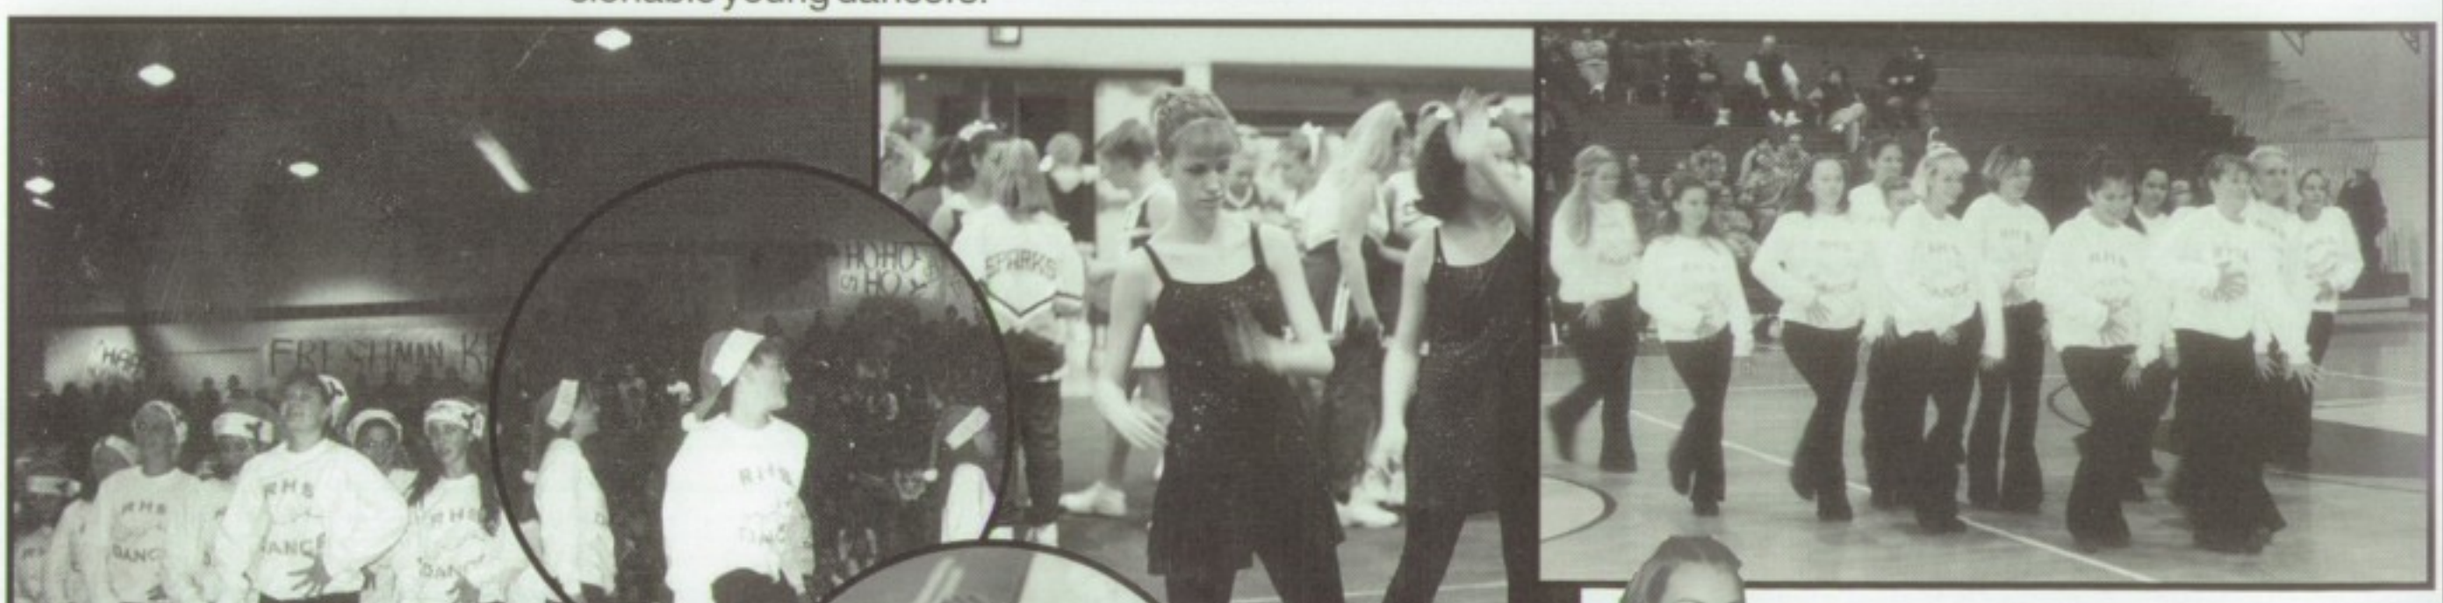
"My favorite part of being on the dance team was the hot girls (laughs)"
-Marie Willamson (02)

"I like seeing the reaction of the audience and seeing them have fun while watching us."
-Kim Soriano(03)

"Because I have been dancing since I was five years old."
-Rachel Medeiros (04)

"I joined the dance team because it looked like a lot of fun and I really like to dance!"
-Michelle Barthuly (03)

Dance: it's not a half time show,it's a sport. This sport requires agility, flexibility and spirit. Girls have to be able and willing to learn entire dances in two weeks. They logged countless hours of twirling, spinning jumping, and fine tuning their rutines. They learned step after step and move after move for hours at a time. There was never a time in practices that wasn't used productively. What is cool about this season is that most of them had never set foot in a dance class. Through hard work and dedication they blew the student body away with their performances and attitude. With smiles and bad ass looks on their faces they strutted in the gym and entertained hundreds of unsuspecting people.
"You're only as good as your worst dancer," coach Amy Tovoli would say during her inspirational speeches to the awaiting and impressionable young dancers.

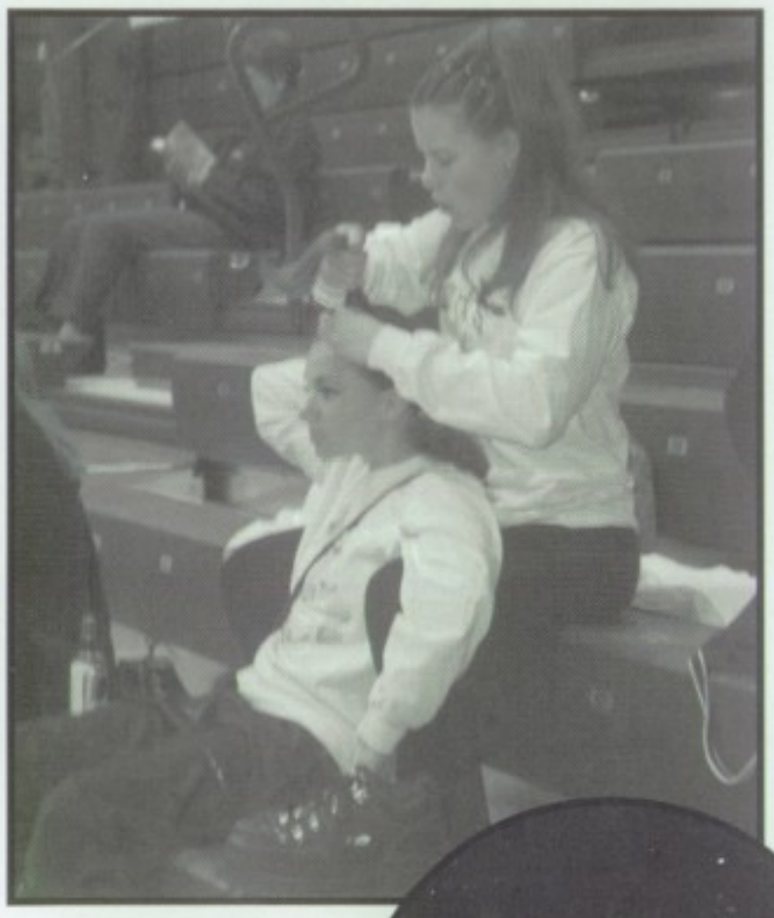


"To join the team with no experience was challenging, but worth it. It was really flattering knowing I made the team with no dance experience"
-Sarah Mabe (05)

"I love to dance...a lot!" said Savannah Tyre (03). Most of the girls on the team felt the same way. Being on the dance team wasn't always hard work and no play. The girls on the team were always laughing, joking, singing and dancing around like goofs. One of the teams favorite past times was to talk...and talk...and talk. There was never a dull moment from the time you went to practice until the time you went home.

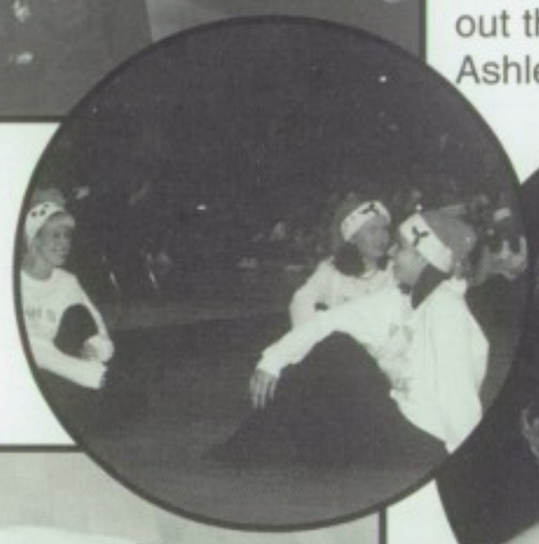
"Dancing with a group of girls, from beginners to experienced, was really hard at first. But in the end we all came out having fun and learning from each other."

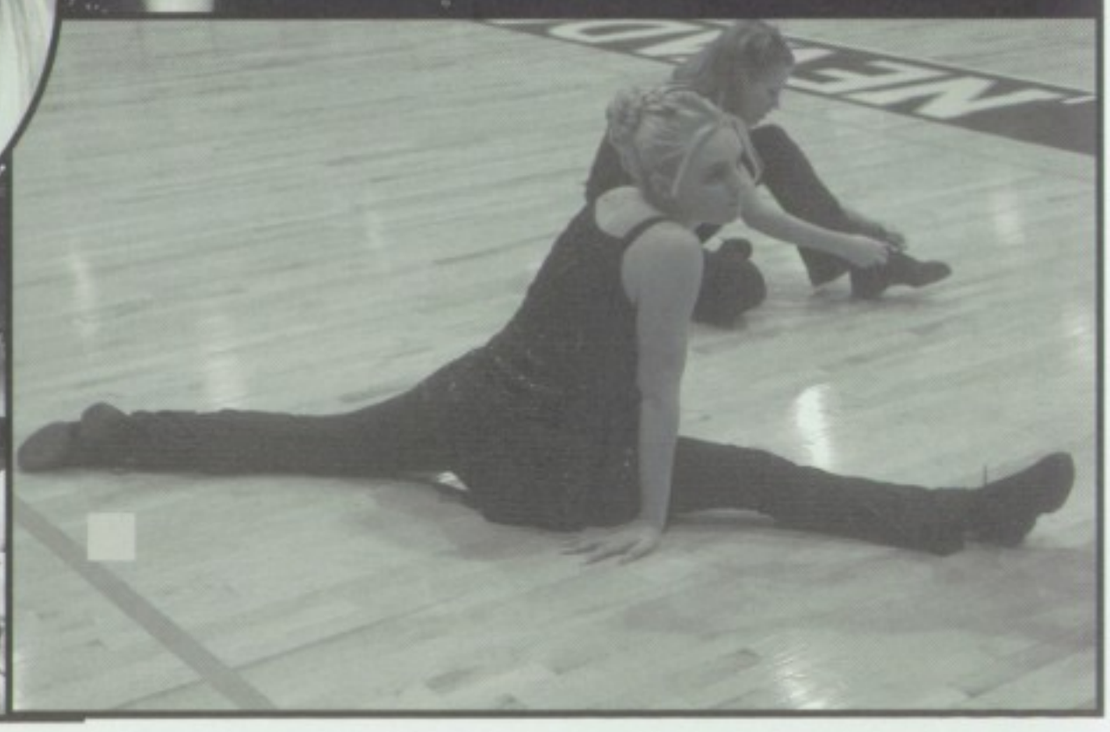
-Melissa Davis (05)



Learning how to correspond with people around you who you don't even know it is challenge all of it's own. Just like in sports you need to work together and know what the peoson next to you is going to do or what they are thinking so you can be in sync with thier moves.

"Dancing is like a relief because the movements stretch out the stress," said Ashley Field (04)





In practices the team may have seemed like they were the best they could be, but performances were a different story. The dancers were always nervous right before they went on. They had gone through so many practices, they had danced this dance a million times before, and it all came down to this performance. This was what they had been working for, but their fears were always put to rest by the applause from the audience. When the girls went on stage, they put on their best smiles and danced their little hearts out. Proving that all those late night practices were worth it once they recieved the recognition they deserved.

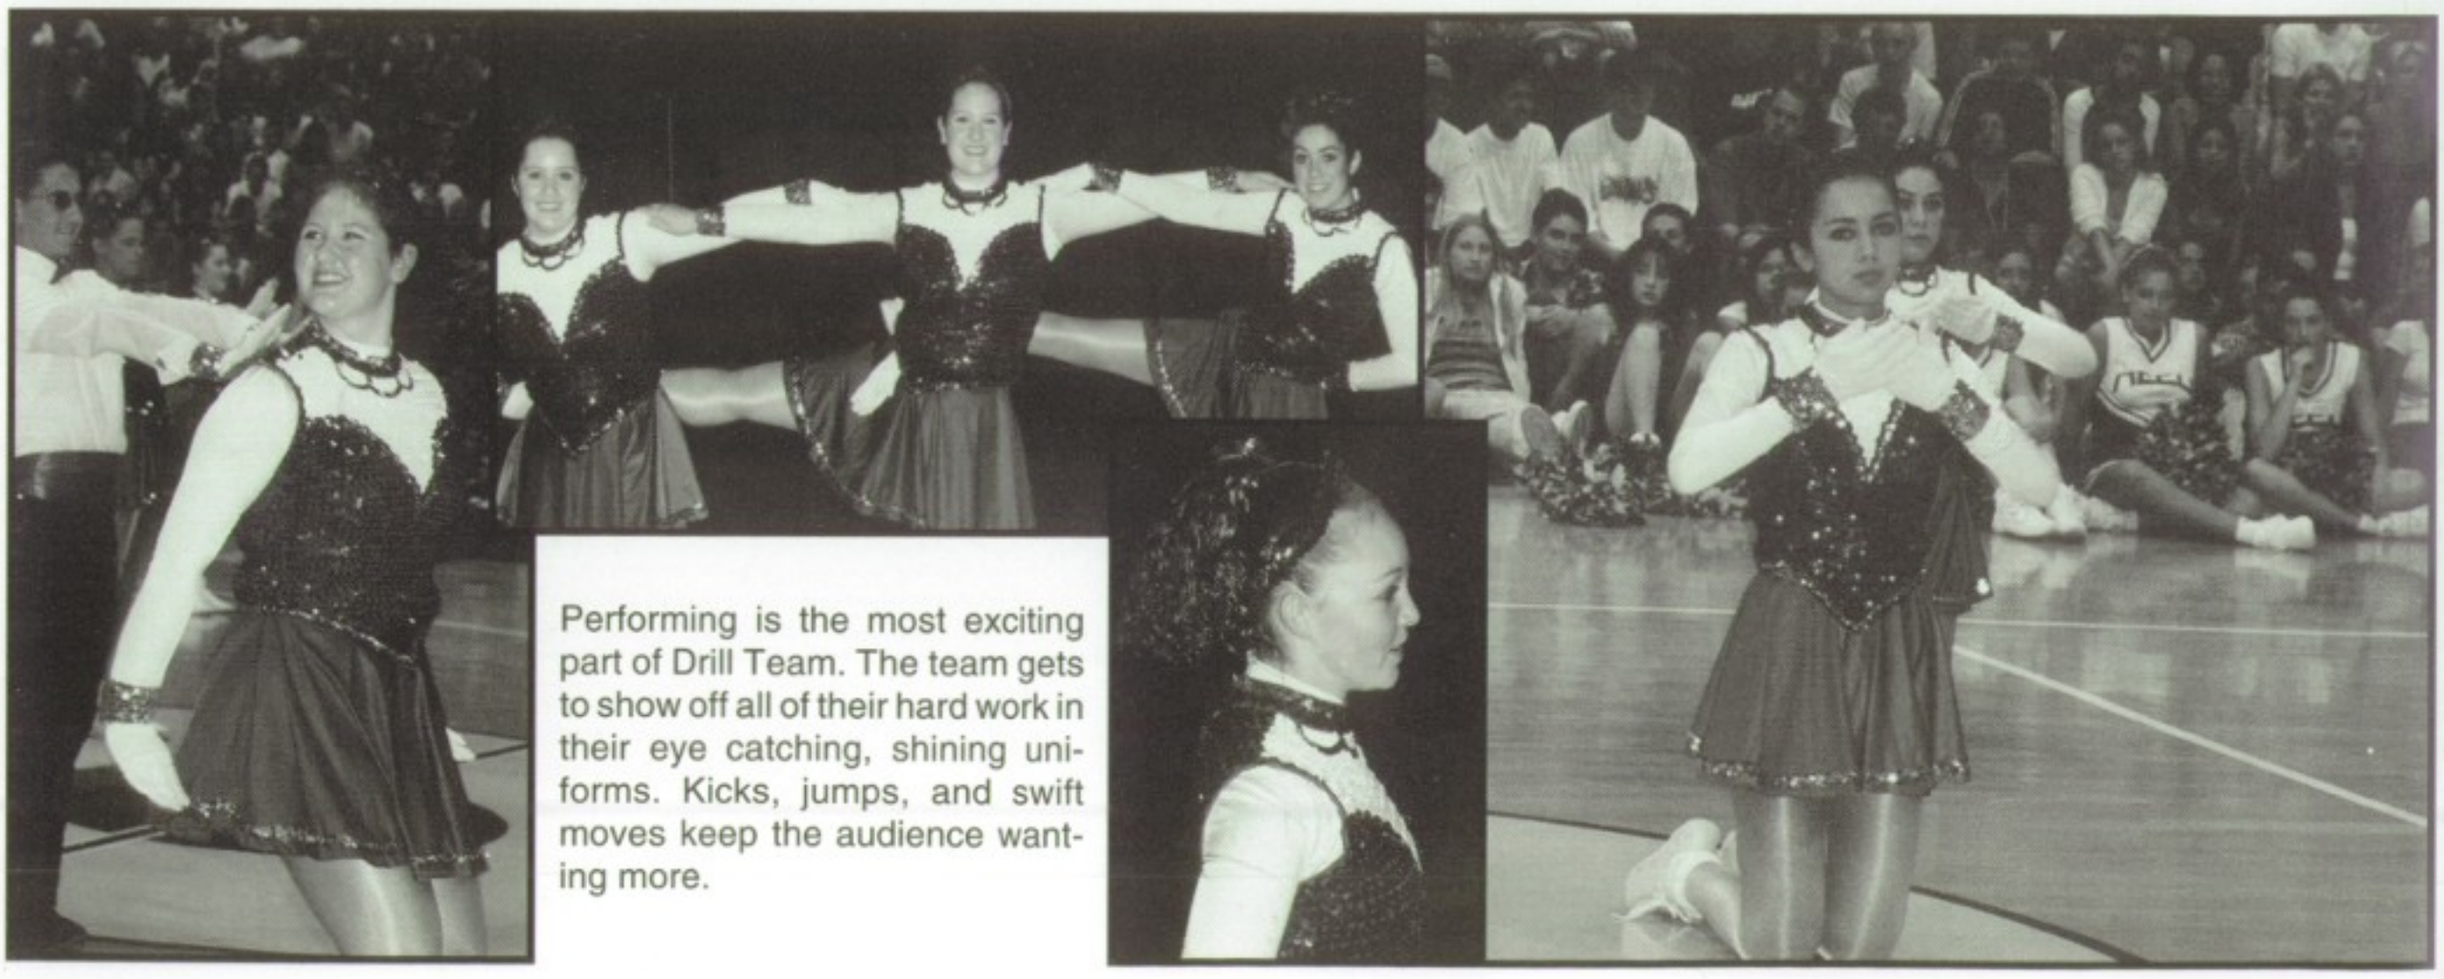
All the hard work Drill Team puts in at practice really pays off. Their outstanding performances, energy and passion for what they do really shows in their well choreographed dances. They strut their stuff not only in assemblies, but at half-time for the Raider football team. Their unique and exciting way of showing spirit pleases the whole crowd.

"My favorite thing about Drill Team is how close we have all grown together." -Krista McCurdy (05)

"I like performing the dances to everyone; I love showing what I can do." -Evelyn Miller (05)

"I love doing things outside of practice with all of my teammates!" - Sarah Gank (05)



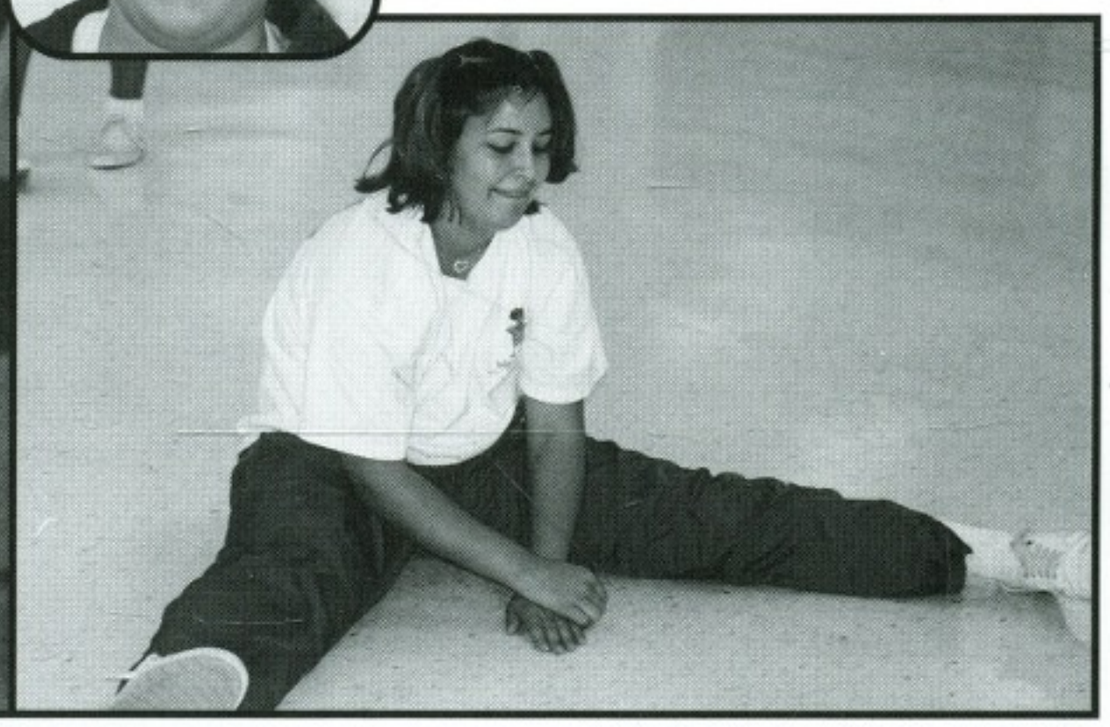
Performing is the most exciting part of Drill Team. The team gets to show off all of their hard work in their eye catching, shining uniforms. Kicks, jumps, and swift moves keep the audience wanting more.

"We've got spirit. Yes we do, we've got spirit how 'bout you?" The Drill Team gives it their all wherever they go. With bright, shining uniforms and smiles to match, the Reed Royals love to pump up a crowd. And when it comes to school spirit the Royals have it for you. Whether they're at practices, games, or assemblies, or competitions, at the end of the hundreds of kicks, glides, and formations they're almost too tired to stand.

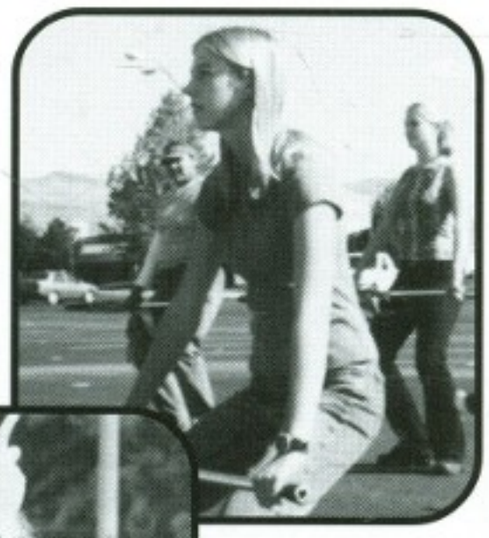
"It was fun meeting new people and getting to know them better." - Kristina Vannorsdall (05)

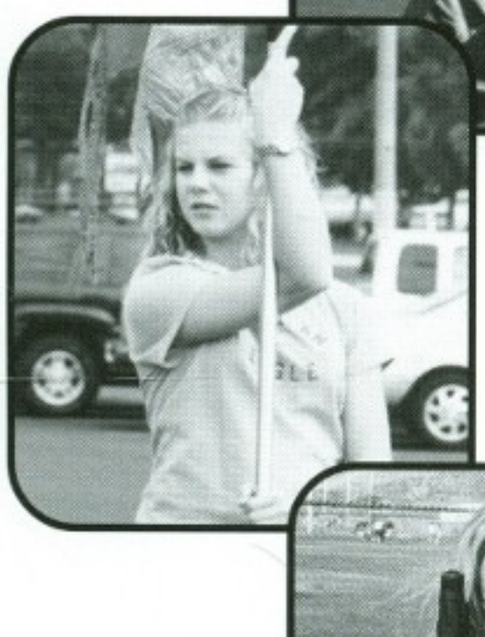
"I like having fun at practice, but when we practice kicks for two hours, it get's kind of hard." -Kelly James (05)

"I just really love dancing!" -Jade Letho (04)



Getting prepped and ready to perform is one of the most thrilling experiences for the Royals. All the girls on the team get together before their shows and help each other get ready by putting on their makeup. They get each other pumped up by doing a "pump-up cheer" and practicing their dances.





flying high

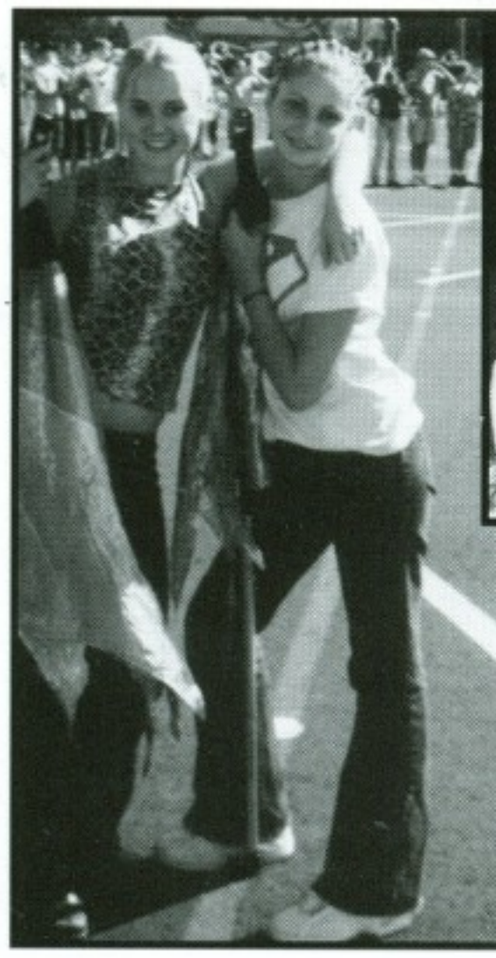
Bright flags and neat costumes catch the crowd's eye.

All of the girls on flag team like working with each other. They say it's like working with a second family and it's great how everyone helps everyone else out. The girls work hard as a team and have to concentrate to be able to make their drills run smoothly. They have to work as a team with the band all of the time because if someone is off in marching or movements then it messes up the whole routine. All of the girls on the team say that working with the band is fun because it's much better than just a recorded tape.

"I love being in front of people to perform and to know they are watching us, but I get nervous performances and my palms get sweaty before. -Amber Baily (02)

" The only time that I really messed up on a performance was when I face planted. Everyone noticed but it wasn't that bad." Ashley Burton (02)

"I really like working with the band because we are all friends and get along well. We all work really hard, but there is a lot of bickering and gossiping, which gets on my nerves." -Keely Kapsoff (03)

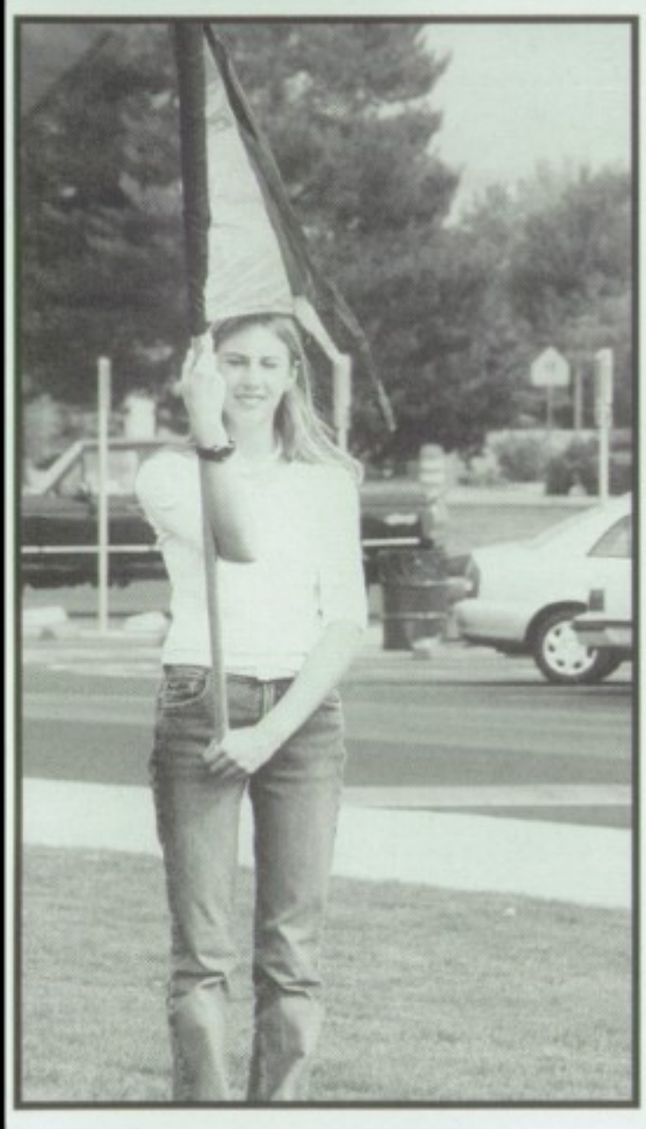


Designing the costumes, Liz Baily helps the girls before their performances. A lot of the girls don't get nervous before games, but they get nervous before competition. They had three competitions this year, one in Nevada and two in California. The main goal of the team for the year was to beat Reno at McQueen. They were also excited about the bus ride to San-Jose for competition because they could bond.

The most embarrassing thing that happened to one of the flag members is when one of them went onto the field with her "D" flag the wrong way. Her "R" flag was also the wrong way so the team ended up spelling "EE." This is the most memorable mistake because everyone in the stands noticed according to students who were at the game.

Seeing the flag team perform is always a fun event for everyone. They always have such great school spirit and you can tell that they work hard when they get on the field and show their stuff. We have to give thanks to them for giving great performances throughout the year.

Performing at games is always the most fun! The girls say that it is exciting to be in front of such a large crowd. Practicing with the band and choreographing dance moves along with marching with the band is a difficult task. But with practice, hard work, dedication, and a ton of concentration Flag team and Band look excellent on the field.



"A huge goal for this year is to beat Reno at McQueen. We all work really hard as a team and get along well. Amber Baily's mom makes our costumes and we get to alter them to how we want them to look."
-Kirsten Corbridge (04)

Some people don't consider flag team a sport, but it is a sport in its own ways. They are considered a "team" and compete against other teams. Most importantly, they work hard, have lots of long practices, and work together to overcome obstacles and to look good. Practice for the team started two weeks before school with the band and they continued to practice outside daily. It is much easier to practice in the parking lot now since they painted the yard lines.

When you first think about Rifle team you might think that its a guys sport, but it's not. Although more guys participate on the team, one of the best shooters is a girl, and several other members are girls as well.
Every team member has maintained a personal goal for the season. Patrick Hall has achieved his goal by becoming the best prone position shooter this year.

Rifle team isn't just rifle team, students who are involved in ROTC are also involved with the team. Randall Stover (03) enjoys being a part of both so that he can further improve his own skills.

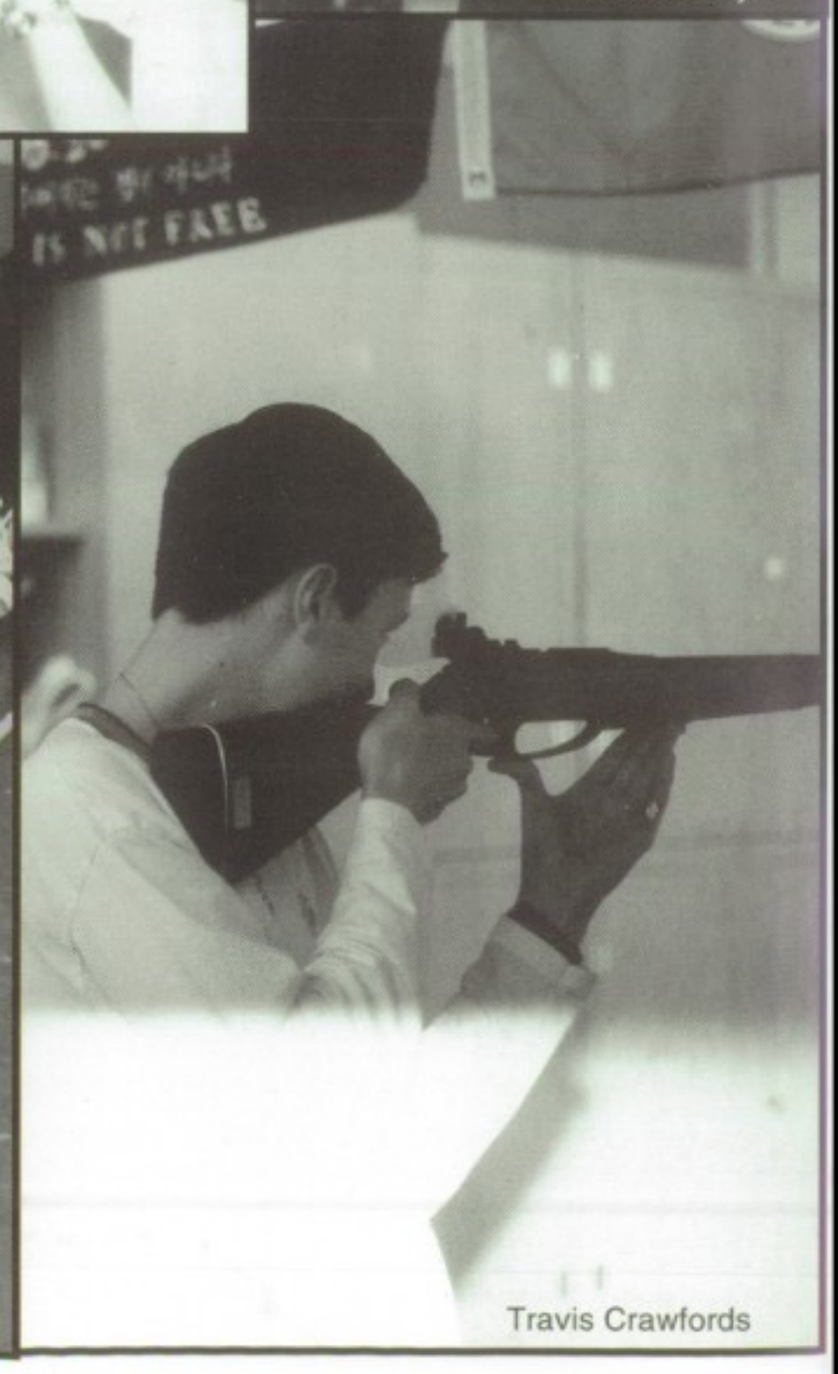
Although changing from prone to standing positions is physically exhausting, there are some times during practice where you can rest, relax and sit back. Above: Amy Speakman (03) watches and learns from others.

To develop good target aim in both eyes, an eye patch is used to cover one eye while the other eye looks through an eyepiece and focuses on the bull's eye. By using the eye patch you learn how to focus better using just one eye.

Developing your abdominal muscles is just as important as having arm strength. It helps you to balance in the prone position and keeps you sitting up straight to shoot in the kneeling position.



Travis Crawfords

Practice, Practice, Practice. That's what it's all about. But it's not just about picking up a gun and shooting.

The team has special skills that help them have perfect aim making it easier to hit the bull's-eye right on. One of these skills is being in shape. Many of the students on rifle team work out with muscle building and cardio vascular exercises to make sure they stay fit.

Rifle team is not your average one on one contact sport, but it can be very exciting to watch. Especially with all of the matches they get to compete in, and all of trips they get to take to different places.

Rifle team is a highly skilled group of Reed students who do more than just shoot a gun at a target. Hard work and dedication are combined to improve this teams performance in competitions. Reed high school has it's very own rifle range where students practice target shooting in three separate positions: standing, kneeling or laying down (also known as shooting in prone position)

To help the shooters improve their skills: binoculars, charts, mats, and eye pieces are used throughout practice to assist the team. These extras help the rifle team to remain on target.

Ski team loves the rush of the wind through their hair and the thrill of conquering a new challenge.

A new definition to snowmen and women! Stimulating and skilled, the skiers of the 2001-2002 ski season enjoyed slopes of snow and sun. With hot competition and cool attitudes the team led the way to victory and a triumphant season.

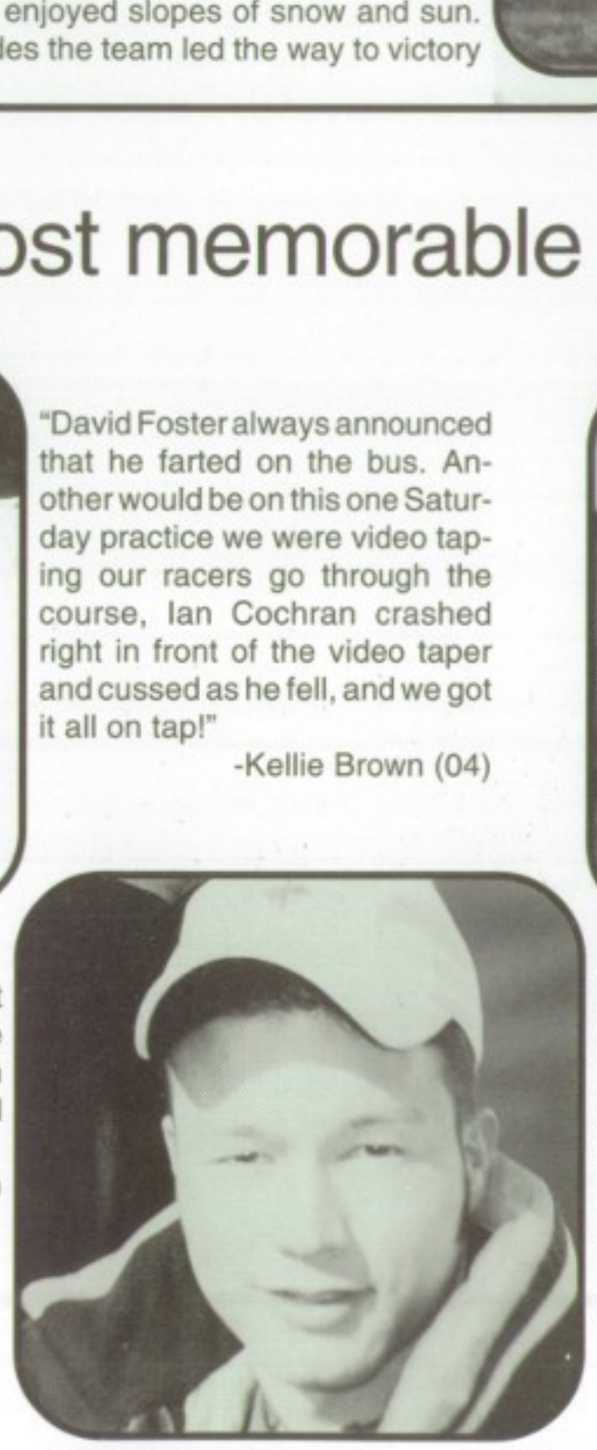
What is your most memorable moment about ski team?

"The most memorable moment of the ski team has to be the first day of state and the Slolom course. I ran the best run i had ever ran!"

-Ian Cochran (02)



"David Foster always announced that he farted on the bus. Another would be on this one Saturday practice we were video taping our racers go through the course, Ian Cochran crashed right in front of the video taper and cussed as he fell, and we got it all on tap!"

-Kellie Brown (04)

"My favorite memories are not so much the skiing part but the fun stuff we did together as a team, such as our banquet dinner at Boomtown, sledding and tubing in Soda Springs when we were suppose to be skiing, the bus rides, and when we would all sing on the lift chair riding up the mountian. Also the snowball fights before our races, and our last pizza party."

-Lindsey Corbridge (02)

"There was this one time...I was skiing really fast...and I was this mountain goat and he was jumping...it was really memorable becasue I had never seen a jumping mountain goat before."

Ski Team on their way to the slopes.

You don't know what speed is until you hit the Sierras in the middle of January. The talented student-athletes have experienced flying without leaving ground. Some athletes describe skiing as a free flight with an exciting speed and the adrenaline rush of competition. High School skiing is as much of a team sport as it is an individual one. It takes a lot of courage to put yourself on the line for the benefit of the team and the reputation of our school. The ski team did a great job of representing our school on and off the slopes.

Kelly Brown (04), Carla Wheeler (05)

From racing to cheering, this team has fun no matter how gray the sky is. With dry-land practice four days a week, every skier knew the definition of commitment, and teamwork. Win or lose, they came off of that bus with smiling faces. Each person improved their techinique and skills in the sport while also making friends on the team. The team can definately be proud of all their sucesses throughout the season.

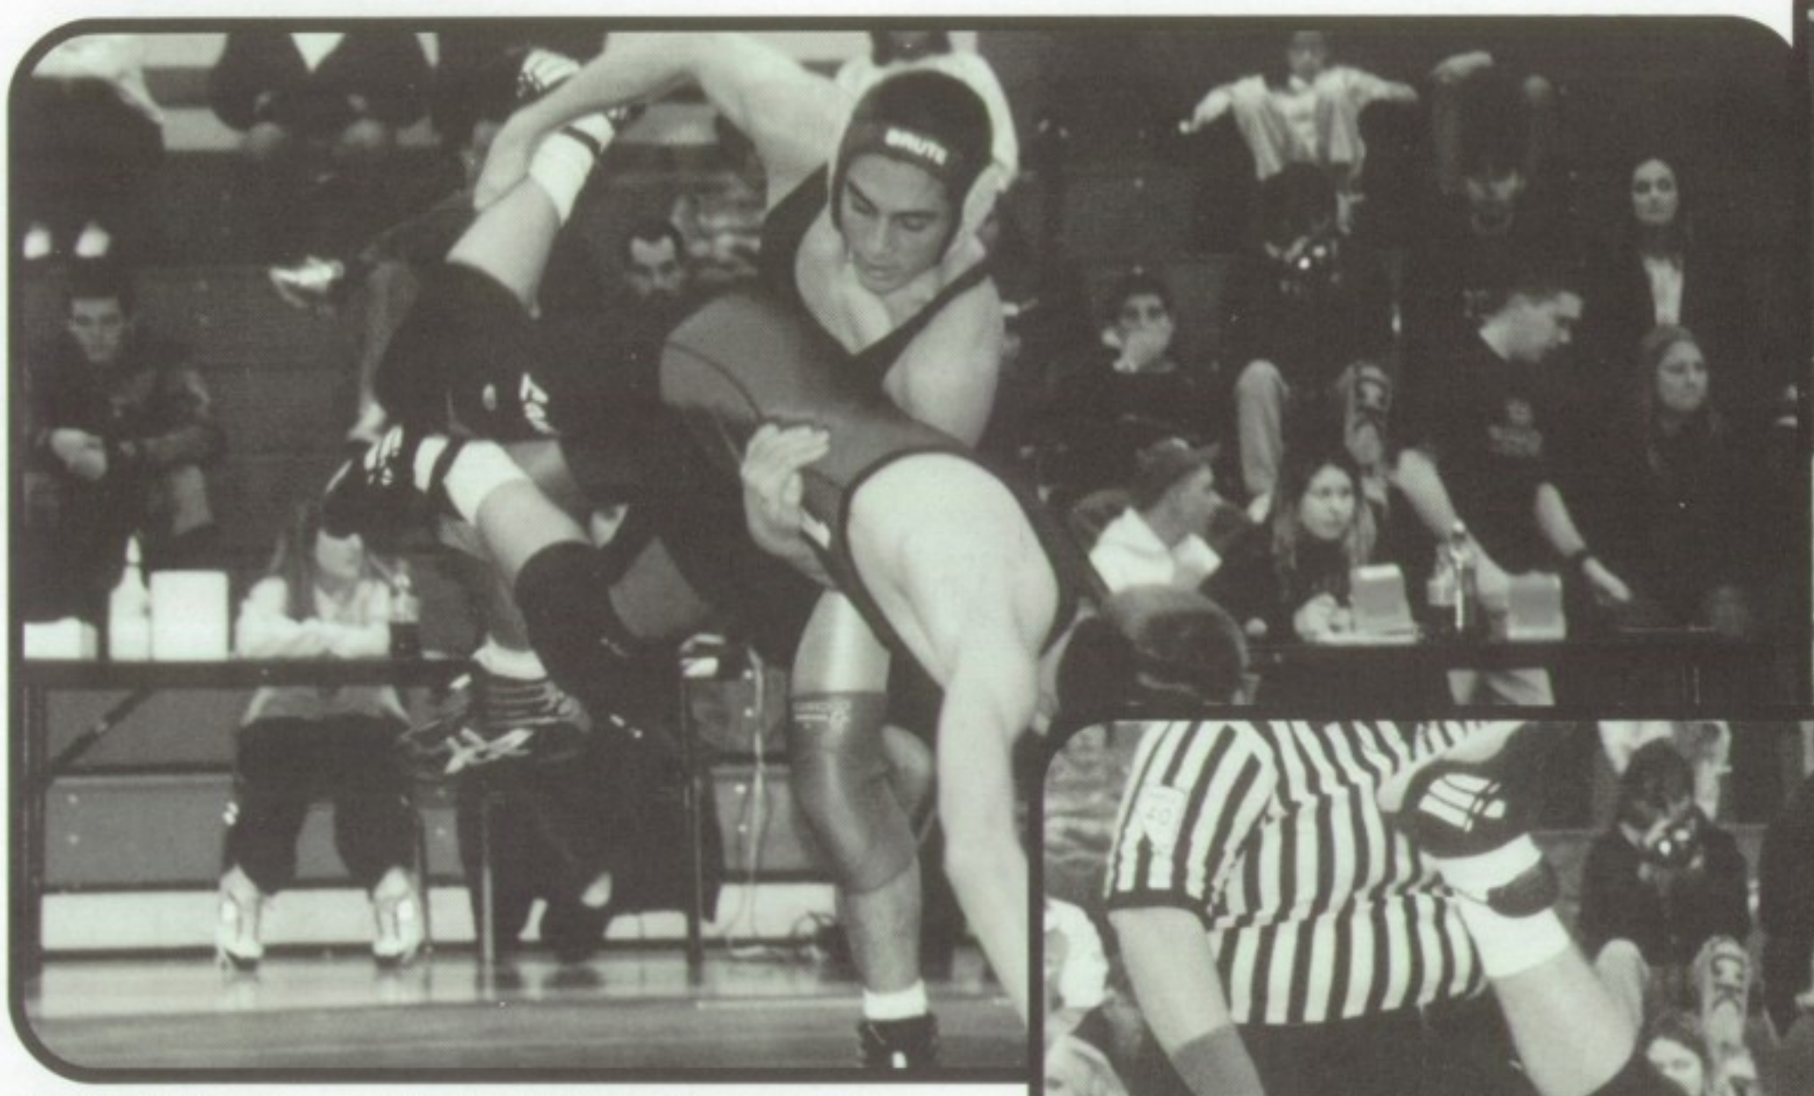
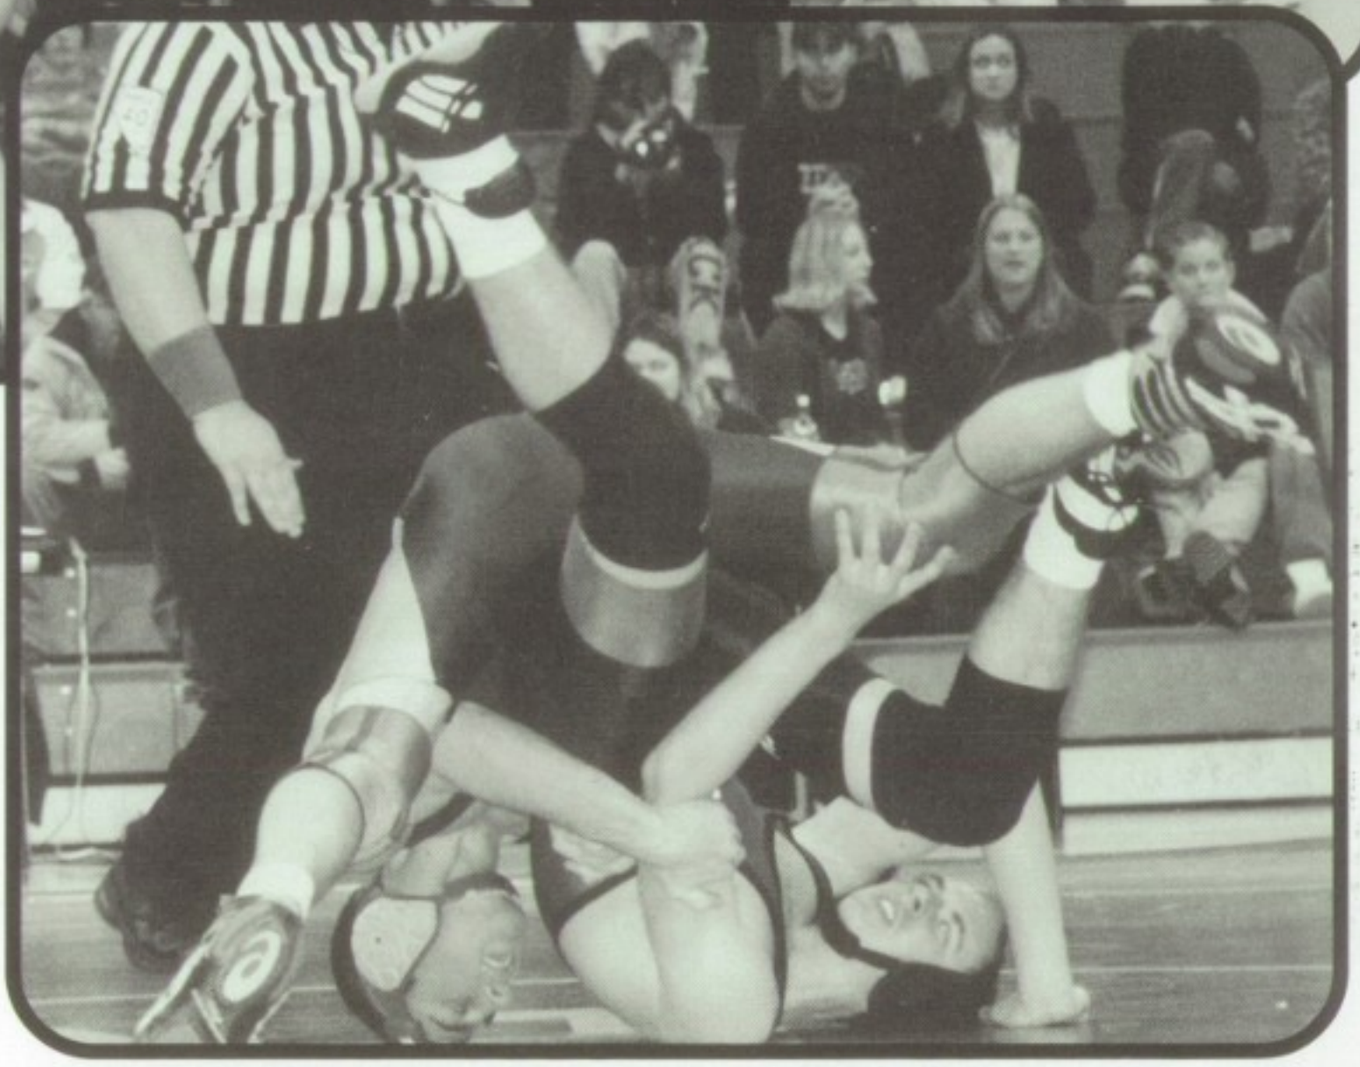
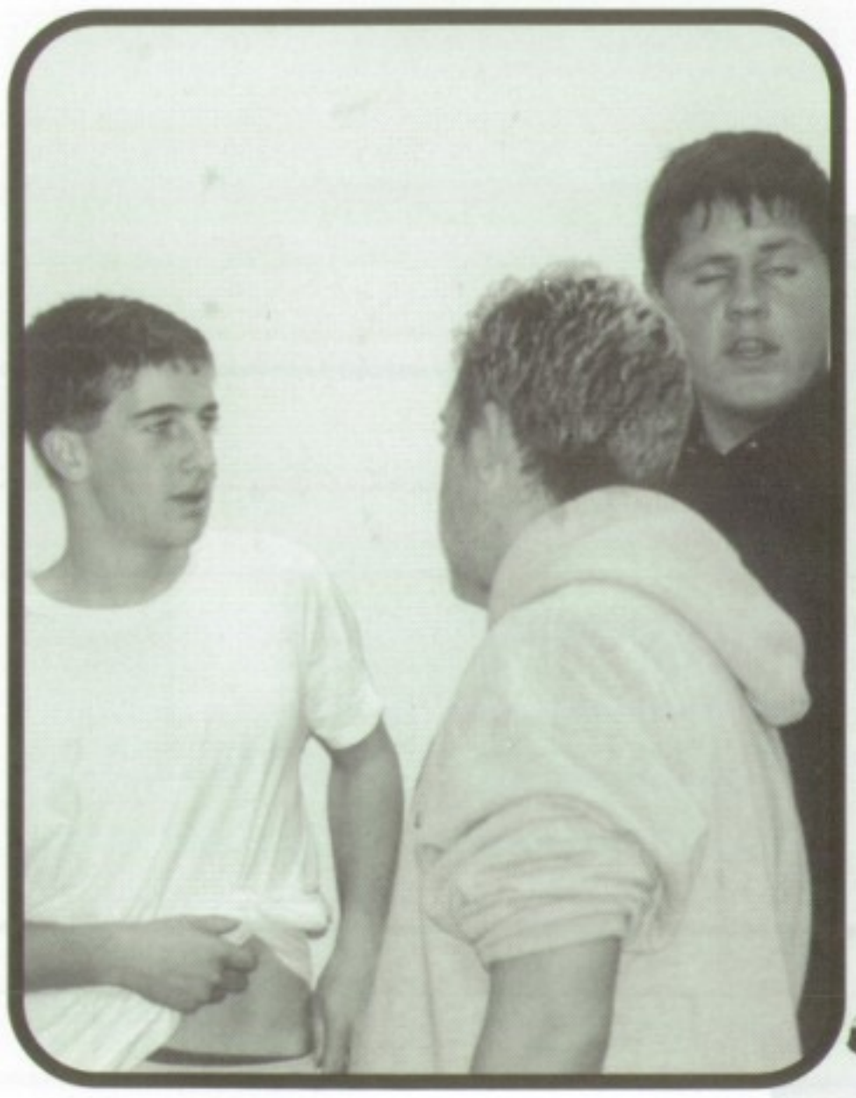
raiders pin to win in a tough season



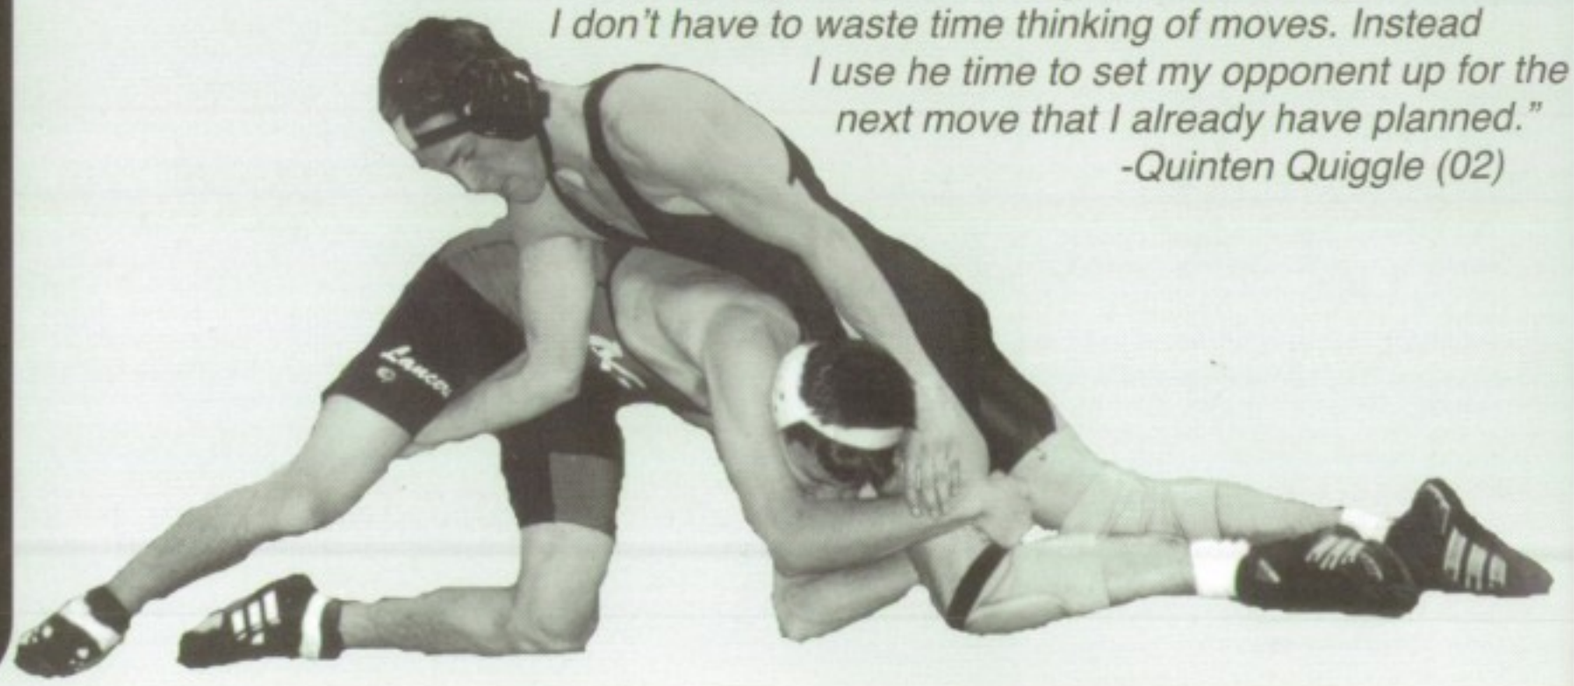


Right: All tangled up! Trying hard to flip over his opponent, Jesse Wooruff (03), twists and turns to win the match. "It feels great when you win a hard match because you know that you put your all into it and that you dominated them for that little time," said Woodruff about difficult matches.

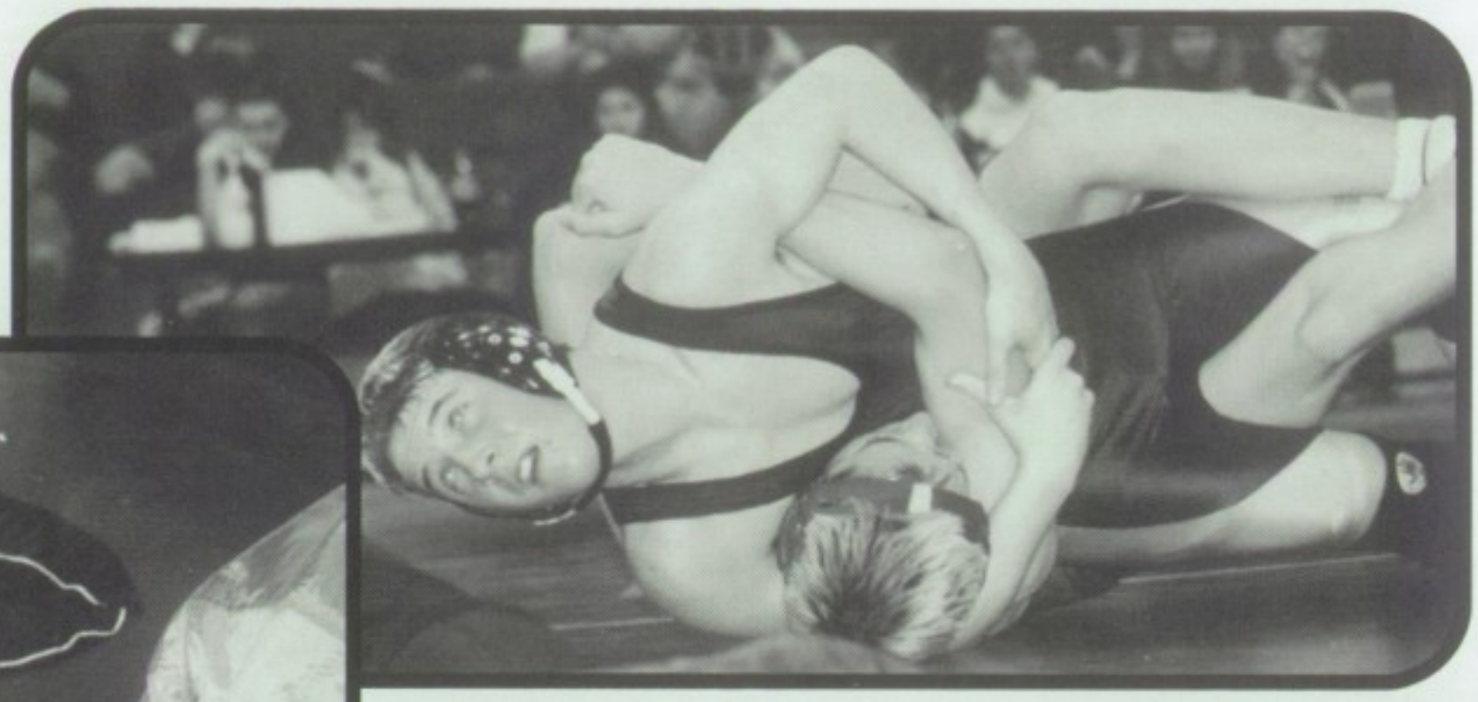
Returning from a run the wrestlers cool off and get ready for some technical practice.



"In order to prepare for a a match I get a game-plan of the moves I'm going to use. I go over the entire match in my head, the way I would like it to go, then when I get on the mat I don't have to waste time thinking of moves. Instead I use he time to set my opponent up for the next move that I already have planned."
-Quinten Quiggle (02)



Right: Looking to the referee, John Smith, holds his opponent down waiting for his shoulders to hit the mat so that the referee can awknowledge his win.



Above: Before games and during practices wrestlers make sure that they are stretched out well. They know that with the different and difficult kinds of moves that they will be making, that they must be prepared to twist and turn to beat the competition. Baseball is a not only a fun sport but a demanding one. Players receive a full day of exercise which is not only physical but mental training. Like any other sport they must practice and play in many weather conditions. Rain or shine they must do their best and keep their spirits up to win. The following pictures are only glimpses into the main aspects of the game. It takes concentration, focus and most of all heart to play and respect the all American pass time.

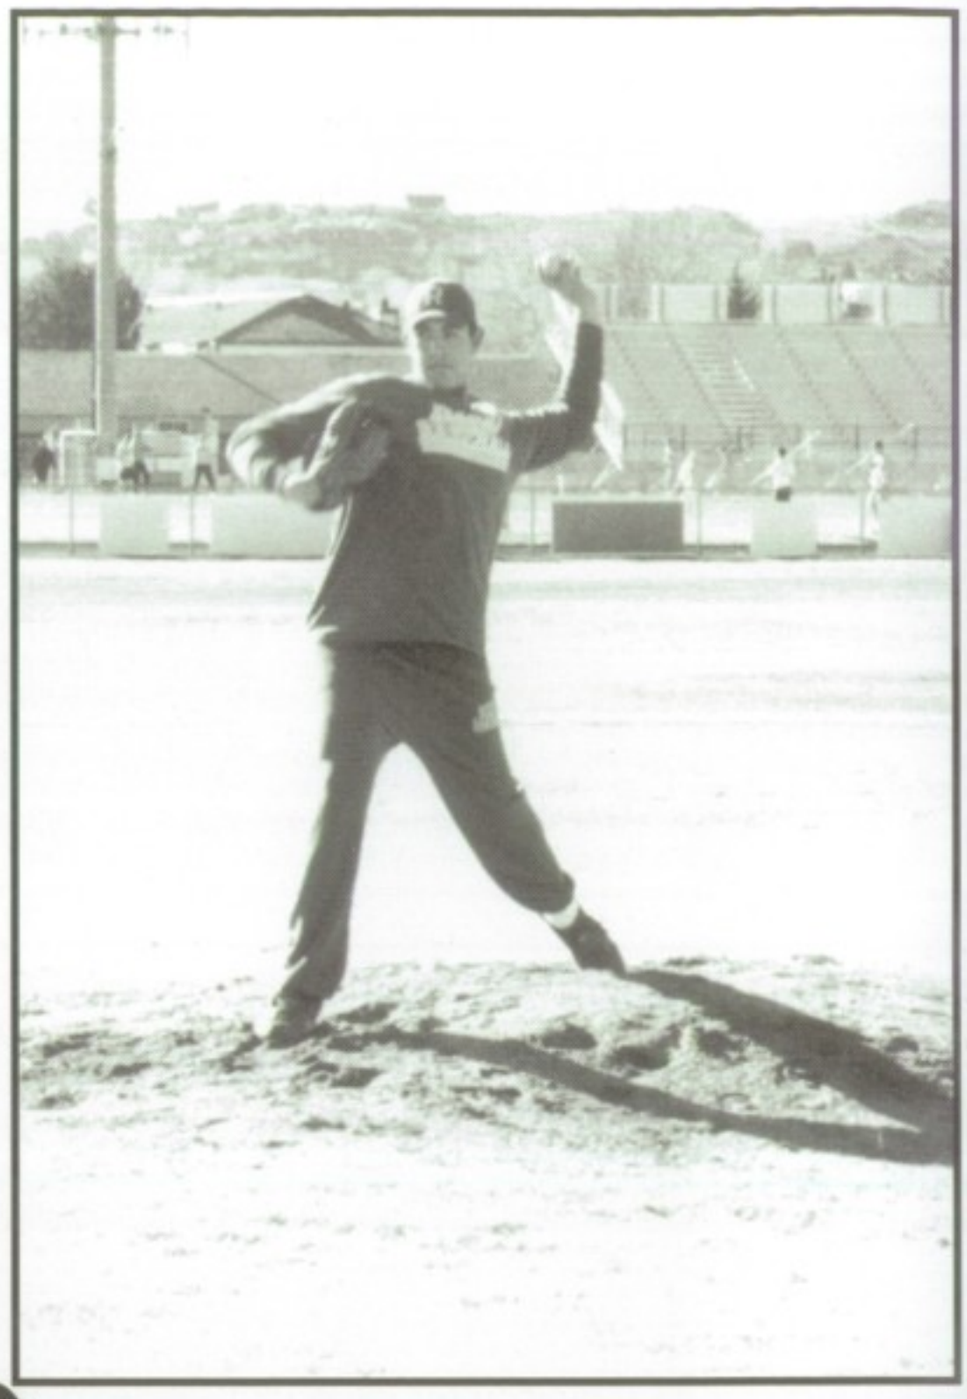
"It's really hard to throw when it's cold out because your hand gets stiff. It's always hard to perform when it's really cold outside. But you gotta play through it," said Travis Numan (02).

Rounding third base, junior Lucas DeLong(03) scores a run. On this team there is no room for errors. They do what needs to be done to score runs, hit better and win, to help the team record.



there's no place like home

Baseball players round the bases to increase their earned run average early in the season

Most of the players on the team have been playing for Reed since their freshman year. They enjoy hanging out together and over past and current seasons have become great friends.

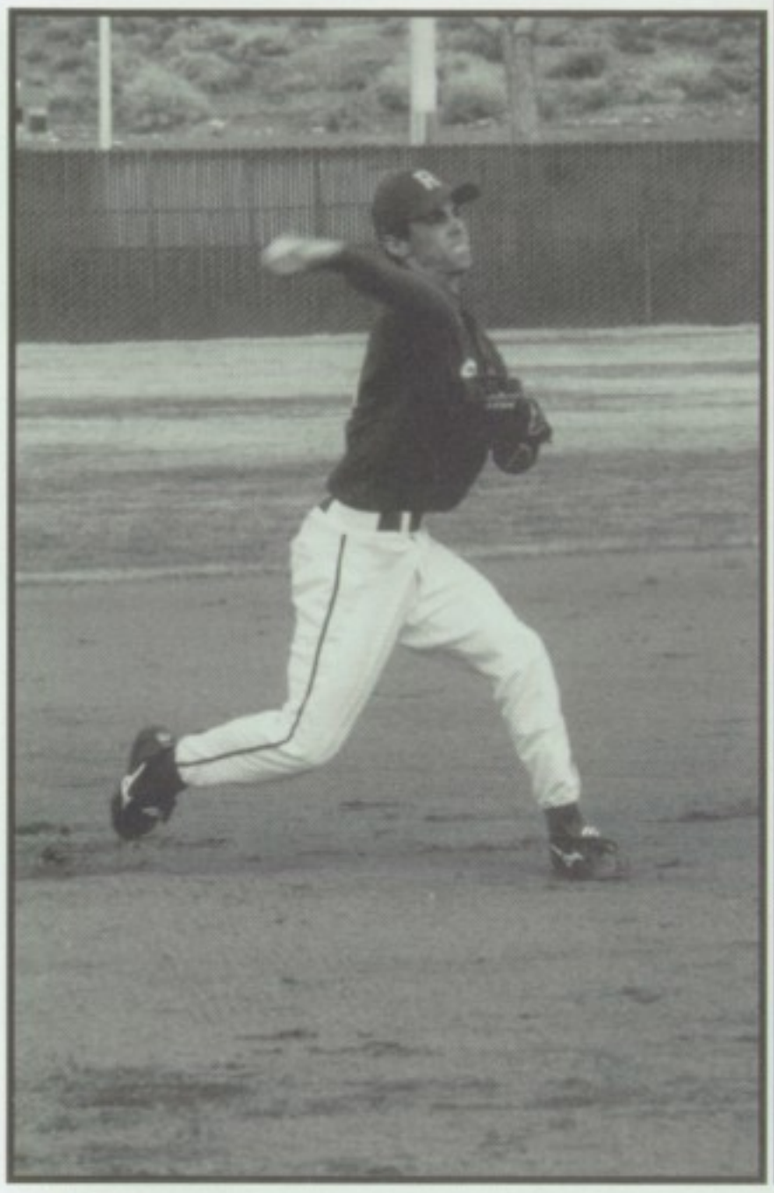
"It makes it easier to play since we are all homies. CJ Lang's a baller and Phendawg!" Said Frank Avilla (03).

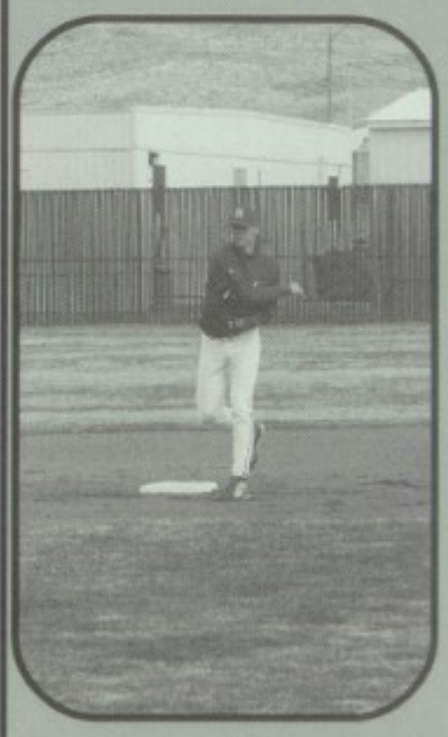
"I really enjoy playing on a team with my friends. The guys are great. Everyone is cool," says Scott Devries (03).

Sharing stories during practice is the usual pass time. Wether it is about the game, woman or just plain what they did last weekend this team has made a bond that is practically impossible to come between.

Players may have their differences but they have things in common as well. One of the biggest things the boys have in common is their competitive edge. The players are all very competitive on and off the field. Like most athletes, they enjoy playing the game and play with passion, honesty and praise.

One of the hardest parts of being on the team is getting time on the field during games. There is constant competition between the players for time on the field and starting positions. As far as batting goes the top three positions are first, second and last. While the athletes compete at practice to prove they are worthy for their position it helps increase and develop the level of skills which are used to push all the players to do their best. "Playing on a really large team is good because you have a lot of depth. We never run out of outstanding talent," said Frank Avilla (03).





"I joined the team because I am great at baseball and my dreams of becoming an Olympic speed skater fell through."
-Matt Medina (02)

"I joined the team so that I could pretend I was cool."
-Brett Okimura (02)

"The hardest part about being on the team is striking out Casey...oh wait that's easy."
-Dustin Hall (02)

"I joined the team because ROTC wouldn't let me on the rifle team."
-Joel Fountain (02)

"I wanted to be on the team because I can't be stopped when I play and I sadly got cut from the swim team."

For the Love of the Game

The American pasttime becomes a way of life for young baseball players.

"My favorite part is just being a part of a team, it's almost like a family,"
-Neil Saiz (04)

As the field defrosts from the winter months 19 athletes take the field for their first practice. Balls scatter along the green grass and nicknames sound across the fields. Many players start their baseball careers playing T-ball, learning the basics of the game.

"I've been playing since I was four years old and I hope to play as long as the game lets me," said Cody Engebretson (05).

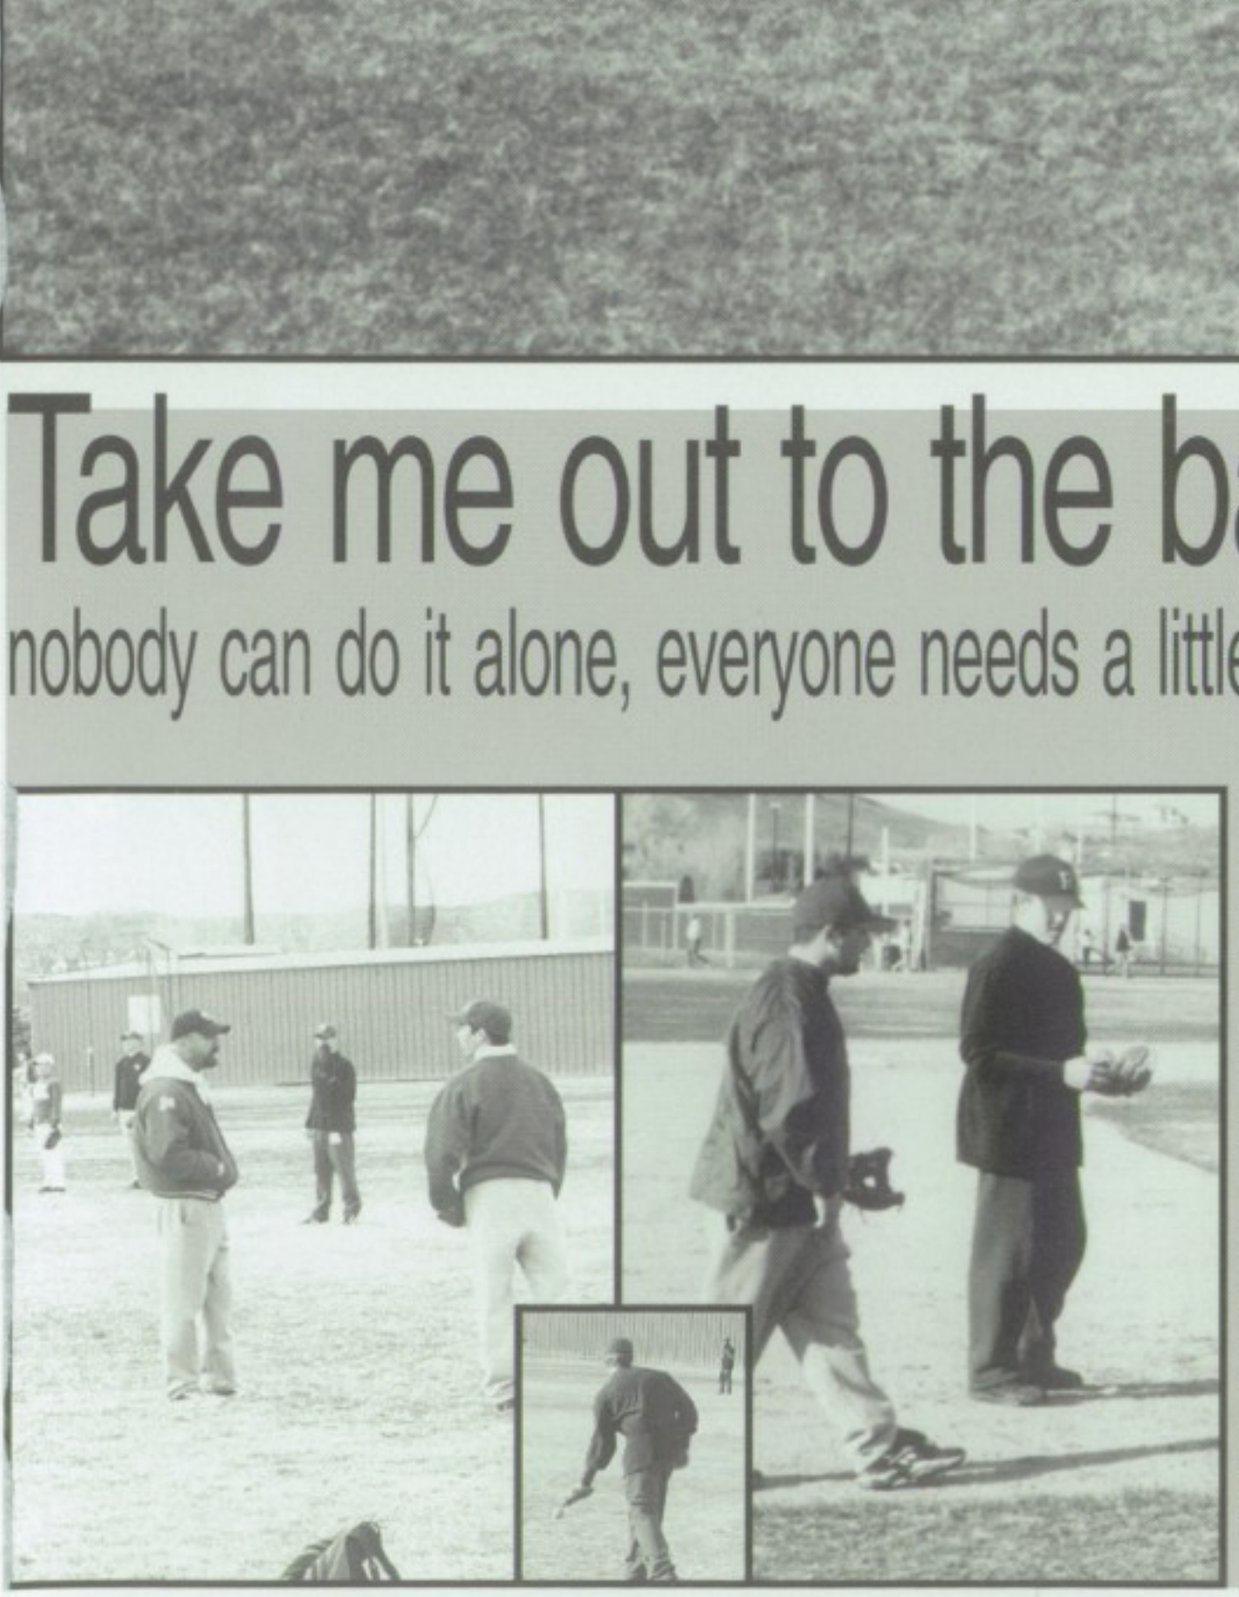
Statistics say that by the time students play in high school leagues they have acquired over 2,000 hours of field time. Whether it is batting, catching, running,or pitching, they really put forth effort, time and show their dedication to the sport.

Take me out to the ball game

nobody can do it alone, everyone needs a little help sometimes



Coaches are a vital and important aspect of any team. Coach Bartek helps his team and provides them with guidence and know how. During the season they spend a lot of time on the field and in the dugout it becomes their second home. Every coach needs his own assistant when he can't be there or just to help them thoughout their productive and rewarding season. Mike Drew, (alumni from last year's baseball team) returns to help with the future Varsity players.

A DAY IN THE LIFE OF A JV BASEBALL PLAYER

To start off the day, the team stretches to prevent injury. They use partners to get the most out of their exercises. Stretching is also an important part of the game to help them move from side to side while in their position. After there muscles are loose and ready, they run and do sprints for conditioning. Once the players are all warmed up, they go through a series of drills, from throwing to catching, and making runs from base to base. Between running and catching, pitching and hitting, everybody needs a break. Talking about girls and what they want to accomplish through out the season they create a bond that is unbreakable.

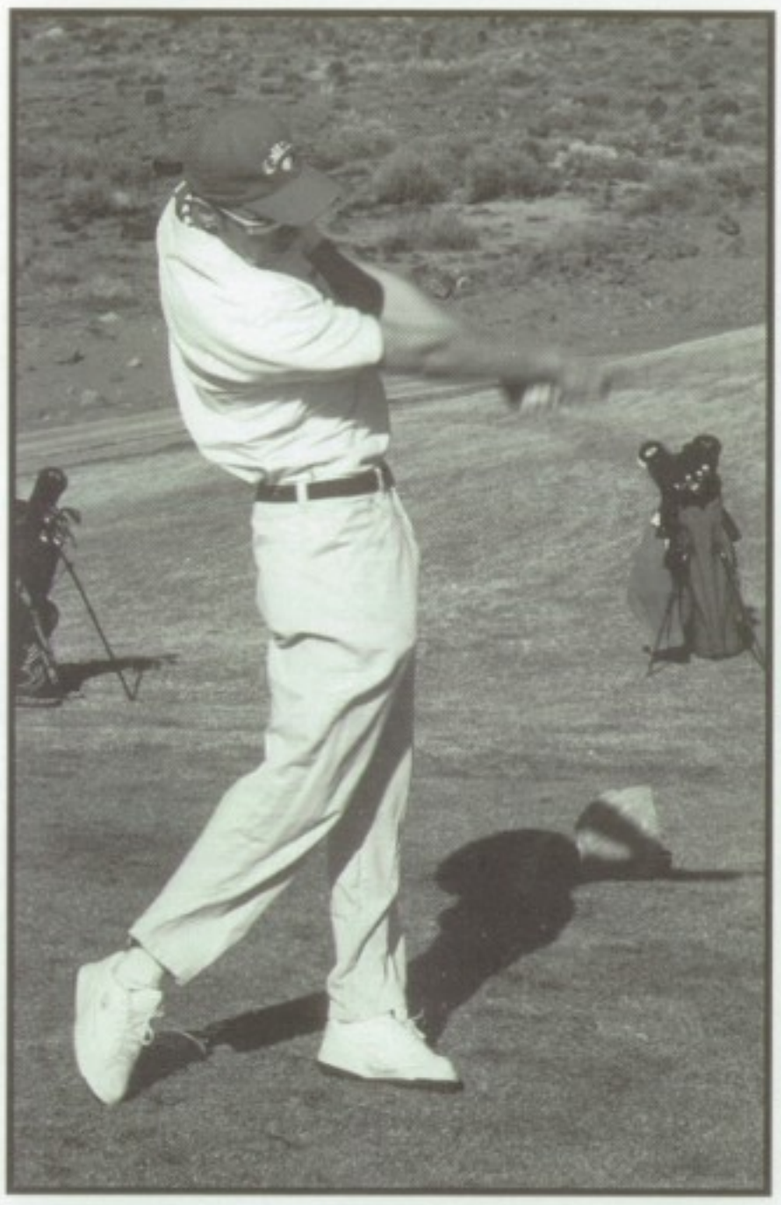
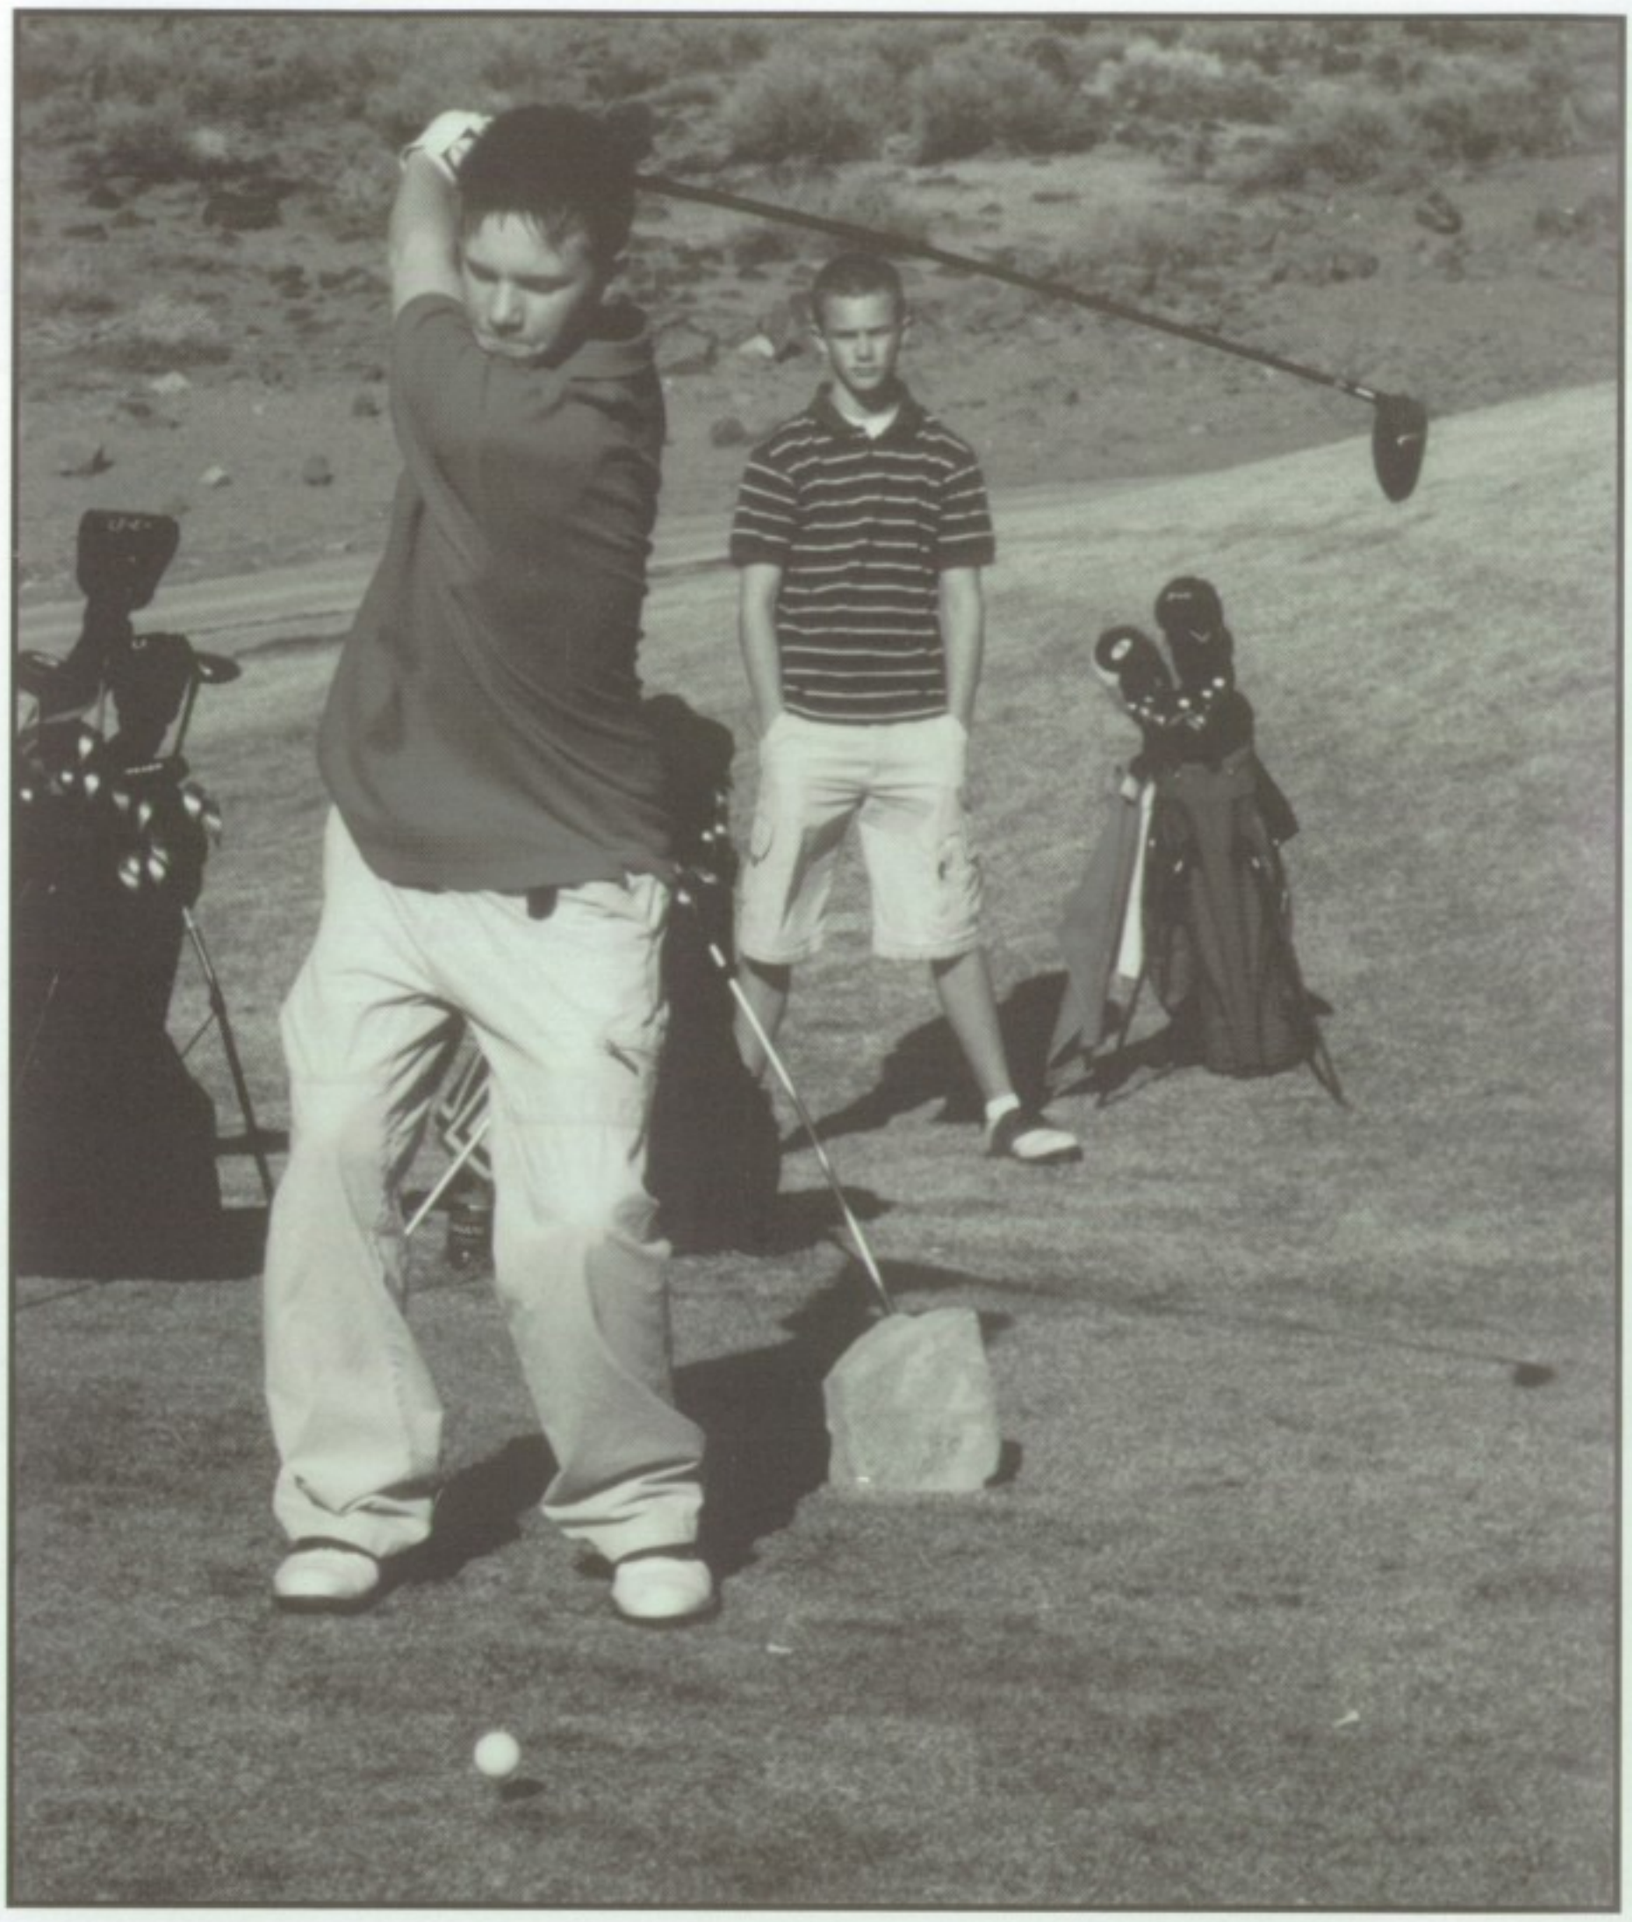
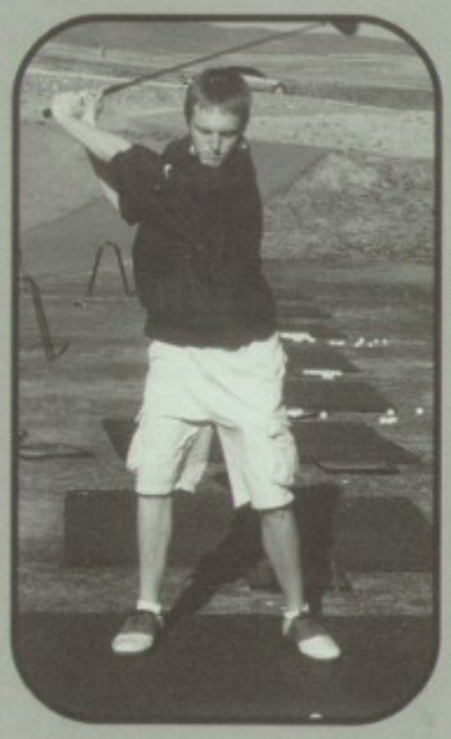
Teeing off at the first hole at D'Andrea Golf Course, R.J. Haffke (04) concentrates on a long drive as a teammate looks on. "I've been playing for two and a half years now. I play because it's really fun," said Haffke. "My inspiration is Payne Stewart because he was really good. But then he had to go and die. Also, he wore knickers and one of those cool looking hats!"Haffke continued.

In full swing...Sending his ball hundreds of yards down the fairway, Mike Givens (03) hopes for a good lie. "I play golf because I used to be able to say it was relaxing, but now it gets me so mad it's not even funny. My grandpa actually started me off when I was really little. I've been playing for about 9 or 10 years now. You would think I would be a lot better at it. It's sad to think about," said Givens.







"My golf inspiration is Tiger Woods because of his drive to be the best, and to become a perfectionist."

-Matt Farley (02)

"My favorite golf memory was when I was doing Happy Gilmores and I got hit with a ball. It bounced off the tee box and hit my ankle. It made me fall on my face, and it really hurt!"

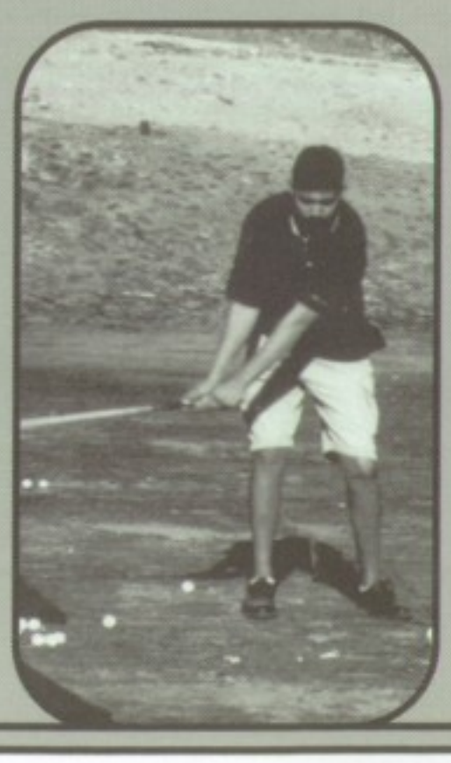
-Jordan Naviaux (03)

"My favorite golf memory was the first time I shot under 120. It was last year at the Brookside golf course."

-Trevor Cook (02)

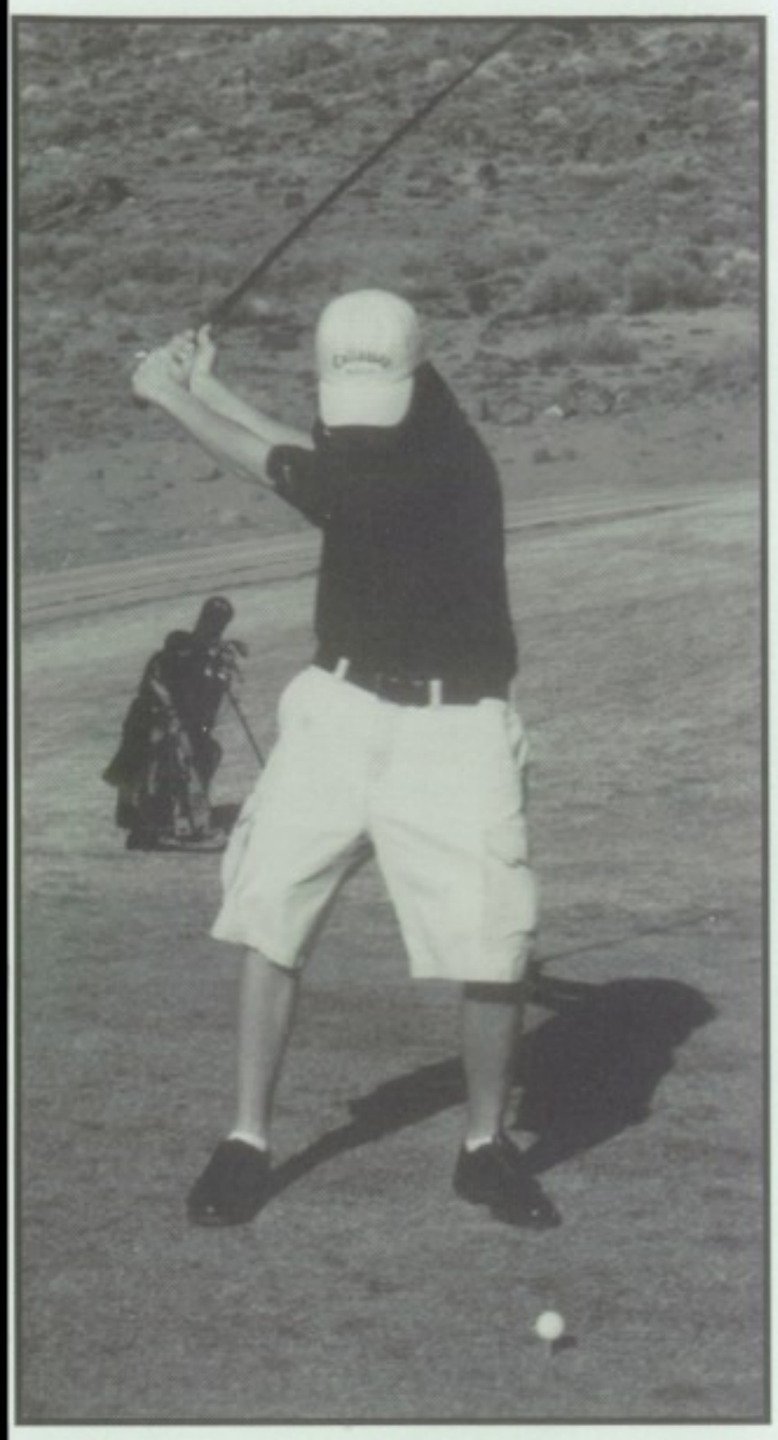
"My favorite golf memory was when I shot my first birdie freshman year. It was on the 5th hole at Lakeridge during a practice match against Galena."

-Anthony Florez (03)



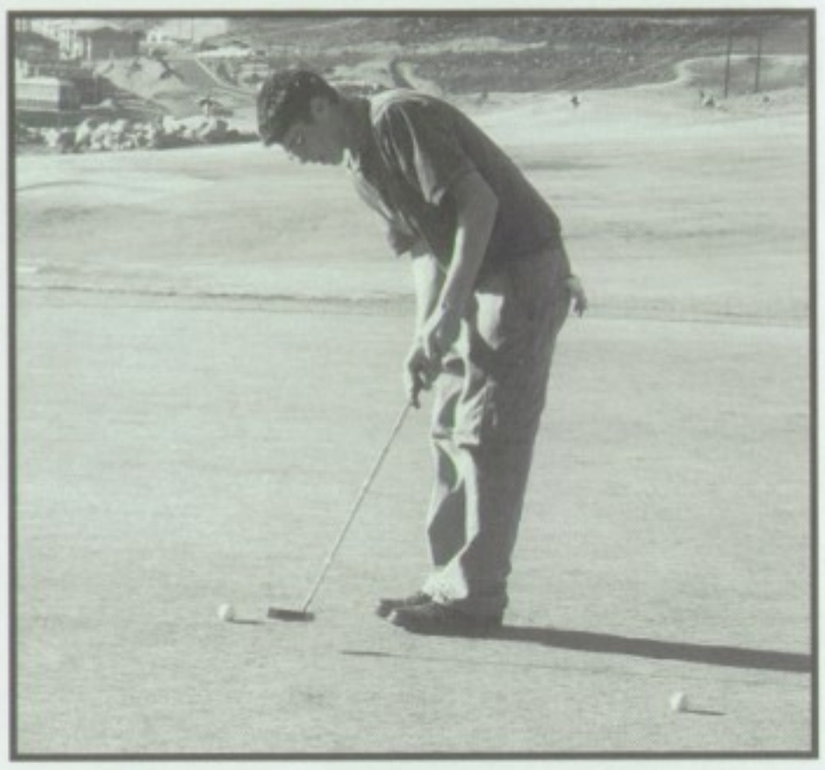
"I have been playing golf since 7th grade. I got into it because my dad made me. He wanted my sister and I to try something new. I ended up really liking it."

-Chris Bekker (04)



Perfect stance...Lined up and ready to shoot, Kenny Treadway (04) drives the ball down the fairway. Most people are introduced to this challenging game when they are in middle school. "I play golf to have fun and I like kickin' it with my friends. I have been playing now for about four or five years,"said Treadway

For par...Hoping to put the ball in the hole in just four stokes, Kyle Weeden (04) lines up his put on the first hole. Many players claim that the short game is the most important part of golf because it is the part of the game that takes the most concentration. Playing golf is in Weeden's genes. "My dad and both my grandpas played, and my favorite memory is playing golf with my grandpa on the course where he lives."



Putting for par...Sending the ball toward the hole during a practice, Cody Carpenter (03) makes sure his score remains at or below par.

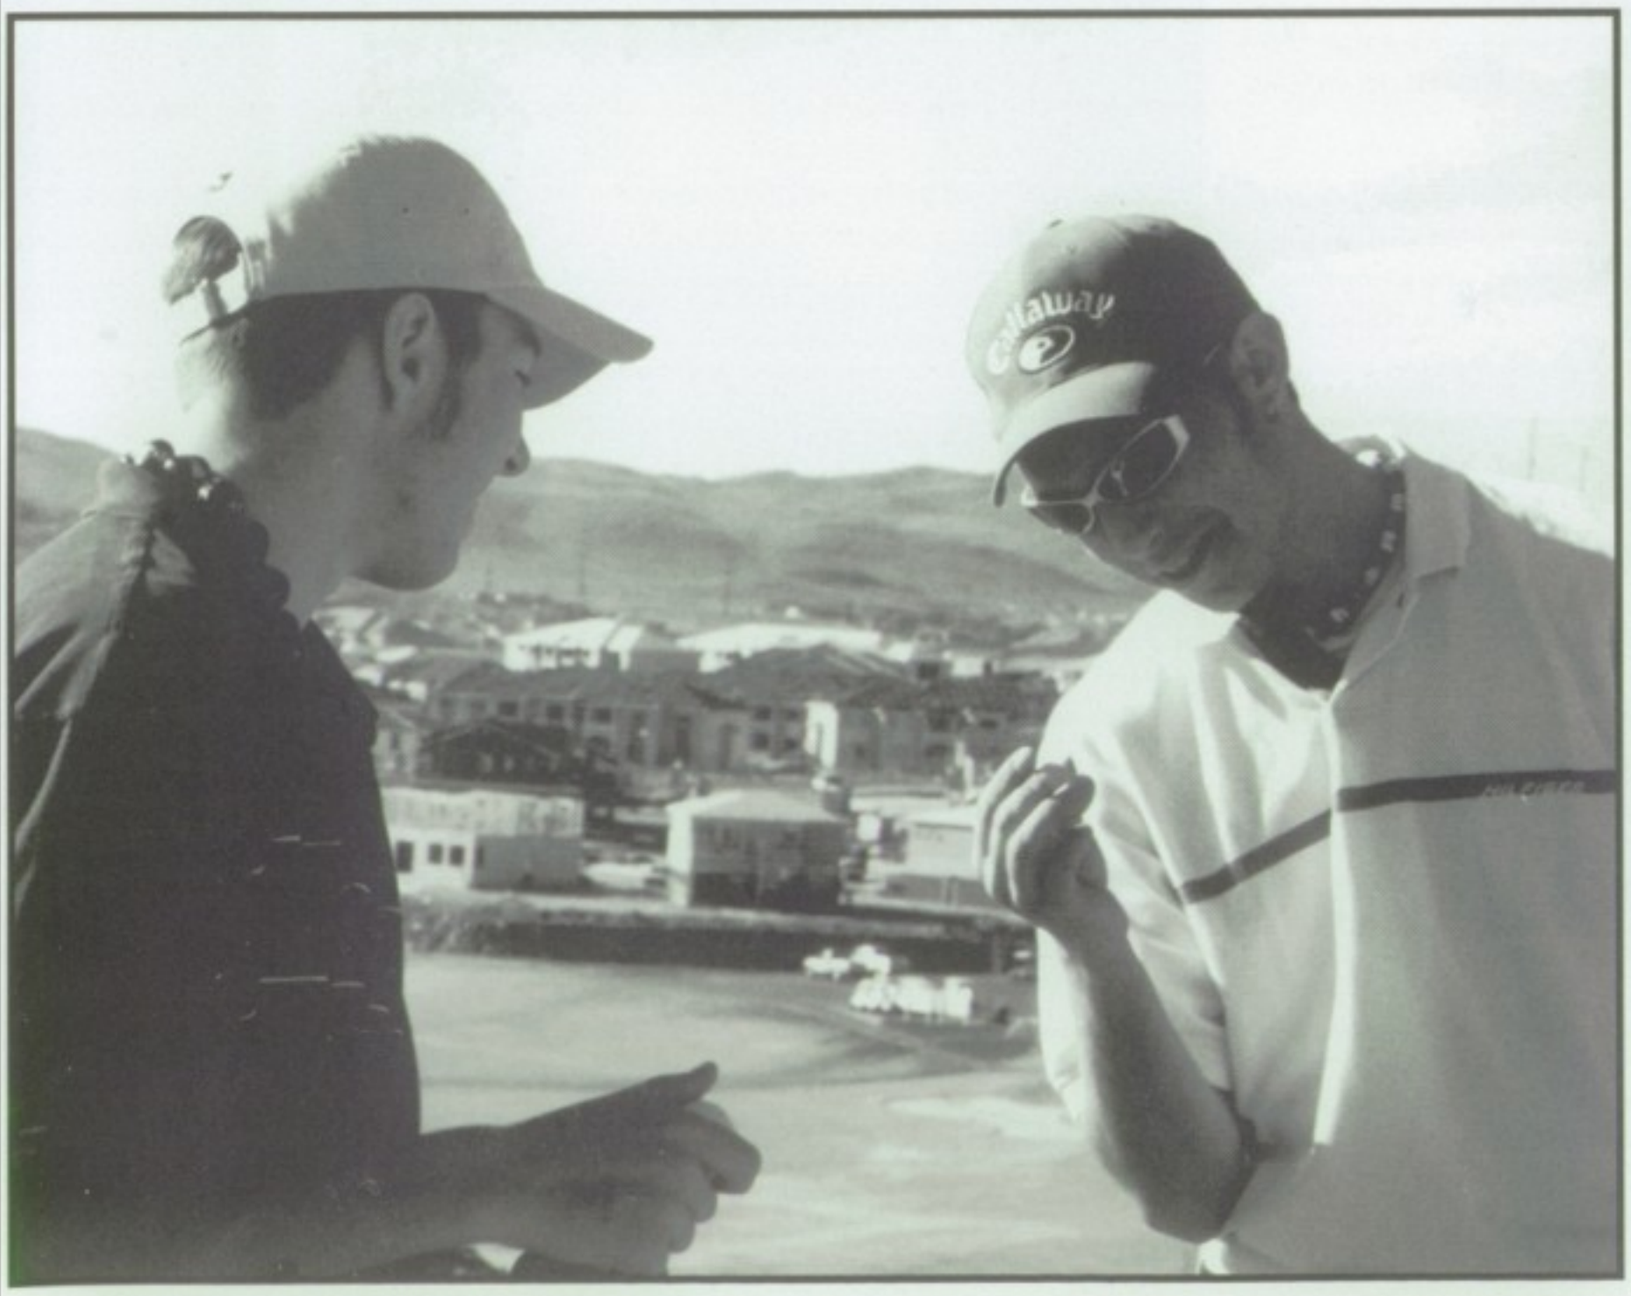
Playing their game to a tee with just a few seniors to show them the way, the new guard of golfers is slowly taking over



It's not a glamorous sport...On the golf course the players have to put up with minor injuries such as cracked skin from the wind drying it out. Mike Givens (03) shows Kenny Treadway (04) his damaged finger to get some sympathy before they tee off.

What happened? Showing his bent clubs to coaches Burgarello and Holiday, Jordan Naviaux (03) tries to figure out what happened to his club shafts. "I don't know what happened. They were in my golf bag the whole time and I can't figure out why they are all messed up," he said.

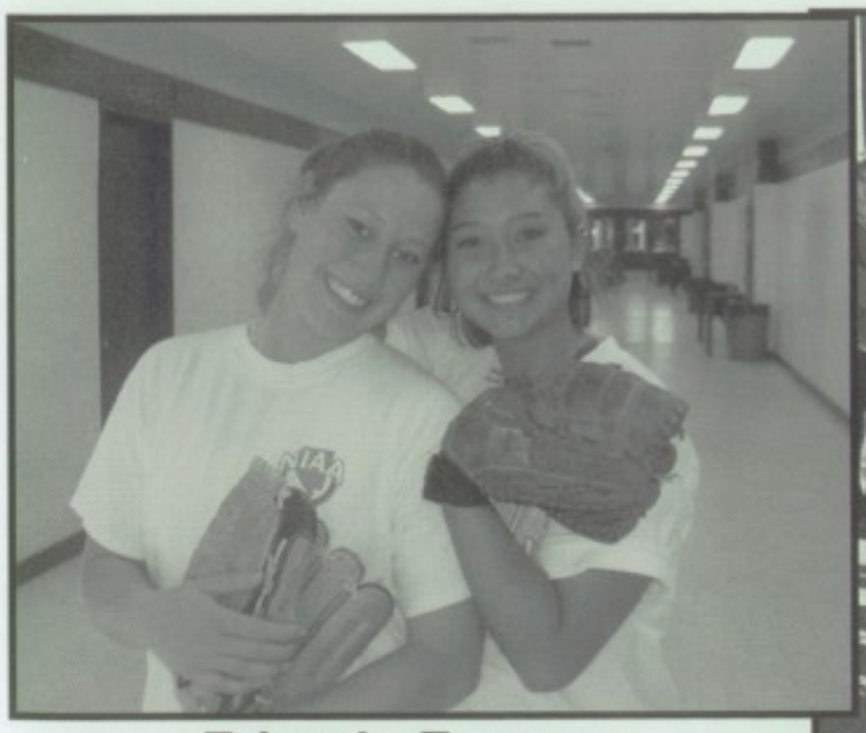
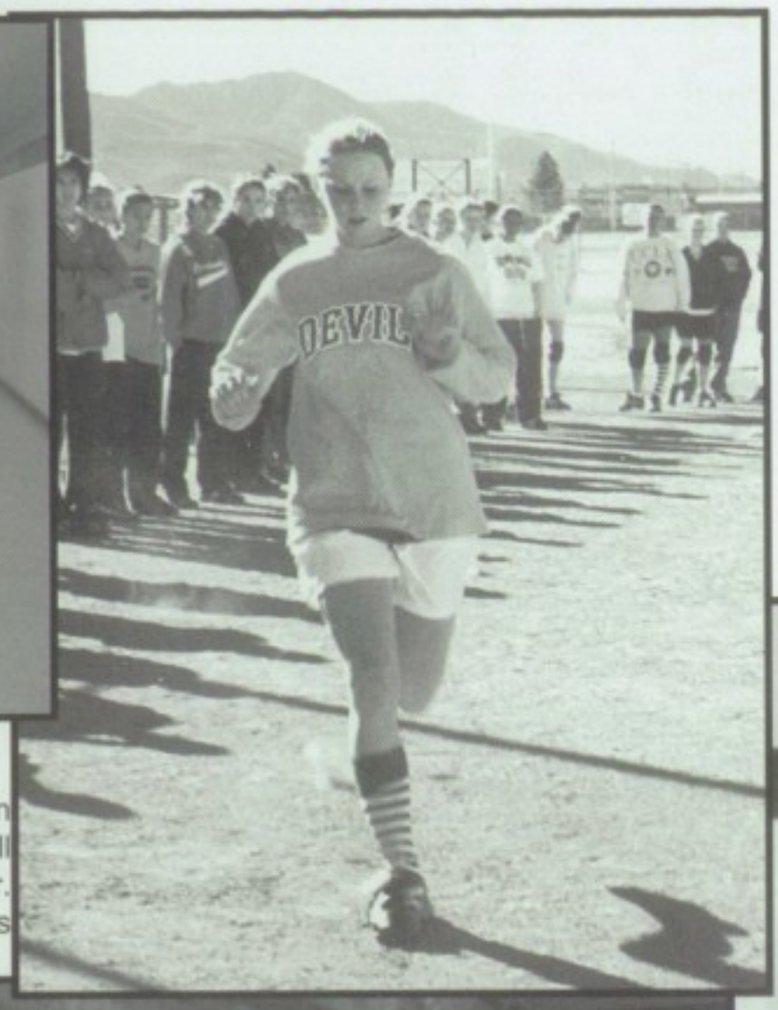
It's all about fun... Practicing her batting in the small gym, Lisa Harvey (02) fools around just a little bit before getting back to work.



Friends Forever

Seniors Whitney Smith and Shaina Overbay have been playing together since their sophomore year. The softball season brings many different groups of friends together. This is a good environment to be in because you can expess your own personality.



Keep focused... As Katie Baucom(02) runs, she focuses on her posture and her speed. She knows that when the time comes she needs to be faster then the ball heading toward home plate. Softball is not only about catching, pitching, bunting etc. it also requires concentration and know how.

Smack! In the small gym, Heather Hamilton(03) practices her swing. The stance is the most important part of the swing. In throwing, the power comes from the action of the wrist, but in batting it comes from the stance and the snap of the wrist as the bat hits the ball.

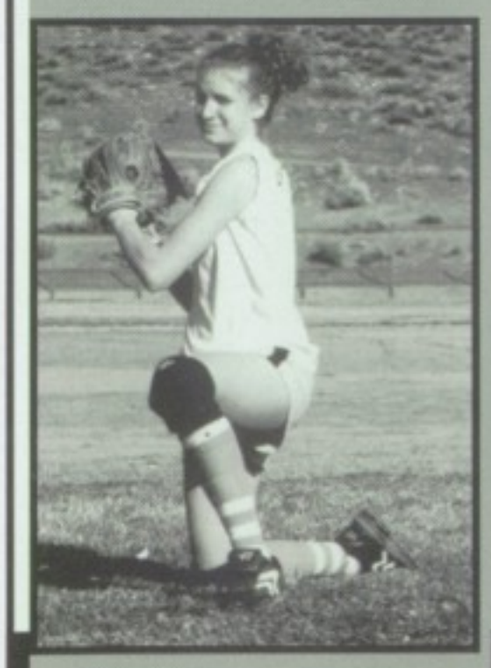
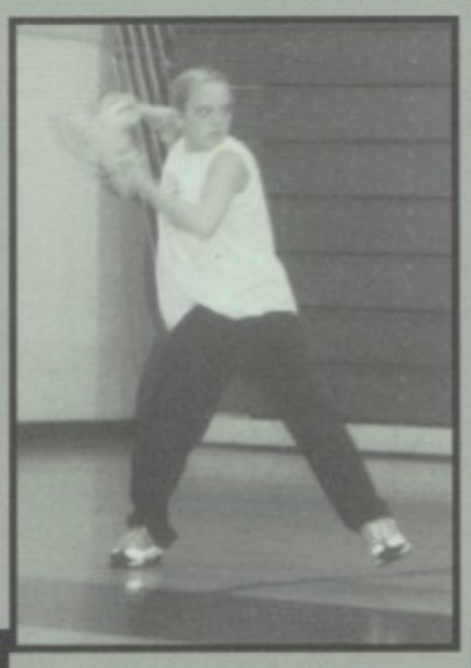
It's all about goals

What do you personally want to achieve in the 2002 season?



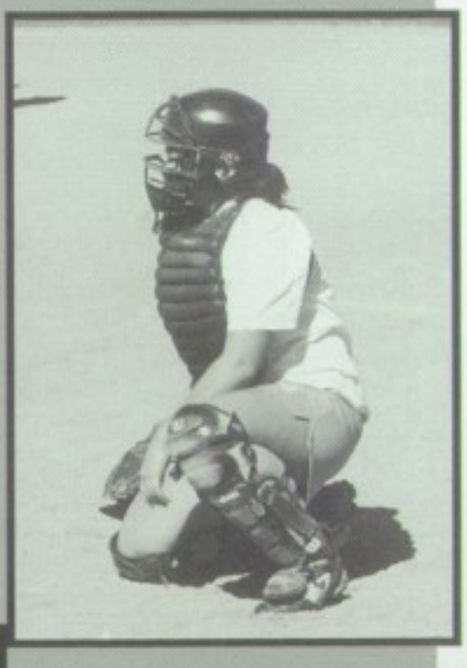
"I just want to improve and keep learning new things, and hopefully, get a scholarship somewhere."
-Adrienne Shafer (02)



"This season I hope to get better by working on fundamentals, f u n d a m e n t a l s, fundamentals."
-Lisa Harvey (02)

"For this softball season I hope to get better location for my pitches."
-Katie Smith (03)

"For this season, I just want to work more on my mental game. Being prepared mentally is just as important as being ready physically."
-Tia Bartek (04)



"On defense, I would like to improve on framing pitches and on offense, trying to hit curves."

Throwing the ball to first base, Katie Thomas, warms up between innings in a game against Galena. Reed went on to win the double header 12 - 7 and 9 - 6. "It was our first official game of the season. We are a young team consisting of 12 freshmen and six sophomores, but I think the talent is good, and once we get used to each other, we will be unstopable," she said.

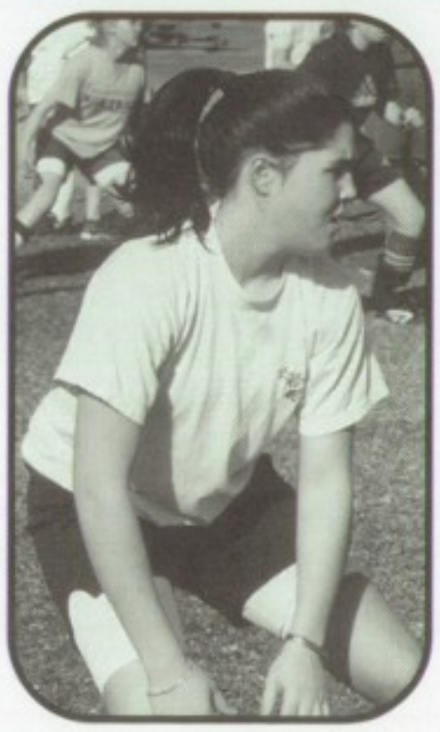
On deck, lefty Kim Maldonado, warms up for her first time batting at a scrimmage against Douglas. She hit the ball and brought in the runner from third base to score the first run of the game. "As a freshman, I have a lot to work for. There are three other girls that play my position that are equally as talented, so it keeps me on my toes and makes me work harder to earn a spot in the starting line-up," said Maldonado (05).

"I enjoy softball because it is competitive and fun. I like my team this year, our coach can be tough sometimes, but he's alright."

-Gina Cabanilla (05)

"JV is a good preparation for playing varsity later on. You learn to be compatible with other girls who pretty much become your sisters."

-Amy Lim (04)

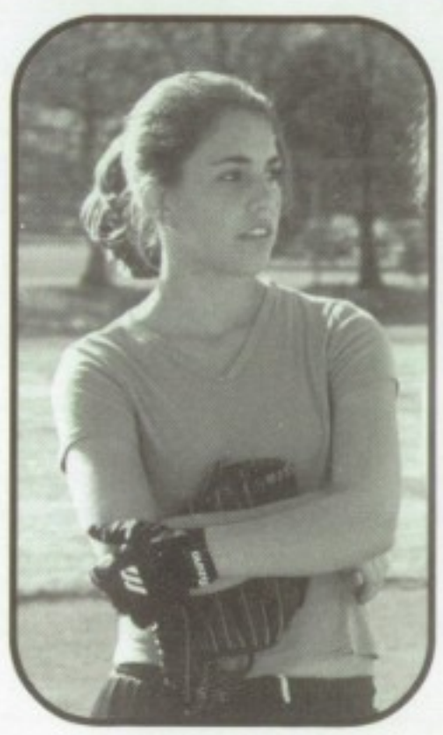


"I play for me and my dad. I love the game, and my dad loves to see me excel! My family inspires me to work harder."

-McKenzie Kelly (05)

"I look up to my sister because she is on varsity. I hope to play on the varsity team some day."

-Jessica Hooft (05)



"I love softball because of all the friends you make. It's fun getting to know people and just playing the game."

-Jessica Echevarria (04)

"Being the lead off hitter, you have to take a few pitches and get down in the count (although, sometimes it may be difficult to come back) so the team can get a feel for the pitcher's talent. My job is to get on base any way possible."

Whether at tryouts, a practice, a scrimmage, or an official game, these 18 girls strive to be the best. "Being such a young team can be frustrating," said Amanda Hill (04). "All the things us sophomores know how to do, needs to be re-taught [to the freshmen]... so all of us are on the same page. We have a lot of talent and I know we'll keep our Lady Raider reputation as the best." Although there are only five returning sophomores on this team, they keep the traditions of the JV teams from years past alive for all the other players to experience.

"During tryouts, I was pitching, and in the middle of my pitch the batter said wait, so I pitched the ball over the backstop! I thought I was going to be cut on the spot."

Drag racing

The boys and girls teams are preparing for their first swim meet of the season. All of the swimmers wear two or more swim suits to create resistance, or drag, in the water. This helps the team because it trains them to work harder so when they take the suits off they will swim faster. During practice athletes also work with fins and paddles which helps strengthen their muscles and develop speed.

Posing for a quick picture during warm-ups at a swim meet are Danielle Stage (02), Kelly Weaver (04), Karen Kaufmann (04), Jenna Marshall (04), Amanda Magrini (02), and Megan Lyons (02) at Alf Sorensen's indoor pool. Most of the girls on the team have become friends, which makes the relay teams better, because athletes don't want to let their friends down.Swimming, which is often an individual sport, is different from traditional team sports like football or baseball, in which athletes must constantly rely on teammates to win the game. So, bonding with each other and making friends is crucial to create a team atmosphere.

"I decided to join the swim team because I wanted to refine my strokes and condition for tennis. I also wanted to get a letter and qualify for Zone."

-Sophie Wong (05)

"I have been swimming for three years. My mom made my join the swim team though. I plan on being on the team for all four years of high school."

-Jaclyn Case (04)

-Kyle Barker (03)

"I like track because it's challenging. It makes us good and not lazy!"
-Jessica Burke (03)

Track practices usually start out with eight laps around the gym and a good stretch, then the team heads outside. On Mondays and Wednesdays, the team splits up and everyone goes to their individual events to work on technique, then they come back together at the end to finish up with some circuit training. Tuesdays and Thrusdays however, are not as forgiving. The team breaks into two groups, (distance and sprinters). The distance goes for a very long and difficult run and the sprinters either stay on the track to work on speed or head up to the mountain to run switchbacks. Finally, the team closes the week with a meet, which is their chance to compete and prove that their hard work was worth it.

Track and field is a challenging sport. It utilizes your entire body including your back, legs, arms and stomach. It tests your strength, flexibility and endurance in a variety of ways. The Reed team looks forward to a great season with their young team and look to the experience of the returning and more experienced members to win meets and uphold the winning spirit of the years past. "I think we have a great team and coaching staff this year. The whole team is really positive and our new coaches are behind our success 100%. In tune with the times

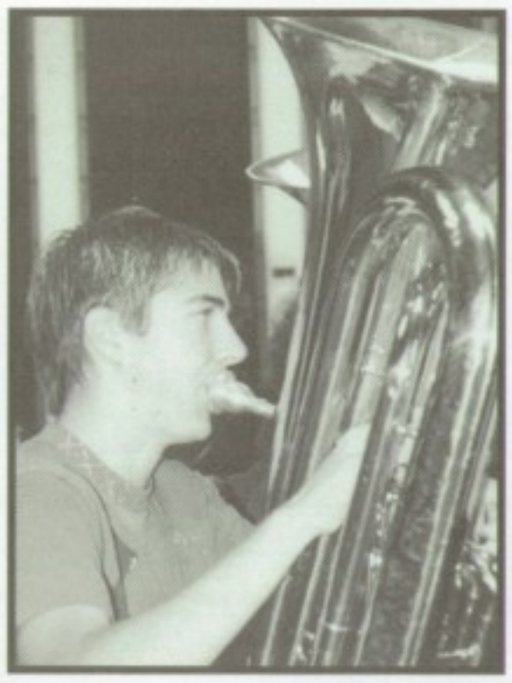
After hours of hard work put in during summer practices, musicians filled the air with sound.



Sounding good is one of the reasons people join band. Heather Lommori (02) says "Reed's band is better than a lot of high school bands that I've heard. The drumline is the best and I enjoy listening to them." Students come to the games to have fun with friends but they also get all the pleasure of hearing great performers and seeing a teriffic half time show full of Reed's band.

Band Struts their stuff at performances

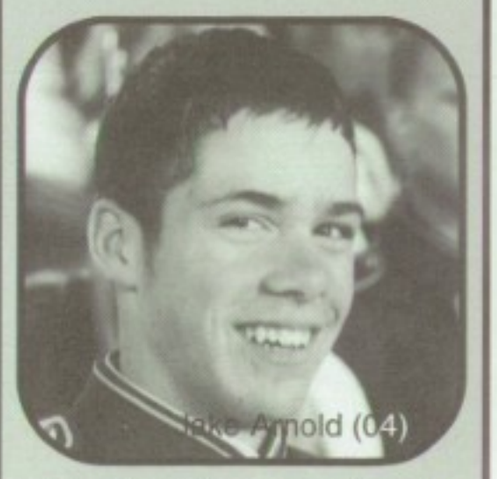
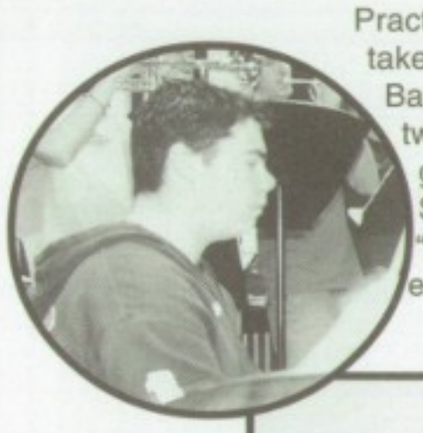
Carly Holmes (03)



Jake Arnold (04)

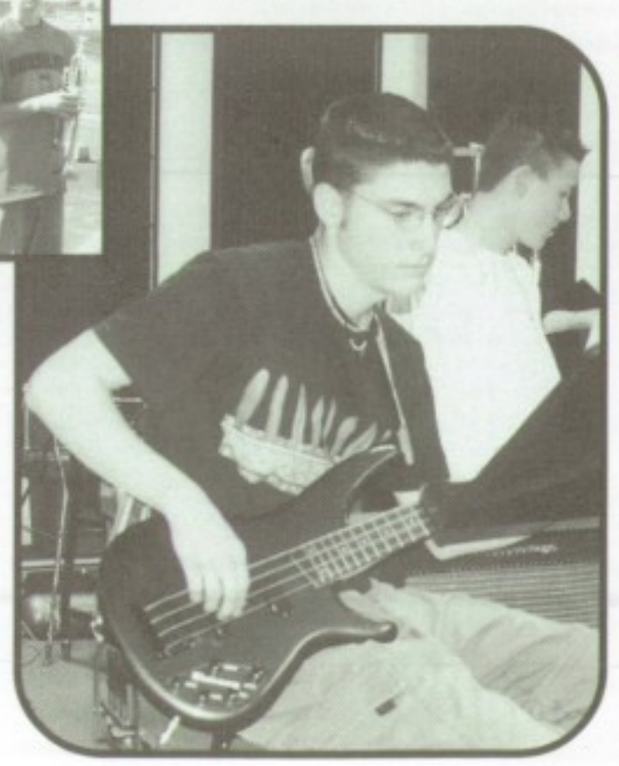
Band members have fun at performances and think it's great to be in front of the crowd to show off their skills.



Practice to make it look and sound good takes a lot of time but pays off in the end. Band had practices daily during the last two weeks of summer and sounded great throughout the season. Katie Szafran (05) on the drill team says "working with the band was a great experiance."

Being active in band means being active in the other performing arts at Reed. Many of the students in band also participate in the school's fall play or spring musical. Whether it be an acting role or the live orchestra providing music, most of them always find a way to be a great part in the production.

Jake Arnold (04) likes being in band and said the best part of being a part of it is "being able to go to competition because if you win it makes you feel proud." All of the members in band work hard to get a good place in competiton. This year they went to three competitions. They did well but hope to improve next year.



Most students who join band their freshman or sophomore year stick with it because they get to meet new people and it's fun to work with the band and get better together so they sound awesome as a whole. "I've been in band all four years becuase of the people you get to work with." Said Kyle Givani (02) about sticking with it.

Tawni Depoli and Moxi Wilson are the Drum Majors of band this year, with Tawni following in her brother Jeff's footsteps. "I love being in band and being good with music. It's a lot of fun and the people are great." Tawni Depoli (02). Tuning and cleaning your instrument is an important part of sounding good. If someone's instrument is not correctly tuned then the whole program could sound off.

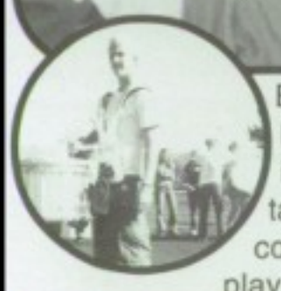
Practice, practice,practice, it makes perfect. Ceejay Lutz (05) said she likes being in band because, "I have met a lot of new people through band. I like going on the trips because it is fun be with my friends and meeting new people." In order to go on trips to competitions and win, all you have to do is practice and be on cue with the rest of the band.



Band is cool because there is a bunch of talented people come together to play juicy music!" Mike Lockwood (02)

Kyle Givani (02) says, "The end of the performances are a lot of fun, because you put a lot of work into it and you get to show everybody how much hard work you have put into it." Matt Brecke (03) has been involved in band since middle school and plans to stay in it until end of senior year. "We are glad to have such a great band to play our performance music, we appreciate them more than they know." Shannon Williams (04) on Drill team working with the band.

It's not as easy as it looks... women's choir and intermezzo members go through a process to make whichever choir they are on. This process includes a tryout in the summer were students perform a personalized selection and the song "America" a capella and a short choreographed dance for choir directors. Strings students do this because that is how it is. "I felt really nervous, but comfortable at the same time with Mr. Lorentzen. Overall I was confident though," said Leanna Stephens (04) about her tryout for intermezzo this year.

8. Playing an instrument takes hard work and dedication, Josh Kelleher (05).

PE keeps kids in shape which will later lead to a healthy lifestyle. Students are required to take 2 years of PE in high school and choices of classes, including: Court Sports, Weights/ Conditioning, Team Sports, Power Walking and Aerobics... so all students are provided with an efficient variety of choices. During the warm seasons students are allowed to go outside and participate in a number of different sports; however in the winter their options are somnewhat limited with a small space and several classes together.

"PE is a pretty fun class because we play a lot of different sports." -Alex Bellows (02)

-Sohini Ray (02)

Science and math who needs them, right? All teachers know that 90% of their class really is not listening and is just there to graduate and move on in their lives. The true fact is you do need their information and ways of learning to get through your life. Maybe in your classes you can not see any resemblence of it in everyday live or even a future job you might have yet what about the underlining learning you are recieveing from that course. They teach you to skills in notetaking, highly important,studing (ever planning on going to college and not studing?) or simply just for you basic information. Knowledge is true power that no one can steal away from you and its FREE, take in as much as you can and do not be afraid to learn. As you need to in life try to find the interest in something you have no interest in.

Faculty Play "A Bad Day at Gopher's Breath" allowed teachers to let their hair down.

"We have a great time during and even after the run of the show, teasing each other about our parts."

-Kathy King

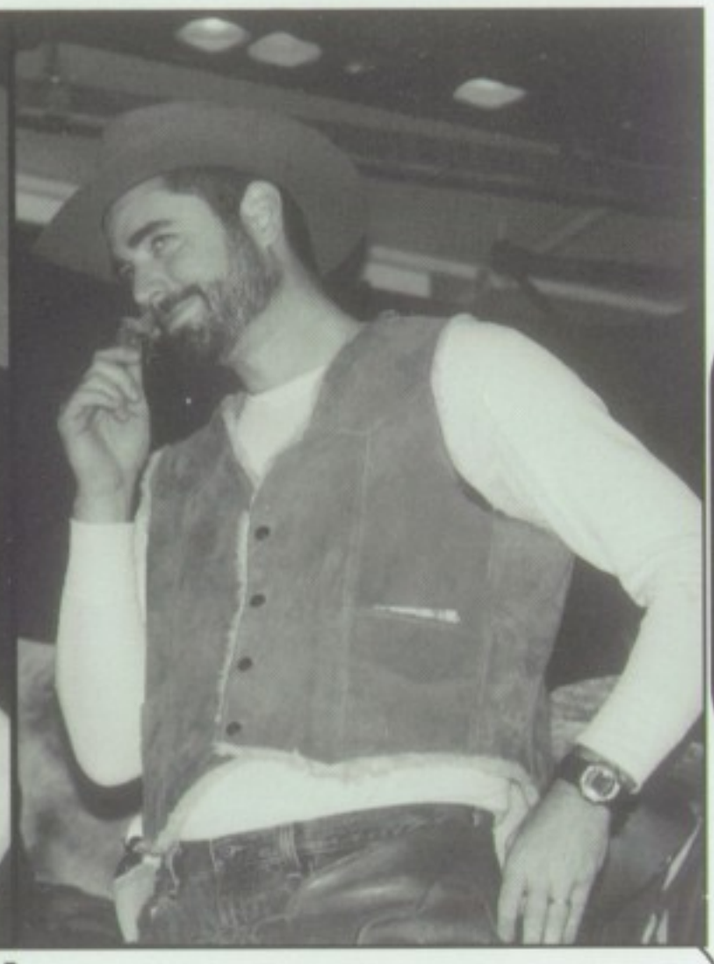
"The most favorite part was the comradary formed by the group of bandits."

-Al Babb

"Best part, well, hands down... it was getting a bird's eye view of Mrs. Walsh and the others dancing like bar room floozies."

-Dave Sayer

While performing the comedy sometimes the actors had do to dangourous stunts for the satisfaction of the audience.
"On the third night of the play, I had to jump from the ceiling and plummet 50 feet to the ground unscathed!" said Kaho Chan.
Having to learn "stunts" wasn't the only hard part of being in the play, the teachers also had to learn lines and learn to deal with each other too.
"The hardest part of being in the play was memorizing lines, it's very time consuming and I procrastinate. Fortunately we made up lines as we went during the actual preformance anyways...As far as Mr. Babb, have you ever worked with that guy? Torture!" said Rob Stone "Memorizing 90+ lines for my first time acting expirience while simultaneousley taking six credits at UNR and teaching new classes from a new curriculum...This explains nicely why I am currently in rehab for my nervous break-down." David Sayer



Ready for their close ups!

"A Bad Day at Gopher's Breath" was a one of a kind show. Wheather you went for the love triangles,gun fights, the comedians or extra credit, you a great saw a show. There was never a dull moment on stage. The cast of teachers were always joking around while doing the "serious" work of being an actor. The teachers like to ad-lib their lines, sometimes for fun, and sometimes because they couldn't remember the real ones
"The hardest part about being in the play was learning my lines, because contrary to popular belief, teachers have a lot of work to do and I couldn't find a lot of free time to work on my lines. But believe me, the lines we made of were funnier than the ones in the script!" said Kathy King.
The play was put on to raise money for Reed scholarship funds, but that's not the only reason the teachers did it. It gave them a chance to meet new faculty. "I loved fraternizing with members of the faculty that I otherwise would never get to know. Being involved with the faculty play has been a great team builder for us. We're all working t o - gether to raise scholarship money, and we're having a blast doing it," said John Lore ntzen Movin' on up! The Junior class is psyched at the homecoming assembly in high hopes to toss the Grizzlies.

Freshmen are looking forward, sophomores call out, "Look at us!" and juniors have just enough time to look at their options. Underclassman are the future of the school. The underclassmen look up to the seniors and plan for the day when they will be seniors and rule this small domain. The freshman and junior varsity sports teams strive for perfection and look forward to the day they will be the varsity players they look up to. Underclassmen learn the valuable lessons of high school that they will remember for the rest of their lives. With them they will take all the memories from their high school days; all the tests, all the games and activities, the parties, the dances, and especially all the friendships.

Freshman begin their last four years before college!

Freshman years ar tough! You've just finished being the leaders and rulers of middle school and then you are thrown into a place where you are so little and everything is so fast. People, who may even share a class with you, are drivong and voting, it's a scary experience however it is a learning one as well because you are getting prepared for life!

Inter-club Council

Inter Club council is a meeting of all the presidents and vice presidents of all the clubs at Reed. The council allows all the clubs to unite. The meetingss are a great way to spread information about all the different clubs and activities going on within clubs to the rest of the school. Meeting are held twice a month and lead by Jeana Curtis, the vice principle of activities.

The future's so bright...

Going though high school is a learning experience for everyone. You learn how to deal with friends, enemies, responsibility and pressure. By the time you graduate you will be close to being an adult, which means you take full responsibility for yourself. This is a huge step in life and high school is the last step that you have before you are on your own. Hopefully high school prepares you enough and is a growing point in life...make it worth while!

FUNNY, Sad, Good & the Bad...

advice for our future freshman and returning students.

"If there is one bit of advice I could give to freshmen it would be to keep their mouths shut and take the enitiations. Things go a lot smoother if you just be quiet. I got mine my sophmore year. At the end of the year J.V. Soccer plays games for the last week of practice and the team with the most points wins cool stuff like soccer bags. But the team with the least points gets painted, silly stringed, shaving creamed, lipsticked, and what ever else the seniors could come up with. I was unfortunate enough to be on the losing team.So freshman,be prepared for some fun and games at your expense. Life will be better."

-Ian Cochran

"As freshman, people tend to confuse their priorities. So keep in mind that you are the mo important person; respect yourself and others. Remember that high school is a very small portion of your life. Always look forward, don't dwell on the past or hold a grudge, and try to smile at someone you don't know everyday." -Ivy Alexander

"Make good choices when you choose your friends. If you do they'll be there for you for life! And have as much fun as you can and before you know it, it's gone! There are wonderful memories to look back on!"-Amanda Magrini

"Don't let everything get to you. People will change with the weather; the trick is to find someone who really knows how to have true fun and make your day just by being there. Good luck and just keep repeating to yourself four more years with mom and dad!"-Ashley Graham

What is the funniest thing that ever happened to you?

"The funniest thing that ever happened to me was getting duct taped to a wall. I was taped up so well that when I was ripped down from the wall chunks of paint came off. It took five people to get me down."

-Leanne Henry

"I started getting intense hunger pains at school. Observing the time gap until lunch and the dullness of Algebra motivated me to ask for an emergency pass. I rushed to the vending machines, overlooking the fact that money is essential for its opperation. As a last resort I decided, to put on a show for the cafeteria workers that I was in desperate need of sugar.'Even the doctor says my insulin levels will drop from diabetes!' I pled, nevertheless, I came out satisfied with a cookie and orange juice. Thanks cafateria ladies." -Lindsey Chapman

"I went to lunch at Wendy's with Sarah Bajenski. When we were leaving, we walked to her car, which was on the other side of the trees. Sarah turned around to talk to someone but continued walking. She then walked right into a branch. She hit her forehead so hard that it knocked her down on her butt. It was great!" -Jessica McNamera

"When I was at school I was just walking around and then when I walked into the band room, my friends freaked me out and I jumped and landed on the ground. Everybody started laughing at me and I was laughing at myself too. But it was good to laugh." -Richard Christian

"When we went to San Francisco and saw all these weird people. Claire got attacked by a psycho bum, we got propositioned by another bum that asked " Would it be possible to make love to you and you and you and you?" We got lost in the business district. We tried to spell 'SEXY' on our window because guys were writting to us and we ran out of room and couldn't fit the 'Y' in. The whole trip was hilarious!"-Cathleen Corsun

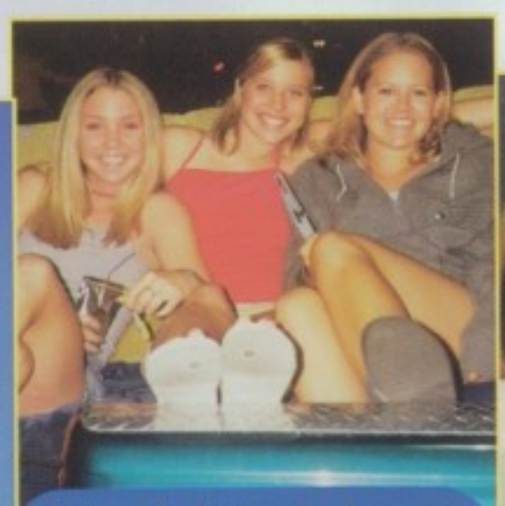
Are you serious? Shut up! No way!

"The funniest thing that happened so far was when me and a truck load of people were at the UNR tailgate. One of my friends, instead of using the port-a-potty, peed his pants in front of thousands of fans. I have never laughed so hard."

-Kyle Danielson

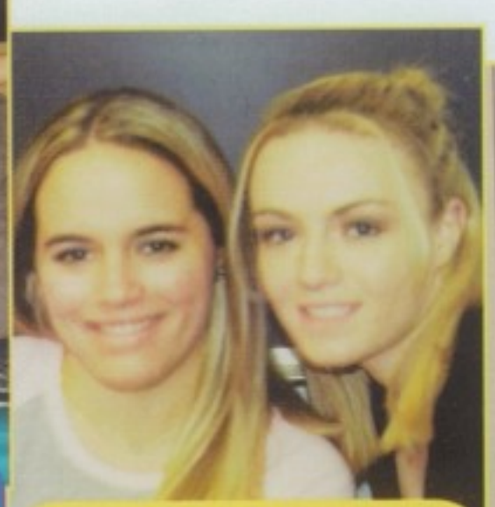
"My friends and I went camping one time. It was about 2 a.m. and we couldn't sleep so we went for a hike and found a junk yard. We hiked down to check it out. We ended up running from a junk yard dog for twenty minutes."

Nondh Pitiwongse



"My favorite high school memory happended in the summer after my sophmore year. My friends and I found a yellow/green used couch for free, we took it and named it Voytek. We put Voytek in the back of Kelly's truck the drove it everywhere. Many people sat in that couch, it was our summer couch. Voytek R.I.P."

-Colie McManus



"One night Amber and I (Kim) were driving to my house. I randomly stopped in the middle of the street and Amber got out of my car. She ran around it and when she was behind the car I took off. She ran up to the window and jumped in head first. I drove down the street with her feet swinging out the window."

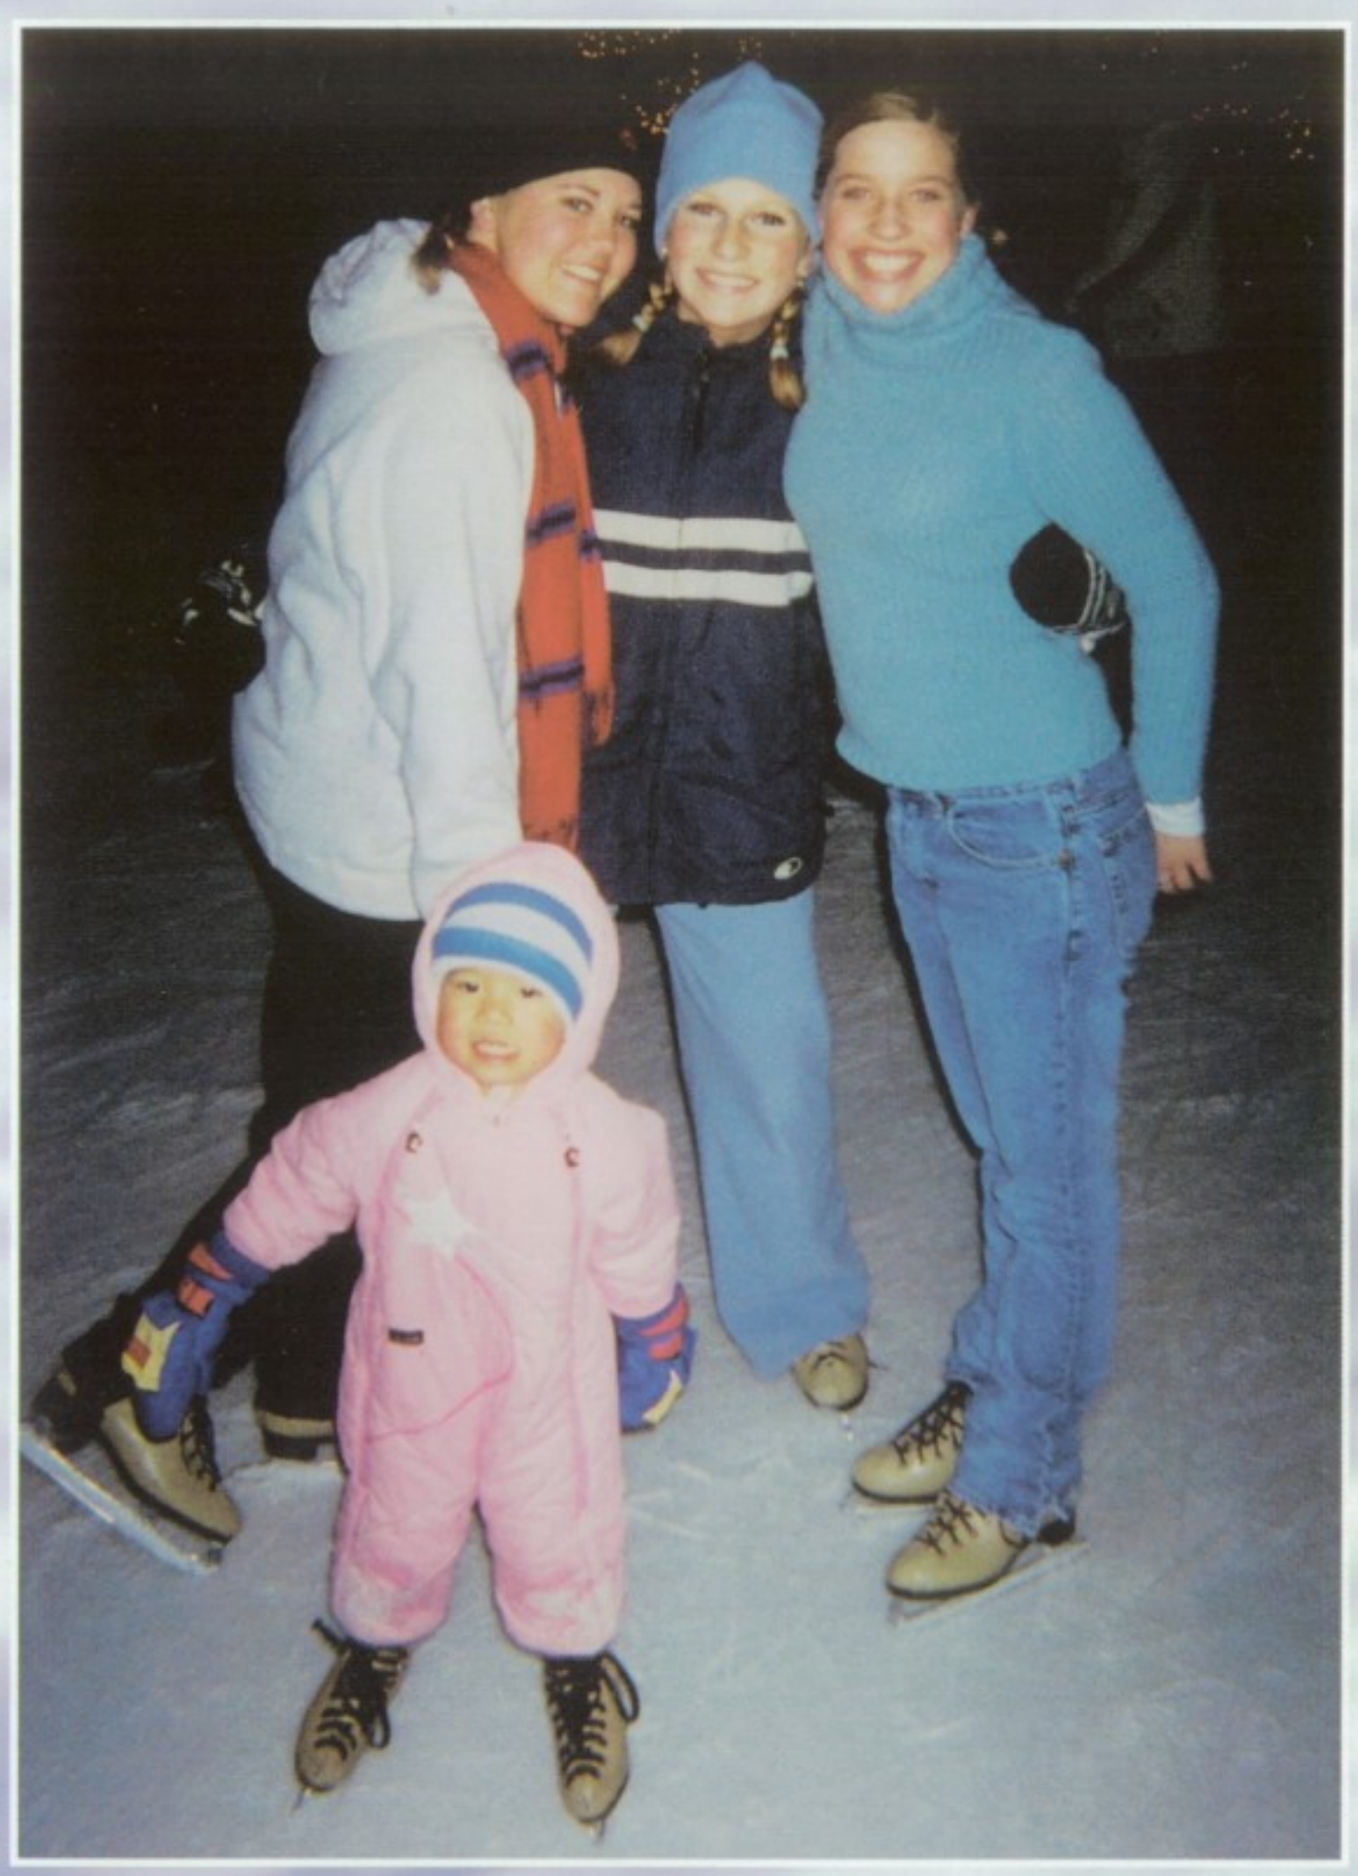
-Kim Poore & Amber Mabus

"The best memory was the bus ride down to Las Vegas for F.B.L.A. because Nicole and I sat right next to the bathroom, someone took a dump and the smell came creeping out!"

-Linh Long

seniors

Seniors- Ready to get out of here and into the real world!



"College to me means no more hyperactive freshman raiding the halls. I won't miss the unchaged high school drama over who dumped who. Senioritis is making its way through the halls of Reed High School. College is an opportunity for us to explore our interests, meet new people and enter the clubs legally. To the class of 2002, let's get out of here."

-Lindsey Chapman

"My little nugget of wisdom is to step outside your comfort zone, as the cliche goes.You might find that you enjoy something that you had never thought of doing before, something that might just change your whole life."

-Joseph Ekstrand

"My most obvious sign of senioritis is not being able to get out of bed in the morning. I have no motivation to get up and go to school. Plus I keep forgetting my locker combination."

-Darcy Shepard

Cammy,

You are my first and only love. I think the world of you. You make my life happier each day with the memories we share. I know without you in my life, my world would be incomplete. Your imperfections and the way you love me make you perfect.

Love always,

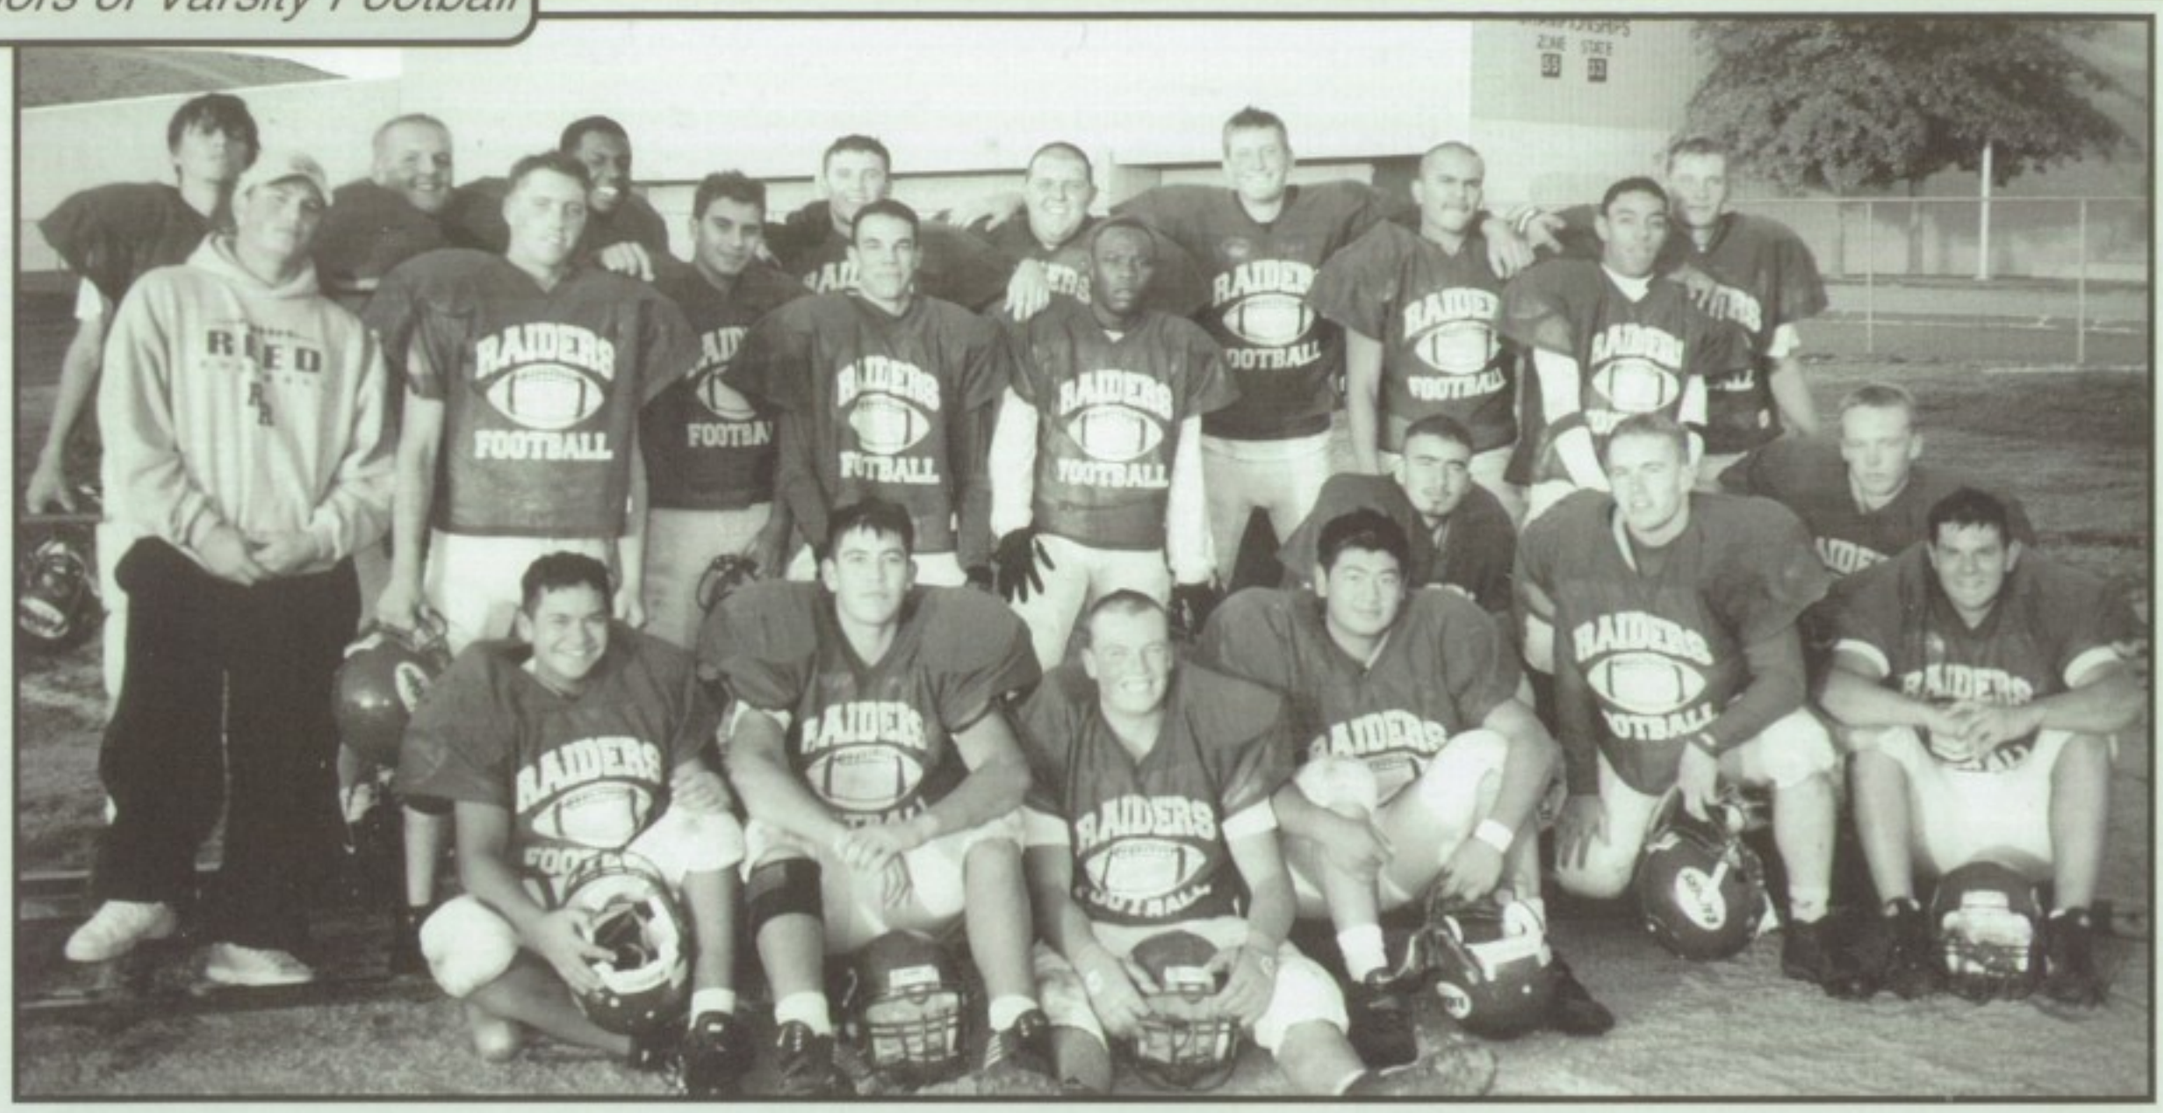
Seniors of Varsity Football



Seniors of '02,

The memory of double days has already begun to fade. Lifting weights in the summer and all those wind sprints. The smell of freshly cut grass. Pre-game, half-time, and post-game speeches from your passionate rookie Head Coach; mere echoes now. But, you will never forget the companionship of your teammates--or the feeling of victory after a hard fought contest. And, you will always remember this score:

REED 42-SPARKS 14!!

Congratulations and Good Luck
We love you,

Your Families

Justin Wheeler

Justin,

What am I going to do when you're gone? I can't believe the time is so close.

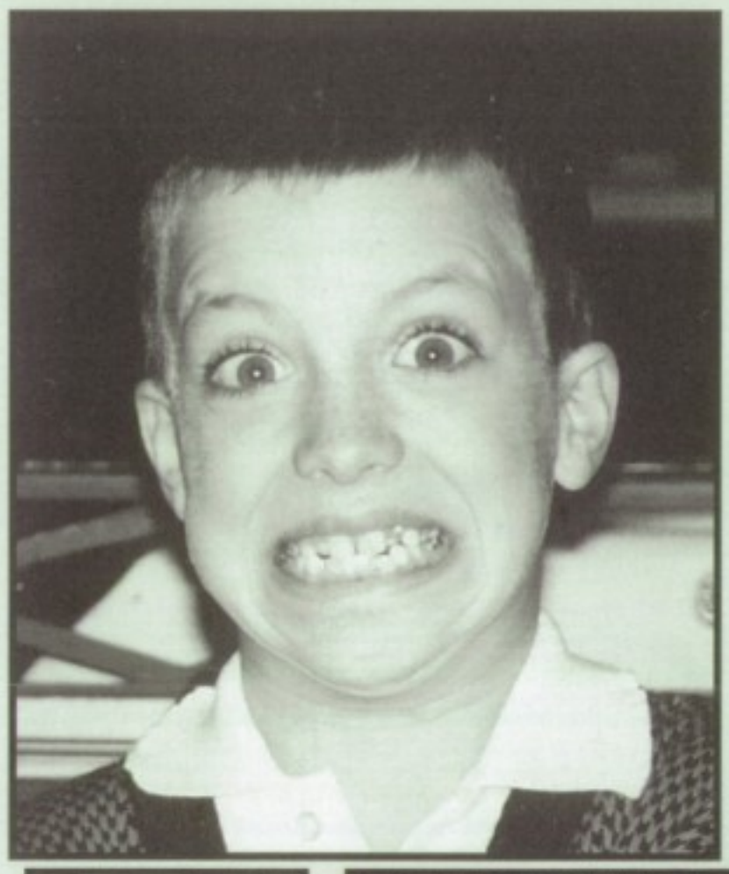
We have so many memories. Some are better than others, but overall they're great.

You've always been there for me when I needed someone to talk to or someone to protect me. Life at home won't be the same without you around to wrestle with or to ask your advice on my number one subject-guys.

Thank you for everything you do. On the upside-I won't have to be your slave when you're injured.

Have fun in college.

Love,
Mini-Me



Justin,

You're our gift from God. What can we say about our first born? You've had more than your share of challenges over the years, but you've always become a better person.

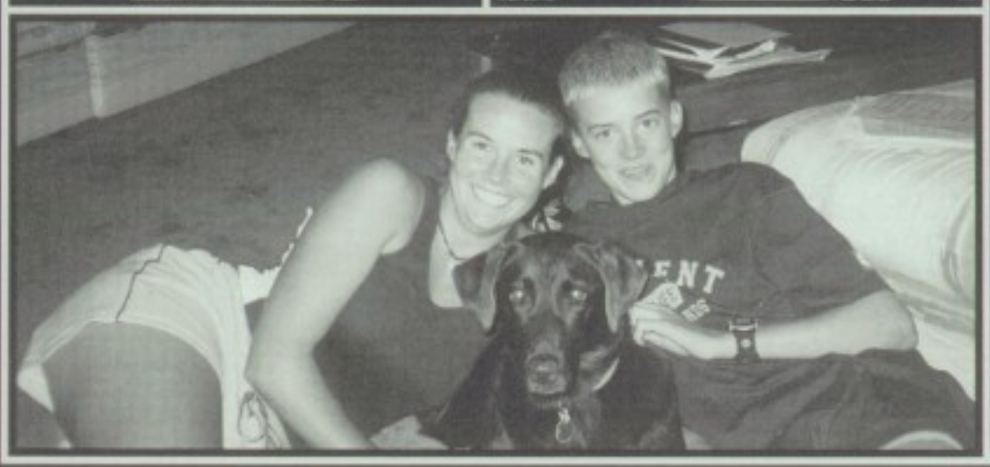
We love to watch you walk through life, many look up to and want to be around you because of your fun-loving personality.

You've been a wonderful big brother; we couldn't have hand-picked a better role model for your sister.

We have no regrets for the man you've become. We're so proud of you and know that you'll accomplish all you set out to do; you've always exceeded our expectations.

Love,
Mom and Dad

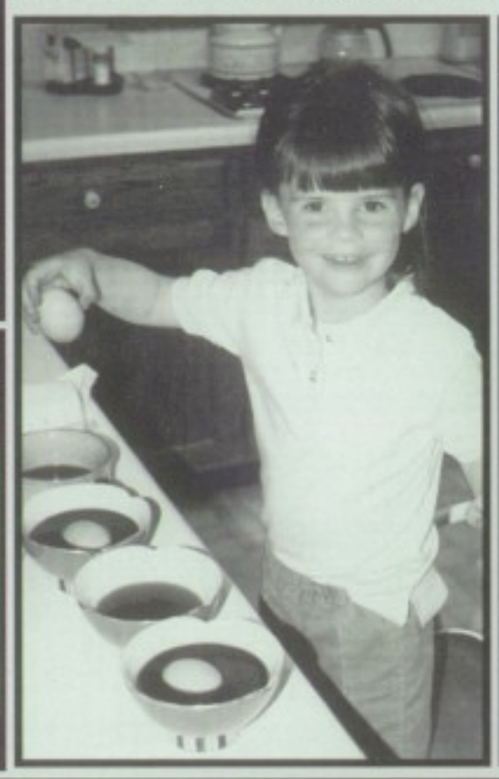
Erin Sparks



Erin,

You have grown up so fast and we are proud of the wonderful person you have become. You have a multitude of experiences to look forward to as you continue life's journey. Hold your head high and follow your dreams. Remember, "It is better to be right and alone than to be be wrong and have company." We love you!

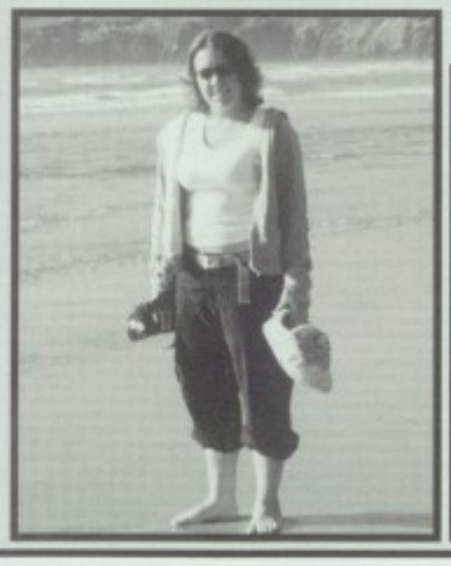
Mom, Dad, and Bryant



Katie Kunze

Our Katie K...
As this chapter of your life comes to a close, another begins.
More challenges, more choices, more oppurtunity.
All your growing and changing, your strong will, and your uniqueness
Will help guide your way.
Remember that success is not measured by being the first or the fastest,
Or by winning or losing.
Success is measured by listening to your heart, trusting you instincts,
Working hard, determination, and perseverance.
You don't have to be an astronaut to shoot for the moon...
Take one step at a time and savor the journey along the way.
You are our shining star! Believe in yourself as we do.
We love you as much as the sky can hold!

Love,
Mom and Dad



Katie,

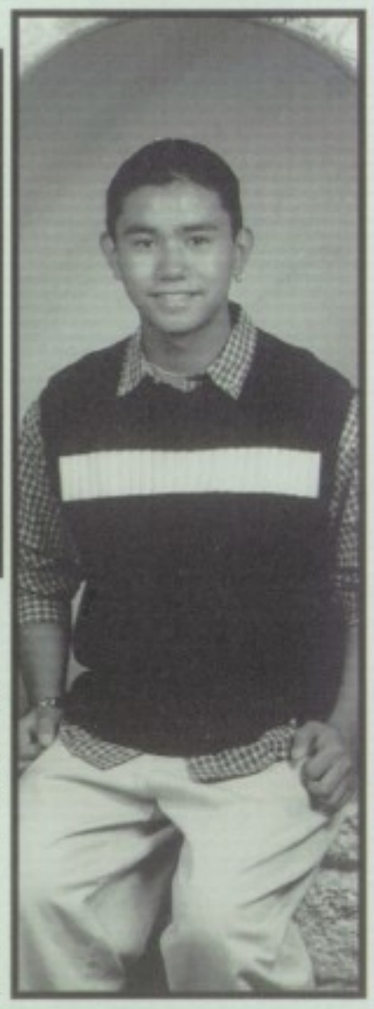
Congratulations on graduating from high school. It was a long road but one that we are all proud you have completed. Your success in the future is certian. Good luck.

Love,
Luke

Joshua L. Sapp

From a bundle of joy,
Who brought so much love into our lives,
To a toddler who was always into everything,
Through a sometimes difficult childhood,
And the middle school years that were survived,
To a young man who is now ready to graduate,
We are so proud of you,
We love you,
We wouldn't change a thing.

Shawn Ermita



Dear Shawn,

You used to be such a cute innocent little boy-what happened?!? Just kidding! We are so proud of you and your accomplishments through the years. You are so smart and talented and will do great in whatever you do in the future. Congratulations and good luck!

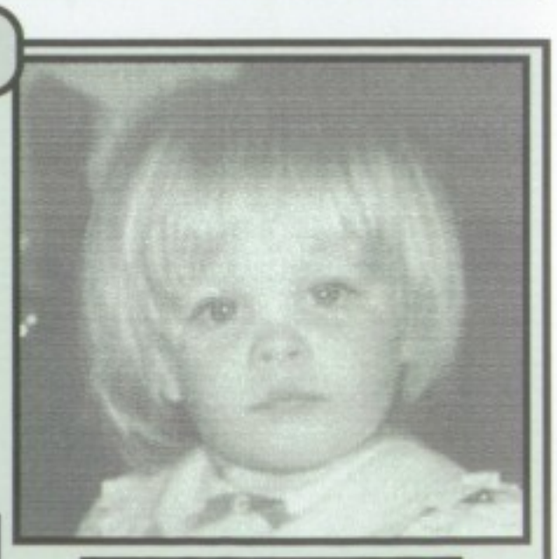
Love Always,
Dad, Mom, Darcie, and Sheena

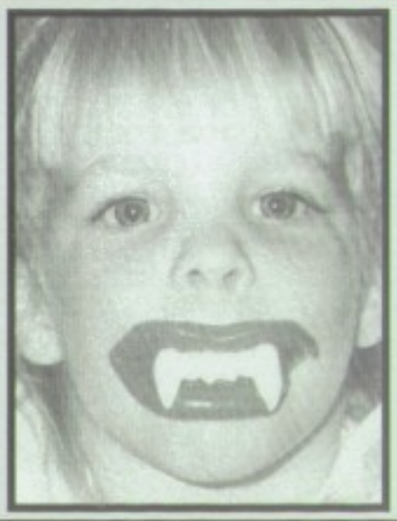
Tawni Depaoli

Miss Tawni,

May you always be the shepherd of your flock and keep your beautiful smile sharp. Follow your dreams to be the best and you'll always succeed.

All of our love,
Dad, Mom, Bri, and Jake





Amanda Rose Magrini

Amanda,

Whether you're the family cheerleader, captain of the swim team, or setting your own fashion statement, we knew you would rise above our hopes for you.

You've made everyday a holiday, teaching us a love we never realized was possible. We are so glad that you are our sister. You have given us so much joy and made us proud of your accomplishments- you will never fail.

Love, Cathi, Jim & Grace

Dear Amanda

With your sunshine smile, your understanding and kindness, you have been a delight! We are proud of the woman you have become as you follow your dreams to college.

Love always,
Mom

Ivy Alexander

Dear Ivy Beth,

Alright "P"! Graduation is finally here, and a year early as well. What a great accomplishment to add to the repertoire of your many successes throughout your life.

We're so proud of the beautiful person you have always been and strive to be each day. You are indeed a take charge individual, a fearfless champion of those in need, a girl with unreserved conviction, a leader, a shining star!

You're most certainly on the right path as evidenced by your many achievements and glowing qualities. What is truly amazing about your direction is the fact that you didn't "choose" one of many paths--- you blazed your own!

Well done "Peanut"
Congratulations

All our love,
Mom and Dad

Ivy
-Peanut-,

You've accomplished yet another amazing goal with both smiles and tears of courage and love - I know this won't be the last. Every single day I love you more; my little guiding light. Showing me something new and (even as my little sister) helping me find my way. You have become the most awesome woman. I am proud to be your sister. Best wishes forever.

Much Love Always,
Alexis -Janie-

Mark Weagel

Congratulations, Mark!

It's hard to believe you're ready to graduate! We're so proud of all you've done. We remember a curly-haired cutie who was a super soccer player and a "great pretender," whether as Mickey Mouse or Leonardo. You've grown into a sweet, caring, and creative young man who is about to move on to the next big adventure.

WE LOVE YOU!!
Mom, Dad and Jeff

Kendal Riley

Kendal,
Your beauty illuminates from within - your enthusiasm, standard for excellence and endearing heart have made us very proud of you. From the Magic Tree House through high school, you have embraced every moment and have captured every memory. As you look to the future, remember that no dream is too lofty or goal too high. May hope fill your heart as you trust in Christ to be your guiding light.

We love you!
Dad, Mom, Kenny and Chelsie

Kendawl,
Wow! You're a senior. It seems like yesterday we were making a snow man in front of the old house, watching Candy Man at a birthday party, or getting in a fight with the curling iron. You are the best sister and friend a person could ask for. Thank you for being so kind to share your clothes with me. You filled the job of a sister by always having the right words to say and giving me a hug on a bad day. There are so many things I could say, but a million words could not explain how important you are to me. I am not going to tell you good luck because you don't need it, you will succeed in whatever you do!

I love you,
Chelsie

You came into this world with a great birthday suit.
Take good care of it always! We love you & are so proud
Papa & Penny

We have watched you grow into an intelligent, compassionate & generous man.
Competitive, respectful & one who can enjoy the moment with humor & without embarrassment.
You included us in every part of your growing up and we are honored.
High School Graduation, a time of change & growth.
Exciting yet a little frightening.
In these times of fear & uncertainty you have two most important tools to face any challenge: Your Faith & your family.
Open your mind, heart & arms and Embrace Your Future!
Congratulations – may your future be blessed & filled with God's grace.
Love, Grandpa & Grandma

I have been truly blessed to be your mom - I am so proud of all you do & all you are.
I wish you Love in all your life's endeavors and God's Grace always!
I love you!!

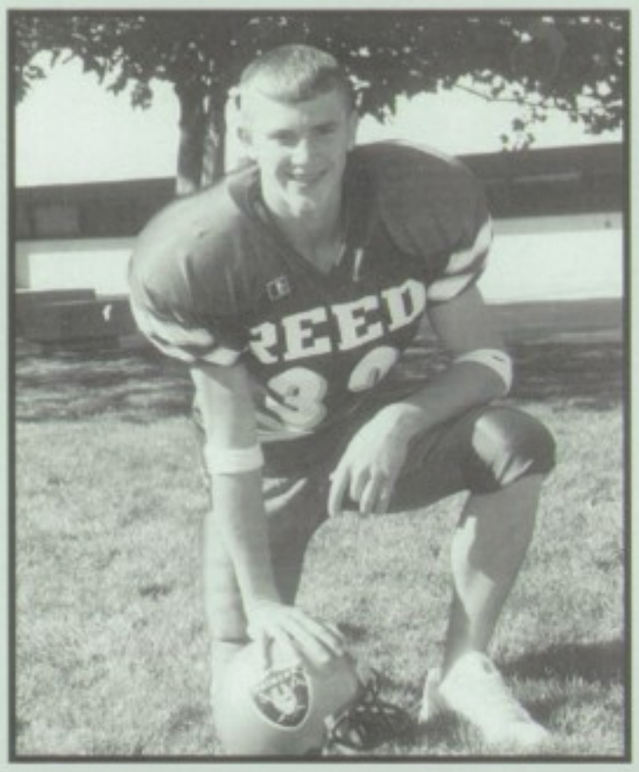
Thai Welty



Thai,

Drive, heart, ambition, and desire have always been your motivation - although misguided at times. Helmets are to stay on ones head - not to be missiles toward unsuspecting Coaches or opponents.

Now focusing on your future, we know that nothing but your all will ever be the least you will give or accomplish.

We are proud of you - for what you are, what you have done, and ultimately what you choose to become.

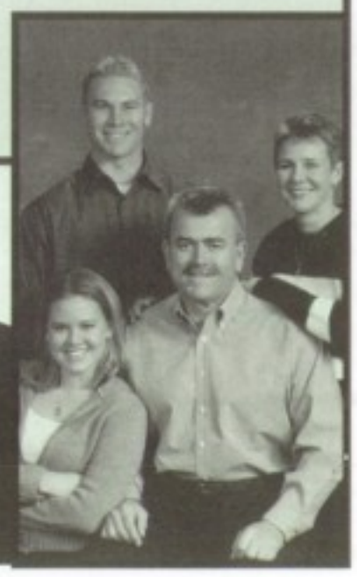
Kelly Pierce

Kelly,

How blessed we all are to have such an intelligent, humorous and loving young woman in our lives. I'm so very proud of all that you are, and all that you'll become. Believe in yourself, follow your heart, keep smiling, and know that I'm beside you with every step you take. I love you!

Your big brother,
Scotty



Kelly Pierce

Kelly,

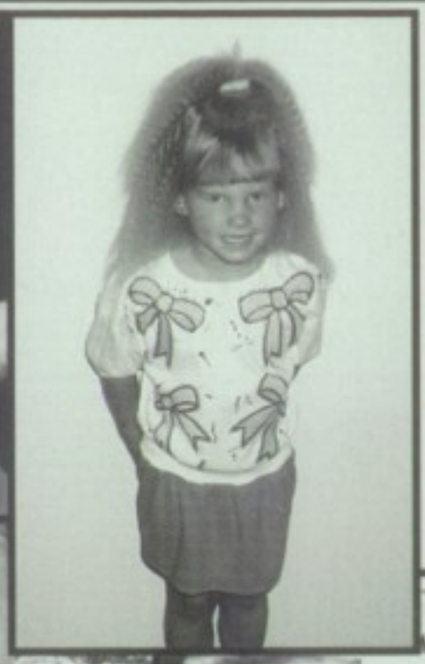
You are an inspiration to us all with your positive attitude, self-assuredness and warm and wonderful heart!

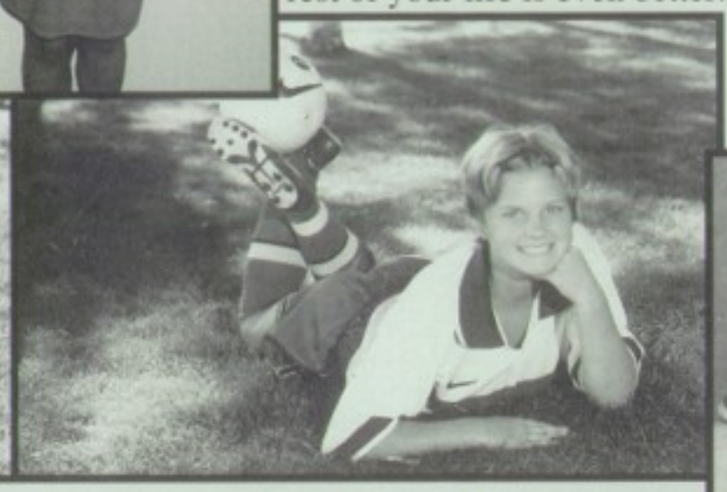
We know that you will always be a success in whatever you do!

You have become such a beautiful young woman and we want you to know that you will always be "The Wind Beneath Our Wings"!

We love you,
Mom and Dad

Monica Thompson





To Our Little Boo Boo:

It is impossible to believe that you are graduating. It seems just like yesterday that we were walking you to kindergarten with your crimped long blonde hair. You have become a beautiful young lady with some awesome goals. Follow your heart, keep your spunky personality and you will accomplish them all!

Our love forever,
Mom and Daddio

Sis-

Well, Hef, we have been through some good times. You're a great sis and I couldn't ask for anyone better. Thanks for all the advice and tips. I hope everything was good your last year, and I hope the rest of your life is even better. I love you. Good luck always!

Love,
Your Big Bro
Marc

When you were so small, and I walked the floors with you to settle your painful stomach, I wondered who and what you would be. I wonder no longer. You have developed into a beautiful-wonderful young lady and I proudly say-"Monica, she is my granddaughter."

I Love You,
Grandma

Mandy Heslington

Mandy,

You are my pride and joy. Every moment you thought you went unnoticed, we were there cheering you on. We remember every moment you smiled, and every event that has led up to making you the person you are. These next years of your life we wish you the most success and happiness. We love you and good luck in college!

Mom and Dad

Manda,

You have accomplished many things in your life and touched many people by doing this. You have been understanding and courageous in times that have tested these qualities. I love you so much and you will always be my "best friend."

~Kelsey

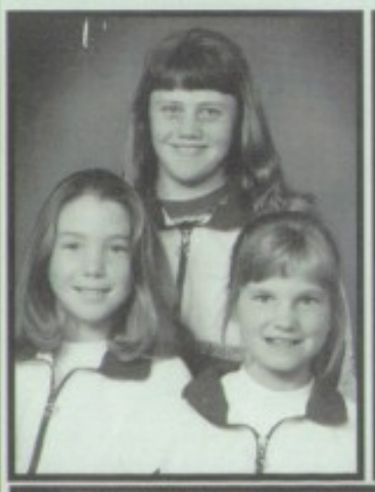
Monica Thompson

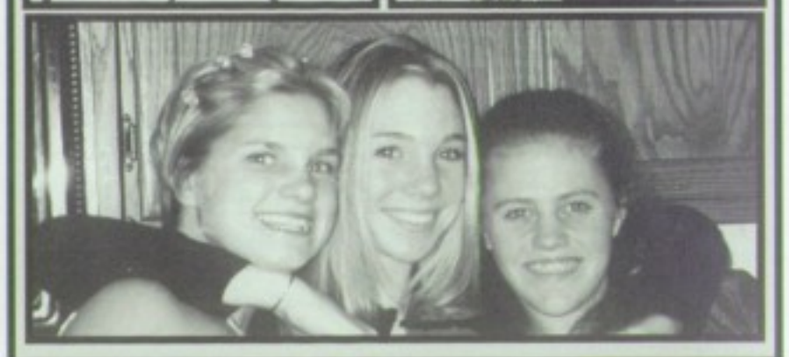
Moni, Colie and Mandy:

You have shared so much together since becoming friends in second grade. Always remember the laughter and tears you have shared and your friendships will last forever. Thank You for the great memories we will always love watching the three of you grow to beautiful, sassy young ladies.

Congratulations! We Love You!

Mom and Dad Asher





Michelle Dobel

Michelle,
You truly are a blessing from God. You are a wonderful loving, caring, beautiful and intelligent person. We are so proud of you and are blessed to be your parents. Remember, you can do anything you want and we will be here to help you.

Alicia Smith

Our Dearest Daughter Alicia,

Where do we begin? You never seem to surprise us with your ability to strive forward. You can't surprise us with your sense of compassion. We're not even surprised with your ambition to change the norm!

You are a beautiful young woman inside and out and there is so much that we want you to experience. Love, Hope, Laughter, Success and with all that happened this year, most of all we want you to experience Peace! We love you, our dear oldest daughter and we will always be there in the background smiling and with tears of joy in our eyes!

Our love always,

Mom and Dad

Dear Sister,

Dear sister I have watched you grow
How much you mean to me you'll never know
We've been through the good and bad
And who could forget the happy and sad
You have always been my best friend
Alicia, you are there from the beginning to the end
I will support you in everything you do
I hope love, joy, and happiness comes to you
I will be here until the end of time
Best wishes dearest sister of mine.

Love,

Amanda

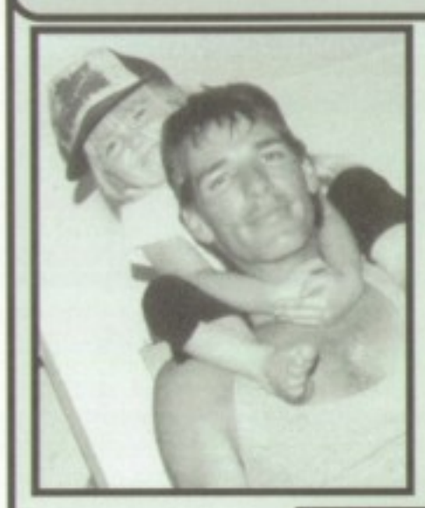
Shannon Raphun



The day you were born, we couldn't stop smiling. Your father and I knew we had been blessed. You will always be "The Baby," no matter how old you are, or where life takes you. You have been my daughter, my friend, my "confidante." I know that it is difficult for me to let you go, but you'll always be close to my heart. You've always been strong, and at this time in your life, I know you are capable of setting your path. Depend on yourself, and settle for nothing less than what you want.

"If you need me, just call me."

Create lasting memories with every turn you take. Hold on to your values and believe in yourself. I love you beyond words. Congratulations...you have arrived!!!

My booky angel,
my love, and my life.
You've been blessed with incredible strength and passion regarding humanity; your emotions run deep.

Use your talents wisely and reach for the stars; they are within your reach, if you'll have them. You are an incredible young lady with unlimited potential. Just do it! I love you so very much.

God bless you, today and always, my little Casey-Bug.

Love,
Mom xxxooo

Casey,

In my arms as an infant, you cried such colicky tears. Then you stumbled as a toddler and forever see the years. I've watched you conquer heartache, I've seen you go the miles, you've grown into a lovely lady; you cast such perfect smiles. Upon the special voyage, into your future's path, Remember, don't stop trying, stay focused on your tasks. And the only stupid questions, are the ones nobody asks.

Love, KiKi

You have a whole lifetime of experiences ahead of you, some good, some bad, some glorious, some sad. In all of these things, keep your head up high, be the most humble in spirit and everthing you will encounter will increase your wisdom a thousand-fold. May God Richly Bless You Always!

Love,

Shannon Reynolds

Sis,

Well, Pookie, Here we are...where has the time gone? I cannot even begin to tell you just how proud I am of you or how much I love you. You have grown into a beautiful, loving, responsible, young woman. I know you will be successful in all your endeavors. Remember, be wise, be patient, the world is yours. We all love you and once again are so proud of you!

Mom, Kyle, Mike, Angel, and Abby

Erin Bechtel

It seems like only yesterday you were a little toddler, and now you are graduating from high school. How the time does fly!

Over the years, we enjoyed watching you grow up and shared the joy of going to many of your extracurricular activities: piano recitals, softball games, soccer games, and tennis games. You have accomplished so much and we are very proud of you! We have great confidence that your future holds many good things. You have many exciting years ahead of you. Our blessings go with you as you face new opportunities and challenges in your life!

All our love,
Aunt Jane and Uncle John

Hey Erin, what's up? While I was sitting here writting this I was thinking about all of the good times we had together and how lucky I was to grow up with a sister that's so kind, sweet, intelligent, and beautiful. And no matter what happens tomorrow or the next day, you'll always be my sister and that's why I love you.

Steven

Erin,

It has been my privilege to watch you grow and turn into the wonderful woman you are today.

Love always,
Perry

To my baby girl,

I am so proud of you. Remember your goals, work hard, and achieve your dreams. I will always love you.

Mom

Erin,

Thank you for being such a wonderful daughter. You've grown up to be a terrific young woman.

As you go through your senior year reflecting on what you've accomplished, preparing for all of life's challenges and great rewards, I wish you great success in all your life's endeavors.

May God bless you with peace and happiness wherever life takes you.

Love always,
Dad

It has been said that "The mind will what is given it reflect; as doth the mirror light received disperse."

We trust you may realize the truth of this quote; and always endeavor to select that which is beneficial. We look forward to your graduation and what the future holds for you.

With love,
Grandma and Grandpa

Matthew VanDyne

Where did the years go! From your first haircut to a tuxedo to your cap and gown. You are the best, Matthew. You have all the qualities that a son-man ever needs. Don't ever change.

I love you,

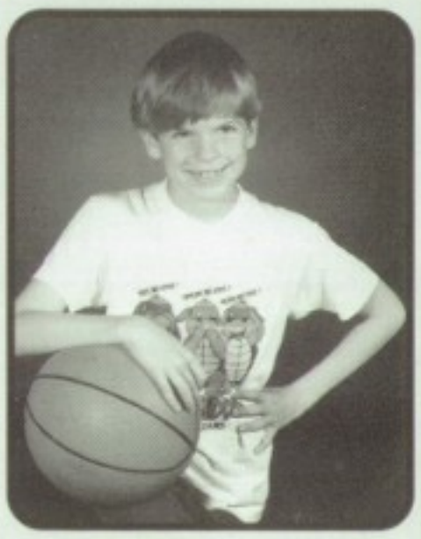
Justin Sibley



Hey Justin,

Bet you thought graduation day would never come. For us it came too soon! It seems like yesterday you and Scott were playing Ghostbusters and Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles. High school's over, but your life in the real world is just beginning. You're a very bright and intelligent young man, and we know you can accomplish anything you set your mind to. Your humor always keeps us smiling and reminds us not to sweat the small stuff. You are a very special person in our lives, and you have made us very proud. Remember, keep your focus on what's important and reach for the stars!

We love you J.R.,

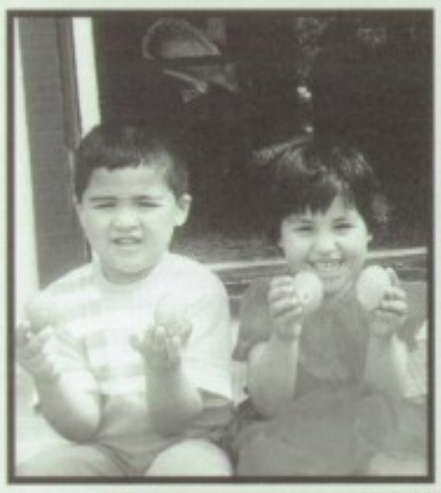
Ting Ting,

I am so proud of everything you have accomplished in your life. You have been a great sister that has supported me through so much. I know we may have had our differences in the past ,but I'm glad that we are past those times.

Our relationship has grown so strong and I believe that it will grow even stronger as we get older. I know I never tell you how much you mean to me, but I hope you always know I love you no matter what I say or what happens.

Congratulations on everything,

Love Marcus



To my little Ting Ting,

So we finished one short bumpy road and we still have a long stretch ahead of us. I know that the road you take will be the right one. Just take it slow and remember those curves will be a challenge. You have been my thunder and at the same time, my sunshine. I look at you and remember so much of your dad and that's why I love you so much! You are my sunshine.

Mom

Dear Christy, a.k.a. Ting Ting,

No more pencils, no more books, no more teachers' dirty looks! Well at least until college starts. Being your big sister hasn't always been easy but I wouldn't trade it for anything. You've grown up to be such a bright and beautiful young woman. I'd like to say that I had a little to do with that, being your role model and all. J/K. As you enter this new journey in your life, may you be blessed with all the wonderful joys of life.

Love always,

Class of 2002

Dearest Clairey-Bear,

We well remember your debut just seventeen years ago– our first born, so very special. Who would have guessed that time would slip by so quickly. Now, here you are, ready for yet another milestone–graduation from high school!

We are truly impressed with what you have accomplished since that debut seventeen short years ago.

You cannot know, nor can mere words express how very proud we are of the young woman you've become, more special and loved than ever.

May you continue to achieve your life's goals– each happier than the last.

Love,

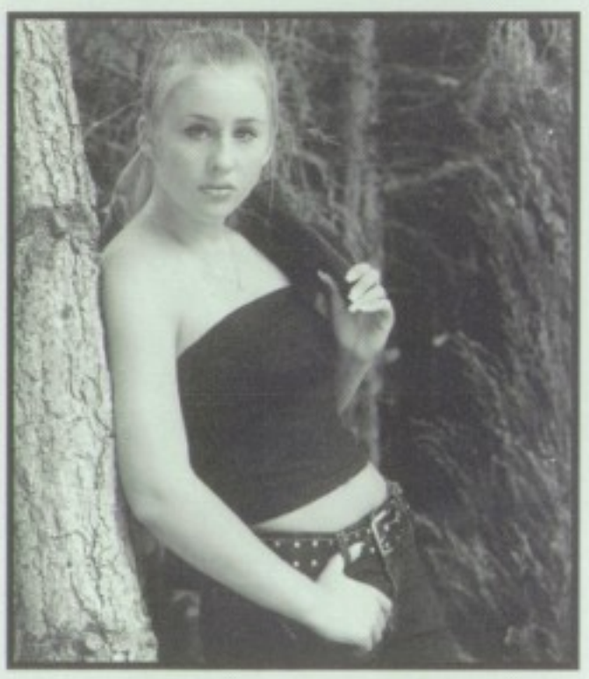
My Little Angel:
You are my sunshine and my tormentor. You insist on doing everything the long hard way. Ultimately, this is what will make you the leader you are destined to become.
I admire your strength and independence.
I appreciate your support and your friendship. Especially this last year, which has been so terribly hard on us.
Keep your smile bright and your mind open to everything.
Don't judge and NEVER, EVER SETTLE!

I wuz' you,
Mom

Bonnie Haggarty



Bonnie,
We're proud of the beautiful young lady you have become and enjoyed watching you mature during your teenage years. As you take these next steps in life remember a few basics:

-Life is precious, take your time to think each choice through and ask yourself "will this make those that love me the most, proud".

-The next few years are important, have fun but use them wisely to establish a good foundation from which to build your life.

-Be open minded, trust your instincts, respect those who deserve your respect and follow your heart...It's a good one.

There is a great life waiting for you out there, so live it to its fullest.

We love you very much, CONGRATULATIONS.

My dayghter
When you were born
I held you in my arms
and just kept smiling at you
You always smiled back your big eyes wide open full of love
Now as I watch you grow up and become your own person
I look at you your laughter your happiness your simplicity your beauty and I wonder where you will be in fifteen years
I just hope that you will be able to enjoy a life of sensitivity goodness accomplishment and love
in a world that is at peace
But most of all I want you to know that I am very proud of you and that I love you dearly forever as your Mother and friend.

Asa Barton

Asa,

We are very proud of you and that you are an individual taking your own path and not following the herd. You have helped us to see that being different doesn't make a person bad, anymore than conforming to society makes a person good.

You have many wonderful ideas and thoughts, put them to good use in your future. Work hard to achieve what you want, keep a positive attitude, take responsibility for your mistakes and learn from them, and always make time to go "up, up, up,up... weeeeee!

Love,
Mom and Dad

Ashley Betz

For our Ashley Smashley,

Watching you grow and change from this impish, tousle-haired toddler to a strong, independent, smart woman ready to take on the world was the easy part.

Watching you graduate and move on to college is the hard part. We are so proud of your accomplishments!

Keep smiling at those less fortunate and helping those in need... and always, keep dreaming the dreams of angels.

We love you forever and ever,
Mom Sarah, Grandma, and Grandpa

Mike Lockwood

You showed your musical ability at an early age...
well sort of!

We're so proud of the young man you've become.
You are truly amazing.
Love,
Mom, Alan,
Doug, and Heather

Erin L. Przygoda

Erin,
You have definitely kept us on our toes the last 4 years. But you made it. We are very proud of you. You have been a constant source of joy, laughter, & headaches!

We love you with all our hearts & wish you all the best life has to offer.

Love you always,
Mom, Dad & Caz
XOXO

Michelle Grohoski

Michelle ,

We could remind you how smart, thoughtful, fun loving, and pretty you are. Or, how proud we are of you because of all you have achieved, but we would like to take this opportunity to thank you for being an outstanding person. Your compassion and love seem to be endless. We thank God for the perfect gift we have in you. May God bless you always!

Forever proud,
Mom and Dad

Ashleigh Heuer

"Turtle"

Congratulations on completing this important chapter in you life. As the next one begins, reach for the highest goals, love life, and experience it to the fullest. Make each moment count and make us prouder than we already are.

We love you,
Mum, Dad, and Archie

Scott Baxter

Scooter,

You are such a talented fine young man. We wish you happiness in you future and success by your definition.

Love,
Your Family

Tawni De Paoli

Tawni,

In 17 years you've taught me a lot. I admire/envy your motivation, commitment, and amazing work ethic. I strive to work as hard as you do in everything you do. Just know that I have looked up to you as the big sister I never had.

Love,
Jeffery

Thomas Freestone

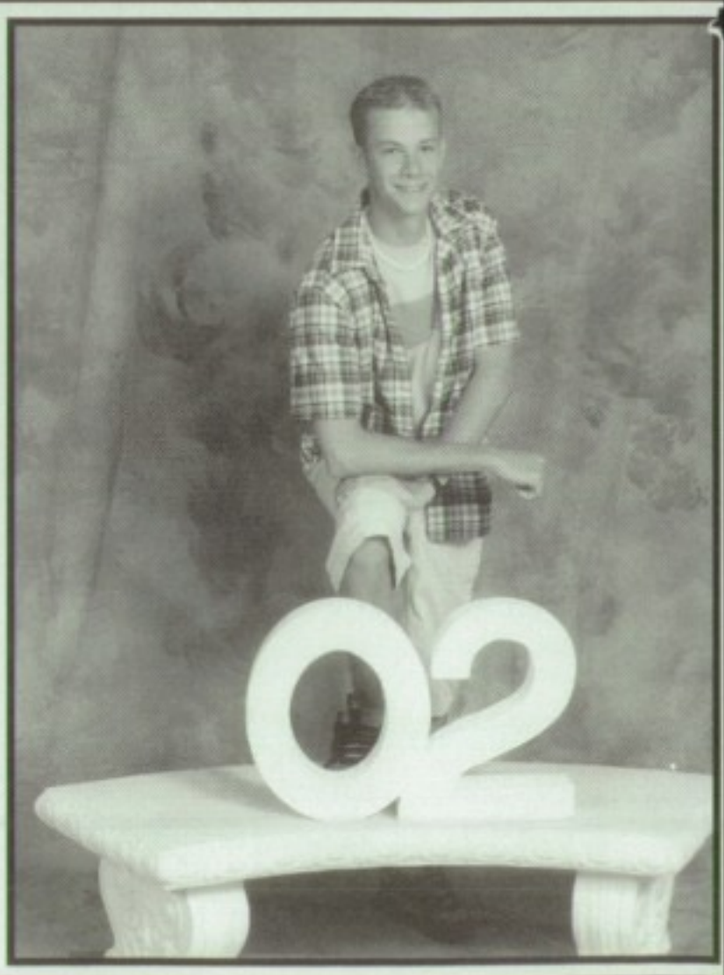
Thomas,

From Snoopy to Ninja Turtles to golf to graduation! Along the way you've grown into a man and you've kept that same warm heart that loves your snoop!

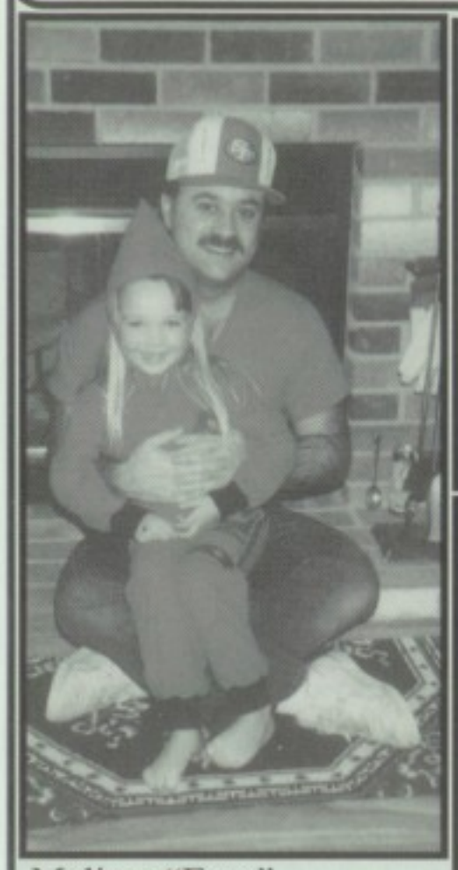
You go, boy, and remember "Failure is impossible!"

Love,
Mom and Dad

P.S.
Stick to the Pepsi



Melissa Satmary



Melissa "Easa"

You've been a great sister and we have had so much fun. Remember all of our inside jokes, under hat and shants, black eyed peas, videos, Great America, playing tricks on mom and dad, sales people, rusty pipes, and all the rest. Thanks for being a great big sister and my best friend. I won't say I will miss you because we will always be close. Good Luck!

Love your little bro,
Bobby "B"

Melissa,

We are so proud of you. Never stop believing in yourself. You can have anything you set your sights on.

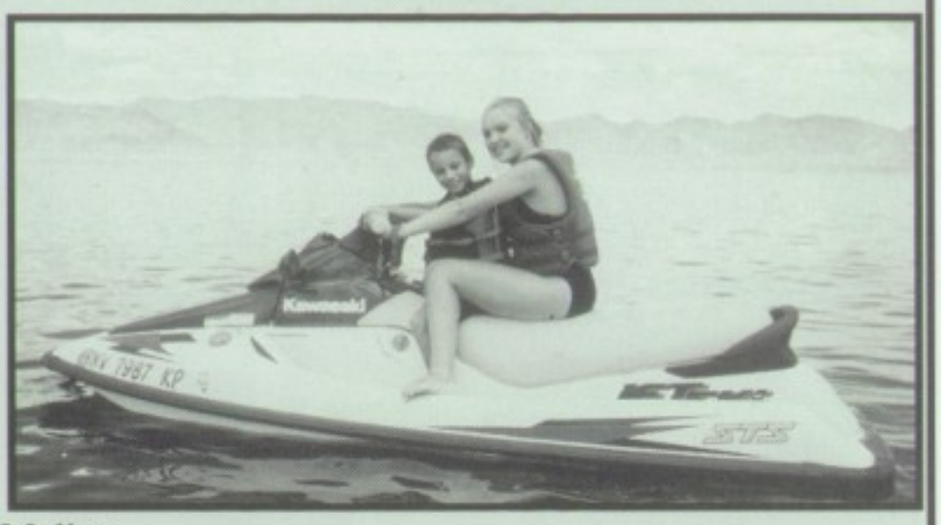
We Love You.
Dad, Janice, Bobby, Heather, Amy

To My Grandaughter:

There is so much to be proud of about your life:
Your accomplishments and your victories,
Your kindness and your caring heart.

Never forget how much I love you.

Grandma



Dear Melissa,

I can't believe my beautiful baby girl has grown up to be such a lovely, thoughtful lady! I just want you to know how proud I am of all your accomplishments. You've certainly overcome many challenges in your life already. I look forward to watching your life continue to unfold with all the wonderful unlimited possibilities that await you.

Love you always!
Mom

Sara Smith

Sara,

We are so proud of the beautiful young woman you have become. We cannot believe how fast the years have gone. We are very proud of you, darling, and we hope God's best for your future.

We love you,
Mom and Dad

Vicky Brown

Hey there,
Princess!

Me and Mista J are very proud of you, look at what you've accomplished! We love you for who you are and who you will be. This will open up an entire world for you to conquer. We will ALWAYS LOVE YOU!

Love your men,
Jayden and Josh

Colie McManus

Dearest Colie,

To our Beautiful Daughter, you are the angel of our heart. Your strength of mind, heart, and soul makes us so proud of your success. You give so much, and for this, you will be rewarded. Trust in yourself, Colie, for you are so special. Congratulations.

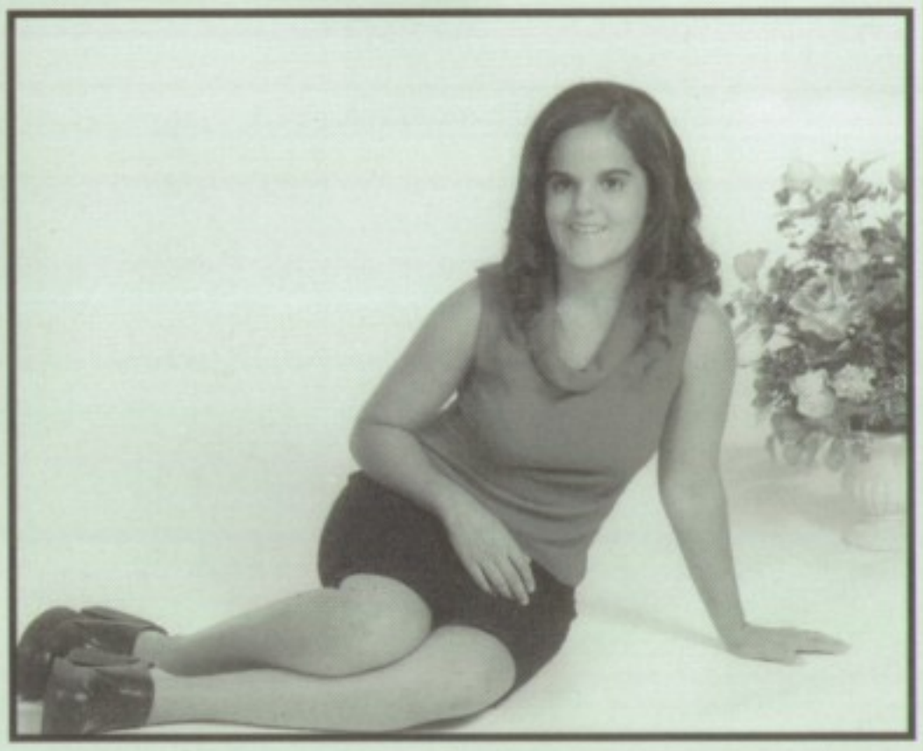
We love you always,
Mom and Dad

Michele Colombini

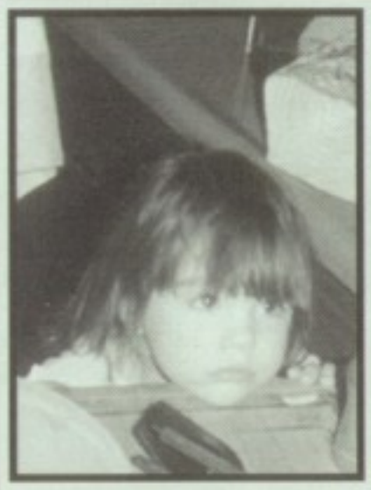
Words cannot express how proud we are of you and how much we love you. No matter how hard things got you never gave up. Now you're graduating and going straight to college.

You had a dream and now that dream has come true. You made it happen! Even though it's hard to see our first born leave. Just remember, we are so proud and we love you!

Love,
Mom and Dad



Tabatha Salmons

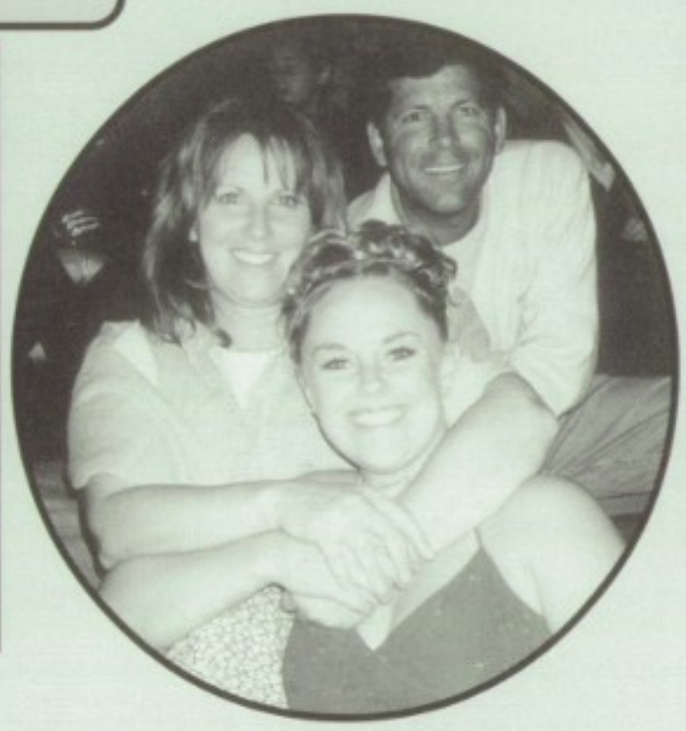


Tabatha,

The time has come when we as parents must let go. We are so very proud of you and know that whetever you do you will be a success.

All our love,
Your Parents

Crystal Aichele



Crystal,

Well here you are-a senior and graduating. What an accomplishment! Your school years have been challenging at times, but you have handled them with dignity and grace, all the traits a young woman should have. I marvel at the wonderful person you've become. You are smart, beautiful, and always full of life. I've seen you give meaning to the word FRIEND.

Your kindness and lovability extends to all you meet. you have proven that you are strong in spirit, independent and most of all ambitious to strive to be the best person you can be.

You go girl!

Succeed in everything that challenges you.

Love always and forever,
Mom and Dad

We the People earned a spot in the state competition this year. They continued a strong tradition of dominance in this interesting Constitution-based event. These bright young minds know what it's like to make a difference. Congratulations on a fun and successful year. Ronnie Quirk, Brittny Adlish, Erin McNally, Kristian Zimmer, Katie Baucom, Amy Payne, Ajit Paul Bajwa, Robbie Woods, Linh Long, Zaynah Rashdam, Dan Smith, Lance Hutchinson, Gordon Steinmann, Sarah Holloway, Leanna Johnson, Kim Poore, Mike Morris, Mr. Mark Towell, Darin Baclayon.

Looking back...

Looking back at the events from this year and the others we have had at Reed, it becomes obvious that we have experienced so many things, yet, we are still so inexperienced...

We have so many more things to look forward to in our lives: vacations, colleges, jobs, families, friends, successes, failures –all of these things and so many more still await us.

While we hope that you enjoy this look back at the year's events, we also hope that you stay focused on what is in front of you. The possibilities for each of us are endless, so take advantage of opportunities as they come because time passes by in the blink of an eye.

Looking over their final project... As the year came to a close, Claire Housby, Cathleen Corsun, Ashley Graham, and Shawnicé Kraeber (the editorial board of the yearbook) spent long hours finalizing layouts and quotes for the spring sports in March and fooling around in the halls as the night grew later and later.

Our most sincere thanks go out to...

•Mary Vesco, Al Babb, Colleen Hoch, Jeana Curtis, George Hardaway and Dave Nolte (the Reed administrative team) for all their support and kindness throughout the year.

•The front office staff, who handled and routed all the phone calls and inquiries about yearbook purchases and Diapers to Diplomas.

•Jackie Fleming, Denise Lang and Allison Lang who receipted in hundreds of yearbooks this summer.

•The custodial staff who cleaned up after us during deadline days and nights.

•The Ross Photo team for the underclass and senior portraits and all of their sports and event photo support.

•Gary Newell for helping us out of many tight spots.

•Jason Pierce, who brought us candy and helped us learn PhotoShop, even after Ashley "fired" him.

•Phyllis Davison from Jostens, who spent countless hours maintaining our sanity in this huge project.

•John Byrne from Byrne Sports Images, who kindly lent us his commercial images for reproduction on the varsity basketball layouts.

•Robert Pullen, who again provided us with great Powder Puff photos.

•And, of course, the teachers who were so understanding during our deadline crunches and allowed us to interrupt their valuable class time.
